

CHILDHOOD AND OLD AGE.

The tender Grandchild and a Well-to-do Old Gentleman of 70, Acknowledge Obligations.

The preparation that can be taken with safety and benefit by the tender infant, and that nourishes, strengthens, and cures the aged and infirm, is one that can truly be called scientific.

This beautiful child whose picture is shown here, is the grandchild of Mr. J. E. Palmateer of Athens, Ga., who has been cured of gravel in the kidney and insomnia, (sleeplessness) finishes his letter by saying:

Mr. Solomon Davis of North Kortright, N. Y., finds himself at 73 years, suffering from neuralgia, felt tired all the time, weak, in a good appetite, and no ambition.

Thought at his age nothing could do him any good, but like hundreds of other people in his condition tried Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and began to get better at once, and now feels as hale and hearty as he ever did.

It is particularly pleasing when sickness is common in the family, to know that there is a remedy that restores, builds up the weak and debilitated, strengthens the nerves, and has restored to health and strength, men and women who have been confined to their homes for months on beds of sickness.

Nerve Tonic Blood Builder. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

An Interesting Debate at Simpson M. E. Church. An interesting debate came off last night between the Maids of Esther and the Simpson Debating club by their representatives on the Women Suffrage question.

A BEAUTIFUL FLAG.

PRESENTED TO THE UNION VETERAN LEGION TUESDAY.

The Entertainment a Grand Success—Finn Speeches Made—Dancing and Sociality.

It was a beautiful and patriotic affair and though the rain drizzled and fell all day, there was a fair attendance at the flag presentation of the Union Veteran Legion Tuesday night at Wrentham's hall. Many soldiers were present, and the entertainment was a success.

It was about 8 o'clock when the Grand Army orchestra of seven pieces began to play a few dance selections and the younger folks and elderly people present who could dance stepped out upon the floor. After a giddy waltz or two, Commander William Archibald introduced General Sherwood who presented the new and elegant silk flag, and spoke substantially as follows:

"What is this flag? Whence comes it, and what is its origin and history? Some one says it was born with the Republic. But no, it was not. When the old bell first tolled in Independence hall on the 4th of July, 1776, proclaiming liberty to all the people of the American colonies, as the death knell to that Kingly Rule, there was no flag to wave above the heads of the excited thousands.

The stars and stripes upon the shining folds of our flag today were then unborn. That great idealization of beauty and valor and glory, the Stars and Stripes, was still a stumbling dream locked in the bosom of the ages, as this flag was then unknown to civilization, or to man around the world. But today Liberia, the black Republic, has adopted our flag entire with a single star on the canton, instead of forty-four.

The United States of America have adopted the Stars and Stripes, with three stripes of yellow, blue and red and a blue circle in the center, with a red border encircling 9 stars.

The flag of Venezuela is also the Stars and Stripes of yellow, blue and red, with a group of 8 stars blazed in the center stripe of blue.

The flag of Chile is also of our pattern—one large white star on a canton of blue, with two broad stripes of white and red, with the Chilean coat of arms in the center.

The flag of the Argentine Republic has three stripes of blue, white and blue, and the flag of Paraguay, is red, white and blue, with a single star encircled in a blue border on the white.

All these Republics were born since the United States, and all their flags are borrowed ideas from our own Stars and Stripes. The English Colonies in America first displayed the flag of England, with the cross of St. George. The Union flag first mentioned in 1774, were ordinary English flags, bearing the Union Jack.

President and County Auditor Lohrbach will act as secretary for the board. It will take some time for the equalizers to conclude their labors as there is considerable property to be looked over.

BIG FLOOD IN CLEVELAND. The Cuyahoga River is booming—Great Years of the Lumber Region—The Standard Oil Company Ordered to Put Out Its Fires.

CLEVELAND, May 17.—[Special.]—There is great anxiety here over Cuyahoga river. Thousands of acres near the city limits are inundated but with little damage. The city has ordered the Standard Oil Co. to put out all its fires. The river is full of lumber. It rose two feet between 7:30 and 9:30 this morning. No Valley trains are running. The Cleveland & Canton are all stopped. There are three feet of water on the latter tracks near Jefferson street, and its Independence street bridge is in danger. It is still raining hard and the lumber men are frantically working to save the lumber on the docks which are now covered with several inches of water. The Petric street bridge is liable to drop any minute. There is a great gale on Lake Erie and no boats cleared today.

