

MYSTERIES

A HUNDRED ARE YET UNSOLVED

More Possible Victims of the Guinness Woman

From Pennsylvania Are Reports of Men Who Announced That They Were Going West to Marry Rich Widow.

Laporte, Ind., May 21.—Following the filing of his official report and verdict which declares the charred bones found in the fire ruins to be that of Mrs. Belle Guinness, Coroner Mack today completed his report and verdict finding that three bodies found in the debris were those of her children. The coroner finds that the death of Mrs. Guinness and the children was due to "felonious homicide, the perpetrator of which is not known."

Coroner Mack's verdict on the bodies that were taken from the graveyard will declare Mrs. Guinness to be the murderer or accomplice in the cases of Andrew Helgelein, Ole Budsberg and Jennie Olson and of the other unidentified victims. This verdict will also be filed tomorrow.

Today has been devoid of sensations in the Guinness tragedy. There were no gossamer finds, no bodies taken from the private cemetery, no identifications of skeletons were made at the two city morgues, but tomorrow, however, may bring results.

Today the floor in the cellar of charnel house was torn out and excavations made to a depth of three feet but no additional bodies were found.

John E. Hunter, of Duquesne, Pa. will probably prove to be one of the victims of the murderer. He left his home November 25, 1907, for northern Indiana, as he told his family, to marry a wealthy widow. He took with him a large sum of money, telling his sons and daughters that he did not know when he would return. Today a daughter, Mrs. Kuler, of McKeesport, Pa., appealed to Coroner Mack to answer her prayer by finding her father who is 52 years old, dead or alive, at the same time expressing the fear that he went to his death in the charnel house.

George Williams, of Wapawalpen, Pa., and Ludwig Stoll, of Mt. Yeager, Pa., were also reported to the authorities today as having left their homes for the port of the missing. When Williams left home it was with the statement that when he returned it would be with a wife.

Ludwig Stoll also a victim of the matrimonial bureau, left a fine farm of several hundred acres in Pennsylvania to marry, as he termed it, a wealthy widow of the west. Williams' farm was sold a few days after the flashing of the news of the Guinness tragedy. Disposition was made in the same way of the Stoll farm. Pennsylvania relatives of the missing men will come to this city to view the skeleton forms in the morgue, but with little hopes of identification, owing to the decomposed condition of the bodies which have yet to be buried in the pauper field.

Mrs. B. F. Carling, of Chicago, says her brother left home a year ago, telling a friend he was going to meet a widow with lots of money. She will be a visitor at the morgue.

Despite the assertion of D. P. Norton, the dentist who filled the teeth of Mrs. Belle Guinness with gold, that his fillings have been found in the ruins at the house at least 75 per cent of the people in and about Laporte believe that the arch-murderess of Brookside farm is still alive and is hiding.

After many days of investigation by fifty special newspaper correspondents, half a dozen Pinkerton detectives, the entire staff of the sheriff's office at Laporte and the police force of the town, the terrible series of crimes perpetrated at the brick house on the hill remains as unsolved as it was in the beginning and there are still one hundred mysteries in the Guinness tragedies.

AT THE NICKEL-ODEON

Here's a tip to the public of Canton. Don't miss going to the Nickel-Odeon and hearing the "Harmony Three." Many a fifty cent piece has been spent for a ticket to amusement that only stands in the shadow of this remarkable trio of voices. Lovers of good singing will surely miss a treat if this opportunity is passed by. Another feature on the bill is Dave Caldwell, the funny man, with his original songs and talks. The moving pictures, "Enoch Arden," "The Little Chimney Sweep," and "Locked Up," are new to the Canton public and the latest subjects of American and foreign make.

INTERSTATE IN SORRY PLIGHT

Rindernecht and Rexford Fall in Attempts to Interest Erie Capital for Financing Team—May Go to Corry.

Erie, Pa., May 20.—The Dispatch in today's issue published the following: "President Rexford, of the Interstate, and George Rindernecht, of Bradford, arrived in Erie early yesterday morning and are still in the city. The Interstate promoters spent yesterday trying to induce local capital to take a flyer on the local Interstate franchise. From all reports no more progress was made in this direction than was the case at first. "Rexford and Rindernecht spent a large part of the day with the members of the Elks' club, who hold the lease on the grounds at Reed's Driving park. After offering everything in their possession, it is said, to get the Reed's track lot, Rexford and Rindernecht were turned down conclusively and in a manner that left no room for doubt.

