—Attorney A. L. Baker of Alliance is a candidate for city solicitor. He formerly resided in Mahoning county and a host of friends here would be pleased to see him land the office he seeks.

—Michael Smith, a Hungarian boy residing in Girard, attempted to board a moving train in the Pennsylvania yards in Girard last Friday night and was thrown under the wheels and killed.

—The Louisville Herald is kind enough to remark: The appointment of Charles C. Fowler as postmaster at Canfield was confirmed last week Monday. Mr. Fowler is a good editor and will make a good postmaster. Democratic efforts all over the county are faring well under the present administration.

—Leases are being taken on many farms in Beaver township for oil and gas by a Pittsburgh firm and the work of testing the territory has been started. Mr. Hyland of Salem, who is securing the leases, is firm in the belief that there is a large pool of oil in Mahoning county and he hopes his company may strike it.

—In the running of your automobile, be just a little more cautious than heretofore, if that were possible, as accidents are numerous, for, it is one's traveling very many miles, it is an uncommon sight to see wrecked automobiles and other vehicles beside the road or up for repairs. Then, too, human lives are in your care, and keeping.

—It is now claimed, on information from one of the agricultural colleges, that the trouble with potatoes, which are so badly affected in such wide territory, is caused by the ravages of a minute insect, which works on the under side of the leaf, sucking the fluid but not eating the structure. It is greenish in color, so nearly like the leaf, in appearance, that it is not noticeable.

—A fast passenger train on the Ft. Wayne railroad was wrecked at Leetonia last Friday morning when trucks broke under one of the coaches. Three steel pullmans were thrown over on their sides and several passengers were injured, but none fatally. All traffic on the line was held up for hours. The Niles & Lisbon passenger train from the south was delayed more than an hour on account of the wreckage on the crossing.

—Ravenna Republican: Work on the new electric line to Warren is progressing rapidly. They are now working a night shift. Forty gallons of gasoline are consumed every night and the right of way is illuminated like a city street. The management is working hard to complete the line so that cars can run to Newton Falls by November 1. All of the trolley poles are set from Newton Falls to within a mile of the junction with the Alliance line and about five miles of trolley wire is up.

—Louisville Herald: It takes physical as well as mental exertion to get out four or six columns of local news in a town of this size. Most people take a local paper to get the local happenings. Don't be afraid to tell the editor or reporter that you have friends visiting you. There are lots of people who are interested in your friends. You owe it as a duty to them to let your friends know of their doings. Perhaps you think the paper shows partiality, but just see if the paper doesn't treat you right if you give it a chance.

—Auto owners will take an active interest in the action being arranged for by the Ohio State Automobile association to test the validity of the new auto license law which goes into effect the first of the year, making $5 the smallest tax, the fees ranging to $18 on a graduated scale, according to horsepower. It is claimed that the tax is additional above that paid as personal property and that as a police regulation, the only other reason, it is exorbitant. It is claimed that the tax has been submitted to, heretofore, on account of the money being used for road improvement but that under the new plan, the funds turned over to the state highway department will be less than now, although the tax will be approximately doubled. The amount now collected is between 500 and 600 thousand dollars. Three eminent attorneys have been retained and the law will be tested.

—Interesting and illuminating legal facts and figures are revealed in Clerk of Courts Hugh Swaney's annual report given out last week. The report shows that a total of 223 divorce cases were disposed of in common pleas court during the year. Of this number, 74 cases were pending and 249 cases were filed during the year. The number of husbands who filed suit for divorce were 104, while 235 wives asked the court for their freedom. A total of 60 wives were allowed alimony. Forty-two husbands were granted divorces, two were refused and 37 cases were dismissed. Four divorces were granted in suits brought by the wife; 52 wives were refused divorces. Absence and neglect were the charges alleged in the majority of the divorce cases. Fraud was alleged in the least number of petitions. Custody of the children were given to the mother in 21 cases and to the father in seven cases. A total of 173 cases were disposed of in 1912, as compared to 233 cases in 1913.

SHERIFF AND WIFE START YOUNG GIRL ON ROAD TO REFORM

If Rebecca Johnson, the 17-year-old colored girl who has been a prisoner at the county jail on a charge of being an inmate of a house of ill repute, is exorbitant, it is returning it will be due largely to the good influence which Sheriff and Mrs. J. C. Umstead have exerted over her. From the time the girl came to the jail, the Umsteads have taken kindly to her and their counsel and advice have borne fruit in getting the girl to go back to her mother in New York city. The girl was given her release from the county jail last Friday, but she had decided to reform and she asked the sheriff if she might not stay in the jail until she heard from her mother, to whom she had written of her desire to reform and of the kindness which Mrs. Umstead had shown to her. The answer to this letter came Monday in the form of a ticket to New York and at midnight the sheriff and his wife took the girl to the Erie station and placed her on an east-bound train with instructions to the conductor to see that she arrived safely in New York city—Telegram.