LATEST FROM HONOLULU. The Provision Government Gags the Press—The Government Order Wants to Exile Queen Lili on an Annuity.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—[Special.]—The latest news from Hawaii is that the provisional government has established a gag law on the patriotic press. Lorrin Thurston has been appointed a minister to the United States in place of Matthew Smith. Ex-Minister Stevens leaves May 24 for the United States. The Daily Star (annexationist) urge the exile of the Queen, the government to pay her an annuity.

OLD RACKET REVIVED. Ada F. Clark Shoots Another Fire Brand Into the Department of the W. H. C. of Ohio—Evidently a Disturbance Time on the Convention at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, O., May 17.—[Special.]—By all the reports that have leaked out there was much unhappiness in the Woman's Relief Corps, which went into secret session here yesterday. The celebrated case of Koons vs Clark bobbed up again in all its hideous deformity. It is evidently a ghost that will not down. Both Mrs. Ada F. Clark and Mrs. Emma F. Koons (both of Canton Corps) were present. Of course Mrs. Clark made a speech. She made the assertion in convention that she never complied with the requirements of the National Convention to pay over the charity money as ordered. She claimed that she did not understand the order of the National Convention, under which she was expelled for 5 years by the National Court Martial which tried her at Canton, and found her guilty.

Mrs. Clark's bold bluff threw the agitated sisters into a wild state of consternation. It is impossible to get a report of the meeting, that appears to be reliable, as there are so many conflicting reports. Just what is going to happen is not known, but enough is known to warrant the statement that Mrs. Clark is moving for a vindication again, and a lot of other women are on the war path to do just the opposite.

THE ANTI-CHINESE LAW. It Perplexes and Paralyzes the Cabinet—No Funds to Carry It Out.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—In long, solemn and secret consultation the Cabinet of the President of the United States today discussed the grave question of the deportation of the obnoxious Chinese people who refuse to register their names in accordance with the provisions of the extra-ordinary Geary act. The solemn Cabinet of the President of the United States failed to come to any definite conclusion, and will have to wrestle with the question again. The only definite step taken was to decide that, if, as is estimated at the Treasury Department, it will cost $6,000,000 to carry out the prescriptions of the law, it will be impossible to accomplish that object with the $16,000 that still remain of the Congressional appropriation. This was an arithmetical calculation which was not beyond the ciphering of any of the members of the Cabinet. What this high administrative court of the nation did not do was to decide to carry out the law to the extent of the exhaustion of the appropriation and let Congress and the country take care of the matter thenceforth. Thus, demagoguery on the one hand and parsimony on the other have again injured the Government of the United States in a diplomatic muddle which must make it the laughing stock of the remainder of the diplomatic world.

Bank Failure in Minneapolis. MINNEAPOLIS, May 17.—[Special.]—The Citizens' bank failed this morning. Nothing was known of the bank has ample assets and will pay in full.

Waller's Wabble From London. LONDON, May 16.—In an interview last night, ex-Governor Thomas M. Waller, Connecticut's World's Fair Commissioner, expressed himself in favor of the Sabbath Fair management observing the Sabbath by shutting down the industrial portion of the Exposition, but keeping open the art and picture galleries and other kindred exhibits.

COLUMBUS, O., May 17.—Congressman M. D. Harter addressed the Thurman club on the silver coinage question last evening, and his well-known position in favor of limited coinage. He said the present financial stringency is due to the fact that foreign investors in this country are of the opinion that the limit of the ability of the government to maintain the parity of gold and silver at their present ratio, is almost reached, and that they are withdrawing their investments while they can get dollar for dollar.

FATHER SHERMAN'S LASH. He Makes a Bitter Attack Upon Certain Secret Orders. ST. LOUIS, May 16.—The Rev. Father Thomas E. Sherman, son of Gen. William T. Sherman, preached Sunday night at the Church of the Annunciation on the subject of "Americanism."

