SALEM

Alex Kaiser, who was badly injured some months since when he was caught in a bread mixer, has opened a bakery at his home where an oven was erected and is being liberally patronized as he should be.

NORTH LIMA

July 28—Dr. Isaac T. Headland will speak at the Mt. Olivet Reformed church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock on the subject, "Some By-Products of Missions." The Woman's Missionary Society of the Reformed Lutheran and Evangelical churches united in an effort to secure Dr. Headland. From his residence of 17 years in Peking, China, and his work as professor in Peking university, he has had the advantage of observing at close range the remarkable events and characters of the past decade, while Mrs. Headland, in her position as physician to the princesses, had unusual opportunities to study the women of the highest class in China. The men are especially urged to be present and hear his direct and forceful appeal in which he presented and proved to be the biggest undertaking of this century. The union choir under the direction of Charles Sell will furnish music and lead the congregational singing. Everybody invited.

U. S. INTERVENES FORCIBLY IN HAITI

Takes Quick Action When Mob Murders and Dismembers Republic's Ruler.

LANDS FORCE TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS

Officials of State and Navy Departments Regard Situation as Critical and Important—Crimes and Disorders Increase.

Washington, July 29.—The United States intervened forcibly and quickly Wednesday in Haiti to protect American and foreign lives when the state department was informed that a mob had murdered and dismembered President Guillaume and invaded and violated the French legation at Port-au-Prince. Events there raise the question whether the United States will take the initiative to punish the insult to the French nation under the obligations of the Monroe doctrine or whether France will proceed independently to punish the Dominican republic herself.

May Send Stronger Force.

The crimes and general disorder in Haiti are increasing so rapidly that officials of the navy department said it may be necessary to send a strong force to bring about peace in the republic. Its troubles have been on the hands of the state department acutely for more than a year. Admiral Caperton was at Cape Haitien Tuesday night when he heard of the anarchy at Port-au-Prince and left at once on the cruiser Washington, arriving at Port-au-Prince between 10 and 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. While enroute he sent a wireless to the navy department, which was received Wednesday morning, advising that he heard the French legation was threatened and there was danger to the lives of foreigners. The situation, according to Admiral Caperton, was "very grave."

United States Marines Land.

At the request of the state department the navy department sent Admiral Caperton instructions to land a force at Port-au-Prince to guard the legation and all foreigners. Admiral Caperton has with him a force of nearly 500 men, including 100 marines. The navy department has ordered the cutter Jolson from Guantanamo to Port-au-Prince with 100 additional marines.

Regard Situation Critical.

Officials of the state and navy departments regard the situation as critical and important, not only on account of the activities of the mob, but because of the troublesome questions which have arisen by the invasion of the French legation and the insult to the French nation. The violation of the Dominican legation, which occurred Tuesday, presents another problem for this government, but one hardly as grave as that in which France is concerned. The mob invaded the Dominican legation to capture Gen. Oscar, governor of Port-au-Prince and a supporter of President Guillaume. He was dragged out and killed before the door of the legation. Gen. Oscar had ordered the execution of all male political prisoners held by the government. One hundred and sixty were put to death.

SAYS ATROCITIES GROW

A BRITISH HIGH OFFICIAL DE-CLARES TURKS CONTINUE TO KILL CHRISTIANS.

London, July 29.—The Earl of Crewe, replying in the house of lords to a question by Viscount Bryce concerning the killing of Christians in Armenia by the Turks, said that information received at the foreign office showed that such crimes lately had increased both in number and in degree of atrocity. They included both wholesale massacre and wholesale deportations, which were carried out under the guise of enforced evacuation. Similar crimes had been committed by Turks against Christians on the Persian border.

AIRMAN IS INCINERATED

FRENCH PILOT IS BURNED TO DEATH WHEN AEROPLANE CATCHES FIRE.

Paris, July 29.—With flames shooting up to a height of 50 feet a Paris aeroplane on patrol duty dived to the earth. A passenger threw himself from the machine and fell 10 feet on to the roof of a house. He was rescued and taken to a hospital in a desperate condition. The pilot, Benoit, came down with the aeroplane but was burned to death before he could be rescued. Thousands of people witnessed the catastrophe, which occurred over the densely populated quarter of Vaugirard.

Col. Roosevelt in a speech at San Francisco last week let it be known that Gov. Hiram Johnson of California would be his candidate for the presidency in 1916. Johnson was Roosevelt's running mate in the 1912 campaign. It is very evident that the former president has no thought of returning to the standpat republican fold and taking his following with him next year.

Granville Mooney, former speaker of the Ohio legislature, is in Washington, D. C., booming former Senator Burton of Cleveland for the republican nomination for president next year. Mr. Mooney is certain that Burton is the choice of Ohio republicans who will see to it that he goes into the national convention with a solid delegation from his state. Possibly Mr. Burton would be very happy if he could feel certain that conditions are just as satisfactory as his friend presents them.

Commenting upon America's latest note to Germany, the New York Times says: "With courage and firmness President Wilson and Secretary Lansing have responded to the hopes and the deep convictions of the American people. In the controversy with Germany it was time that there be an end of the long parleying in which our protests and our demands drew forth only evasions and irresponsible counter proposals. The nation has now spoken in words and in a tone which leaves room for no further declarations on our part. The keeping of our relations of amity and peace with Germany is committed into the hands of the deep convictions of the American people. It is for her to choose which path she will follow. Our respect, our honor and our safety we have reserved to our own keeping."

In commenting upon the putting out of business the old state board of agriculture, by Gov. Willis, the Cleveland Plain Dealer says: "So expires one of the big, constructive accomplishments of the Cox administration. The only reason for destroying the agricultural commission was political. For the first time in the history of the state the agricultural and allied interests had been organized in a body like the way the construction interests were free with their praise. Selfish, short-sighted politics alone complained. The 'good old days' for which the Willis followers sighed so audibly during the last campaign have returned so far as this branch of the state service is concerned. Capable men, trained in their particular line of work, have been deprived of office and their places given to Willis patriots. Agriculture is not helped. No single legitimate interest is advanced. Only politics triumphs."

Following are the concluding paragraphs of Auditor of State A. V. Donahy in his analysis of appropriations by the last legislature, prepared for Ohio taxpayers: "How inconsistent, how utterly ridiculous for the General Assembly to cry 'economy' and then make available for the various departments by appropriations nearly five million dollars more than the Cox administration disbursed, and over two million dollars more than they will have to spend even including the cash balance in the treasury! There can be no economy in state government with appropriations in excess of last year's expenditures. The people have been again deceived. The hoped-for reduction in state expenditures has not materialized. What else could be hoped for from a general assembly that demands their pay for 1916 six months in advance, especially when we consider that they will do nothing during 1916 to earn it? They were more anxious for patronage and their own unearned salaries than to serve the state. We assert without fear of successful contradiction that there was not a member in either branch of the General Assembly that could estimate with accuracy the million dollars how much money they had voted from the treasury, every dollar so authorized to be spent coming from the pockets of Ohio citizens. The whole trouble is that those in power are still sacrificing at public expense on the altar of political expediency, and one-third of every dollar appropriated is absolutely wasted as a result of what is commonly called the 'spoils system.'"