"Such is the local baseball situation. It is a clear case of no Interstate in Erie if yesterday's developments can be taken as indicative. The Interstate franchise may be shifted from Erie to Corry. Rindernecht and Rexford were in conference with Corry interests last night and it is believed that this will be the final outcome of the controversy. The Corry people have made the Interstate a good offer and if the same success is met in interesting local capital that has been the case up to the present time, it is probable that the berth will be transferred to Corry without delay.

"So great has become the sentiment for O. & P. baseball that a good sized crowd of local fans will journey to Butler today to witness the game between the Sailors and New Castle."

ANTI-INJUNCTION LEGISLATION IS DEAD THIS SESSION

Washington, May 21.—By a vote of 75 to 63 the Republicans of the house tonight went on record in opposition to the passage of the anti-injunction bill.

This vote was taken on a motion made by Representative Sherman of New York to adjourn the conference sine die. The three votes were taken during the conference. A motion to adjourn sine die made early in the meeting by Representative Fassett of New York, was lost by 68 yeas to 69 nays. Later Rep. Tawney of Minnesota moved that a final decision be deferred until tomorrow night. This was lost by a vote of 64 to 62. The discussion was resumed and in the meantime a hurry call was sent out to absent members. Rep. Sherman then made the sine die motion which was carried.

This disposes of anti-injunction legislation for this session.

In the course of the conference, Speaker Cannon made a severe attack on Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, one of the most ardent supporters of the bill. The argument of the opponents of the proposed legislation was that it was dangerous to the interests of the country.

CANTON MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETING

The sixty-seventh regular meeting of the Canton Medical Society was held in the mayor's court room at the city hall Thursday night, a large number of the members being in attendance. The meeting was an interesting one, lasting until 11 o'clock. The "Post Graduate Study of the Stomach" was taken up and the following program was carried out: "Anatomy," Dr. J. H. Beatty; "Physiology," Dr. H. H. Bowman; "Etiology of Diseases," Dr. H. A. Zininger; "Diagnosis of Diseases," Dr. F. Da Hinden; "Medical Treatment of Diseases," Dr. G. A. Kelley; "Surgical Treatment of Diseases," Dr. S. B. Dudley; "Opening of Discussion and Quiz," Dr. J. G. Lawrence.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Patros of the Orpheum are waxing more and more enthusiastic over the work of the Three Valentines, aerial artists, showing at the popular theatre this week. Their work is clean cut in every particular and contains enough of thrills to stir the most blasé theatregoer. The stage setting is unique, inasmuch as the curtain lifts on a space dead black except for the three performers in white, seated high up on a swinging trapeze. From the time the curtain rises until the act is closed there is not an idle moment and interruptions of breath among the audience are many and frequent.

The rest of the bill is good. Herbert and Vance, musical performers, coax harmony from many instruments and show high class as musicians. Cummings, Thornton and company, in a dramatic playlet, score a hit and their work is received with much applause. Delmo, the juggler, is a finished artist and handles a large variety of objects that betokens much practice and many appearances before the public. The Hameltons, in a comedy act, furnish the laughs of the bill and they come fast and often. The films are interesting and the illustrated song a late metropolitan favorite.

Both Mr. Hart and Miss Rockey were in excellent voice and made a favorable impression with their first numbers which was intensified as the evening wore on. Mr. Brandt showed himself to be a virtuoso of merit as well as a skilled accompanist. It is said that the company will go on the road next season and is already booked by a lecture course bureau.

WIND STORM

Swept Over Minneapolis and Other Cities of the Northwest Doing Great Damage

MANY WERE INJURED

Minneapolis, Minn., May 21.—A northwest gale of intensity, bringing with it great damage, death for at least one and serious injury for several persons, fell upon Minneapolis and surrounding territory today.

Wires went down in all parts of the city before a 52 mile an hour wind, causing no less than 18 alarms of fire in a few hours. A steady and excessive rain fell with a total precipitation of 3.5.

