Washingtonville

School will open Monday morning, September 15, with the following corps of teachers: Muriel Girard, first and second grades; Mary Greenfield, third and fourth grades; Rebecca Weikart, fourth and fifth grades; Carrie Woods, sixth grade; Mary Fitzsimmons, principal and high school teacher. Let all pupils be in attendance on the opening day, so that they may know just what plans have been prepared for their work. It is not known at this writing whether a teacher has been secured for the seventh and eighth grades, but boys and girls of these grades must report at the opening of school just the same as usual. In the absence of a teacher, the principal will be there to take charge of the work.

Peter Again Takes His Pen in Hand. This community is largely Methodist in persuasion, and as a consequence, there was a large attendance from here to the Hollow Rock camp meeting.

The Chautauqua management was called upon last week by the U. S. agent for several hundreds of dollars of war taxes, but they refused to pay more, and asked to have what they did pay refunded on the ground that it was educational in its nature, and not for profit.

Jesse Marshall, our dealer in cemetery work, has just erected a granite monument to the Albright and Mercer families in the cemetery at Franklin Square.

The Carrollton band furnished music for the harvest home picnic at Germano, Harrison county.

Two of Carrollton's potteries, the rubber works, the toy factory and other industries of town had a largely attended and enjoyable picnic on the Carrollton fair grounds last Saturday. The grounds have recently been improved, the buildings enlarged and painted in anticipation of the big fair, October 1, 2 and 3. The program was good and also the prizes.

This town has outgrown its railroad facilities (having worse accommodations than Canfield and Washingtonville), and the roads leading into town are also in bad repair.

The Free Press-Standard has had its print-shop in the basement of the court house ever since it started, but the ladies of the county have petitioned the commissioners for a rest room, so the newspaper plant is compelled to vacate the court house October 15.

There is talk of another bank being started here, possibly by those who desire to have their Liberty bonds cashed.

Business goes by threes here, 3,000 population, 3 dentists, 3 shoe shops, 3 George E. St. undertakers to furnish jobs for six doctors. Groceries have more than their quota, owing to the H. C. L.

There was a water shortage here a few months ago, so our authorities hoped they would drill, but it proved to be salt water, and who turned into the mains the people protested until the salt well was turned off. Another well was drilled, which gives better satisfaction. This is a "dry" town anyway.

Speaking of "dry" territory and the scarcity of water, I am thinking how I would like to drive my Pierce-Arrow by the cross-roads west of Washingtonville, and partake of a cool draught of water from R. B. Maxwell's fountain; then proceed to the Menonite settlement, east of town, for a good square meal. And who could blame me?

I would enjoy a letter or postcard from all my old friends "back home," telling of their joys, sorrows, births, marriages and prosperities; how the coal mines are doing, the farmers prospering, the baseball club doing good playing, the gun club hitting clay pigeons, etc.

The old soldiers of the Civil War are in national convention in Columbus this week. The Ladies Auxiliary and the S. of V. also meet with them, making it the largest delegation ever assembled. This brave old army is nearing its end, yet we are always in sufficient trouble to call in convention at any time. The best words Grant ever said were, "Let us have peace." And he once said of some government rascals, "Let no guilty man escape," which would apply to present conditions. If the whole world is to be a League of Nations, why not reduce the H. C. L. and have a league of Churches, under the established Church of Rome or England?

PETER M. HEROLD.

MILLVILLE

Millville, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Elizabeth Yaeger and daughter, Mrs. Foster Reed, were associate hostesses to the members of the Home Circle club members at their home Thursday afternoon. NORTH LIMA

Sept. 10.—Next Sunday morning union services of thanksgiving will be held in Mt. Olivet Reformed church in honor of the returned soldier and sailor boys of Beaver township. Rev. J. H. Graf of the Lutheran church will deliver the sermon. In a similar service held in the Lutheran church in the evening Rev. L. J. Rohrbaugh will speak.

On Tuesday evening a public reception will be given the boys in the school house and a supper will be served by the ladies of the Red Cross.

The committee in charge is trying hard to make this a pleasant community affair in which all may participate, and all are invited to come out to any or all of these meetings.

Last Thursday night the Overland garage was robbed of a lot of tires and automobile sundries to the value of several hundred dollars. The same night entrance was forced into the depot and postoffice, but no loss was reported.

About 11 o'clock Sunday night a passerby saw a light in the postoffice and later saw a man run from the rear door of the building. Pursuit was taken up by citizens, but the man effected his escape. Nothing in the office was disturbed. On both occasions a blood hound, the property of a citizen of Warren, was secured, and the dog followed a trail for some distance, but nothing definite was learned as the trail was finally lost.

Attempted thefts and robberies have become quite common in the village during the last year, and citizens are determined to make no effort to run down the guilty parties.

Mite box opening produced $7.50. Thank offering amounted to $1. Dues to the amount of $2.60 were paid. After lunch the W. C. T. U. held a short session. The first chapter of Daniel was used for a Scripture lesson. Several leaflets were read. The meeting then adjourned to meet in one month.

The lecture given last Wednesday evening at Bunker Hill M. E. church by Rev. Brown of North Jackson was well attended.

The Wednesday evening fire broke out in the store operated by B. T. Kegg. The building and contents were entirely destroyed, nothing being saved but a can of oil and a box of two soap that were stored in a small building just back of the store. The fire was so well under way when discovered that it was too late to save anything within and all efforts were turned towards protecting a dwelling nearby. The origin of the fire is unknown, there being no fire in the building during the day.

The most probable theory is that some smoker had thrown down a burning match or cigar stub. The extent of the loss is not known. There was a small insurance on the contents of the building. Mr. Kegg has already placed a new stock of goods in one of his dwellings, where he will continue to do business for such time as he can acquire a suitable building.

B. T. Kegg and family and Charles Venable and family motored to Alliance, Sunday, where they were joined by Adam Martin and family, when all went to Rockhill park for a family picnic. Mr. Kegg took with him Miss Vera Cress of East Palestine, who is spending some time at his home.
