and the time he is to take charge of the Secretary of State's office in January.

Ed Clemans is one of the Democratic candidates who has never visited his Democratic brethren in Ellis county, but from the way they voted for him at the late primary it is quite evident they have heard of his high standing among his neighbors of southeast Kansas. Not more than one-third of the vote of Ellis county was polled at the recent primary, but Mr. Clemans went away ahead of his two Republican opponents, receiving 584 votes, to 277 for D. O. McCray and 169 for Frank Ryan, or a majority over both of 138. That vote given to Mr. Clemans is probably one-third of the Democratic strength of Ellis county, and it is presumed that he will lead the Democratic ticket with from 1,200 to 1,500 votes in this county. If he could get out here and spend one of his kind of "vacations" he might even do better than that.

A MESSAGE TO KANSAS WOMEN

(By Floy Horine, Grinnell.)

We are sure every Kansas woman wants her country to be the best in the world. But we wonder how many of our Kansas women realize what an important part they have in making their country the best.

Our nation is what its states make it; the states what the communities stand for; the communities are known by their homes and what represents the home as well as the children found in those homes, and it is the mother who has the greater responsibility in the training of these children. The father must be away from home most of their waking hours, but it is the mother who has them under her influence both day and night during their most impressionable age. It is the mother who must teach them to be kind to each other and their playmates, to be respectful, helpful and dependable.

It is the good mother who has an interest in her child's school life, who has his confidence in his childish troubles and above all keeps her child interested at home after school hours. It is to be regretted that the word "flapper" has ever been applied to our American girlhood, but with the right co-operation from the mother, it is not likely to endure long.

Mothers should wake up to the possibilities that are hidden in the gang spirit of our girls and boys if they want to blot out this curse of flapperism.

Children are full of energy and enthusiasm. If you don't find action and interest for them they will find it for themselves. And their immature judgment is not safe to depend upon. They will do things in a crowd that they would never do individually. Perhaps you have talked to your daughter until you have reached the limit of your vocabulary and yet she carries her powder puff, rouge box and lipstick wherever she goes and stays out late at nights because all the other girls do.

Why don't the club women organize departments of their clubs for these girls? Let them help with decorations and serving. Give them a part on the programs and help them in making out a club program. Make them feel you are interested in their work and that you appreciate their interest in yours.

Take them to visit children's wards in hospitals, to orphanages and to the poorer districts of their town, so they may see the things they might do to make life better for children who are not so fortunate as they.

Get them interested in making their town clean, healthful and beautiful, for there are lots of ways of interesting children in civic affairs.

They might have a club dance picnic or theatre party once in a while with their mothers, so they will not feel they are giving up all their good times. Once they become interested in wholesome fun and doing something worth while there will be no more use for the word flapper. The woman who has a comfortable home and no children should share this responsibility of motherhood with the woman who through lack of education, support or ancestral backbone or because of all three conditions is making a failure of bringing up her children for here lies the greatest danger to our communities and nation.

While such children are small they are a menace in school and among other children. After they are grown they are only good material for I. W. W.'s and Reds.

Yet if taken in time there is a world of good to be found in the child of the street.

We have three State institutions in Kansas: The Boys' Industrial School at Topeka, the Girls' Industrial School at Beloit and the Reformatory at Hutchinson overcrowded and with a waiting list of children who have come under the jurisdiction of these institutions through some infraction of the law.

While teaching at the Boys' Industrial school I often talked with women visiting the institution who called the boys little dears, remarked what nice little fellows they were, what remarkable work they were doing and how their hearts ached for them. They usually insisted that they be given the names of some of the boys so they could write them letters of encouragement and send them candy. While their intentions were of the best and their letters and boxes did make the boys happy, I always wanted to remind them that these same bright, well behaved little boys who were turning out such creditable work, both in the school and the shops were the same little fellows who were running the streets and allies in their home town. At home they called them little devils and taught their children to shun them.

Children of these institutions are not criminals, but simply unfortunate and it is very unfortunate indeed that they must commit crimes and be pronounced unlawful before they attract your attention.

So in behalf of the future of these children, let's hope they find a place on your club-work program this winter.—Kansas Woman's Journal.

ARRANGE ROYAL AUCTIONS

Notable Array of Cattle, Hogs and Sheep to be Offered at Sales, November 18 to 25

Special importance attaches this year to the auction sales of purebred and stockers and feeder live stock at the Kansas City stock yards, November 18 to 25. The Shorthorn-Herford-Aberdeen Angus sales of breeding cattle will dedicate the new sale pavilion in the new American Royal building. The Shorthorn sales will be held Wednesday, November 22. W. A. Cochel, western field representative of the Shorthorn association, will manage the Shorthorn sale. The Royal Herford sale will be held Thursday, November 23. R. J. Kinzer, secretary of the American Herford Cattle Breeders' Association, is manager of the Herford sale. The Aberdeen-Angus sale will be held Friday, November 24. Hal T. Hooker of Maryville, Mo., will manage the Aberdeen-Angus sale. There will be a special auction sale of Spotted Poland China hogs starting at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 22, in charge of Henry Faulkner, president of the National Spotted Poland China Record.