BRYAN'S VIEW OF SITUATION

Americans Will be Urged to Leave Mexico Should Head of Neighbor Republic Refuse to Comply With Demands.

MEXICO SITUATION AT A GLANCE.

Here are the demands made on Huerta by the United States.

1.—That there be an immediate cessation of hostilities and that an indefinite armistice be established.

2.—That an early and fair election be held.

3.—That Gen. Huerta pledge himself not to be a candidate in this election.

4.—That all the contending factions agree to abide by the result of an election.

If failure should be the result of the negotiations with Huerta, President Wilson in a message to congress will recommend:

1.—That all Americans left in Mexico shall withdraw to the United States and shall use all its available resources in aiding their departure.

2.—That the embargo against the shipment of arms from this country to Mexico shall be enforced and that the United States troops at the border shall be re-enforced for the purpose.

3.—That the factions in Mexico shall be left to fight out the question of supremacy.

4.—That Americans remaining in Mexico and their property shall have federal protection, for which leaders of the federals and rebels shall be held responsible.

5.—That Huerta shall not be recognized as a president of Mexico.

6.—There shall be no intervention by American troops except as a final resort.

AND—Huerta is given until one o'clock today in which to decide whether he will accept the proposals made to him through Envoy Lind.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The situation last night as to Mexico, in the light of statements at the White House and the state department, was that President Huerta has been given until 1 p. m. today to accede to the demands of President Wilson.

The situation had all the diplomatic force of an ultimatum. Secretary of State Bryan before leaving the department for the day said: "So far as I see the message of the president will go in to congress today."

At the White House it was stated that the message would go in if there was not a compliance with the president's demands but at both places it was stated, "there might be contingencies that would affect the sending in of the message."

Lind in Vera Cruz.

This was construed as meaning that if Huerta acquiesced in the demands, of course there would be no necessity of making the communication to congress. Should Huerta's failure to surrender force the president to send the message to congress with the president's particular recommendation—that the neutrality laws be strictly enforced, thus cutting off Huerta's supplies of ammunition and arms, Americans will be urged as heretofore to leave Mexico while Huerta and the rebels fight it out indefinitely. Many, it is understood, left Tuesday with John Lind, the special envoy, when he departed for Vera Cruz.

To Preserve Neutrality.

The strict enforcement of neutrality will probably necessitate the sending of additional light draft vessels to the coast of Mexico and perhaps some additional cavalry forces on the frontier. The revenue cutter service and department of justice agents will be expected to keep a sharp lookout on American ports for filibuster expeditions.

The withdrawal of Americans from Mexico and the use of the forces of the United States simply to preserve neutrality would leave European nations to take care of their citizen residents in Mexico, unless the president announces that he will continue the policy of protecting foreigners.

GOX EULOGIZES OLD SOLDIERS

Governor of Ohio Also Discusses Initiative and Referendum Parades.

Marysville, O., Aug. 27.—Six thousand people attended the fourth annual reunion and picnic of the citizens and soldiers of Union township in Howard's Grove, near Irwin. The principal speakers were Gov. James M. Cox, Judge William R. Warner of Urbana, state department commander of Grand Army, and Col. William L. Curry of Columbus, former state commissioner of soldiers' claims.

Gov. Cox spoke nearly two hours, eulogizing the old soldiers. He touched upon the initiative and referendum and spoke at length on the laws that were enacted by the last general assembly. A feature of the reunion was a big parade.

THAW THROWS BOMB INTO ENEMY'S RANKS

His Lawyers Withdraw Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Question of Right of Immigration Authorities to Deport the Fugitive as Undesirable Alien Forced to the Front.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 27.—There was a sudden and surprising shift in the case of Harry K. Thaw last night when the attorneys for the Matteawan fugitive withdrew the writ of habeas corpus which was to be acted upon by Justice Arthur Gloabensky of the superior court this afternoon.

This action brings to a head at once the conflict between the immigration officials and Thaw's lawyers as to whether the former have the right to deport the prisoner as an undesirable alien.

The action of Thaw's lawyers in withdrawing the habeas writ was the greatest surprise that has yet occurred since he was arrested just this side of the American border.

Their action brought about a puzzling situation which the Canadian lawyers admitted was too baffling for them to attempt to solve. There is no precedent and it is probable that an appeal will be made to the department of justice for an interpretation of the Dominion's statutes.

This is the situation:

1.—Thaw is held in jail under a charge that is legally not an offense against Canada.

