TALKS ON BANKING

THE CHAMPION SAVER

To be singled out of a thousand people presenting a plan of life that best evidences the habit of thrift as applied to good living, and awarded the first prize of $50, is a worthy honor, to be coveted by any man. This happy experience has recently befallen the Rev. W. C. Poole of Ocean City, Md., to whom the award was made by a committee of prominent bankers and business men, in a thrift contest conducted by the New York Evening World.
Mr. Poole's salary for the past sixteen years has averaged but $733.18 aside from house rent and donations. This is about $15 a week. He has saved $2,000, visited two expositions, traveled through New England by trolley, bought books and magazines, and given to church and charity.
Mr. Poole never buys on credit. He says he has saved $50 a year by buying for cash and $150 on things he didn't buy, because he couldn't pay cash. He has kept strict account of all expenditures and each year he has tried to do better with the same money.
He started thriftward by saving a dollar a week and has steadily kept it up. He appropriates ten per cent for church and charity and ten per cent for the savings bank. In his letter he says:

"I have never spent a dollar for tobacco, drink, theatres, movies or so-called fashionable dress, but have met the requirement of a minister in all grades of financial and social church life. When I cannot get what makes me glad I am glad of what I get—or try to be. I have more to be glad of and less to be sad of than any one I know. I have not found any one with a better financial system although I have sought for such. The above system was largely inspired by reading the autobiography, when I was a boy, of Benjamin Franklin. The reading of this book should be required of all Americans before they are allowed to vote."
It would seem impossible on so small a salary to live decently and save money, yet Mr. Poole has done it. He has kept at his plan and has succeeded, as can every one who makes up his mind to save money and adopts a definite method. His two rules, "Never buy on credit and save something every week," are sensible and sure to accomplish wonders if consistently followed. They are worth trying out.—adv.

FRENCH TROOPS RECAPTURE FORTS

Crash Through Teuton Lines on Verdun Front for a Gain of Two Miles.

Paris, Oct. 25.—In the greatest surprise blow struck on the western front since Gen. Gallieni's "taxicab army" smashed the Germans on the Marne, the French launched a terrific drive against the armies of the German crown prince east of Verdun.
In one impetuous heading assault the defenders of the most precious plot in France crashed through the Teuton defense on a front of four and a half miles from the Meuse to the Woivre hills. The fury of their assault carried them at points almost two miles into the German lines. They won back in their furious concerted rush trenches, forts, villages and forests which the Germans had bought at the cost of thousands upon thousands of lives.

Win Back Lost Ground.
Fort Douaumont and the village of Douaumont, names written with blood upon the pages of history, once more are in French hands. The Thiaumont works, scene of scores of desperate battles, also is held by the French. The Hadromont quarry, the Callette wood, the Chenoise wood and the Dambloup battery all have been won back.

News of the tremendous victory reached Paris while the soldiers were still smashing their way through the German lines.

Utter secrecy had masked the French preparations for the blow. The Germans were caught completely by surprise and, off their guard and with their ranks drained to supply the demands of the armies on the Somme, fell easy victims to Joffre's great thrust, which was carried out with flawless strategy by Gen. Nivelle.

There had been a tremendous bombardment, but heavy bombardments have been common on the Meuse front. But when the unprecedented intensity of the shellfire warned the Germans that a great general attack was near it was then too late for them to concentrate their forces to meet the blow.

The drum fire of thousands of guns, kept up without intermission throughout the night, wiped out the foremost Teuton defenses.

Fire Became Inferno.
With the dawn the increase of the fire became an inferno. Promptly at the moment—11:40 o'clock—the fire curtains moved back and the French troops leaped from their trenches for the grand assault. The pillus at last were hitting back after months of buffeting.

They went through the first German lines as though they were made of cardboard. And as they advanced the shellfire kept moving before them, cutting off the German reserves and wiping out trench lines and entanglements.

Hundreds of Germans, stunned and dazed, were found in dugouts and underground chambers. They offered little resistance. Their comrades in the trenches had been blown to death by the fury of the fire.

