

BOATING PARTY LOST.

SEVEN PEOPLE DROWNED BY CAPSIZING.

An Entire Family Lost and Two Other Families in Mourning—Caused by Women Getting Excited and Crowding to One Side of the Boat.

OCEANSIDE, Md., Aug. 19.—By the overloading of a small pleasure boat, an entire family was drowned, and two other families are in mourning. A party of farmers from the neighborhood of Frankford and Selbyville, Del., had a fish fry on Grey's creek, a branch of the Isle of Wight bay, with bathing, fishing and amusements.

William Hudson carried a party of nine out sailing, and as the boat was about to come back, the women of the party jumped, screaming, on the high side, capsizing the little craft, which was hardly large enough to carry five persons.

The following seven were drowned: William Storr, aged 45 years, Philadelphia.

Laura Storr, his wife, aged 35; his daughters, Ida, aged 16, and May, aged 14.

Myrtle Stevens, aged 16, a daughter of Joseph Stevens of Shelbyville.

Lina Hall, aged 19, and her sister, Lulu Hall, aged 14, daughters of Elisha Hall of near Frankford.

PRAISED BY MORRILL.

The Kansas Governor Has a Good Word for Every Republican Leader.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Governor Morrill of Kansas, who is here, asked who was the favorite for the Republican Presidential nomination in Kansas, replied: "William McKinley is decidedly the choice of the Kansas Republicans. He is a level headed and safe man. He has personal popularity with the people of the West. Reed, however, is an intellectual giant. He has many admirers in Kansas and throughout the West and he is generally regarded as one of the most brilliant men in public life. Allison is highly respected and his nomination would be very acceptable to Kansas, but I do not expect to see it. I met Allison a short time ago and he told me frankly that he did not intend to make any special push for the nomination this year as he had in previous years. In my opinion Harrison will not be a candidate."

DIVERS LYNCHED.

The Outrage and Murder of Mrs. Cain Awfully Avenge Near Fulton, Mo.

FULTON, Mo., Aug. 16.—When it became known Wednesday that Emmet Divers, the negro who brutally assaulted and butchered Mrs. Cain, wife of a prosperous farmer of this county, about three weeks ago, was to be brought back here from St. Louis for his preliminary examination, the people organized as vigilantes and armed men guarded all the roads into the town and searched all trains.

The sheriff left St. Louis with his prisoner at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for this place, where Divers was to be tried yesterday. Word was sent to him that Fulton was full of desperate men all clamoring for vengeance and that Divers would never be granted the formality of a trial. He, however, hoped to outwit them. He decided to leave the train at New Florence and telegraphed to have a conveyance waiting at the depot on his arrival. New Florence was reached at 7:40 o'clock. The wretch was at once hurried into the carriage, which stood in waiting, and in less than three minutes he was being hurried to this place, thirty-five miles distant.

After proceeding in this way for about a mile the command was again given by those in advance to halt. The crowd dismounted and immediately collected around the carriage. A moment later the negro, more dead than alive, was dragged over the wheel. A rope was quickly wound around his body and his arms pinioned to his sides.

Then Buchanan and Buckner were ordered back into the carriage and the mob turned away, half leading and half dragging the negro, and conducted him to the bridge. When the center was reached, a rope was quickly placed about his neck and the other end fastened to one of the beams. Then, without giving him a chance to say a word, he was pushed off the side and, after waiting a few moments to be sure that their work was done, the mob roared away.

At 12 o'clock the corpse of the lynched negro was brought into Fulton in a wagon followed by a procession of nearly 1,000 people. The cavalcade halted at the public square.

Then, at the request of the husband of the murdered woman, the corpse was hung to the cross arm of a telegraph pole, where, at 2:30 o'clock it was still hanging, before thousands who thronged the streets.

Divers had expected this fate, for before he left St. Louis he said to those in the jail there that they would never see him alive again. He acknowledged the crime, but said that he did not intend to kill Mrs. Cain.

SHOT IN A COURT ROOM.

Newton Winn Fatally Wounded by Watt Reed at Platte City, Mo.

PLATTE CITY, Mo., Aug. 17.—The dignity of the circuit court, now sitting here, was turned to panic yesterday by a shooting affray in the court room itself. As a result, Newton Winn now lies at the point of death.

The tragedy formed the climax to a quarrel between Newton Winn and Watt Reed over some hogs. The two men live near Plattsburg, Clinton county. A lawsuit about the hogs was pending here on a change of venue. Many other Clinton county people are in town, all of whom take sides one way or the other, so that much bad blood existed.