The carlot fat swine and fat sheep will be sold in the forenoon of November 22. The carlot fat and stocker and feeder cattle will be auctioned Thursday morning, November 23. P. M. Gross of Kansas City will auction the carlot section of cattle. Thomas E. Deem will auction the carlot swine and sheep.

This is the most notable array of auctions ever arranged for the American Royal and in the case of 1922 show, the one that will open the new building, which is nearing completion, will be a well rounded out affair.

The full number of cattle and hogs that will move through the American Royal auction sales will be announced later by the management.

It will be well for exhibitors to note that entries in the carlot classes close November 10 and to send in their entries as early as possible.

The railroads have granted a special rate of a fare and one-third from surrounding states for the benefit of visitors to the American Royal.

RECITAL

The recital at the Normal auditorium last Monday night, by Miss Helen Pestana, under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian Church, was a delightful event and drew a splendid audience. Miss Pestana was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Neiswanger, and assisted by Mr. Roberts, Mrs. Wooster and Mrs. Malloy, giving a variety to the program which was greatly enjoyed. The atmosphere of appreciative listeners enabled the performers to be at their best. Not only the Aid Society for whose benefit the recital was freely given, but also Miss Pestana's many friends in Hays which is her home and where she has rendered valuable service in the past by her musical talent, expressed their gratification for the opportunity of hearing her again on this occasion. She leaves this week, to resume her work near New York City.

DARE DEVIL AVIATORS COMING

Lieutenant Toncray and "Chubby" Watson will perform some of the most dangerous stunts on an aeroplane over Hays, Saturday P. M.

These men are some of the best "Dare-Devil" stunt flyers in the country and they put on for the largest fairs, aerial meets, etc.

They have performed at the New York state fair, and Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma state fairs. Their performance in Sterling, Colorado, drew a crowd of 15,000 people.

Chubby Watson will perform the following feats: Stand on head on wings, stand on one foot, stand on hands on top wing, hang from lower plane by toes, and by one foot. Hangs from a trapeze seven feet below the landing gear. Hangs by his teeth from this trapeze and spins like a top. Lots of other stunts in addition. This performance will take place over the main business section of the city about 3 p. m., Saturday.

THE SPIRIT OF FRATERNITY

The development of brotherly affection in lodges and fraternities and other organizations is one of the finest aspects of our so-called selfish American life. Now if the same spirit can only come into the community as a whole, and establish interest in and care for the weakest and most struggling elements of people, our social problems will be largely solved.

There is too much tendency for folks to think only of their own comfort and prosperity and pay no attention to how others are getting along. Persons of wealth and good incomes will fret and complain because good servants are scarce and high priced, or because labor costs high and they get efficient service. Their complaints are often perfectly justified, and they may be gouged by shirking help.

But if they would compare their situation with that of many struggling people, they would realize that they have little to complain of. They should think of the man with a family of children who has been unable to get regular work. Or they should contemplate the condition of the widow who has children to support. If they will go down into the poorer quarters of their own home town, they will find plenty of people whose lot is infinitely worse than theirs.

These complainers have perhaps had to give up some luxuries that they used to enjoy. But many of these people have too many luxuries, and it would do them no harm to cut down some features of their lavish living, and find more of their pleasures from association with the common run of people. The enjoyments that come from extravagant spending quickly disappear.

The world will be in a good deal of turmoil until this spirit of consideration and friendship becomes more general and until people do their utmost to remove evils that cause suffering and distress.—Lindsborg News-Record.

WAR FINANCE CORPORATION

The War Finance Corporation has received repayment of $2,000,000 on account of the loans aggregating $10,430,000 made to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company under the war powers of the Corporation in December, 1918, and January, 1919. It is expected that the balance now outstanding, $2,930,000, will be repaid in the near future.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

William Wrigley, Jr., the successful chewing-gum magnate, talking with a smoking-car audience the other day, was telling the others how much a year the chicle people spent for advertising.

"But, Mr. Wrigley, you've spent millions of dollars and created a splendid demand now; everybody talks and chews Spearmint. Your demand is steady and growing. Isn't it a waste to continue spending so many hundred thousands of dollars a year in publicity?" one of his auditors asked.

The Spearmint king thought a moment, and then replied:

"My friend, if I were to stop advertising, it would be just like taking the engine off this train. It would slow down, and after a little while stop. Advertising is the locomotive of business, and if you don't have it, business comes to a stop.—Wah Street Journal.

W. P. Wasinger, dentist, in company with Billie Geyer, sustained a severed artery in his right hand last Monday night, when the car in which they were riding suddenly turned turtle.