A long chapter of accidents, many of them painful, and at least one with probably fatal result followed in the wake of the storm which was one of the most severe of the year.

St. Paul suffered to the extent of several thousand dollars from fires caused by crossed electric wires and lightning. Many chimneys were blown down, the city's drainage system was temporarily impaired and basements in the business section were thoroughly flooded.

At Owatonna, near here, during the terrific electric storm, lightning struck Kelly hall, the boys' dormitory at Pillsbury academy. The building is a four story one. The lightning struck the fire escape at the roof, running along the iron and entering a third story room by one of the iron braces. There was a bed against the wall at that place and the lightning set the mattress on fire. The flames caused little damage.

The village of New Ulm was struck by one of the most severe storms in recent years yesterday. From early morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon a dust storm from the south traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour passed over this section.

Despite the violent air current, residents were sweltering, and shortly after 4 o'clock a terrific electrical storm, accompanied by a high wind, rain and hail terrified the people for over three hours.

Considerable damage was done to the small grain by hail alone. Shortly after 6 o'clock the streets were raging torrents. The downpour resembled a cloud burst. The Mississippi river rose over six inches and in some places the low lands are inundated. The city was enveloped in darkness for several hours during the storm.

At Wahpeton, N. D., Campbell Brothers' main show tent blew down while the performance was in progress and two persons were badly injured. Fully 2000 people were in the tent at the time. Rain had been falling at intervals all through the day and soon after the performance began heavy rain began to fall accompanied by wind. A large number of people left the tent fearing danger. At about 3 o'clock a cyclone lifted the tent and there was a wild scramble for safety.

THEATRICAL

GRACE GEORGE IN "DIVORCONS."

It is rare for a star to surround herself with such an exceptionally able company as is this season supporting Grace George who comes to the Grand next Saturday, matinee and night, in Sardou's comedy, "Divorcons." Frank Worthing, who has undoubtedly appeared with more stars than any other leading man on the stage today, is again this season with Miss George. He is pleasantly cast and his work as the husband of the frivolous Cyrienne is said to be the best he has yet done. A little later in the season it is announced that Mr. Worthing will be starred in a new play from the pen of an English dramatist, Douglas Gerrard, an actor of prominence in London, has been specially engaged to enact the role of the foolish young lover "Adhemar." Mr. Gerrard has been associated with such actors of prominence as Beerbohm Tree, Arthur Boucher, Lewis Waller and Fred Terry. A master of character acting, Max Freeman, is cast for the role of "Joseph," the amusing head waiter at the Cafe Grand Vatel. Mr. Freeman is also known as a clever stage director and for years staged all the productions staged at the New York Casino. Charles Stanley, who has long been identified with comic opera, but of recent years has joined the legitimate ranks, is seen in the role of the French police officer and is said to play it well. Edward Fielding, at one time Olga Nethersole's leading man, who played with her in Sapho upward of 400 nights, is also numbered in Miss George's support. Ruth Benson, an English actress who for the past few years has been appearing in this country, has the role of the young widow, "Mme. de Brionne," while Justine Cutting is the "Mlle. de Lusignan." Laura Lemmers, a young actress of great promise, is the "Joseph," and the other members of the company are likewise happily cast. "Divorcons," with Miss George, greatly pleased both New York and London, and the piece is said to be the best effort of the French playwright Sardou. The comedy is bright and the story is amusingly told of the change from the wife seeking to leave her husband for another by the easy road of the new divorce law to the woman who comes to realize that her husband had virtues that attracted her. So pronounced was Miss George's success in London that she returns to that city in the spring and will probably not be seen again in this city for some time.

Says that Soaps—and not Wines, Chap the Skin and Ruin the Complexion

Many women are cheated out of their daily fresh air exercise in the Fall and Winter by the utterly false notion that their complexion will not stand exposure.

"Chapping" is no indication that you cannot stand exposure; but, it is a sure indication that the soap that you are using is drying up the tissues and natural oils of the skin, thus making it harsh, coarse-fibred and "scaly."

E. Burnham's Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream is a much more effective cleanser of the skin than soap as it removes all impurities from the pores leaving the skin soft, pure and velvety. It will cure all "chapping."

The E. Burnham preparations are for sale by the dealer, named below.
