Earl Wilson and Ira S. Pershing have purchased Ford touring cars of R. D. Fowler. More flower beds will be made along the edges of the park, making it more beautiful. The Class of 1917 Canfield High School will hold a festival in the park Saturday evening. A son was born last Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hammond of Boardman, formerly of this township. The county teachers' institute will be held in Canfield the last week in August, or just the week before the big fair. A company of young people from the Christian church attended the Boys and Girls Congress in Youngstown Sunday evening. The C. W. B. M. will meet for its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna Osborn, Thursday afternoon, July 6, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Windsor Calhoun pleasantly entertained a company of ladies at luncheon, in her high street home Friday. Covers were laid for twelve. The premium list of the big county fair to be held in Canfield Sept. 6-7 is in the hands of the binder and will shortly be ready for distribution. The colt stake race at the county fair in September will be a great feature. It is known that a number of wealthy gentlemen will enter fleet youngsters in the race. Dr. C. K. Hisey is in Columbiana this week personally supervising the harvesting of his cherry crop. The doctor is the owner of one of the largest orchards in this section. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Susan Walker of Pittsburg and Hadley Jenkins of Youngstown, in Pittsburg June 12. Mr. Jenkins attended the Normal a few years ago. The Dispatch will be glad to publish brief accounts of family reunions as well as mentioning the date before hand. Orders for invitation cards, if entrusted to the job department, will have prompt attention. A company of about 75 surprised Mrs. Rachel Yeager at her home two miles north of Canfield, Wednesday evening, the occasion being her 56th birthday. A bounteous repast prepared by the ladies of the party was served during the evening. Mrs. Yeager was the recipient of many remembrances of the day. Harry Baird's automobile containing his family and father and mother, Sunday afternoon, collided at the corner of Market street and Dewey avenue in Youngstown, with a car driven by H. A. Culbertson of Youngstown. No one was injured although both cars were considerably damaged. Mr. Baird asserts that Mr. Culbertson's violation of the traffic rules caused the accident. Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Manchester pleasantly entertained the Social Set of Youngstown at their palatial home southwest of the village Wednesday evening. In the party were the following accompanied by their wives: W. J. Thompson; Claude Lee, J. A. Rebert, C. P. Fitch, A. W. Hartford and C. C. Kyle. Misses Robert and Fitch and Master Fitch were also guests. Under the direction of Joseph Smith, state inspector, the preliminary work of resurfacing the Canfield-Youngstown road from the beech tree to the brick pavement, was begun this week. A large force of men are being employed and the hauling of material will begin next week when the road will be closed to traffic making a detour via the racoon road to the Cornersburg-Perkins road, necessary. Miss Sarah Barnes, still active and in good health, celebrated her 84th birthday at her home on West Main street Wednesday. A number of relatives and friends were present at dinner, among the top of town guests being Mrs. Ada Kimmel, Miss May Zelt, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Elliott and infant daughter of Alliance. Miss Barnes was the recipient of letters and telegrams of felicitation from a large number of relatives and friends in distant points. State and federal governments are co-operating in a survey of the soils of Mahoning county. M. W. Beck, representing the department of agriculture in Washington, has already begun his work here, and the state representative, Mr. Smith, is due to arrive this week. The survey will include the classification of Mahoning county soils according to color, texture, and other qualities, and also a review of the principal crops that are raised here or for which the soil is adapted. Similar studies have already been made of the state as a whole, and also of individual counties, among which are Trumbull and Portage. President J. B. Jones has sent a call to all of the Alumni of the Normal College and High School residing in Canfield village and township to meet in College Chapel this Friday (June 30th) at 8:30 p. m. Eastern time to consider the possibility of promoting the necessary improvements in Central Park and public grounds of the village. A more laudable enterprise could not be undertaken by those who have benefited by the moral and educational institutions of our town and assurance is not wanting that the citizens generally will faithfully and liberally support such a movement. It is understood of course that no part of the funds or interests of the N. E. O. Normal College Alumni Association shall be, or in fact can be, diverted to the purpose as indicated but it is believed and suggested that local graduates have the necessary energy and physical resources to greatly supplement the meager appropriation which the Council is able to make for the Central Park improvements. Every local graduate should be present with his pro or con sentiments prepared for expression. Closed July 4th. The following local places of business will be closed all day July 4th: Farmers' National Bank, Citizens Co-operative Co., F. A. Morris, The Manufacturer Co., Canfield Shoe Store, W. I. Bryson, S. Whittlesey Adams Dead

Announcement Tuesday of the death of Whittlesey Adams brought genuine sorrow to many Warren citizens. Mr. Adams passed away about 1:30 Tuesday afternoon following a comparatively short illness, although he had been in a crippled condition for about two years. In spite of his physical infirmities Mr. Adams' mind remained keen and active and he had a vast fund of historical data regarding Warren at his command at all times. He was able to give names and dates of prominent people and happenings here for more than a half century back and he was always ready and willing to give his information to anyone seeking it. In his early life Mr. Adams was a regular paid correspondent for the old Cleveland Herald and in his later years he furnished many an interesting contribution to the local and out of town newspapers. He was the hero of a son of Asael and Lucy Mygatt Adams, early pioneers from Connecticut. His father was one of the early merchants of Warren and his store and dwelling house occupied the northeast corner of Myrtle street and Park avenue. He resided there until the old Franklin block was built. There were ten children in the family and Whittlesey was the last surviving member. His early education he received in the schools of the village and later he entered Western Reserve College at Cleveland. From there he went to Yale college from which institution he was graduated in June, 1857. Before entering school at Cleveland he clerked four years in the local post office. Fraternally he was a member of Old Erie Lodge, No. 3, F. & A. M., Mahoning Chapter, R. A. M., Knights Templars, and was a charter member of El Zibah Temple Mystic Shrine.—Warren Tribune.