Father Sherman said that liberty meant not only civil, but religious liberty, and he figured out the religious liberty, at least for Catholics, is rapidly becoming circumscribed in the United States. He pictured the Orangemen of Canada and Ireland as untrue to the principles of manhood, their country and their religion.

He then produced a manual of the secret rites and services of the Junior Order of American Workmen, from which he read the initiatory service. This service, according to his reading, caused the novitiates to swear allegiance to a conspiracy to witness the hanging of which was the suppression of the Order of Jesuits. The service included the use of a Jesuit in a towel.

After reading that part, Father Sherman exclaimed: "A thousand and one things have been ascribed to and heaped upon my order, but I ask that, as a last indignity, you do not put a cow upon our heads."

MURDERER ALMY HUNG. The Brutal Murder of Christie Warden Averred. COXCORD, N. H., May 17.—George H. Abbott, alias Frank C. Almy, was hanged in the state prison for the atrocious murder of Christie Warden at Hanover, on the evening of July 17, 1891. A large number of citizens came from Hanover on the early morning train, to witness the hanging, among them being Bert Warden, brother of the murdered girl, and C. E. Hewitt, the student who shot Almy in the Warden barn, before he was captured. The execution was a bungling job. Almy fell through the drop and he was strangled to death.

Few events in the criminal annals of New England have created the intensity of interest which has been manifested in the murder of Christie Warden and the developments that followed. The identification of Almy as Abbott showed him to be one of the most remarkable murderers ever known. At the past 15 years he spent 10 in various prisons, and yet he was not 36 years of age.

A Lot of Bombs Found. PARIS, May 17.—The police found several barrels, many pounds of dynamite and a chest of burglar's tools buried in a lot surrounding a shed in the suburb of Levallois. Any one of the bombs is powerful enough to blow up a house or to demolish a building. The police have 400 newspaper men to attend the ninth annual convention of the National Editorial Association. It is expected that altogether 1,500 journalists will be here during the convention, which is to last nearly two weeks of the month in a body attended an exhibition in the Turkish village on Midway Plaisance this afternoon.

Must Be Closed on Sunday. WASHINGTON, May 17.—Attorney General Olney has rendered an opinion in which he holds that the laws of Congress providing for the World's fair prohibit the opening of the branch post-office, located in the postoffice department exhibit, on Sundays. In accordance with this opinion the postoffice and other government exhibits will probably be closed on Sundays.

Palister's Body Found. SING SING, N. Y., May 17.—A body was found in the Hudson river, off Sing Sing, and has been identified by State Detective Jackson and Keeper Cunningham of the prison, as that of Palister, the murderer of Policeman Kane. A bullet hole was found under the left eye. The supposition is that Reel shot Palister and then committed suicide.

He is accompanied by his little favorite dog, Edna. His walk appears to have borne its journey so far nicely. The people are royally entertaining the visitors.

Can't Find Her Husband. ZANESVILLE, O., May 18.—A divorce suit filed in the common pleas court here brings to light a strange disappearance. In January, 1884, Rosa Fisher, the daughter of wealthy parents in this county, was married at Pittsburgh to Lorenzo Ward, and the couple took up their residence in a handsome home which had been prepared for them. Ward was a traveling salesman and his domestic life was apparently happy. A few months after the marriage had been celebrated and the couple had become well settled in their home, Mrs. Ward came here to visit her parents. She reported that she was unable to find her husband missing, and although a vigorous search was prosecuted she has never heard from him. Ward formerly resided at Urbana, O.

He Most Quit Drinking. COLUMBUS, May 17.—Governor McKinley has granted a pardon to James W. Dunfee, who was received at the penitentiary from Van Wert county in October last to serve one year for manslaughter. The case is one of the most peculiar on record. Dunfee's crime, according to the statements of the trial judge, the prosecutor and the jury, was unintentional. The killing was the result of criminal carelessness. It occurred at a fox chase, and Dunfee, who was intoxicated, recklessly fired a gun in the air while a man, among whom the charge struck and killed a boy named Gause. The degree of carelessness exhibited by Dunfee was so great as to need severe punishment, and hence his conviction. Needs Young Blood Infused. COLUMBUS, O., May 17.—The situation in the Hooking Valley Railway Mutual Life Insurance company is growing decidedly critical. The members have been withdrawing and dying at an alarming rate until only 400 are left. These are mostly old men, among whom the death rate has been exceedingly high, so that the $2 assessments have been coming thick and fast. It has cost members $26 each during the last year, which is an exorbitant premium on $400 insurance. Unless considerable new blood can be infused into the organization in a short time it is in danger of going to pieces before the year is out. The annual meeting occurs May 18, and several plans will be proposed to remedy matters.