According to accounts reaching Paris, the Germans were swept from their grip on the lofty Froid Terre slopes in the first few hours of fighting. This hill marked their point of closest approach to Verdun. From their crest they had artillery command of the forts and city to the southward. Its capture had been hailed by them as the final step toward the capture of Verdun.

In less than 12 hours Joffre had won back most of those blood-drenched fields and forests which it cost the German crown prince months of fighting and thousands of lives to attain.

Simultaneously with the Verdun assault, the British and French troops on the Somme launched a series of terrific charges against the lines of the Germans, attempting to break through, Berlin says, "at all costs."

This leads to belief among military observers that the two attacks presage a tremendous and unrelenting assault against the armies of the central powers along the whole line in the French theater, probably with the intention of creating a diversion which will make it necessary for the Germans to withdraw some of the troops that are crushing Roumania by swift successive blows.

Farmer Hangs Self.
Fremont, O., Oct. 25.—Charles Ohms, 60, Rby township farmer, committed suicide by hanging himself in a shed. His wife had sued for divorce, charging drunkenness, after the husband had sworn out an insanity warrant against the wife, which the probate court dismissed.

Woman Gets Hunting License.
Norwalk, O., Oct. 25.—The first woman in the history of Huron county to secure a hunting license is Miss Alice Koehn. She will be permitted to hunt rabbits when the season opens on Nov. 1, and wild duck and goose are now legitimate prey for her.

Suing City for Damages.
Stenbenville, O., Oct. 25.—Charging that roaches and rodents driven from a city dump when it was set afire, invaded their homes and damaged property to the extent of $12,000, five property owners have entered suit against the city of Stenbenville to recover that amount. Food, curtains, bed clothing and carpets were destroyed and in one instance a piano was ruined, it is claimed.

Crushed to Death.
Alliance, O., Oct. 25.—Thrown under the wheels of a New York Central freight train which he attempted to board, William DeWitt, 40, driver, was so badly crushed that he died in the city hospital.

CENTRAL POWERS ARE GAINING IN ROUMANIA

Mackensen and Falkenhayn Press Hard on Foes; Serbs Make Gains in Macedonia.

Amsterdam, Oct. 25.—The steel grip of the central powers is tightening with crushing power on Roumania.

In the south Field Marshal Von Mackensen, who on Sunday captured Constantza, principal Roumanian Black sea port, has pushed his drive for possession of the strategic railroad bridge at Tchernavoda within nine miles of his goal.

To the north, in the Transylvanian Alps, Field Marshal Von Falkenhayn has captured most of the passes through which invading troops may be poured into Roumania and on toward Bukharest. Gen. Von Falkenhayn's last report declares the strong resistance of the Roumanians at the northern end of Rothenthum pass, south of Hermannstadt, has collapsed.

On the northwestern Roumanian front the Russo-Roumanian forces apparently are holding their own. But harest reports them on the offensive in the Oltuz valley, where several hundred prisoners and 13 machines guns were captured from Gen. Falkenhayn's troops.

In Dobrudja Field Marshal Von Mackensen inflicted a severe defeat upon the Russo-Roumanian left flank, driving it to the Tara Murat district, some 16 miles northwest of Constantza.

In the center the field marshal also has made notable progress, forcing his way into Medjidie and driving the Russians and Roumanians into the hills to the north, while along the Danube he has drawn appreciably nearer the Tchernavoda bridgehead by capturing the Danube town of Rashova, nine miles southwest of Tchernavoda. He has taken 6,700 prisoners, 12 cannon and 52 guns.

Turkish troops, which with their allies crossed the Constantza-Medjidie railway line in Dobrudja, are pursuing the retreating Russians and Roumanians, says an official statement issued in Constantinople.

The sinking off the Roumanian coast of a 3,000-ton transport by Turkish submarines also is reported.

The Serbians have made new gains in their campaign for Monastir, according to a Paris report on operations in Macedonia, stopping a German-Bulgarian counter attack in the Cerna valley region and then taking the offensive themselves and capturing several trenches.