Vent was given to the animosity when John Cross, lawyer for Reed, made an insulting remark about Winn's son. At this Winn sprang from his seat as if for the purpose of striking Cross. At this juncture Reed drew a pistol and fired at Winn. Two shots struck him, one in the right arm and the other in the bowels. Winn was carried, bleeding, from the room. He was taken to the home of a Mrs. Shepard, where an operation was performed. Reed was taken to the jail and locked up. Both parties are old citizens of the county, and have families.

Winn died Saturday afternoon.

JIM CORBETT IS MARRIED.

He Is Wedded to Jessie Taylor at Ashbury Park.

ASHBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 17.—There was a quiet civil marriage here yesterday, of which the principals were champion James J. Corbett and Jessie Taylor of Omaha, better known as Vera Stanwood, the name under which she figured as co-respondent in the recent suit for the divorce which was granted to Mrs. Ollie Lake Corbett. So quietly had Corbett's intentions been kept that not even his manager and traveling companion, William A. Brady, knew that he intended matrimony so soon, nor were any of his other friends in sporting circles apprised of the event.

HOTEL FIRE HORROR.

FORTY LIVES LOST IN A DENVER EXPLOSION.

The Boilers in the Gummy House Blow Up and Cause Untold Havoc Among Sleeping Guests and Employe—Disaster Occurs at Midnight.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 19.—The Gummy hotel, Nos. 1725 to 1733 Lawrence street, was wrecked by a terrific explosion at 12:10 a. m. The rear end of the building, a five story brick and stone structure, went down with a crash. The hotel was crowded with guests and many of them must have been killed, as well as the entire force of hotel employes, who were sleeping in that portion of the building at the time. On both sides of Lawrence, from Seventeenth to Eighteenth streets, and on Larimer directly back of the Gummy the plate glass windows of the business houses were blown in, and a number of pedestrians were injured by falling glass. The fronts of many buildings in the vicinity were badly wrecked.

The hotel structure for 100 feet along the alley, and extending for seventy-five feet toward the front, is merely a mass of debris. Brick and plaster are piled in a heap twenty feet high, and from this mass of wreckage can be heard the moans of the injured and dying. At 12:35 five injured persons had been taken out. They were all inmates of the upper story, and sank down with the floors, escaping more fortunately than those below, who are still buried in the ruins.

The firemen are working like beavers, digging into the debris, but are making little progress. The remaining portion of the building, from which the guests are being removed by ladders as fast as possible, is expected to fall at any moment, and precautions to avert further loss of life add to the difficulty in reaching the dead and injured. By some estimates forty people were in the portion of the hotel destroyed, nearly all of whom must be dead. The cause of the explosion is uncertain, but it is supposed that the battery of boilers in the hotel basement must have exploded.

EARNINGS OF RAILWAYS.

OUT FOR SILVER.

Democratic Conference in Washington Issues an Address.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The silver Democrats continued their conference at the Metropolitan hotel at 10 o'clock yesterday. C. F. Cochrane, editor of the St. Joseph (Mo.) Gazette, addressed the conference. He said it seemed anomalous that a meeting such as the present should be called, for he knew of no doctrine of the party which was not in consonance with the purposes of this conference.

It was almost 12 o'clock when the committee on resolutions filed into the conference room and Senator Daniel was recognized to make the report of the committee's proceedings. This was divided into two sections, one consisting of an address to Democrats and the other of the plan of organization. The address was read by Governor Stone of Missouri. It disclaims speaking with party authority, the assemblage being a voluntary one, but strongly represents the opinion of the conference, that the party should declare for free coinage of silver. It concludes as follows: "Duty to the people requires that the party of the people continue the battle for bimetalism until its efforts are crowned with success, therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Democratic party in national convention assembled, should demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold into primary or redemption money at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the action or approval of any other nation.

TO SAVE HIS WIFE.

The Husband of Maud Lewis Says He Killed Senator Morrissey.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 16.—Alport Andrews has made a confession that he shot and killed Senator Peter Morrissey May 13, of this year. Alport Andrews is the husband of Maud Lewis and was in her house at the time the shots which ended the life of Morrissey were fired. Andrews' confession is in the shape of an appeal for the liberation of his wife. He claims that he shot Morrissey because the latter was striking the Lewis woman. Andrews had been acting as porter in the immoral resort of the Lewis woman for several years, and the fact that he was her husband did not develop until investigation after the murder, and, as it appears certain, was never known to Morrissey during his relations with the woman.