The two men were driving east on the Golden Belt highway when the accident occurred. At a point three and one-half miles west of Ellis, where the highway makes a reverse curve and crosses the Union Pacific tracks, Geyer who was driving the car, was reported to have been blinded and confused by the glaring lights of an approaching car.

In effort to avert a collision, the machine deflected from the road and crashed into an embankment throwing the occupants to the ground and badly wrecking the car. The men were picked up by passing autoists and brought to Ellis for treatment. Geyer escaped with shakeup and bruises.—Review-Headlight.

As predicted, the price of paving is coming down considerably. In the Kansas City Star of Sunday, was an article from the Kansas State Highway commission showing that the price of paving State roads in the state, eighteen feet wide, of concrete, has been reduced from over $40,000 a mile last year to the latest contract given out last week, of less than $30,000 a mile, hundreds of miles having been given out lately at about that figure. The Hutchinson News of last Saturday gives a new low figure in street paving, their City Commissioners last Thursday giving out contracts for paving several streets in that city, with asphalt at $2.25 a square yard, or $8,046 for three blocks of the paving. Brick paving was let at $2.90 a square yard. Another street, Sherman avenue, leading to the Reformatory, was also ordered laid with sheet asphalt at the same price. The lowest bids in Hays have been $3.07 for brick and $2.30 for the asphalt, both guaranteed for five years, as in Hutchinson.

Probate Judge John Gross and L. J. Stein attended Federal Court in Leavenworth, this week. It was claimed that the Ford car which Mr. Gross purchased of Stein some time ago, was a stolen one. It was claimed by a man from another city—Denver, we believe. It had been purchased by Mr. Stein and sold to Gross. They beat the case and the car will remain in Hays. Some forty stolen cars were parked near the temple of justice and owners had been found for all but two of them. Twelve were Fords and the balance were of other makes, with perhaps Buicks and Cadillacs predominating. One man, caught the first of the week, near Leavenworth, with a stolen car, had five gallons of alcohol and a complete outfit for changing numbers on cars.

The Gulf ports are holding their own in the way of grain shipments. The official reports show that last week there were shipped from the Gulf ports, 337,000 bushels, while the eastern ports show only 1,354,000 bushels. Last year from July 1st to October 15th there were shipped from all American ports 93,689,000 bushels while this year for the same period, it was 65,268,000 bushels, and nearly all of this is wheat, little corn, oats or barley being shipped from America to foreign ports.

The merchants of the city put up $150 to an aggregation of airplane stunt flyers to put on a show Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the State Teachers Association. They will perform all manner of daring stunts. It will be interesting and thrilling.

Topeka, Oct. 17.—The Kansas Non-Partisan League is going to bat for the Democratic state ticket this year. The NPL has been made up largely of Democrats, but it also drew a fair sprinkling of Republicans, a few Socialists, and some Independents. But since the endorsement of Davis for Governor, only the more radical are following the leaders.

One of the principal things for which the same element in the party contended was lower taxes. They know now that state taxes will be cut from 2.235 mills to 1.66 mills, and that has convinced the great majority of the farmers that the party of Lincoln was the "Grand Old Party" they always thought it was. Consequently there is a steady drift to the Republicans, and the Democrats would like a new issue.

A SHABBY HOUSE OR A SHABBY MIND

Haven't you been in houses where lovely flowers stood all about, and everything was spick-and-span, but the library table was strewn with papers and magazines of the trashiest description? Is it a good thing to have the furniture of the house the best that money can buy, and to furnish the mind with silly and disreputable things in the way of reading? Better by far have a shabby house than a shabby mind. The shabby furniture can be burned or sold, but what can be done for the shabby mind? Use The Youth's Home Companion to furnish your mind, and wherever you are—in plain but immaculate rooms or amid splendors and palaces—you will be at home. Try The Companion for a year and see.

The 52 issues of 1923 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

The Stockton Record last week, printed the following:

"A U. S. Marshal was here last week and served notice on seven innocent owners of alleged stolen cars, ordering them to appear Tuesday, with the property at the federal court at Leavenworth. The following caravan which left Monday morning with the seven cars: Harry Eades, L. H. Ochampaugh, Roy McMichael, Earl Bartholomew, Chet Thompson, Bert Cleary, Pete Romey, John Parker, and Sheriff Hindman. It is hoped the caravan will be as long when they return."

This is a warning not to buy or trade for an auto of a stranger, no matter how low the price or attractive the car. It may be a stolen one.

WOMEN MUST BE NATURALIZED

A new rule by the Naturalization department of the United States Government, provided that a married woman must be naturalized, whether or not her husband is an American.

Under the old rule the naturalization of the husband, made a citizen of his wife and minor children.

The new order effective, Sept. 22 compels the woman to take out naturalization papers the same as a man.