ARGUE FOR SIMPLE LIFE

CLINICS SHOW STOMACH ILLS MORE COMMON AMONG RICH THAN POOR.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—Clinics held in many hospitals, attended by hundreds of members of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America, in session here, were arguments for the simple life.

It was the consensus of opinion among the surgeons that high living is responsible for more operations than is the life led by poor persons. The rich are more subject to cancer of the stomach than others, it was stated.

Dr. M. E. Rehfuss, during a clinic at one of the hospitals, demonstrated some of the theories held by diagnosticians generally that cancer may result from too much protein, the chief element in meats and some rich foods.

Boy Shoots Two.
Chicago, Oct. 25.—Frank Young, 9, didn't want to see his comrades beaten in a gang fight. So he got his rifle and shot Martin Corson, 9, and David Downs, 10. All are schoolboys. Corson may die.

CANDIDATE FOR SECOND TERM

Non-Partisan Ticket
Election November 7, 1916

FROM THE CLEVELAND PRESS OF OCT. 18, 1915:

"If a man has proved himself a good judge the voters a fight." He should stand without requiring him to 'make a fight. He should stand on his record and should not be expected to ask any man or any group of men to vote for him. He should not have to play politics. Re-election should come as a matter of course."

The law provides that the names of all candidates for Judicial Offices shall be placed upon a "Separate and Independent ballot, without any designation whatever," and the voter must place an "X" to the left of the candidate for whom he desires to vote. The aim of the law is to take away from the judge, even the suspicion of party obligation. This is the nonpartisan law for the election of judges.

Two years ago Judge Spence was elected to fill the unexpired term of Judge Norris, deceased, and is now a candidate for a second term.

SOLDIERS GOT RELIEF FROM SORENESS

Boys on the Border Relieve Their Pains and Aches With Sloan's Liniment.

Once upon a time Norman Jones, serving in the National Guard at El Paso, returned to camp after a strenuous 15 mile hike foot-sore and leg-weary. He had not been long in active service and his shoulders, back and limbs felt the after-effects of marching.
Remembering Sloan's Liniment, Jones applied it to the sore spots and went to bed. He writes: "I awoke the next morning feeling fine; in fact I had entirely forgotten about the hike and went out for a four-hour drill in the sun as spry as ever."
Private Jones passed the experience along and many a boy on the border relieved the agony of sprains, strains, bruises, insect bites, cramped muscles, rheumatic twinges, etc., by the use of Sloan's Liniment.
Easily applied without rubbing. At all druggists, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

LEWIS STOCKER

Democratic Candidate
For County Commissioner
At the Coming Election

Mr. Stocker is an ideal candidate for the office to which he aspires, having had ability and energy enough to conduct his private affairs in a business-like and successful manner that would surely result to the satisfaction of the great majority of the taxpayers. Mr. Stocker has lived all his life in the county, and is thoroughly in touch with the desires and wants of the taxpayers in the way of public improvements. He openly declares that would public highways known as county roads should be built with the best of drainage, good and substantial base and surfaced with the best paving brick, and stop experimenting with inferior material. He could be depended upon to use the same good judgment in public affairs as he does in the conduct of his private affairs, the fact of his long residence here, and that his chances of success are greatly enhanced because of his large personal acquaintance and popularity but at tests his excellent standing and record as a man and citizen.

Mr. Stocker has resided on the Early road for the past 24 years, where he has followed farming and dairy business, except for 5 years when he was in the wholesale flour and feed business in East Front street. Twenty years ago Mr. Stocker established the sanitary retail delivery of milk in glass bottles, which proved to be a great success.
In 1914 Mr. Stocker realized the demand was continually growing for Pasteurized milk and cream product, so he built what is known as the Science Hill Dairy Plant, Stop 19 Sharod Line, which is now under the management of his son, E. L. Stocker. Mr. Stocker is a farmer and a business man has been successful; in the county as well as the business he managed in the city. He is in a position to serve the residents of the city as satisfactory as those of the country. Mr. Stocker desires and will appreciate the support of his friends and all Democrats at the November election.
