FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1916
The democratic state convention will be held in Columbus Thursday, June 1.

New York last Saturday had the greatest parade of civilians in support of preparedness in the history of the world and now Chicago is arranging for an even greater demonstration.

Gov. Charles S. Whitman has signed emergency preparedness laws enacted by the legislature despite the vigorous protest of a bunch of pacifists. The Governor stands firmly for preparedness, a fact he made clear when he spoke in Canton last January.

Senator Atlas Pomeroy's campaign for re-nomination was formally opened at Canton Tuesday when his petition was filed with the election board. He will have no opposition for the nomination, and standing on the record he has made there is little doubt of his re-election.

Gen. Isaac R. Sherwood, congressman from the Toledo district, is said to be reconsidering his decision to retire from congress at the close of his present term. He will go to Toledo to deliver the Memorial Day address and is expected to make a definite announcement of his intentions at that time.

A. P. Sandies of Ottawa, former president of the state agriculture commission and all the time a live wire, has resigned and from Maryland to take entire charge of the agricultural activities of the state and he will likely accept it. The salary has not been definitely fixed but will be between $7,000 and $10,000 a year.

Speaking before a thousand or more natural gas men at their annual convention in Pittsburgh, Tuesday, Dr. Van H. Manning, director of the federal bureau of mines at Washington, declared that the waste of natural gas had been so great that the supply could last no longer than 25 years. This will be a startling and pleasing information to home-makers who find gas so convenient and economical.

John Begg, president of the state board of agriculture, who for a quarter of a century has posed as the friend of the farmer and the farmer's wife, was recently given a severe calling down by "Put" Sandies, long secretary of the state board of agriculture, because he made no effort to prevent the removal of Mrs. Nesbitt, who was employed by the state to promote child laboring in Ohio. She is a farmer's wife and lived on a farm, but at the behest of the Willis political machine she had to go that her place might be given to a city lady. "No excuses or apologies will relieve Mr. Begg for having double-crossed the farmer's wife," declares Sandies.

THE NATION'S LEADER
Woodrow Wilson has been the nation's leader in the most trying three years of his history. He has been the spokesman for humanity, throughout the world at a time of international upheaval. How great has been the restraint upon the embattled nations, because of their knowledge of the force behind the American president, probably never can be accurately estimated. It is certain, however, that had it not been for the moral leadership of Woodrow Wilson, there would have been no restraint at all upon the belligerents.

Under the leadership of President Wilson, the United States has given evidence of reserve power which has made all European nations, after each new move, await the verdict of America. There has been no egotism, no noise and bluster, no attacks upon honest business men from the White House in the past three years. There has been no junketing or excessive speech-making. President Wilson has handled the world-power which destiny bestowed upon the United States at the present crucial period with faithfulness, discretion and the reserve strength that symbolizes the nation's greatness.

Is it any wonder that stalwart republican newspapers, as well as those of independent or democratic faith, have paid Woodrow Wilson the tribute of ranking him with Lincoln as one of the two greatest presidents?—Warren Democrat.

BAKER WILL SOUND KEYNOTE
The keynote of the Democratic campaign in Ohio will be sounded by Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War in the cabinet of President Wilson. Even before Mr. Baker went to Washington he was the unanimous choice for temporary chairman of the state convention, and was then recognized as "close to the President." His friends in Ohio have been urgent in securing his consent to serve and in getting President Wilson's approval. Announcement was made at the White House Friday that the President had written to former Gov. James M. Cox saying that he had no objection to Secretary Baker sounding the democratic battle cry in his home state.

Always popular, an eloquent speaker, admired for his ability, as a spokesman of President Wilson outlining the exact plans on which the national campaign will be cast, Secretary Baker will be enthusiastically received and his words will be early heard. His selection means that every delegate chosen will be in his seat when the convention opens June 1.

YOUNGSTOWN
May 18—The big sensation, or one of the leaders, this week and last was the attempt by the Polish young man, John Swierz, aged 24, to dynamite the munitions department of the William Tod Co., making ammunition for the allies and the U. S. government. Swierz is married and lived with his wife at 911 Simon street. He was rounded up by Charles DeWolfe, special agent in the federal department in Cleveland. Swierz was arrested by County Detective John J. Kane and jailed. Swierz plotted or thought he did with Dr. Ernest Ludwig of Cleveland, who is the Austro-Hungarian consul, to destroy the plant or part of it for $25,000. According to officials a confession has been made by Swierz, who is being held in jail, so ordered by Justice of the Peace E. M. Faust of Coltsville and Youngstown, and is being defended—pleads not guilty—by attorney William B. Lewis and John Willo. The preliminary hearing, opened in Prosecutor Henderson's office in the court house, was continued until 4 o'clock this afternoon. There was some talk of an insanity plea, but all in all the Pole operated as sane as most of his class entering into criminal plots for cold cash. The defense lawyers have subpoenaed many witnesses and say they will fight the case through the supreme court if it becomes necessary to get their client free. Mr. Swierz is represented to have said he did not intend to blow up the works, but said he would, and made all arrangements, even so far as planting a lot of dynamite near the plant, merely to get the $25,000 and then give leg ball without finishing the job. Counsel Ludwig has been harshly complimented for revealing the plot and hastening the capture and culmination, but it is not clear he deserves any special praise, as he did no more than his manifest urgent duty. If he had done differently, remained mute or inactive, or agreed to the scheme in fact, he would have been as deeply in the mud as Swierz is in mine. When any man deserves high encomium, especially if an official at that, for being honest and true it would seem official integrity had sunk to an exceedingly low ebb.

