SOLID FOR HANCOCK.

Consider what Lee and Jackson would do were they alive. THESE ARE THE SAME PRINCIPLES FOR WHICH THEY FOUGHT FOUR YEARS. Remember the men who poured forth their life blood on Virginia's soil, and do not abandon them now. Remember that upon your vote depends the success of the Democratic ticket.—[Wade HAMPTON, at Staunton, Va., July 26.]

THE SOUTH MUST RULE.

I am as positive that Hancock will be elected as I am that there is a God in the heavens. You say that he is a Yankee.
Well, I know that; and I know, too, that his sword has pierced the breast of many a gallant man in gray. But what are we to do? We can not put in one of our own men this time, and have to take a Yank. That being the case, let us take one who is less blue-bellied than the most of them. You may depend upon it, sir, that Yank or no Yank, if elected the old boys of the South will see that Hancock does the fair thing by them. In other words, he will run the machine to suit them, or they will run the thing themselves. They are not going to be played with any longer. If you hear any man say that Hancock cannot carry all of the South, you may put him down as a dfool.—[Robert Toombs' letter to a friend in Washington.]

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is highly recommended by physicians, clergymen and scientists as a preparation accomplishing wonderful results. It is entirely harmless, and a certain remedy for removing dandruff, making the scalp white and clean, and restoring gray hair to its youthful color. It imparts a gloss and freshness to the hair which all admire.

THE TEXAS CATTLE LAW DECLAR- ED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

The Fort Scott Monitor says a case of more than local interest was decided by the District Court, Sept. 20th, involving the constitutionality of the above law. On the 23d of August last, Josias Bitner was arrested upon a complaint filed before O. A.
Cheney, Justice of the Peace, charging him with having driven, or caused to be driven, into this State, cattle from the country south of the State of Kansas, commonly known as or called Indian or Texas cattle. For various reasons the trial of the case was continued until the 17th ult., on which date the defendant's attorneys, S. S. Brinkerhoff, of Fort Scott, and C. F. Hutchins, of Oange Mission, determined to test the validity of said law, and immediately filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, which was granted and made returnable the next morning, at which time the matter was fully argued by Messrs. Brinkerhoff and Hutchins in behalf of the relator, Bitner, and by Mess.
Bawden, Sallee and Galloway in behalf of the State. The counsel in behalf of Bitner claimed that said law was unconstitutional for the following reasons:

1st. That it is in conflict with section 6, article 6, of the Constitution of the State of Kansas.

2d. That it is in conflict with section 8, article I, of the Constitution of the United States.

Sec. 6, Art. 6, of the Constitution of the State of Kansas provides that all penalties collected shall be paid into the school fund.

Sec. 8, Art. I, of the Constitution of the United States provides that Congress shall have power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States and with the Indian tribes.

It was by reason of the above provision of the Constitution of the United States the court held that the law was unconstitutional; that it was a restriction of commerce; that it invaded the domain of Congress, and by reason thereof was unconstitutional.

The Kinsley Graphic says: A man above Dodge lost a horse and supposed it was stolen. He sent out postal cards with a description of the animal, one of which fell into the hands of our marshal. The horse was found by the owner and he was here in town with him last week, when our marshal arrested the man and took charge of the horse.
The fellow proved himself to be all right and the owner of the horse, and was allowed to go on his way, while the marshal was out $25 reward.

The National Wool Growers' Association in Philadelphia reported in favor of calling the attention of Congress to the necessity of making larger appropriations to the department of agriculture, to assist in distributing documents regarding sheep and their products.

At Jacksboro, Texas, Monday morning, immense swarms of grasshoppers appeared, coming from the north, and obscuring the sun. The farm products are completely demolished, and cotton stalks being devoured.

The railroad passenger fare through Missouri is three cents a mile, through Kansas four cents, in Texas and Louisiana five cents, in Colorado six cents, and in New Mexico ten cents.

H. L. Rollingsstone and Emma J. Moss were married at Chillicothe, Mo., a few days ed around that rollingsstone, contrary to the old proverb.
