Deliver Addresses at the Young People's Christian Union Conference.

JUNIORS RENDER PROGRAM.

Rev. P. M. Camp Discourses Interestingly On Discovery of Man.

THE ATTENDANCE INCREASES.

An Interesting Session Wednesday Afternoon and Evening—Some Excellent Suggestions as to Junior Work by the Leaders.

The Wednesday afternoon session of the convention of the Young People's Christian Union in the United Brethren church was a decidedly interesting one. There were numerous papers and addresses on pertinent subjects, and the program was interspersed with features by the juniors, who commanded much favorable expression because of their careful preparation for the part which they took in the exercises. The sessions of the conference are growing daily in interest and more delegates arrived Wednesday, so that the total number registered is over 150. A large number of Canton people are in attendance at the meetings and they are manifesting the greatest interest in the proceedings. There are some eloquent speakers among the delegates in attendance who frequently orate on religious topics.

The session Wednesday afternoon was opened with devotional exercises which were led by President J. S. Kendall, of Cleveland. The afternoon program was then turned over to the juniors, who marched into the building and down the aisle to the front of the church, to the delight and interest of the large assemblage. They rendered their first number, "We are Jesus Little Ones." One mite of a Canton junior delivered an address of welcome to the visiting delegates, which was graciously received by them. Miss Jennie Packard, of Cleveland, delivered the responsive address, thanking the juniors for their kindly welcome. Scriptural references, in which the juniors had been drilled, were recited by them. One of the principal features of the part taken by the juniors, was a large letter which hung from a pendant displayed to the audience. By arrangement of juniors the letters were formed into the names of the various countries where the United Brethren church has missions, such as China, Japan, Africa, etc. Little Miss Marie Clemmens delivered a brief address on Porto Rico. Mr. Harry Wilson, of Akron, delighted the delegates with a solo, and Mrs. Kitzmiller, of Toledo, then conducted a conference meeting, on the manner of managing a junior society. She said that a junior leader must have a clean life, one that is model for other children. She amplified the duties of a superintendent, whom she said should have at least one talent, and that is to get the children banded together for work.

Miss Ada Slusser, of Louisville, read a decidedly interesting paper on "How to use the Bible in the Junior Society." She said every child should have its own bible, and the superintendent should be a person who is skillful in using her biblical knowledge.

Mrs. W. W. Gans, of Barberton, exemplified the manner of working the seniors and juniors together. Rev. P. M. Camp, of Dayton, spoke of "How to Keep Order." C. A. McIlvain, of Ashland, discussed the subject "How to Conduct the Prayer Meeting." These talks were all limited to five minutes each.

Mrs. Kitzmiller then conducted a question box on junior work, after which President Kendall took the chair and Miss Nellie Blackwell, of Barberton, rendered a solo. Rev. William Clarke conducted a "Quiet Hour" conference. At his request the comrades of the "Quiet Hour" arose, and a repetition of the request soon doubled the number, and the services were conducted in an interesting manner.

A letter of greeting received from Rev. T. T. Titus was read by Rev. C. W. Brewbaker, and the regular announcements were made, after which the afternoon session was adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

The spacious auditorium was completely filled by the large assemblage present at the opening of the evening session at 7:30 o'clock. The evening devotional exercises were led by Clyde Kilgenschmidt, of North Jackson.

Dr. F. P. Sanders, of Westerville, an eloquent speaker, discoursed for a period of ten minutes on behalf of Otterbein University, and its advantages in educational features. Mrs. S. E. Weimer, of Sterling, followed with a beautiful solo.

The annual address was delivered to the conference by Rev. P. M. Camp, of Dayton, who chose for his theme "The Discovery of Man." The address was not one on archaeological discovery, but pertained to man's propensities and his religious nature. He attributed the first discovery of man to be "self." The second feature of importance in his social discovery, and the third is moral discovery. Divine discovery was believed by the speaker to be an important final discovery. The address teemed with illustrations and interesting thoughts and beautiful sentiments, and it certainly was of an inspiring nature.

After the making of the regular announcements by Rev. Brewbaker, benediction was pronounced by Rev. William Clarke and the audience was dismissed.

THURSDAY MORNING.

The meeting of the conference next year will be held at Ashland. This was decided at the opening of the session Thursday morning, the Ashland delegates taking the convention by storm through the rendition of a specially arranged song for the occasion.

The singing was to the tune of "Rally Around the Flag," and enthusiasm was simply terrific on the parts of the delegates when the next meeting place was chosen.

President Kendall was in the chair when the conference was called to order and he led the morning devotions. The regular business of the convention was assumed, and various committee reports called for. Delegates representing each society reported the work done by their societies. The committee on good citizenship reported, and the report of the committee on nomination was received and accepted. The first part of the program consisted of a symposium on the Spirit's Message. Rev. E. P. Sanders and S. E. Rasey, spoke of the Spirit's Message to the Strong Society. Miss Jesse Myers, of West Salem, read a paper on the Message to the Worldly Society. W. M. Smith, of Sterling, read an interesting paper on the Spirit's Message to the Dead Society. He said one cause of the death of a society is the absence of the Holy Spirit, and the way to awaken such a society is to receive the endowment of the Holy Spirit to lead souls to Christ, and to arouse missionary enthusiasm.

Mr. Carlton Mock, of North Lawrence, read a paper on "Helpful Literature" saying that every society should own a library, and that the bible contains the best literature in the world, and that its study should be carried on with increasing interest. A young people's paper also was advocated. Miss Maud Howard, of Ashland, delivered a recitation entitled "The Swan's Song."

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

SANK TO HIS DEATH.

Alliance Boy Drowned In Sandy Lake, Near the City Of Ravenna.

TRIED TO PUSH THE BOAT

After an Oar Had Broken, But Wind Blew It Away From Two Youths..

LONG PULL FOR THE SHORE

Was Attempted But Only One of the Occupants of the Boat Succeeded in Reaching the Shore, the Alliance Lad Going Down to His Death—Was Well Known.

Alliance, June 28.—Arthur Hershey, aged 18 years, of Alliance, met his death by drowning at Sandy Lake near Ravenna Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the sad affair has cast a gloom over Alliance where he was universally esteemed. Mr. Hershey left Alliance Wednesday morning with a party of campers for Sandy Lake, and in the afternoon, he, in company with Smith Salmon, also of Alliance, went in bathing. They rowed out into the lake and in so doing one of the oars broke. They then decided to jump into the lake, catch the boat and push it ashore, but as there was a high wind blowing, the minute they left the boat it was carried away from them and although they made a desperate effort to catch it, they were unable to do so.

They became exhausted before they could reach the shore and young Hershey went down in thirty-five feet of water. Mr. Salmon's strength held out somewhat longer until a boat came to his rescue and saved him from drowning. He was brought home to Alliance Wednesday evening in an exhausted condition.

Mr. Hershey's body had not been recovered up to dark last night, although the lake had been dragged all afternoon. He was an exemplary young man, a graduate of the Alliance high school and a teacher in the First M. E. Sunday school, of this place. No young man in the city had more friends, nor had any one a brighter prospect for a useful life than he. His death has cast a noticeable gloom over the whole city.