Says Philosopher E. E. Wright: The fellow who hunts for trouble generally finds it but the one who is prepared for it is seldom bothered. Quite an uproar over here on account of street pavements playing out in six or seven years when it is said pavements should last at least 17 years. Some streets, like Mahoning and Wilson avenues, not down nearly so long, are reported to be in need of contracts with the city have not been enforced. Hereafter, according to Service Director Harry Parrock, they will be, but the most or all of them seem inadequate, for they guarantee for but two years, and but 6 per cent of the total cost is retained to make good if the paving shows defects in that time. That is easy—for the contractor gentlemen—but how about the taxpaying, public-at-large ladies and gentlemen?

A request from members of Tod Post, G. A. R., that the post men be provided with conveyances in the big parade on Memorial day was granted by the city council, which, taking such action, did something entirely new so far as this city is concerned, and also did most worthily. The old defenders of the Union are now sadly few and the most of them unfortunately impaired or in feeble health. While it is now the fashion, the apparent set vogue, for the old parties to ignore the Boys in Blue when making nominations for easy and good-paying office, there is or should be nothing too good in or out of office for these old, bent and gray-haired heroes of nearly 60 years ago.

It seems some question whether or not it pays to put money into a campaign. Attorney Thomas McNamara, Mahoning Democratic national convention delegate, didn't spend a cent to get selected to that position. He, we believe, is the exception in the matter of campaign expenditures. Attorney D. Anderson, who is among the most popular of republicans and a leading member of the bar, falling to land as district delegate to the G. O. P. national convention, showed in his report that he invested $378 for campaign purposes, principally for primary cards.

When it comes to handling the gun and revolver Youngstown certainly has some sureshots all right, all right. Here the other day in Cleveland in a state of L. Lump of this variety, a fellow away from the whole bunch, coming home with the prime bacon. His score was 211 out of 225, which, we submit, is some work not unworthy Buffalo Bill, or the late William Tell, one of the great good friends of O. P. Shaffer, who we believe is still in Florida. Among the champion shots here are County Detective John Kane and W. O. Brown. In old days the champion pistol-shot-champion of the world was Captain Travis who used to shoot an apple off the head of his son George.

If they ever get that line of street cars through to Salem and Canfield what an outpouring of local residents there'll be out along the line from here to the good, old Geographical Center! This week it is reported the candidates are coming in a slightly slow with their one-half of 1 per cent fee for the privilege of being in it at the primaries August 8. At least but $61 had been forked over, and, in a political way as candidates go, that's little enough to set up the drinks for the house; and that of course is the absolute rule when a gentleman is on the rounds for votes more or less—generally more—wet. Why the candidates are so far so shy with their longgreen is perplexing. If they're in it they got to pay; so what's the use holding back the coin or cash? At last accounts the money had been $35 from Hon. John G. Cooper for congressman, $20 from R. J. Nicholson for prosecutor and $10 from I. G. Monroe for recorder. But the checks are all or nearly all of the bunch of aspects of the question in the last week of the auctioneer's attention board's hammer. It is sure not so tough with the fees as follows: Judge of court of appeals, $25; common pleas, $25; representative to congress, $25; state senator, $5; general assembly, $25; county auditor, $25; treasurer, $25; clerk, $22; recorder, $18; prosecutor, $20; probate judge, $25; sheriff, $18; county commissioner, $11; surveyor, $14.

In the last immaculate Conception Magazine Father Kenny made a terrific onslaught against the location of additional saloons near the immaculate Conception church and school. Father Kenny, after being laid up in the St. Elizabeth hospital with a displaced ankle, is again on church and parish duty, and is being warmly welcomed, for there is none other more popular, unless just at present among certain foreign audiences. It is beautiful to read the way he rips some politicians all up the back, and then down and up again. Compared to it carrying a thin-skinned horse is a merciful amusement.

Judge C. M. Wilkins of Warren has entered a decree of foreclosure against the Youngstown & Southern railroad and the property will be sold to satisfy $1,154,000 outstanding bonds. Creditors will share pro rata if the road does not bring the amount of its indebtedness. The board of education has prohibited any more public dances in school buildings. Wright field is to be sold by Paul Powers to the local traction company which will use the site for a car barn and other purposes. A number of manufacturing plants in the city which closed on account of strikes are starting and it is thought will soon be in full operation.

One arm was broken and she was badly cut and bruised. Her daughter and grandchild were also thrown out of the buggy but escaped with only a few scratches. For results, Dispatch Classified Columns.
