HEAVEN. Heaven is the land where troubles cease, Where woes and tears are o'er, The sunny clime of rest and peace, Where care distract no more, And not the shadow of distress, Dims its unsullied blessedness.

Heaven is the home where spirits dwell Who wander here awhile, And seeing things invisible, Departed with a smile To hail, amid spiritual sight, The morning of eternal light.

Heaven is the everlasting throne, Where Angels veil their right; Whence He, the High and Holy One, Throughout these realms of light, Diffuses by His thrilling glance The glory of His countenance.

Heaven is the place where Jesus lives To plead his dying blood, Where to His prayers the Father gives An unknown multitude, Whose hearts and tongues through endless days, Shall crown his head with songs of praise.

Heaven is the temple whither prayer From saints on earth ascends; The dwelling of the Spirit, whence His influence descends Like Heavenly dew, to chase and bless His children in the wilderness.

Heaven is the dwelling place of joy, The home of light and love, Where faith and hope in rapture die; And ransomed souls above, Drink in, besides the eternal throne, Bliss everlasting and unknown.

THE FARMER'S LIFE. By H. Coleman.—An Extract.

What a means of imparting pleasure is improved agriculture. How many charming examples present themselves among us of improvements which every eye gazes on with unmingled delight. Let a man, according to his power, take his ten, his twenty, his fifty, his hundred acres. Let him comb the hair and wash the face of nature. Let him subdue clear, cultivate, enrich and embellish it. Let him smooth the rough places, and drain the wet, fill up the sunken, and enrich the barren. Let him enclose it with neat and substantial fences. Let him fine its borders and road sides with ornamental trees and let him stock every part with proper vines and fruits. Let his field and meadows wave with their golden harvest, and let the hills be covered with the herds rejoicing in the fulness with which his labors, under the blessings of God, have spread their table, and who, when he goes among them, hasten from all sides to meet him and gratefully recognize in him a friend and benefactor, and link the hand which is accustomed to feed and fettle them. Here now let us see the neatly painted cottage, with its green shades, its piazzas treasured with vines, its sides covered with the spreading elm and flowering acacia, with here and there the beautiful fir shade the picture, and the mountain ash showing its rich clusters of crimson fruit among the deep green foliage, and the verdant lawn stretching its smooth and beautiful carpet in front view; then look again and see the parents at the close of the day, resting from their labors and enjoying the calm evening, with the pledge of mutual and devoted affections, rising before them in all the buoyancy of youthful innocence and delight, and if at such an hour as this, you can hear the hymn of grateful praise singing from this humble abode of peace and love, and its charming notes mingling with the music of the gurgling brook that do we hear, or broken by the occasional shrill and hollow notes of the gentle and fearless birds, which deem themselves members of this loving household; if then whether traveller or sojourner, your heart is not touched with this charming and not unusual picture of felicity, cease to call yourself a man. If you sigh for the heat and the noise and the confusion of the city, with its impure war and offensive odors; with its despicable actions, with its heartless formalities, with its violent excitements, with its midnight festivities, with its utter destitution of sympathy, with its low poverty, its multiplied wretchedness and crime, its pride, its vanity, its ambition, its pomp, its severity; then go back to your guided prison house, and to pleasures, which an uncorrupted and refined taste, accustomed to drink in the free air of heaven, and to appreciate its freshness, its purity and its salubrity, will find no occasion to covet or envy. The man who by his cultivation and good husbandry, presents such a picture to the passer-by, shall not be called a benefactor to community? Has he not done much to improve and bless society by his example? Has he not built a monument to his honor more eloquent than the marble?

A SENSIBLE REPLY.

"Grandpapa, where do people get their fashions from?" "Why, from Boston." "Well, where do the Boston folks get them from?" "From England." "Ah! and where do the English get them from?" "From France." "And where do the French get them from?" "Why—why right strait from the d— there no stop your noise."

A GOOD 'UN.—The New Orleans Picayune has the following out at Martin Van Buren's Standing Army: "We yesterday saw a man wearing the U. S. uniform lying on the banquet in a horizontal position. He had evidently mixed to much brandy in his ice water to be able to stand erect. "What is he?" said one. "Don't you see," said another, "he is one of the U. S. army." "He may belong to the U. S. service," said a third, "but he is certainly not one of the standing army."

