Kansas State Historical Society.

Another card has been received from the Secretary of the Kansas State Historical Society. Here it is:

TOPEKA, KAN., Oct. 13, 1877.

DEAR SIR:—Yours for Sept. 22 and 15 are missing from our file. We desire a complete file for binding. Can you supply the missing Nos. and oblige.

Yours truly,
F. G. ADAMS, Sec'y.

The following scurrilous quotation is printed on the card:

"These poor journals of to-day which everybody is ready to stigmatize as trash, not worth the room to store or the money to bind, are the very materials which the men of the future will search for with eagerness, and for some of which he will be ready to pay their weight in gold."—A. H. Spedford, Librarian of Congress.

We are perfectly willing to put the State Historical Society on our D. B. list, but after being asked to do so, we think it rather uncourteous for its Secretary to insinuate that the Times is trash, &c. Be easy on us, Adams. What did we ever do to you?

Hon. S. A. Riggs.

The nomination of Hon. S. A. Riggs for the position of Chief Justice is one that gives strength to the ticket wherever Mr. Riggs is known. He is a prominent lawyer who has been identified with the history of Kansas from its very early times. He is distinguished for his rare culture and scholarship; his marked legal acuity; his clearness and force as a speaker; while his name is a synonym for integrity. All who are well acquainted with Mr. Riggs at once recognize and speak of the fitness of his nomination to the position of Chief Justice, his characteristics being just those needed for this high and important office.

The platform adopted by the convention is in the main a good one. Their principal idea, to-wit: A currency sufficient in amount to meet the wants of the country, based on the credit of the nation, must be at the foundation of any policy that will bring relief and restore prosperity to the country. And with such standard-bearers as Mr. Riggs the Greenback party will cut no inconsiderable figure in the political contest this fall.—Lawrence Tribune.

Excursionists

The city was visited last week by five prominent citizens of the State of Pennsylvania, who were looking at the country along the line of the A. T. & S. P., with a view to locating a large number of emigrants next season. Their names are: H. L. Cowgill, of Philadelphia; T. W. Ludwig, of Douglassville; E. Z. Griesser, of Oley; Judge Ralston, of Phoenixville, and Davis Hendrix, of Redding. They represent emigrants from five counties, and Philadelphia county and city. They liked the looks of this country very much.—Mr. Ludwig especially. Mr. L. says that Dodge City has a very hard name in the east, and that "Boot Hill," our graveyard, is considered almost as great a curiosity as the grave of Shakespeare. Mr. L. selected some small pebbles from "Boot Hill," and will carry them home and put them in a vase and place the vase on his parlor center table, as a constant reminder of the renowned graveyard of the far west. Mr. Ludwig says he likes the people here very much, and we are sure we all formed a very favorable opinion of him.

To Farmers.

We can furnish the Dodge City Times and Kansas Farmer one year for $3. The Farmer is the only Agricultural and Family Journal within a radius of 500 miles, now in its 15th year, a prosperous and growing paper, indispensable for citizens in the State, and for those living out of the State who want truthful and reliable information of Kansas, its laws, its people, its resource, its climate and its products, it is altogether the best paper for them to secure.

Neighborhood News.

BARION COUNTY.

Mr. Chas. W. Prescott, long and familiarly known to our people as head clerk in the post-office here was arrested to-day, charged with taking money from the mails. Major Crowell has been fretting this matter up for quite a length of time, which has culminated so successfully.—Great Bend Democrat.

Prescott acknowledged to having stolen upwards of $200.

RUSH COUNTY.

Lacrosse needs a dry goods store, a grocery store, a hardware store, a drug store, a boot and shoe shop, a flouring mill and a man with a few thousand dollars in cash could make money by starting a bank.—Lacrosse Progress.

Absurd.

Some newspaper men in this State don't even know how to name their papers. A country newspaper should always bear the name of the town in which it is published. Suppose we tip an item which says "John Jones of this county raised a potato weighing twenty-five pounds," and credit to the Inland Tribune, the Arkansas Valley Democrat, or some other half-starved sheet, claiming to be a great sectional newspaper. Who would know whether that potato was raised in Kansas, Colorado or Arkansas? If you are ashamed of your town and want people to thank you publish your paper out under a tree, well, you had better not publish any at all. We propose to change the name of the "Inland" Tribune to the "Great Bend" Tribune, and the "Arkansas Valley Democrat" to the "Great Bend" Democrat. Our readers will then know what locality they try to represent "in their feeble way" if we should happen to be so scarce of news as to be compelled to clip from them.

A Commissioner Nominated in District No. 1.

OFFERLE, KANS., Oct. 13, 1877.

Pursuant to a call the voters of the 1st Commissioner District met at school house No. 2 to select a candidate for County Commissioner. J. S. Hawkins called the meeting to order.

On motion of J. W. Sidlow Lester Marks was chosen Chairman and J. S. Hawkins Secretary.

On motion of J. W. Sidlow the meeting took an informal ballot for candidates for nominations. The candidates were Geo. W. Hatheway, John W. Sidlow and James C. Jones.

The ballot being taken for the candidates, stood: Hatheway 5, Sidlow 3, W. C. Seward 1. J. C. Jones was dropped.

Discussion arose as to the expediency of our nominating candidates for other county officers.

On motion there was a committee of three appointed to confer with the leading citizens as to the best means of selecting candidates for county offices. The committee consists of Geo. W. Hatheway, John W. Sidlow and W. C. Seward.

On motion the meeting adjourned.
LESTER MARKS, Chairman.
JOHN S. HAWKINS, Secretary.

Henry Murray, well known to our citizens, has returned from Dodge, and to remain permanently.—Hays Sentinel.

Henry has a farm up in Ellis county, which he intends to improve. We are sorry to lose him, but wish him abundant success.
