Bailey and Craddock Debate Is a one-sided Affair.

FIRST HEAT PULLED OFF

Fusion Candidate Has a bad
Case of Crossed Wires in All His Statements.

The first debate between W. H. Craddock and W. J. Bailey was held at Wichita Monday night. Under the arrangements Mr. Craddock was allowed to give a prepared speech and Mr. Bailey was required to reply, answering what ever questions Mr. Craddock made pleased to propound. Mr. Craddock made much the same speech he has made through the campaign. "Elect me governor, and if you pay $100 taxes now, you will only have to pay $50 then." He repeated that railroads were assessed at a higher rate in Missouri than in Kansas.

In answer to Craddock on taxation, Bailey said:

"I do not stand here to defend any one interest against another. I have no special interest to protect. If I am elected governor I shall endeavor to make the burdens of government fall with equal justice upon all. No honest man could do otherwise. My honored opponent has organized a 'do right' club. What a paradox—to 'do right' and vote the fusion ticket. He asks you to put up $1 as a fee to join. It's the first time I ever saw a man charged anything to do right. When the campaign first opened Craddock threatened to cut taxes in two. I confess that puzzled me a little. I thought that if he cut them in half, I might devise a scheme to lop them off entirely. But I could not find the scheme. Neither will Craddock cut taxes in two.

"Craddock got up a tax comparison story between Kansas and Missouri. He deceived the people in his comparisons. He compared a first class road in Missouri to a fifth rate road in Kansas. I made some comparisons myself. I took the main line of the Santa Fe of Kansas and Missouri. What was the result? The Santa Fe pays $224 taxes per mile in Missouri and $432 in Kansas. Now does Craddock expect to cut taxes of the Kansas farmer in two by cutting down the taxes of Kansas railroads to that of Missouri railroads?

Bailey then compared the assessments of farm and personal property in the western tier of Missouri counties with the eastern tier of Kansas counties, to show that the Missouri assessment on farm and personal property is twice as high as on the same class of property in Kansas. He declared that "in trust ridden Missouri, in Democratic Missouri, the farmers are assessed twice that of Kansas."

"Now, here's a joke," said he. "Craddock says if he has made a misstatement, he will get off the ticket. He said the railroads of Kansas are capitalized for $600,000,000. He got in the wrong column in making his figures. He got the capitalization of the entire systems. But I'll not hold him to his promise. I want him to run."

Mr. Craddock made his usual talk about trusts, charging their existence to the Republicans. In his reply, Mr. Bailey showed that trusts were flourishing in democratic states fully as well as elsewhere, and said that it would take national legislation to break them. It was plain to be seen all through the debate that in their next meeting, when Bailey is to make the speech and Craddock is to answer questions and argument, that the debate will have a disastrous result for the democratic candidate.

School district treasurers will not be able to pay teachers who are teaching without a certificate unless they should pay them out of private funds. Frank Nelson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, holds that while a person not holding a teacher's certificate may instruct a school he can not be paid for his labor. In an opinion he says: "The district treasurer cannot legally pay funds of the district for the services of any teacher who does not hold a legal certificate."

John P. Feigel the agent for the Rock Island at Dodge City has been appointed by the company as a travelling freight and live stock agent with headquarters at Hutchinson and will begin his new duties in the near future. The appointment is a promotion, and one which is well deserved by Mr. Feigel.

J. W. Travis has billed a public sale at his place in Pleasant Valley township for October 16. He has a fine lot of horses and cattle which will be sold at public auction and which will be a rare opportunity for buyers.

M. W. Sutton and T. A. Scates are in Liberal this week where they are employed as attorneys in the Combs case. Combs is the section foreman who killed a young man at Liberal some time ago. There was a strong feeling against Combs at the start, but after more particulars of the trouble which led up to the killing were learned the feeling subsided to a considerable extent. Sutton & Scates are defending the case.

DEATH OF WM. BROWN.

Funeral Was Held Monday Afternoon at 4 O'clock.

The death of William Brown occurred at his home in Dodge City on Saturday October 5. The funeral services were held on the following Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Christian church, conducted by Rev. D. McCormick.

William Isaac Brown was born Feb. 6, 1880 in Knox county, Mo. A little over a year ago his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Brown moved to Dodge City on account of the health of the son. Last June, the young man was sent to Colorado to try another change in the hope that it would benefit his still failing health. A few days before his death he was brought back to Dodge City as he was steadily growing worse in Colorado.

He was a member of the Christian church in which he was an active worker until his health prevented, and was a young man of much promise.

AN INTERESTING CAREER.

A Young Kansan Who is Illustrating
What Earnest Effort Will Do.

Hon. Henry J. Allen who has the reputation of being one of the orators of the west will speak at the opera house in Dodge City on next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Allen's career is one that is full of interest for every Kansan. A few years ago he was working his way through school. He proved by his efforts that a young man who has pluck and determination can succeed. He went through college, working on Saturdays to keep up expenses. Whatever came up, he refused to be discouraged. Now only a few years later Mr. Allen is found among the most prominent, and most honored and respected men of the great state of Kansas.

Further than that he is equipped to appear with credit to himself and his state upon the speaker's stand before any audience in America. Among the prominent men of the state he meets as an equal and is pointed out as a coming leader.

His career is one calculated to encourage every young man of ambition. It proves that there is opportunity for ability and determined effort: Every young man in Ford county should hear Mr. Allen speak next Saturday, and the fathers, mothers, sisters and friends of the young men will be quite as well entertained and benefitted. Don't fail to hear Mr. Allen and see that your friends and neighbors hear him.

AMONG RAILROADS AND RAILROAD MEN.

The mother of Trainmaster G. H. Saunders of the Santa Fe died last week and was buried at Nickerson, her old home, on Thursday.

Will Lamont a Santa Fe brakeman was killed in the yards at Ottawa last week. He was making a coupling when his head was caught between the timbers of two cars.

L. E. McClure the newly appointed trainmaster took charge of his office at Newton last Saturday.

Engineer John Conway whose home was in Newton was killed in a head-end collision on the Santa Fe near Ardmore, I. T., Monday morning. His fireman was killed at the same time.

At Belpre Sunday afternoon at 2:30 a small rear end collision occurred. Extra 1101 in charge of Conductor Harry Vaughn struck the rear end of extra 1100. Owing to some slight accident the first train had stopped and flagged the rear train. After the damage had been repaired both trains moved up intending to take the siding but again something got wrong with the train ahead and it stopped so suddenly that the other train ran into it before the engineer on the second train was aware that the first one had stopped. No great damage resulted.

The company made a change in people a few days ago and are working under difficulties for a few nights, a condition in which any company occasionally finds itself. Mr. Gluck intends to bill only reliable and first class companies, of the best grade that can be secured in a town of this size, and has some fine ones booked for this season.

A Typical South African Store.

O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by PINE & BOND, Palace Drug Store.

Notice.

I have sold one third interest of my lumber business and I want to close up my old books at once by cash or good note. Come in and settle up and oblige,
Yours truly, F. A. STURGEON.

Henderson Grimett, of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—Geo. R. McDonald, Man, Logan county, W. Va. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by PINE & BOND, Palace Drug Store.