2.—The length of his stay in jail depends upon himself. The crown attorneys say that at present they know no way in which he can be forced into court.

3.—Thaw could demand his release at once, but he will not do so because he would immediately be arrested by the immigration officials on the double charge of being an undesirable alien and of having entered Canada by stealth.

His lawyers' action was taken by Thaw's own order. He was jubilant last night and laughed heartily over the predicament in which the authorities found themselves.

"I guess I've got them all up in the air," he chuckled.

The Thaw action was a bomb shell to the American and Canadian lawyers acting in the interests of New York.

WHOLE FAMILY IS WIPED OUT

Man, Wife, Two Children and Sister-in-Law Are Killed When Auto Is Hit by Train.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 27.—A whole family was wiped out when an automobile in which were J. E. Rowan, aged 35, a steel worker, his wife and two children and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Allen Wood Smith, all of Brackenridge, Pa., was struck by a special train occupied by R. L. O'Donnell, general superintendent of the West Penn division of the Pennsylvania railroad and officials of the company, who were making an inspection trip at Lane station, Laneville, one-half mile east of Butler Junction on the Butler branch of the West Penn railroad.

Rowan, his wife and one child, one year old, were killed instantly, the others dying shortly after in the home of Timothy Kennedy of Freeport, where they were taken after the accident.

The special train was backing at a fair rate of speed in order to switch to another track at the time of the crash and it is assumed that this confused the chauffeur who saw the tops of the coaches but supposed the train was going in an opposite direction.

Lynchburg, Va., Aug. 27.—Twenty-one persons were injured in a wreck of a mixed train on the Buckingham branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway near Bremo.

This is The Week Young Folks Are Being Prepared for School

And this is the week that busy mothers of school-going children will find us ready to assist them in stylishly outfitting the youngsters. Hundreds of the latest Fall coats and dresses have been received—just the smart, youthful things that will best please their critical tastes.

We suggest the wisdom of selecting early in the week while the choosing is exceptionally interesting and size ranges are complete.

Girls' New Serge Dresses

A splendid choice of these sturdy little Serge dresses that render such satisfactory service during school days. In the always-good high neck style, the clever Peter Thompson effect and dashing little Balkan models with belts, Navy blue and brown with appropriate trimmings. Sizes 6 to 14 years. At $3.50 up to $7.50.

Some New Checked Dresses

They're always well-liked for school wear, these neat, black-and-white Shepherd check dresses. Some are high neck and others have the round, low neck—some piped and trimmed with blue, others embellished with bright red silk and buttons. Sizes 6 to 14 years—priced at $1.50 and up as high as $6.50 for little beauties.

Serge Dresses for Juniors

Slightly, new Serge dresses in navy blue and the rich, wine color. Trimmed with a bright, Roman-striped tie and lace collar, plain skirt. As pretty as they can be—at $8.50.

Handsome New Coats for Juniors

High grade, Fall models from the leading American maker of junior fashions. Very clever things of Chinchillas, Cut Velours, Boucles, Persians and Mixtures, with velvet or self collar—some handsomely lined with brocade silks. Black, navy, Copenhagen, tan, brown, reseda, emerald and grey. The fashionable garments for college and high-school girls. The prices range from $20.00 to $27.50.

New Coats in Intermediate Sizes

The correctly sized garments for little girls who wear the 4, 5, 6, and 7 year sizes—made specially for them, and found in very few stores. Fashioned of Zibelines, Boucles, Chinchillas and plain cloths—some in cunning, little Balkan models. A few of them have belts, while nearly all have velvet or imitation fur collars. Tan, brown, grey, red burgundy and Copenhagen; at $7.50 to $12.50.

New Bath Robes and House Coats For Young Men Soon Leaving for School

Parents who send young chaps to college couldn't remember the boys in a more practical or pleasing way, than by a gift of one of these soft, warm bath-robes or house coats. They're really a necessity for students.

We've just opened an attractive lot of new ones—made with the shawl, military or convertible collar—some with slippers to match. At $3.00 to $20.00.

Novel robes are these new Navajo effects at $5.00 and $6.50—and no less newer are some in a leopard skin pattern at $7.50.

House Coats are shown in stripes and plaids—modestly priced at $6.50.

At $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $20.00 are very fine, all wool robes; mainly imported blanket effects in the newest colorings, including "flame." Exclusive to this store, in Youngstown.

Here's His Sweater Coat

In many new grades—every one allwool and usually with the large, protecting "Ruff-neck" collars, though there are others with Byron and shawl collars, and those without collars. In the Shaker-knit, rope-stitch and wide ribs. Oxford, navy, maroon and tan. At $2.50, $3.00, $3
