 A table made by Secretary Mohler from the returns of the county clerks shows that there is 40,000,000 bushels of old corn in the state, and the new crop is estimated at 75,000,000 bushels. Edwards county is down for 125,813 bushels of corn and 12,190 bushels of wheat.

The importunate widow is gone—hid herself away to the sunny clime of Florida, where the atmosphere (politically) is not so chilly for her waning strength, but it appears she left behind her, still clinging to the soil of Kansas, an ambitious progeny. We are led to exclaim: Oh! Give us a rest!

W. S. Hebron, Rod Scot, S. M. Vandiver and Fred Hanson went down to Wichita last Friday morning to view the Hon. "James" Halliwell, and tell him that his chances were all right in this "neck of the woods." They should not make statements which are so misleading when they are away from home.
 Peter Obergren has sold his fine tract of land of 250 acres just east of the city to W. F. Wells, of Barton County. Mr. Wells is an experienced horse man and raiser of fine horses, and he will stock this ranch with blooded horses. Mr. Obergren leaves Monday for Ohio, thence to York state to look after his land interests there.
 The raising of horses is one of the chief industries of this county and the superior quality of this spring's colts denotes that great care and good judgment is exercised in the breeding on the part of the raisers. An excellent lot of colts is being raised by Mr. Edwards county horse will soon command a place in the front rank in the eastern markets. If every farmer could have two or more good teams to turn off each year it would add to the profits of farming materially as there is no place in America where horses can be raised more cheaply than right here.

In his last issue the editorial organ grinder of our "clean and fearless" contemporary pitches into us with all the Spanish glee of a grammarist about the omission of a "grammatical" sentence in a little article that would not digest severely with his political gastric juice. Hebe any casual reader with a head piece of ordinary construction of whom nature had not made so pedantic as yourself, would see at a glance that with "they" omitted we had reference to the strains, and could have to nothing else, and not wishing to prototype after you any way, we straining were waded upward by the gentle breeze to be recorded in heaven the sweet strains of the tom-tom etc." we did with all due forthrightness "grammatical" sentence. It reminds me of the school boy who remarked "I is," when the purveyor of intelligence corrected him to "I am," and he informed her that "I am" is the ninth consonant in the alphabet. We know of that one reason why you were not appointed supervisor of the grammar department of our public schools and that is that you are not a member of some glittering band of locusts who are not content with lowly comparisons are sometimes times.
 Greene & Billings!

Emily S. Leach was born in Mercer, Pennsylvania, April 19, 1835, and died August 28, 1890, aged 55 years. 4 months and 7 days. She was married December 22, 1850, to J. E. Crane of Erie county, Pennsylvania where they resided until the spring of 1876, when they came to this county and moved on a farm just southwest of this city. About ten years ago Mrs. Crane was taken sick with liver trouble, and in August of 1887 the family removed to Arkansas in hope that the change might prove beneficial to her, but medical aid or change of climate could do no more than delay the inevitable, and on August 28th she passed peacefully away. The remains were brought to this city for interment and the funeral services were conducted Sunday morning from the Congregational church, a large concourse of friends following the remains to the cemetery.
 Mrs. Crane was not a member of any church, but she was imbued with a christian spirit and was always ready to aid anyone in distress. She was the mother of ten children, five boys and five girls; two of whom have preceded her, one boy and one girl. She leaves a husband and eight children to mourn her loss, and a host of friends who will ever remember and speak of her as a loving, benevolent, christian woman.
 Card of Thanks.
 We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who, in our late bereavement, so benevolently extended their aid, gave us flowers, and in so many other ways helped us to bear our great sorrow, and by so doing incurred upon us a debt of gratitude which words cannot repay.

Alliance Resolutions.
EDTORS GRAPHIC: The following resolutions were offered in the Kinsley Alliance August 20th, and endorsed without a dissenting vote:
 WHEREAS: The editor of the Kinsley Graphic recently announced that the farmers' alliance should become a political party, and should hereafter be treated as such, indicating that hereafter should be misrepresented, vilified and slandered, and incited to the few tenets of the Mercury verily assertions, therefore be it resolved that the Kinsley Alliance of Edwards county, do hereby sever and disavow the support and recognition of any party, and do hereby declare that we will not further extend any patronage to the Mercury.
 Resolved: That the charge that the alliance is being manipulated in the interest of the Democratic party, by Democratic Union Laborers, is false, and a base slander upon the alliance, and that we will regard for truth, honor and decency, and only give credence to the people and manifestly true in the interest of the alliance, and that we will hereafter have no dealings with any party of the Democratic party, and that its members are hereby requested to sever all political affiliations.
 Resolved: That we give expression to our resolutions by aeting vote, and that they be offered for publication in the Kinsley Graphic and Mercury.

TO THE ALLIANCE.
 According to the Mercury the "challenging management of the Union Labor and Farmers' Alliance" is a political party, and is fast sinking that organization out of sight.
 The above serves as a text for a few thoughts in connection with the farming interests of the county. What was the object of the Alliance when organized? If the writer understands the situation correctly, it was for the purpose of securing such legislation as would best subserve the agricultural interests of the country, reduce taxation, give the largest possible amount of goods that the farmer receives in exchange for what he raises. In connection with this, the alliance meetings furnish opportunities for social intercourse, a reciprocity of ideas, and a chance to discuss the topics of the day and thus become a means of education.
 The first and foremost plank in the alliance platform is politics, according to the definition of the term; "the science of government; that part of ethics which consists in the regulation and government of a nation or state, for the promotion of its safety, peace and prosperity, and the protection of its citizens in their rights, with the preservation and improvement of their morals."
 It is not necessary for the alliance to antagonize any of the ideas, tenets or advocated by any other party or faction in the country that is in unison with the above sentiment. It is not necessary for the alliance in order to become an important factor in the affairs of the county to engage a crusade against either the Democratic or Republican party. They can if they choose select the good in either or both of them and from that best subserves their own peculiar interests, by reason of location or vocation.
 As long as the farmers toady to the political ringsters in the county they are jolly good fellows, but when they attempt to raise their heads, band themselves together in political organizations, the Republican party bows graciously and smilingly informs the alliance that the interests of the alliance and Republican parties are synonymous, and as they are in the business all that the alliance has to do is to turn over all the little political intricacies to them with the assurance that their interests will be taken care of. The alliance fails to hear the "horse laugh" over the huge joke from the funny members of the ring. Oh yes! They will take care of the interests of the alliance in future as in the past, there is no doubt of it. Now is there any reason why the alliance cannot protect their own interests? They furnish nine-tenths of the voters in the county, where is the wisdom of their forever sucking a hind teat?
