The Community Library will be open next Friday until 7:30 p. m. All traveling library books must be in on that day.

The work of remodeling the interior of the Farmers' National bank has been completed, making much more room for the working force.

About a dozen members of Phoenix Encampment, Youngstown, attended the meeting of Canfield lodge of Odd Fellows Wednesday night.

The Dispatch is always glad to receive local news items. Please remember this, friends. You can do a lot in helping to make your favorite county paper more interesting.

Labor Day passed very quietly in Canfield, people desiring to observe the day going to other towns. A ball game arranged for the afternoon had to be called off on account of rain.

Joseph Warner has sold what is known as the Nathan Yeager farm, 2 miles north of the village, and bought a farm in Columbiana county to which he will shortly remove with his family.

Early varieties of grapes are coming into market. More grape wine is likely to be made this year than for a long time. A lot of people will feel the need of it for their stomach's sake.

At the fair grounds last Sunday afternoon the Canfield base ball team defeated the Calla club by a score of 5 to 2. The Canfield juniors then met the Calla juniors, defeating them by a score of 9 to 3.

About 40 members of the Manchester family held a reunion Monday at the home of Attorney C. A. Manchester in this place. Among those present were three octogenarians and two past 70 years of age.

Council met Monday night and discussed the improvement of village highways. It is likely that some improvements considered cannot be undertaken this year on account of delays in several directions.

Several news letters and other matters intended for this paper are omitted for the good and sufficient reason that our typotype operator was not equal to the task set for him. He hopes to be able keep the pace hereafter.

The Collar family held its reunion last Sunday at the home of Wm. I. Clay in Canfield. Among those from out of town in attendance were Wilbur Collar of Beaver Falls, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harroff of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Renkenberger of Columbiana.

Next Sunday at the M. E. Church: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; morning worship at 11 a. m. Dr. I. E. Miller, district superintendent, will preach and administer communion. The 4th quarterly conference will be held after the morning service. Evening service at 7:30.

The Choral Club of Canfield consisting of 20 members, assisted by the Locust Grove orchestra, will give an entertainment under the auspices of the Methodist choir in the Canfield M. E. Church this (Friday) evening. The program is such as to surely please all lovers of good music.

Hundreds of signatures have been secured on petitions asking the county commissioners to vote at the November election the question of issuing bonds for the purpose of building a new bridge at Lanterman's Falls, the present structure being old and claimed to be dangerous.

The 23rd annual reunion of the Baer family was held last Saturday in Stafford's grove near North Lima, 100 being present and a most enjoyable time was had. The reunion next year will be held at the same place. Officers elected: President, Harvey Blosser; secretary, Nila G. Beard; treasurer, Harmon Leshner.

Nearly 200 teachers are attending the County Institute which opened in Canfield Tuesday morning and continues until Friday evening. The instructors are among the foremost educators of the country and the teachers manifest a lively interest in every session. The Dispatch hopes to have a complete report of the institute doings next week.

Rev. Roy S. Smith, pastor of the M. E. Church, and Miss Ella Dewey of Geneva were united in marriage at the home of the bride August 20, the ceremony being performed by Dr. H. W. Dewey, pastor of the Geneva Methodist church and father of the bride. Rev. Smith expected to go soon as a missionary to India, but has changed his plans and will not leave for a foreign field for at least a year.

While W. K. Housel was learning to drive a Ford last Monday forenoon he lost control near the residence of I. F. Betts, on the Ellsworth road, and collided with A. Supply's Ford touring car. Both machines were badly damaged. Mr. Housel was cut on his forehead by glass from the broken windshield. Charles Overdorf of Pittsburg, seated beside Mr. Supply, had the palm of his right hand lacerated and he received other cuts from flying glass. Others in the machines escaped injury.

Everything is all set for the county fair to be held in Canfield next week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The first day is devoted to making and placing entries and the big show is on the succeeding two days. Mail entries have been coming in for some time and indications point to a large exhibit in all departments. The speed classes attractive purses are hung up and no doubt all will be well filled. Many and varied attractions will be on the grounds to entertain the thousands that will attend the greatest fair in this quarter of the state.

Dependancy. Sufferers from indigestion are apt to become discouraged and feel complete recovery is not to be hoped for. No one could make a greater mistake. Hundreds have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and can now eat anything that they crave. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. If you have not tried them do so at once.—adv.

WE HAD A GOOD SOCIAL TIME

Somebody has said that "Saturday night is niggers' night. Perhaps it is, down South, in 'Ole Alabama," but if you had been with us last Saturday night, at the home of J. B. Kirk, Canfield, you would have found us a mighty white and jolly bunch.

By "us" I mean about 45 men and women. The occasion was a surprise party, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Taggart, who were about to leave Ohio and move into Columbiana county. Now don't think that it is all the friends the Taggarts have in the county. Many were scared out—or in—by the storm. Had all arrived Kirk's would have had to move, too.

