

The Modern Churn.

Five Points in Which the Modern Churn is Superior to All Others.

1. It is easily cleaned because of the dasher being removable.
2. It is easy to operate.
3. It churns quick for reasons that the vessel being square, the corners act as breakers to break the cream, aiding in churning butter in a short time.
4. The paddles gather the butter and pressing it against the sides of the vessel aid in working the buttermilk out, consequently the butter will leave the vessel in a good, solid condition.
5. The gearing is in a position far enough away from the vessel to prevent any grease or black dirt getting into the churn.

The churn is finished in natural wood finish and stenciled.

We also have a full line of other styles of Churns.

"YOU'RE A LIAR"

Shouted Anthony Comstock in Court and Another Lawyer Promptly Clacked His Eyes.

New York, March 11.—Anthony Comstock, chief investigator for the Society for the Prevention of Vice, had both eyes blackened and his face cut in Commissioner Shields' court room Saturday by Hugh Gordon Miller, formerly Assistant United States District Attorney for the state of Virginia, now a lawyer in this city.

Mr. Comstock was in court to prosecute Ernest Richards on a charge of having sent scurrilous letters through the mails. Mr. Miller appeared for the defendant. He was making a statement to Commissioner Shields in defense of his client when Mr. Comstock jumped to his feet and shouted: "You're a liar."

Miller took two steps in the direction of Comstock, shot out his right hand and landed with effect on the vice agent's left eye. A number of United States marshals in the room sprang to separate Miller and Comstock. The lawyer, who is a big man, broke away from them and again rushed at Comstock. He struck Comstock's other eye and cut his nose with another punch.

Comstock wanted a warrant issued for Miller at once, but Commissioner Shields and the district attorney's office refused to issue one.

HE WANTED TO MARRY

And Was Disappointed When He Could Not Get a License at Alliance.

Wednesday about noon a red-headed young man from some place which he refused to divulge, was to be seen loitering about the city hall. He acted as though some weighty matter was oppressing him, but finally he mustered courage enough to ask a bystander where he could get a marriage license. He was told he would have to go to Canton, whereat he seemed much depressed. He refused to tell the name of his lady love or where she resided.—Alliance Review.

AN OFFICER

Has Right to Arrest Violators of the Spitting Ordinance.

Attorney General Ellis has given an opinion to the effect that without formal warrant an officer has the right to arrest any person seen spitting in cars or on sidewalks and may also arrest any persons reported by another for such an offense. In short an officer has power to make summary arrests when he has good reason to believe a person has violated the anti-spitting ordinance. The opinion is in response to an inquiry by the state board of health as to the power of the board to enforce the ordinance.

Rumors of Changes.

It is rumored that the postoffice department at Washington will, in the immediate future, receive a petition signed by the patrons of the rural free delivery, served from the local and other offices in the western part of this county, protesting against a rumored change of the time schedule which, it is feared, will go into effect with the establishment of the proposed county service. Postmaster Koons, when seen in his office, said that he had not heard anything from an official source relative to the rural delivery, and that without a doubt the carriers would continue to leave the office at 7 o'clock in the morning, as in the past, to serve the patrons on the several routes.—Massillon Independent.

Spectacle Frames

correctly fitted to the face are as essential as properly fitted lenses are to the eye.

Lenses should be mounted so that the center will be exactly opposite the pupil of the eye. In any other position they will cause strain, and have a tendency to produce double sight.

The Bridge or Nose Piece should fit so well that wobbling would be impossible, and should bear equally at all points.

THE RIGHT WAY is just as easy as the wrong. We fit the Frames as well as the Lenses.

ANOTHER JAIL

Delivery by the Prison Managers at Columbus.

Columbus, March 11.—There was another jail delivery at the penitentiary Friday.

It was by the board of managers of the penitentiary, who freed eight prisoners serving sentences for various crimes.

One of the men set free was held for murder and had served only six years. Another was charged with manslaughter and also served six years. The managers continue to show a spirit of indifference toward manslaughter, almost commending it.

MILLIONS OF BUSHELS OF COAL GOING TO THE SOUTH.

Cincinnati, March 11.—More than three million bushels of coal is en route to Cincinnati alone from the Pennsylvania coal fields. Many fleets of barges are steaming down the Ohio river and will arrive here some time tomorrow.

The threatened strike is causing the operators in the Pennsylvania district to get as much coal in the south as possible. It is expected that some coal now coming down the river will go to Louisville and St. Louis.

Coal men are of the opinion that in anticipation of a coal strike the operators will tie up as much coal in this vicinity as is possible for them to ship before the strike is ordered.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED

Disappearance of J. D. Humbert of Alliance Causes Much Anxiety—The Canton End of it.

Alliance, O., March 11.—J. J. Clark, a farmer living north of Alliance was in the city Saturday in consultation with Chief of Police Howell in regard to the mysterious disappearance of J. D. Humbert of Rockhill avenue, mention of which was made in the News some time ago.

As the man had left a number of bills unpaid it was at first thought that he was endeavoring to skip the town to avoid settlement but Mr. Clark claims that he has known him many years and knows of his owning a number of farms and properties in Pennsylvania and Ohio, and thinks there could be no object in Humbert's endeavoring to skip the bills while owning so much real estate. An examination of the total indebtedness of the man in Alliance did not exceed $50 and he is known to have had nearly that amount with him when he left. Mr. Clark states he has always known him to be a straight forward and honest man and it is his intention to assist Humbert's wife in locating him. When he left Alliance for Canton he stated that it was for the purpose of being examined by the board of pension examiners, but no record was made by that board of his appearance before them. The last heard of him was a letter supposed to be written by him to his wife, stating that he would be detained in Canton longer than he had expected and the letter was written on stationery of a hotel and it is thought he might have been induced to stop there for malicious reasons. An effort will be made to locate him from this point, although the people at the hotel claim they have not cared for a man of that description.

It is a very mysterious case and has thus far baffled the Canton police but the theory that he has met with foul play will be fully exploited as that now seems to be the most plausible excuse for his disappearance.
