

HOME HAPPENINGS

—Most of the local boys now in military training camps are expected home about the holiday season.

—The third installment payments to the Mahoning War Chest are now due and should be made to Miss Helena Delfs, local treasurer.

—A number of influenza cases have been reported the last week in and near the village, but most of them have been in mild form.

—John Flannigan, who has been an inmate of the Massillon state hospital for several years, is back to town, but his stay may be only temporary.

—In noting the advance in the price of milk in last week's Dispatch a typographical error crept in. The new price is 14c a quart and 8c a pint.

—On account of the influenza ban the farmers' institute announced for Berlin enter next Tuesday and Wednesday has been indefinitely postponed.

—A stated communication of Argus Masonic lodge will be held this (Friday) evening when the annual election will be held. There will also be work in the E. A. degree.

—There will be no preaching at the Methodist church next Sunday morning so that there may be a larger attendance at the 3 o'clock address. There will be a prayer meeting, however, at 11 o'clock, led by the pastor.

—Springing the weather was decidedly spring-like, the mercury registering around 60 degrees and the air was warm and balmy. Hundreds of automobiles were out for a spin, all roads leading to the village being lined with machines.

—The first number of the local lecture course which was to have been given Monday evening, Dec. 16, has been cancelled. The situation is such that the management hesitates to be responsible for a possible spread of the disease.

—The jail gang has done no work on the roads in Canfield the past week but the ten-ton roller is being operated on the West Main street highway, making it very solid and able to withstand much heavy traffic to which it is subjected.

—H. A. Truesdale of Conneaut, Ohio, a wealthy layman, will deliver a sermon-lecture before the laymen in the Canfield Methodist church next Sunday afternoon at 3. Let every one of all denominations hear him. No admission and no special collection.

—One night last week after using an electric flat-iron Mrs. C. C. Neff forgot to switch off the current after completing her task. Just before retiring she chanced to visit the laundry, and it was fortunate she did, as the iron had become overheated and the table on which stood was starting to burn.

—The Farmers' National Bank is now receiving taxes from those who desire to save themselves the trouble and expense of visiting the county treasurer's office, and this service is rendered without cost. Many people have for years taken advantage of this easy method of meeting the demands of the tax gatherer.

—Dr. J. A. Sherbondy, at the head of Base Hospital No. 31, organized in Youngstown, which has been in France for months, cabled Dr. D. Campbell that his daughter, Miss Winifred, night superintendent of the hospital, would leave for home as soon as possible. It is likely, however, that several weeks will elapse before she reaches home.

—One day recently while C. E. Bowman of Ellsworth township was out in a field looking after live stock a ram attacked him, knocking him down and then butting him, inflicting painful injuries. Mr. Bowman has not been well for months and in his weakened condition was unable to defend himself against the attack of the infuriated ram. He is slowly recovering from his injuries.

—Unless the village council takes prompt action in regulating the weight of loads carried by trucks the macadam roads rebuilt and repaired, and not yet entirely completed, will be destroyed before spring. The county commissioners some months since fixed the tonnage that could be hauled over the improved roads of the county but seemingly no attention is paid to the order. If truck owners persist in hauling loads in excess of the improved highways they should be made to pay right smart for it.

—The funeral of Miss Myra Smith, who died last week in Massillon, was held Saturday afternoon from the Methodist church, of which she was a member. Rev. S. B. Lowrie being in charge. Burial was made in the village cemetery. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. D. B. Hays, of North Lima, and one brother, Mrs. Smith, of East Palestine. The deceased for many years made her home here with her uncle and aunt, the late Hosea and Mary Hoover, ministering to their every need and making smooth their pathway in old age.

—Monday morning Mrs. Violetta Swager received a telegram from the war department advising that her son Wallace had been seriously wounded Oct. 29 while in action in France. Wallace enlisted in the regular army a year ago last summer and went overseas about a year ago and has since seen much active service. He is the first of the many Canfield boys in the fighting, so far as is now known, to be seriously wounded. Later—Thursday Mrs. S. received from Wallace a letter dated Nov. 18 and postmarked the 19th saying that he is still in a hospital but feeling fine and expected to be back with his company very soon.

—A company of soldiers in charge of army trucks was being disciplined when it arrived here last Saturday on orders of the Major. The company spent a night in Bellevue where several of the men were furnished liquor, trouble resulting in which the police force took a hand. The commanding officer learned of the incident and all privates were ordered denied the entire company. After the men reached Canfield they gave their cars needed attention and were then marched to town hall and the Odd Fellows' building where they remained until next morning. Sunday afternoon when another company arrived a dozen or more of the drivers caused their engines to back-fire as they passed along West Main street and the racket made was like an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration. The captain secured the names of offenders and they were immediately deprived of all privileges until further orders.

—Quite a number of strangers from this county attended the annual meeting of the state grange held this week in Canton.

—The drive for Red Cross membership begins next Monday and continues one week. Join! All you need is the heart and a dollar.

—The reception planned in honor of Recd. S. B. Lowrie and family and appointed for this (Friday) evening has been indefinitely postponed because of the prevalence of influenza.

—One year ago this week roads in all directions were blocked by snow drifts, interrupting traffic and preventing rural delivery of mail. The mercury registered from 6 to 10 degrees below zero on several mornings.