A New Fangled Swindle. CINCINNATI, May 17.—A novel swindle is being worked in the interior counties of this and adjoining states. Soon after the farmer comes ride up and ask the young man to direct him to a minister, as they wish to be married. The preacher offers his services, the ceremony is performed and the minister proceeds to the house of the farmer and asks for the money to sign the marriage certificate. They readily do so, and soon receive notice of a note in bank.

A Wide Roadway. band pavilions in administration plaza who struck for back pay are still out. The men have not been paid for three or four weeks and another month's pay will be due on the 28th.

A National commissioner said, in speaking on the subject, "I have no doubt that the exposition authorities are hard up for money. Everything has worked to the detriment of the fair for some time now, particularly the weather. Chicago capitalists are not inclined to help out before this month is over. The running expenses of the fair are about $45,000 daily. That means 90,000 paid to the exhibitors every day. If nothing of what stockholders should have on their minds may be the average attendance has not been over 17,000, and as the turnstiles have not been in working order all the time it is a hard matter to tell just how many paid admissions there were."

Journalists of every degree are at the Hotel Macdonald, where they are over 400 newspaper men to attend the ninth annual convention of the National Editorial Association. It is expected that altogether 1,500 journalists will be here during the convention, which is to last nearly two weeks of the month in a body attended an exhibition in the Turkish village on Midway Plaisance this afternoon.

ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT.

The Awful Death That May Come to Judge Pugh and Family.

COLUMBUS, O., May 17.—In all probability Judge Pugh and his wife and son will be taken to the Pastur institute in New York for treatment.

The scene, when Judge Pugh left court, was remarkable. He and his wife and child had been bitten by their pet dog, which afterward died. An autopsy showed that the dog had died of rabies. The result was communicated to the judge while he was holding court with advice from physicians to go home immediately. He merely announced that he was ill and the truth was not known until later. The judge's arm is swelling and the worst is feared.

A Brewery Collector's Pocket Picked on a Street Car.

THE THIEVES GOT OVER $2,000. The Victim Jostled While Boarding the Car and His Pocketbook Taken—Jeff Jones Arrested and Confesses—He Implicates Another Notorious Crook.

PITTSBURGH, May 16.—August Miller, collector for Frauchenheim & Vilsack's Iron City brewery, who was robbed of $2,100, while he was attempting to board a street car at Forty-seventh and Butler streets, called at the Seventeenth ward police station and identified Jones as one of the men who robbed him. He said he had not noticed the two men who robbed him until they crowded him when getting on the car. About $500 of the money taken from him was in checks, the payment upon which has been stopped.

The money, in a large book, was taken from the collector's inside coat pocket. Jeff Jones, well known in police circles, was arrested an hour later at Forty-third and Butler streets by Police Captain Brophy. After being locked up Jones confessed that he was in with the bold robbery. He gave the name of his accomplice, who had escaped with the money. Jones is a well-known thief and tough and has spent most of his life in prison.

The robbery was accomplished in a way familiar to the daylight thieves. Miller had been out collecting all day. He was known to the robbers, who had correctly concluded that he had considerable money with him. It was he who attempted to board the car the two robbers crowded against him and the three men seemed to become entangled in each other's arms.

When the car was started the two men jumped off and ran swiftly toward Sharpshooter. Almost immediately after the men left the car Mr. Miller discovered that he had been robbed. An alarm was sounded. Miller attempted to follow the robbers, and his excited cries for the police attracted many people, who for a time rushed about in wild confusion. The robbers were out of sight before the theft was discovered.

The Seventeenth ward police station was notified, and an indefinite description of the man was given to Captain Brophy. He started immediately in the chase, and Jones was captured soon after. His confession implicated another notorious thief, who has already served two terms in the penitentiary.