EXTRAORDINARY PRODUCE.—Mr. Jonathan Reed of Shrewsbury, has fifty-one Citron Melons, which were raised this season from a single seed; the whole weight of which is three hundred and fifty five pounds! The average circumference of them, is about 22 inches; and the whole length of the of the vine was found, by actual measurement, to be 18-00 feet; many of the smaller branches were not measured. It was supposed if they had been, the whole length would have been deposited by some means unknown, in the bottom of an old hay stack and grew without any cultivation. It was discovered by the hay makers, in July when it was but a few feet in length. [Massachusetts Spy.]

The way the banks help the people sometimes—to exorbitant costs for the necessities of life—is forcibly demonstrated by the fact that in the summer of 1839, when prices were so high in the principle markets that none but the rich were able to procure meat, Steinberger, the beef monopolist, owed the banks in Philadelphia alone nearly two millions of dollars. It is said that he owed one of the banks in Washington $60,000 at a time when many citizens of that place, though of good credit could not obtain loans from it to the amount of $100.—N. Y. Sun.

OR AND AH.—A paragon in Berkshire not long since enquired of a boy, what part of speech is Oh and Ah? The knight of the red attempted to illustrate by again asking, what would you say if a man seized you violently by arm? "Why I should tell him to let go damnation quick!"

R. S. V. P.—An old fashioned couple, in 1806, received a card of invitation to dinner from some much gayer folks than themselves. At the bottom of the card was the new R. S. V. P. This puzzled the worthy pair. It puzzle us in these days, although most of us are a little better acquainted with the French—"Repondez s'il vous plait." The old gentlemen took a nap upon it, from which he was awakened by his helpmate, who said, after shaking him up, "My love I have found it out. R. S. V. P. It meant—Remember six very punctual."

A SENSIBLE LITTLE BOY.—A friend of Mr. Cartwright, the celebrated dentist, took his son to have his mouth inspected by that able artist, who with wonderful celerity, removed seven of the boy's first teeth. Upon the boy crying out with surprise, and a little pain; Cartwright said, "Never mind, Johnny, your teeth will come again."

Johny, with tears in his eyes, inquired, "Will they come again before dinner?" Mr. Cartwright

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP. The partnership heretofore existing under the firm, of Charles Steese and Albert Bates, in the Grocery business in this city dissolved by mutual consent. CHARLES STEESE. ALBERT BATES. Shanesville Nov. 2d. 1840.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS. THESE justly celebrated Pills, have been before the American public over 5 years, their restorative and curative properties are fully estimated by hundreds of thousands of both sexes, and they are still growing in repute where ever they are known. Wherever a prejudice exists, it is because counterfeit pills have been used. Ask any one who has used the genuine Pills, and a hearty recommendation will be the sure result.

The great principle of "PURGING" in sickness is beginning to be appreciated. It is found much more convenient to take an occasional dose of half a dozen pills, and be always well, than to send for a Doctor and be bled, blistered and salivated—with the certainty that if you are not killed, you will be sure, to have months of weakness, and the only one who will be benefited is your Doctor. Look at the difference between the appearance of those two persons—one has been treated by your regular practitioner—see how pale and debilitated he is, see how the shadow of death throws his solitary glance from his emaciated countenance, see how he trembles in every limb; his eyes sunk, his teeth destroyed—his constitution perished irrevocably gone—yet, just hear how the Doctor arrogates to himself credit. He says "most inveterate case of liver complaint!" "Nothing but the most energetic remedies saved him." Energetic measures! i. e. Mercury and bleeding, ruined his constitution, better say, So to save his son must half poison with that comforter of the teeth and the gums—MERCURY—positive make a man miserable the said remainder of his existence; this is called curing. Shocking folly!

