The summary for the nest month of the spelling contest shows that there were 3,802 children spelling, including grades 3 to 8; that the average num per of words spelled by the pupils was 169; the average per cent, for the month was 94.45. There were 897 children who did not miss a single word during the month. The program for the holiday meet-ing of the State Teachers' Association is announced. The meeting will be held in Columbus, Dec. 29, 30 and 31. The chief speakers are Dr. David Snedden of the teachers' college, Columbia university; Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor Congregation church, Brooklyn; Dr. Harry F. Atwood, Chicago; Dr. Thompson, president of Ohio State university. The meeting will center its attention upon focusing the public mind upon the school situation to the

that all schools may be adequate ly financed. Since the report of the joint taxation committee has been made, it is found that the program recommended them is quite close to the one which the Ohio State Teachers' association suggests. It provides for a levy of 5.7 mills instead of 5 mills as provided by the Smith One er Cent. law, and 2 mills additional by vote of the people these two mills to be exempt from the limitations of the Smith One Per Cent. Second. The equalization of educational opportunity throughout state. By creating a state tax of 1.7 mills, which when levied upon the grand duplicate of the state should pay 50 per cent. of the total salaries of the teachers. A county-wide levy of at least 1 mill would pay 30 per cent, of the total teachers' salaries. maining 20 per cent, of the teachers salaries to be paid by the local taxing district. This is a recognition of the fact that education is a state and coun ty matter and not a purely local one. Third. The state and county levies will be distributed on the basis of the number of teachers necessary and the aggregate days of attendance Boards of education and tax payers should back this program. Most of our schools have set the holiday vacation for December 19 to 29. In a few cases it will extend from December 19 to January 5, 1920. We find that the total amount contributed during the Junior Red Cross drive in the county was $309.66. This represents approximately 60 per cent of the total amount contributed in the various schools of the county. The teachers and pupils are to be congrat ulated for the liberal contributions and faith in the Red Cross. Last Friday and this week through the courtesy of the Youngstown Community Corporation, whose secretary is Hon. A. O. Fleming, each school child in the county was given free five Red Cross seals to be used upon Christmas packages either mailed or unmailed. These have been ullotted to the various teachers of the county and should be in the hands of the pupils by this time. The condition upon which the seals were given was tha the teacher would do everything pos sible to make the children appreciate the thing for which the Red Cross seal stands, namely, the abolition of the boards of education of the county wa held in the assembly room of the Y. M C. A. building, Thursday, Dec. (While not largely attended, it was ful of interest and many good points were made. The meeting went on record favoring a state-wide levy of 2 milk outside of the limitations of the Smith One er Cent. law, a county-wide levy of 2.7 milis and third, the visting of al property at its true value or else the repeal of the Smith One Per Cent. law The meeting also unanimously voted to repeal the Hughes Health law, which, it was shown, is loosely drawn, expensive, and by no means specific with reference to the duties of its em-

SNAILS RETURNING TO PARIS

That Is, They Are Again to Be Served In Smart Restaurants of the Gay City.

For the first time for years the Paris restaurants are now sending orders to the snall farms in the prov inces, as well as to Italy and Switz erland. The snalls are collected during June and July by women and children, and must be as tenderly handled as eggs, for on no account must the shell be cracked. At the farm they are placed one by one on grass in fine wire enclosures, and are fed on lettuce and cabbage, A large cabbage in an enclosure with two hundred snalls will disappear in an hour. A large business is done in "runners' (as the snalls are called when they run about) all the year round to meet the tastes of less fastidious diners. and the largest gray-shelled snallthe best of the edible ones-is in danger of being exterminated by being collected during the breeding season. "Runners" must not be packed with fresh grass or they will overeat themselves, have indigestion and so spoil their flavor. There are people who collect the larger gray shells to sell to the smaller restautats that an inferior order of snall, or even the humble mussel, may be substituted. The snall which is to tempt the palate of the epicure must not be eaten before the last week in September, The snails are usually packed in flat boxes or baskets containing from 1,000 to 1,500 each. Their storage is not an easy matter, for they must be kept at a carefully regulated temperature for a degree too much heat will de ceive them into the belief that spring has arrived, and they will wake and crawl about.

Undecisive Character. A person of undecisive character wonders how all the embarrassments In the world happened to meet exactly in his way, to place him just in that one situation for which he is peculiarly unadapted, but in which he is also willing to think no other man could have acted with facility or confidence. Incapable of setting up a firm purpose on the basis of things as they are, he is often employed in vain speculations on some differen supposable state of things, which would have saved him from all this perplexity and irresolution. He think what a determined course he could have pursued if his talents, his health his age had been different; if he had been acquainted with some one person sooner, if his friends were, in this or the other point, different from what they are; or if fortune had showered her favors on him. And he gives him self as much license to complain as if all these advantages had been among the rights of his nativity, bu fate, to his life.—Rev. John Foster. Bees Took Carload of Sugar. France, a carload of crystallized sugar was held up and within four days the Australia's Pride in Warships The commonwealth is proud of its warships and particularly of its battle cruiser which saved Sydney and Melbourne from bombardment at the outbreak of the war. The Australian Arts club has shown its pride in a prac tical way by presenting a selection of paintings, drawings and etchings to the ward room of H. M. A. S. Aus tralia. All the gifts were the work of members of the club, which included some of the leading artists of the commonwealth. In return, Commo dore Dumaresq entertained the committee of the club at luncheon on the battle cruiser, which has been sta tioned in Farm cove, Sydney harbor, since its return from the North sea.

Genuine Ambition Is Key to the Treasure Box of Success in Our Life Work

"No chance" has ever been the excuse of weaklings, of these who fail. Interview the great army of failures, writes O. S. Marden in the New Success, and most of them will tell you that they never had an opportunity like others, that there was no one to help them, no one to give them a boost. They will tell you that the good places were all filled, that every occupation or profession was crowded, that there was no chance for them because all the good opportunities had gone by. Yet probably there is not one of them who did not have a better opportunity than did Abraham Lincoln, the backwoods boy, or Booker T. Washington, the slave boy. I have never known a fellow who had winning material in him to complain that he never had a chance. It is difficult to conceive an environment so forbidding that it would have kept certain men from becoming successful. There was too much yeast in them. They had too vigorous an ambition to let obstacles stand in the way of their success. Circumstances have no power to keep down a youth who is made of the right stuff. Energy is always at a premium. Determination never goes begging for a chance. There is nothing which commands such a price in the market as genuine ambition, an unwavering resolution, a tenacious purpose to achieve something worth while in life. There is no success lever equal to the unflinching resolve to succeed in spite of any and all obstacles or personal handleaps.
