

HOME HAPPENINGS

The board of county fair managers are hustling these days for attractions for the big fair to be held in Canfield September 7 to 10. Many special features are being arranged for.

Several citizens have for some time been receiving poison pen letters and the family of one is frequently annoyed by telephone calls. Efforts are being made to discover the identity of the offenders.

The annual Mahoning County Teachers' Institute opens in college chapel next Monday and continues five days. The program for the week is printed elsewhere in today's paper. Indications are that there will be a large attendance.

Residents of the village willing to provide rooms and meals for teachers during the county institute next week are requested to communicate with Miss Minnie Myers who has been delegated to arrange for accommodations for the visitors.

The large plate glass window in the front of Aaron Wiesner's clothing store, maliciously broken some months since, was replaced Monday by a new one which could not sooner be secured on account of the condition of the glass market.

The Dickson family reunion was held last Thursday at the home of B. F. Kirkbride in Berlin Center with an attendance of about 150. The reunion next year will be held at the Milton dam the third Thursday in August. William Gault was elected president and Miss Ada Kirkbride secretary.

On account of the busy season for farmers the field meet Saturday at the county experiment farm, a mile south of Canfield, was not largely attended. However, representatives came from nearly every township and were pleased to inspect the farm and see the excellent work being done by Supt. J. P. Markley.

Quite a number of Canfield people attended the funeral of J. L. Taggart near Columbiana on Wednesday. The remains were taken to Wooster, the old home of the deceased, for burial. Mr. Taggart was for several years in charge of the horticultural work on the county experiment farm and his many excellent qualities made for him a wide circle of friends.

The equipment of the Smith-Backman Machine Co. was sold to the Powell Pressed Steel Co. of Hubbard and the work of dismantling the plant started last Sunday. Much of the machinery has been removed. During the week the principal business of the company was the manufacture of rubber hose making machines and quite a force of men was employed. There was a great demand for the machines and the industry promised to become the leading one in the village. Conditions changed, however, and for several weeks little had been done in the plant. Its sale and removal is a distinct loss to the village.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Attorney Wm. T. Gibson, prominent citizen and former mayor of Youngstown, fell from a horse on Thursday while at the Odd Fellows' building on Boardman street.

In renewing her subscription to the Dispatch, Mrs. B. F. Johnson of Cleveland, a native of Canfield, writes "We would miss the home paper if we could not get it. Though absent, the old home is not forgotten."

Ell Greenawalt, for many years a dry goods merchant in Warren, sustained injuries one day last week in an automobile accident that resulted in his death a few hours later. He was born in North Jackson Feb. 11th, 1853, and located in Warren 40 years ago. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church. Surviving besides his wife are three sisters and two brothers—Mrs. Gideon Goldner and Mrs. Charles Mead of North Jackson, Mrs. Eliza Greenawalt of Cleveland, Levi and George Greenawalt of North Jackson. Funeral services last Saturday afternoon conducted by Rev. F. P. Reinhold were held from the Reformed church in North Jackson and burial was made there.

Horticulturist gone to his long rest. J. L. Taggart passed from labor to rest late Monday evening, having been ill only a few days. He came so quickly and unexpectedly that only a few of his friends were present—wife, daughter, nurse and two of his horticultural friends. Early in life Mr. Taggart engaged in horticultural pursuits. For many years associated with the Ohio Experimental station as horticulturist, and made many tours over the state and even adjoining states, doing demonstration work in pruning and spraying. For several years he had charge of the Hort. Dept. of the Mahoning County Experiment farm, doing much demonstration work. He had a host of friends in and about Canfield, and indeed, throughout the county. We shall all greatly miss him. Few men, if any, were more skilled and better qualified by actual experience in horticulture than he. He was known from the platform, he could easily have gained a national reputation. But he preferred to work rather than talk. And, being a man of remarkable physique, and until recently scarcely knowing the limit to his strength, he practically wore himself out in helpful service for others. Many orchardists can testify to the fact that his services have been truly helpful. Few men of his ability were so universally respected and loved. For, though possessing vast knowledge and skill in his profession, he lacked one feature so often found in professional men—that peculiar bearing intended to convey the idea "I know it all." He was absolutely free from everything approaching bigotry. That is why he was so loved by his friends. Always cheerful, courteous, helpful; though a man of few words. In the death of Mr. Taggart the state has lost one of its most efficient and practical horticulturists; indeed his loss will be felt wherever he was known; for to know him was to love him. There has gone out from among us a man of sterling qualities; a gentleman of unvarying courtesy; a friend of unchanging integrity; a Christian man of unquestionable sincerity. M. B. TEMPLIN.

General manager of the Citizens Co-operative Co. store, and one of the most active and progressive citizens of the village, was given a surprise party last Thursday at his home on West Main street in honor of his 44th birthday anniversary. It was purely a family affair and was participated in by quite a number of relatives from Carroll county. Mr. Andrews was more than pleased to be so pleasantly remembered.

BUY IN CANFIELD

You Will Save Good Money

Of late there has been a great deal of talk about the reduction of prices, and some large stores in the larger cities have been selling goods at so-called greatly reduced prices. As an intelligent observer and reader you understand that these reductions have been made in most cases where the margin of profit has been too large in the first place. We have been marking our goods very closely right along, and, therefore, could not make similar reductions.

However, we assure you that the close prices we are now quoting are far below some of these so-called reduced prices, and you save money in buying here. We still have a few good Business Suits at $18, $20, $25 to $28. Fine Dress Suits in plain or mixed at $28, $30, $35 to $42.

We offer the best, made by the Clothcraft House, at from $42 to $48. These suits compare well with the so-called $65 to $75 suits advertised by some stores—even at their reduced prices you still save a good sum by buying here. And so with other lines—Shirts, Ties, Underwear, Collars, etc. Linen Collars have been advertised by some at reduced prices from 30c to 25c when our price for exactly the same collar has never been over 25c. They sold them too high or their reduction was of the so-called kind. The result was visible in Canfield. Why, we sold more than twice the number of collars, shirts, ties and more clothing than any other year. And if you have not found this out yet, come in and you'll soon be convinced that we have the goods and the low prices.

A delayed shipment of Ladies' Silk Hosiery, which we bought last summer, has just arrived and you can buy these at last summer's prices—$1.50, $2.00, $2.25, $2.50 up to $3.50; in white, black, grey, and brown; are worth today one-half more. Other lines in Cotton and Silk Lisle at 25c, 35c, 40c, 50c and 75c.