Let us now look at your "purged" man—the man who has taken Brandreth's Pills for Kiver Complaint—he has the firm elastic tread of conscious strength, his countenance is clear and serene, his eyes are full and sparkling with the feeling of new life and animation; he has been confined a few days to his bed, but he used nothing but the true Brandreth Pills, and soon rose without any injury being sustained by his constitution. Instead of being months in a weak state he will be stronger, after he has entirely recovered the attack, because his blood and fluids have become purified, and having purged away the old and impure fluids, the solids are thereby renovated, and he is not borne down by useless particles, but has renewed his life and body both.

This principle of purging with Brandreth's Pills, removes nothing but the useless and decayed particles from the body,—morbid and corrupt humors of the blood; and those humors which cause disease—they impede the functions of the liver when they settle upon that organ, and which, when they settle upon the muscles, produce rheumatism, or, upon the nerves, produce gout; or upon the lungs, produce consumption, or upon the blood vessels, a apoplexy and paralysis, and all the train of disorders so menacing to the sufferer and all who behold them.

CAUTION.—Dr. B. Brandreth never appoints Druggists, Pedlars, Doctors or Apothecaries, as his agents; therefore if you want to be sure to have THE REAL BRANDRETH'S PILLS, never purchase at Drug Stores or of Pedlars, Doctors or Apothecaries. The Pills they sell in my name being universally all counterafeits. All who sell the genuine Pills have a certificate of agency, signed by Dr. B. in his own hand writing, and renewed every 12 months, and have entered into bonds of $500, to sell none other Pills than they receive from Dr. Brandreth or his duly appointed travelling agents, who have invariably a power of attorney, signed by the Clerk of the County of N. York. OBSERVE.—The certificate is not let or press written or Lithographic. It is engraved.—The said certificate being no guarantee of the public after 12 months from date. MAKER.—When you want Pills to make sur-on are right, eat to see the certificate of agency, and those who sell counterfeits, and never let one, will tell you it is a mistake, lost. &c. Price 25 cents, with full directions. The following are the only authorized agents for the sale of Dr. Benjamin Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, in the counties of Tuscarawas and Carroll. John P. Chapin, New Philadelphia.

THE PHILADELPHIA SKET UNPARALLELED SUCCESS. PROSPECTUS OF A NEW VOLUME. The great increase in the subscription list of the Casket since the first of the year, warrants the most extensive improvements on the first of July next at which time a new volume will be commenced with increased vigor. (Nothing need be said of the firm basis on which the Casket stands it being already the oldest magazine in the country.) TYPE—EMBELLISHMENTS. The Casket is printed with a clear and silvery type, upon the finest white paper. The illustrations are not surpassed by those of any periodical at home or abroad; and beside the many finely engraved vignettes of colored plates, fashions has lately been added. The style of these embellishments is unequalled, and they are always accompanied with an apt sketch. It is now out of the way the work, whatever appears in the Casket is of the first order of the art. LITERARY CHARACTER. The literary character of the Casket is well known. It is wholly original, of the highest order, and sustained by WRITERS OF THE FIRST RANK. Essays, Tales Sketches etc. Travels, compose its prominent prose articles; while the poetry is equalled by that of no other magazine of like character. The variety to which the Casket is calculated, shall suffer no diminution; but on the contrary, every exertion shall be made to increase its interest.

SEVERAL ROMANCES OF THE REVOLUTION, already appeared, and others shall follow in the course of the year, presenting, when finished, a complete picture of the manners and a historical account of the great battles of that time. Thus, the Casket, instead of being filled with rickly sentimentalities, aims at a true delineation of human nature in every variety of passion. TIME OF PUBLICATION. The Casket is published on the first of the month in every quarter of the Union. The most distant subscribers consequently receive it on that day, as well as those who reside in Philadelphia. In all the principal cities agents have been established, by which means subscribers can obtain their copies free of postage.

FASHIONS. The fashion airs published in the Casket quarterly, or as often as any really new styles arrive from Paris. The engravings are colored, and executed from original designs. No old worn out plates retouched and then published as the latest fashions. The truth of our designs may be tested by comparing them with the best description of dresses from London and Paris. TERMS—Three Dollars per annum, or two copies for Five Dollars. Published by GEO. R. GRAHAM, 26 Carters Alley, Philad.
