

they accept the offices is that the subscription necessary to successfully conduct the fair be raised, and raised at once. To this the committee of fifteen agreed unanimously, and there is not a doubt that every Albuquerque man will agree with the officers and the committee.

The subscription is going to be raised at once. A committee of subscriptions will begin its work today and it will not quit until it has the necessary funds to meet the outstanding indebtedness of the association, and to place a solid foundation for the coming fair. The first move of the new officers will be to pay all outstanding indebtedness. This indebtedness was considerably reduced last night when Messrs. Greer and Sellers, executive officers of the late fair, appeared before the committee of fifteen to voluntarily relinquish their claims for salary against the association. Mr. Greer also agreed for the Trustee company, to place the fair grounds entirely at the disposal of the fair association for the week of the fair without any restriction.

Had the committee of fifteen searched for months, it could not have found a better corps of officers than those selected, and who come forward with the expressed desire to work for nothing. It is a result which will be approved by Albuquerque down to the last small boy who crawls over the fence while the big annual show is on. The right men are in charge, but even these men cannot succeed without the support of every business man and every citizen. Subscriptions were voluntarily doubled at the meeting of the committee of fifteen last night, not by one, but by several members of the committee. It is the Albuquerque spirit that comes to the front again and there is every reason to expect that the spirit shown in the committee last night will appear at every street corner in Albuquerque. It is the spirit that wins. The support of the people of Albuquerque is all the new officers of the Fair association need to make success assured. There is no doubt that the officers will get it.

in twenty-three syndicates Mr. Hyde sustained losses of $23,515.

Mr. Hyde ascribes the apportionment of the Equitable's allotment of bonds in syndicates to officers of the Equitable Life to the customs and usages of Wall street.

Says Alexander Did It. Of the formation of the J. H. Hyde and associates syndicate Mr. Hyde said Mr. Alexander suggested it for the convenience of bankers.

Of the $50,000,000 Union Pacific pool, Mr. Hyde said Mr. Harriman investigated it, and explained it was a holding syndicate for five years. It was understood this was for the purpose of controlling the Union Pacific. Mr. Hyde signed the syndicate agreement at Mr. Harriman's suggestion and talked only with Mr. Harriman on the subject. The executive committee was not informed of this operation, as Mr. Hyde said that Mr. Alexander did not think it necessary, and that Mr. Harriman requested that the committee be not informed of it. He said that Mr. Harriman ever refused to give a statement of the purposes of the pool to the superintendent of insurance when he was clamoring for it last spring.

THE SHIP TRUST DEAL. Evidence in this sensational testimony, however, were the statements of Mr. Hyde concerning former Governor Odell and Mr. Harriman relative to the settlement of the ship-building company suit by the Mercantile Trust company. Mr. Hyde said that Mr. Harriman came to him and advised the settlement of Odell's suit, as he feared that powerful influence at Albany would be invoked in retaining the assets. Mr. Harriman suggested as one of these measures the revocation of the charter of the Mercantile Trust company. Mr. Hyde knew of no actual steps that were taken, nor of any bill that was introduced, but he was beset with rumors that such steps were about to be taken by legislation.

The Equitable Life, he said, was interested beyond the control of the bank with the Mercantile Trust company.

Mr. Hyde was under the impression that the Mercantile Trust company in settlement retained the bonds and paid Mr. Odell about $75,000. The original claim of Odell was about $180,000. The bonds subsequently noted about 50 cents on the dollar. Mr. Hyde said Mr. Harriman suggested the settlement of the suit and that the committee of the Mercantile Trust advised it, and he recommended it.

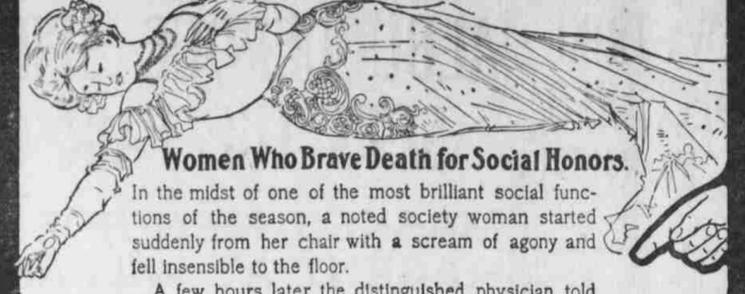

WANTED HIM EXILED. Charges of conspiracy to get him out of the country were made by Mr. Hyde against Henry C. Frick and E. H. Harriman in connection with the reported aspirations of Mr. Hyde to become ambassador to France.

He said Mr. Frick inspired the idea and the witness took it as a joke at first, but when Mr. Frick brought it up later Mr. Hyde was flattered, and both Mr. Harriman and Mr. Frick promised to use their influence to secure the appointment. Again Mr. Hyde waged bitter in his explanation of the extraordinary interest those gentlemen had in his absence from the country. He said he thought their idea was "that they would acquire themselves of their friendly stewardship with great profit to themselves," and added that the nature of their interest had since become very obvious. Mr. Hyde charged Mr. Frick with breach of faith in leading him to believe that the Frick committee was "friendly" to him, and was doing all he could to dissuade the witness from selling his stock, "at the same time," as Mr. Hyde said, "doing everything on that committee to make the greatest profit and destroy the value of that stock."

Schiff Pleads for the Jews. New York, Nov. 14.—Jacob H. Schiff at the annual meeting of the Educational Alliance last night said: "The turmoil in Russia must have some serious consequences in the United States. It will mean immense immigration and this country must keep its doors open to allow those who flee from that country to enter. There are many races of Jews five or six at least. The races come in this country and they will unite in making the greatest Jew that ever existed, the American Jew. We must do our duty to that race and in the end the world will get the benefit."

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.
In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my system and brought on extreme nervousness and hysteria. I could neither enjoy my meals nor sleep nights, became easily irritated and nervous and very despondent. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. After taking the third bottle, my general health began to improve. At the end of the fifth month I was well and could attend to my household and social duties and enjoy life.

Mrs. Curry, whose portrait appears on the right, is the leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra. The following letter is from Miss Goode, President of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unseasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since.

TOOK NO ACTION ON FOOTBALL

STATE UNIVERSITY PRESIDENTS ADMONISHED WITHOUT CHANGING THE RULES.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The convention of the Association of Presidents of State Universities adjourned today without taking action on football. The convention endorsed the national university project, whose courses are designed for students and graduate students only, and appointed a committee consisting of Presidents Baker, Binkley and Thompson to confer with members of the committee of four hundred named by Mr. Hoyt of Colorado, the originator of the project.

The association also discussed questions suggested by the experiences of American students who are taking the Ph.D. degree in England. President Gray of the University of Oregon, opened the talk on the subject. The resolution was expressed by some that the whole thing did not offer the best training for American students, and that as the project was in the early stages of its history, judgment should not be finally passed upon it at this time. It was contended that American students generally are much further advanced in their studies than an

Vesuvius Again Working

Naples, Nov. 14.—After a fortnight of comparatively insignificant activity, Vesuvius is again throwing off a more abundant stream of lava through a crevasse in the northwesterly side of the crater. There are no explosions but quantities of sand are also thrown up, which the scoria distributes over Torre, Portici, and Terzigno. Owing to the absence of explosions, the lava beds may be approached without danger.
