FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1915

From the manner in which eight thousand state employees are clamoring for delayed pay checks it is evident that it is not for honor alone that they strive.

The legislature is battering away at the school laws, evidently hoping to smash them into smithereens. It is desired to return to the old methods of conducting school affairs.

Six years ago Bellefontaine voted dry under the Rose law by a majority of 37. Monday at a Ball election the voters showed that they liked dry conditions so well that the majority was 291.

Former President Taft recently declared that he is out of politics for keeps. Just the same, however, his friends are saying things calculated to place him in the running for the republican presidential nomination in 1916.

President Wilson will not visit the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco this month on account of the unsettled international and Mexican situations. He will remain on the lid in Washington until the clouds roll by, hoping to visit the Pacific coast early next summer.

Last week Postmaster General Burleson turned into the U. S. treasury a check for $3,500,000, representing the surplus in the revenues of his department for the fiscal year, which ended June 30, 1914. That is certainly a fine showing for a department which for years showed an annual deficit of millions.

In a patronage way Ohio fared exceptionally well during the congress which ended last week. When the senate adjourned not a single Ohio nomination remained unconfirmed. Unlike many of his democratic colleagues, Senator Pomeroy was on cordial terms with the White House the entire two years.

There is political gossip in Washington connecting Senator Atlee Pomeroy of Ohio with the democratic nomination for vice-president in 1916. The splendid ability of Senator Pomeroy is everywhere recognized, but it is generally believed that he prefers remaining in the senate, where he is a tower of strength, to being vice-president.

It is likely that soon after the convening of the next Congress the act of the U. S. Senate will be revised to eliminate the aged filibuster which has been frequently brought into play to delay legislation through unlimited debate. The practice of permitting any senator to attempt to talk to death a measure that may meet his displeasure should have been put to sleep years ago.

Thousands of southerners under the omnibus war claim law enacted by the last congress will be made happy, as well as their attorneys getting fat fees, when government attorneys find from a few hundred dollars to thousands are handed them in payment for damages alleged to have resulted from the sojourn of union troops in the south during the civil war of half a century ago. Time, we are again reminded, makes all things even.

Congressman Ike B. Sherwood of Toledo is a great lover of the horse and in a recent speech in congress paid high tribute to the noble beast. He condemned state legislatures for enacting laws calculated to discourage horse-breeding and racing and declared the fact that many newspapers play up big prize-fighting, baseball and football on which there is just as much betting as on racing. And there are people who believe that the General is not so far wrong at that.

Throughout the Mexican trouble President Wilson has been patient and forbearing to a degree, but he has been neither idle nor weak. He got rid of Huerta. He has shown his sympathy with the struggling peons. He has proved by accepting the A. B. C. mediation and by evacuating Vera Cruz, that this country has no ambition for conquest. These are great gains, well worth delay. The present move of the administration is a firm one to save Mexico for herself, and every intelligent Mexican will know it.

Gov. Willis last week got busy with his pen and signed the Thatcher bill, repealing the law authorizing probate judges to appoint two persons to examine county treasurers' offices, the Whitaker bill appropriating $6000 for the establishment of three employment offices, and the Hoye bill authorizing the state board of health to provide anti-toxin for the indigent sick. It was real cruel to cut off the easy money two patriots have received since last year for counting the funds in county treasuries and certifying on a stock form that they found all the "doinks" belonging to the county on hand.

If All the World Lived in Texas. If the entire population of the world resided in Texas there would be only an average of 10 persons to the acre, according to figures compiled by John Adams, of Ft. Worth. The population of the world is about 1,600,000,000. If all the inhabitants of the world lived in Texas, the density of the population would be about equal to the density of Ft. Worth's population, which is 2,440 a square mile. There are 265,780 square miles in Texas.—Dallas News.

YOUNGSTOWN

March 11—It seems certain there is no sort of co-summation in this world without adverse criticism. This fact has been emphatically impressed by the sale of the J. Calvin Ewing farm, near Canfield, to the county for an experimental farm, the property being 275 acres for $28,000. So far as heard from the chief critics come from local real estate agents and persons from owners of country land of the type expected to make a sale to this experimenting county. The real-estate agents have very much to say and are saying it with much vehemence. They declare the county asked for a farm of 100 to 200 acres, but took 75 more instead; that $102 an acre, what the Ewing farm cost, is high, that others with farms in the market were not given the Bull-Moose Teddy-Roosevelt square deal; that the viewers galloped over desirable farms in Canfield and Boardman, but were enthusiastic with admiration when they saw and surveyed the property of Mr. Ewing, though, say the critical gentlemen, that the land is no better adapted for experimental purposes than the others; that the inspecting gentlemen did not leave their automobiles to inspect some farms offered the county, but from owners of country land of the first chapter, some of the exceptions alleged to be fringed with profane expletives. It is generally agreed, however, that the Ewing farm is a fine one and well fitted for the experimental objects in view. And there are gentlemen who assert, considering the price of land in Boardman and Austintown townships, and in even others in the county, the price cannot in reason be held excessive. No use trying to please everybody. It recalls the story of the man who altered his coat to please all who suggested alterations. He cut off a bit here and a bit there and kept on cutting and snipping till he had no more coat than a rabbit or catfish.

