The Latest Achievements In Spring Hats

Women who demand graceful lines coupled with fashion's newest tints, which add the ardently desired individualistic touch, will be more than pleased with these new models in cellophane faille silk, taffeta satin, and straw.

Among the modes for spring, you will find the perennially popular sailors but prettier than ever with their unique flower and ribbon trims. The vogue of the away-from-the-face models is enhanced through the medium of ever so brightly colored flowers and beads, which adorn the front of many of the hats and lend an added charm of piquancy to the face.

Right up to the minute are the effective and unusual hats with georgette brims surmounted by crowns of flowers, rich and new with the most desired spring color harmonies. Many of the lustrous, rich surfaces afford ideal backgrounds for novel treatment and one highly pleasing effect has been achieved with a trim of gaily colored fruits.

This very complete showing of spring hats also presents tailored models in a wide range of styles.

They have all been moderately priced, from $5.00 to $22.50.

All Wool Coatings At $3.74 Yard

By this, we mean absolutely all wool coatings, full 54 inches wide and of the same quality that you have found in coats costing up to $150.00.

And these coatings are for men and women, alike.

In Men's Wear

There are Kerseys, Meltons, Chinchillas, Twills and Chevots.

In Women's Wear

You will find Bolivias, Velours, Polos and Staple Coatings.

A Special Offer Of Torchon Laces At 6c Yard

Most every woman knows that torchon is a coarse, scalloped lace made of stout and rather soft and loosely-twisted thread and used for curtains, pillow cases such as one sees in the majority of well-kept homes. Torchon is machine made but almost any pattern of handmade lace may be made by machinery, each pattern depending on the variations that may be given to movements of that disc-like bobbin which carry the threads.

New Metal Vestings

They are 18 inches in width, these new ones, and in iridescent showings of rose, Nile, tan and black patterns woven in gold and silver threads as well as black silk. So very fine is this work that the gold threads, even under a microscope, looks like gold beads.

CUPID'S OWN DAY

Fourteenth of February Belongs to Him Alone.

Anniversary Brightens the Drab Month With Memories of the Past and Joy of the Present.

Brightening the dull, drab month of February and doing their very best to cheer up and bring love into our hearts, the valentines—the valentines smile at us with their lace-and-forget-me-not daintiness from the shop windows.

There are elaborate "millionaire" valentines of celluloid and blue ribbons that come in big lace boxes, like French dolls; there are valentines that when pulled out like an accordion become Cinderella coaches of cardboard, laden with Loves and Venuses and Cupids. Others resolve themselves into airy pink-and-blue palaces—you never know—peopled with delightful goddesses and doves.

But the best and most sincere, perhaps, are the old-fashioned valentines—vists of foamy paper lace, through which you look upon hearts tender for surely a sweetheart is ready to melt in a prospect of violet and forget-me-nots. And hidden away, like a billet doux in a bouquet, a little verse:

This heart, sweet love, I send to you, Together with these violets blue; And if you like this heart of mine, I pray you be my Valentine.

Could anything be more simple or direct to the point? As unerringly as Cupid's darts or a beau's rapier, the verse carries its message home. It may be that the Elizabethan lyrics, the love songs of Herrick and Lovelace and Suckling, survive today only in the valentine.

And, ah, what memories these harbingers of love bring with them! They lead us back along the columbine-bordered road to yesterday, over the asphodel meadows of Youth and First Love and Childhood Fancies, and we meet and kiss our first sweethearts again—alas, they have gone out of our lives these many years.

And so, dear little Valentine, accept these violets and forget-me-nots, and hug this message close to your heart— for surely a sweetheart is the sweeter for a valentine, and, as all wise men know, "his love that makes the world go round."

GOOD OLD SAINT IN TROUBLE

Embarrassed by Shower of Hearts, Though It Would Seem He Should Be Used to It.

St. Valentine slyly put up his umbrella. "This shower of hearts would embarrass a fellow."

"I'm glad that I manage it once in a year. Exercise is the thing. Hearts are needed, I fear."

"While many are beating, they're all out of tune. And sold as December. Instead of warm June."

"So I'll mix 'em and change 'em. And warm 'em up, too. I wonder if he'll fix your heart up for you?"

Valentine Challenge

One form which the observance of Valentine's day took in England was that of a person's valentine being the first young man or woman that person saw on Valentine's day. This developed into the custom of challenging one's valentine by saying, "Good morning, 'tis St. Valentine's day." The one who said it first upon meeting a person of the opposite sex received a gift.

Interesting Valentine Reading

Interesting reading for Valentine's day is Dickens' account of Samivel Weller's laborious writing of a valentine to his housemaid's love, signed "Your lovesick Pickwick."

TEDDY'S VALENTINE

RANGE STOCK IS IMPROVED

All kinds of Sires, Bulls Especially, Are Receiving Close Scrutiny by Breeders.

In the Western range states all kinds of sires—bulls especially—are receiving scrutiny by live stock owners. There is increasing evidence that good purebred males have wide influence on the quality of young stock and on the returns from stock-raising operations.

One day recently the United States Department of Agriculture enrolled in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" movement several ranchmen, each of whom had more than 1,000 head of live stock. One flock of sheep contained 250 purebred ewes and 3,450 crossbred ewes, the sires being all purebred. A cattle raiser who enlisted in the campaign the same day notified the department: "I have disposed of two grade Hereford bulls recently, having decided to run nothing but purebred sires." This remark is typical of the progress of the movement in Montana.

TO RESTORE MORGAN STRAIN

Efforts of Department of Agriculture Shown in Recent 300-Mile Test for Horses.

Efforts of the United States Department of Agriculture to restore the Morgan strain of horses, which had become nearly extinct, showed their effect in the recent 300-mile test for army horses. Out of 27 entries, only ten finished, and of these the sixth and seventh were Morgan horses, one of them raised on the department's stock farm in Massachusetts. The horses were required to travel 60 miles a day for five days, carrying the regulation cavalry load of 245 pounds.

PROFITABLE TO RAISE MULES

Plan Suggested to Farmers Who Experience Difficulty in Selling Young Horses.

Men with good-sized mares, who are having a hard time disposing of young horses will find it more profitable to raise mules than to raise colts. Medium-priced jacks can now be purchased with a reasonable certainty of breeding.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

The next regular meeting of the Mahoning County Farm Bureau will be held in the farm bureau office, Canfield, Thursday evening, Feb. 17, at 8 o'clock. Reports will be made on farmers' week and plans will be considered for work for the ensuing year. There are several matters of importance to be brought before the advisory committee and it is important that every member be present. The ladies are invited to attend this meeting.

DIFFERENT NOW

Goldbag: I never had much taste for mathematics when I was a boy. Goldtude: But you managed to do some great calculating in a business way. Goldbag: That's different. It's wonderful what an interest you can give to a row of figures by putting a dollar mark in front of them.