—Mrs. Ella Tate received a letter from her son, Sergeant Bryan Tate, Thursday morning in which he said he is in a hospital but rapidly recovering and will soon be back with his company. He said he would not swap his war experience for all the wealth of Rockefeller.

—No army truck trains have passed this way since Sunday and no complaint will be made if no more appear. What the trucks do to highways is a plenty. People who have been called upon to pay smartly for road rebuilding and repairs have no burning desire to respond soon to a similar call.

—Thomas E. Donnelly, director of the pulp and paper division of the war industries board, advises the Dispatch that no further reports from weekly newspapers as to paper used, etc., will be required, but adds that "the board wishes to emphasize that the return to wasteful practices prohibited under its rules will mean higher prices for newsprint and possible failure to secure paper during some periods of stress."

—A large number of letters from local soldier boys abroad was received by relatives and friends Thursday morning. Some of the letters bore postmarks as late as Nov. 24 while others antedated the close of the war. Many anxious mothers have been waiting with fear and trembling to hear from their boys since hostilities ceased. The mail received Thursday was the first to arrive bearing postmarks since the signing of the armistice. Several mail boxes arrived in New York Wednesday and many letters will reach local people within a day or two.

—Myron K. Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Goodman, who reside near Toot's Corners in Green township, died at 12:30 Wednesday afternoon of pneumonia, following influenza. Deceased was born in the house where he died Jan. 22nd, 1894, consequently he was nearly 24 years of age. He was a farmer by occupation, working with his father, and an exemplary young man. He is survived by his parents, one brother, Leroy, and one sister, Mrs. Stacy Cook. Two sisters, Miss Esther, and Mrs. Ernest Sigle, died within the last year. Private funeral services in charge of Rev. Natziger, pastor of the Greenford Lutheran church of which the deceased was a member, will be held from the family home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends desiring to view the remains may do so through a window Saturday and Sunday until the funeral hour.

—Mrs. Clara Rakestraw, wife of Eli Rakestraw, died Monday forenoon of pneumonia, following an attack of influenza only a few days before. Deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hoover, and was born in Berlin 34 years ago. She was a member of the M. E. Church and highly esteemed by all who knew her. She is survived by her husband, who is very ill, and four children, Leona, Howard, Charles and Lester. Her parents, one brother, Martin Hoover, in France, and three sisters, Mrs. Harry Kale of Blanco, Mrs. J. J. Kinsley and Mrs. Howard Echert of Ravenna. Funeral services were held this afternoon in charge of Rev. Caven with burial in the cemetery west of the village.

—George Eckis, after conducting a successful hardware business for several years, has sold his store to W. D. Galbreath and Henry Shively. Success to the new firm.

—William Heiser, through with soldier life, having been honorably discharged, and is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Heiser, in this township.

—A winsome daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fields.

—Farmers' institute was declared off account of flu, which is close to epidemic in and around Berlin.

—A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hesel.

—Glen Paxton and family have taken possession of the fine home recently purchased of W. D. Galbreath.

—RESOLUTIONS OF BOARD OF AGRICULTURE OF OHIO FAVORING A STATE CONSTABULARY

Whereas, life and property of the rural sections of the state are without adequate police protection, and

Whereas, the general increase in the use of the automobile has made rural sections more accessible to the criminal element; and

Whereas, the reckless use of our highways by lawless drivers of automobiles is becoming more and more serious; and

Whereas, a state constabulary would be of benefit and assistance to the Department of Agriculture in apprehending violators of fish and game laws and other regulatory work; and

Whereas, the state constabulary of the states of Pennsylvania and New York have demonstrated the practicability and value of such protection,

Resolved, That the Board of Agriculture of Ohio favors legislation providing for a state constabulary for Ohio, and will lend its influence in securing the passage of such a measure.

—Ray Dales called in this vicinity Sunday.

—Oh, yes, the flu very quickly resumed its former duties. The disease is very bad in many nearby cities and villages. Salem is reported to have a total of 1000 cases. Going some! Pay strict attention to health regulations and be careful in every way, and thereby prevent spread of the dread disease.

FORMER CANFIELD WOMAN DEAD

—Mrs. E. B. Webster died at her late home in Sandwich, Ill., Nov. 29. The mention of Mrs. Webster's name will recall to the minds of the older residents of Canfield the years when Professor and Mrs. Webster had charge of the Normal school. They won for themselves, in those four years of their residence here, many warm friends and gathered about them a faculty that made the school well-known and efficient. Among the teachers of their regime were Prof. F. B. Sawvel, Dr. Wm. Dickson, Miss Alberta and others. After her husband's death in 1895 Mrs. Webster made her home with her daughter Mabel in Chicago and later with her daughter Maud in Sandwich, Ill. Mrs. Webster was a woman of singular refinement and charm. Her whole life was spent for others, and her unselfishness and Christian character will long be remembered by the many people whom she knew. She leaves to mourn her loss her sister, Mrs. S. C. Wilson, of Youngstown, three children, C. W. Webster, Asheville, N. C., Mabel Webster, Osmer, Chicago, and Maud Webster of Sandwich and three grandchildren. Burial was at West Farmington.