Some market staples keep dropping little by little. Last Saturday one could buy Simon's bacon that has been selling for over 20c per pound right along, as low as 14c. Potatoes that a short time ago in one shop went at 55c, this week were 10c higher, but the farmer gets but little when it is a fact potatoes are bought at wholesale as low as 35c. Last week farmers retailed apples, Baldwin and Gates, at 80c per bush, or 20c per peck. In Alliance they retailed at 76c. Oysters, that did sell as low as 20c in one emporium, now go for 25c the quart, but they are not the best brands. Chickens, dressed, but not always drawn, range from 18c up. The finest for roasting is a good one may be had for a shilling. Canned goods—corn, peas, beans, etc., are sold by some for 7c per can. Bread is as low as 6c per loaf, but in general the loaves are small, some of them little more around than an ordinary loaf. Beer is as low as 10c within the reach of almost all. One may get a quart of some standard brands or blessings for 75c, though the usual price is $1. There is a fairly good claret, in a fancy bottle, for 75c, and it may be bought here so low as 40c. Beer by the case is so reasonable it is almost such a bargain that a pronounced prohibitionist would find it difficult not to become a purchaser. And that many are buying the amber beverage is evident in the fact George J. Renner is spending $75,000 or $100,000 in large additions and improvements. It is certain as sunshine there is a large contingent not crowded into the water-gates.

There is an earnest effort here for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A., the worthy movement having such prominent supporters as Robert Bentley, Joseph Butler, C. J. Strouse, Mayor F. A. Hartenstein and others. It is unlikely any other institution in the city is more helpful or more deserving.

For some time the local streetcars have been placarded with big cardboard letters the letter P. M. F., meaning "Please Move Forward." In the newspapers it is now explained this is a new and greatly-to-be-admired game or diversion, as it must prove so helpful and accommodating to all concerned. However, there are some unappreciative as to venture the streetcar folks should move forward with considerable more care. And these recalcitrant patrons go even farther and assert there should be a state law prohibiting the taking on of more passengers than each car could carry, would provide with seats. It is now hoped the jitneys, that are coming in fashion to move the recalcitrant operators to grant such a long-wished-for change in transportation.

Ex-Mayor Frank L. Baldwin, who is attorney for the doing-good-ward Humane Society, says he's going to enforce to the letter the state law prohibiting the sale of single little chicks, as is the usual practice along about Easter. No fewer than 10 will be allowed to be sold, it being held where one or two of fewer than 10 are sold for pets they are neglected by children, treated cruelly and die. Mr. Baldwin also has aroused that the seven P. Y. children played in the Park theatre; but, if appearing they were well cared for in all respects, no prosecution was brought against their father, Eddie Foy.

According to figures given here the local steel industry, or that of the Mahoning valley, has assumed gigantic proportions. It is proven the investments in these steel plants in eight years aggregates the stupendous sum of $51,000,000, of which $25,000,000 is to the credit of the Republic I. & S. Co., $10,000,000 each to the Carnegie Steel Co. and the Youngst. v. Sheet & Tube Co.; $5,000,000 to the Erie & Hill Steel Co. and $1,000,000 to the Y. Iron & Steel Co. In this sum is not included the nearly $1,000,000 by the Andrews-Hitchcock Co. in Hubbard, the from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 contemplated appropriation for new additions to the East Youngstown mills, nor the contemplated $1,000,000 appropriation for the new McDonald plant to be built between Girard and Niles this year or next. That such vast works have been located here and that such immense sums are being appropriated already for will be in the not far future form the best evidence of the confidence of the careful, experienced capitalists have in this city and in the future as to trade, manufacturing and commercial conditions.

J. A. Kern has signed up with the local Patrons baseball club. Kern, who is known as Youngstown's Ty Cobb, is a graduate of Grove City college and is one of the star hitters in the league or fan brimment.

Miss Tuckerman, who for 20 years has taught English, ancient history, Latin and Greek in Rayen, has resigned. Since 1901, when Prof. Jewell left the school, she has had all the Greek classes. She is noted for her