What did we all do; just talk and talk? Yes, and no; we talked, and then we had some "eats"; then we talked some more. Just a "free-for-all" talk. Then C. J. Roller, president of the Mahoning County Horticultural Society, made a short speech, expressing regret at the loss from our county, of so efficient and experienced an horticulturist. Mr. Taggart responded briefly, stating that while he was moving into an adjoining county, he would continue to be "one of us" in our society. Time and space will not permit us to mention the names of the guests.

During the five years that Mr. Taggart has been superintendent of the horticultural department of the Mahoning county experiment farm, he has made a host of friends; not only among those who have visited the farm; but all over the county, where duty has called him in his work of demonstration in spraying and pruning. His connection with the Mahoning County Horticultural Society, and his splendid efficient services, contributed most largely to the success of the apple show, at Youngstown, three years ago, and the fruit exhibits at the Canfield fair in 1917 and 1918. All these services, rendered in his quiet, unobtrusive way, have greatly extended his circle of friends.

The Taggarts moved to Columbiana county; about three miles southeast of Columbiana, where Mr. Taggart entered his new, and greatly extended field; that of superintendent and manager of the Goldberg brothers' large fruit farms. Those who know him can have no doubt of his ability to make good.

While we, their friends, had an enjoyable social evening with them, and their host; there was present a visible feeling of regret, because of the removal from our midst, of friends whom we all have learned to esteem highly, because of their sterling qualities and character. Yet we rejoice in the fact that they are not moving so far as to render our separation permanent. We feel that what is lost to us, is gain to their new neighbors.

Canfield Manufacturing Co. failed for $25,000 and G. N. Boughton was appointed receiver. C. C. Carter was general manager when the failure occurred.

SEPTEMBER 9, 10 and 11. The Canfield Fair. Don't Forget It.

For 72 years the agricultural people of Mahoning and adjoining counties have been attending the Canfield fair, each year's exhibits being better than those of the previous year; and this year—thirty-third—promises to be the best ever.

We haven't had time to look over the premium list and compare it with former lists, as there are a few things we do not expect to enter in competition, so not especially interested in the amount due the winners. But it's a long list, including everything, animate and inanimate, from a "four-year-old Percheron stallion" to best collection of army relics, with inter-jacent subjects of all sizes, colors and sexes; Big Normans and little Shetlands, turkeys, parrots, geese and Cote-wold ewes, two-year-old and up; squealing Durocs and crowing bantams. Irish cobbler by the peck and dead bees, buckwheat and Bellingheimers, the Bell of Georgia and Flemish Beauties, coccoomb and snapdragons, bouillabaisse and asparagus. Holland cheese and doughnuts—with a hole in, jellies, jams and chow, chow, aflangans, camisoles and yokes, Battenberg, tabourette and tating. Vases, jugs and sugar bowls—in oil. Premiums ranging from $20, if you wish, to $300,000, being awarded.

And doubtless there will be a "Midway," as in former years; with teddy bears, baby and adult dolls, on which there is no premium offered by the society, but for which the losers will pay many times their worth.

The Mahoning County Horticultural Society will have an exhibition of fruits, larger and better than ever. If you saw our exhibit last year you may know about what to expect this year; for Pres. C. J. Roller says "we're going to have a big show of apples" and what Charley says goes; for he has the biggest orchard in the county, and the most Ben Davis'. Now, if you don't happen to know Ben Davis, when you see him, come to the fair and Charley will introduce you to Ben, or Ben to you.

Orchardists of Green township report larger, finer, and better colored apples than last year, because the crop is not so heavy.

A meeting at the home of Pres. C. J. Roller, Greenford, Thursday evening, of fruit growers and exhibitors, to complete arrangements for the fair exhibit. Come, or go, just so you get there, and help. And then bring your apples—red, yellow, white, green and every other color—to the fair. The exhibit of apples attracted much attention last year. Help make it more so this year.

If "Johnny Applesed," the eccentric character, who, many years ago, planted and scattered appleseeds over Ohio and adjoining states, could see our exhibit, he would know that his efforts were not in vain; for there can be no doubt that some of the splendid varieties of today are descendants of

THE STOCK HE PLANTED; BROUGHT TO PRESENT DEGREE OF PERFECTION BY CAREFUL SELECTION AND BY MATURED AND ARTIFICIAL HYBRIDIZATION.

Now, don't forget the dates—Sept. 9, 10, 11. And the place—Canfield. Just across the pike from the Mahoning County Ex. Farm. Come early and avoid the rush at the gates, and in time to find a parking place for your auto.

If you should forget the time and place, ring 2 on 29, Pres. Thomas Leonard Kniff will put you right. Associated with the Agricultural Society for many years, he can tell you all you need to know about it. He sure will tell you to come!

Yours for a bumper fair. M. B. TEMPLIN, Sec'y. of Hort. Society.

P. S.—Near the apple exhibit you will find the place to dig up 50 cents and become a member of the Mah. Co. Hort. Society. That's one of the best ways to help the fair, for the Hort. Society will have an exhibit every year.
