

PHOENIX HARDEST HIT BY TORRENTS OF RAGING SALT

Maricopa and Phoenix Road Up Against It.

ALL RAILWAY AND MAIL SERVICE BADLY CRIPPLED

As usual Phoenix has been hard hit by the floods and railway and mail service was badly crippled all the week.

All other flood news now takes a back seat and the Maricopa & Phoenix railroad bridge over the Gila river again steps into the limelight.

The river, with its usual overflow took it and yesterday morning it was learned that four hundred feet of the long structure had been swept away and fears are entertained that the breach will be further widened before this morning.

Men working in the shops and those making up the crumpled idea of the terrible accident until the crane had passed over Swallow's body when, on looking up, they saw the dismembered portions hanging from the structure.

GOLDEN STATE LIMITED AHEAD OF ITS SCHEDULE

The Rock Island's Golden State Limited arrived in Kansas City yesterday morning three minutes ahead of its schedule as the Kansas City Journal.

This is surprising from the fact that two hours have been clipped from the time formerly allowed this train between Chicago and Kansas City and there was some question as to whether such a reduction was feasible.

L. M. Allen, general passenger agent of the Rock Island, and George J. Carlton, general passenger agent of the Chicago & Alton, came to Kansas City as passengers on the train yesterday.

In its trip east the Golden State Limited, making connection at Chicago with the Twentieth Century on the Lake Shore, gives the fastest trip to New York.

WORK BEGUN ON COSTLY NEW LOS ANGELES DEPOT

Actual construction of the magnificent $750,000 union passenger depot to be built on the San Fernando street site will be begun within six months, according to statements made yesterday by a prominent railway official.

Changes of importance are to be made in the trackage of the Southern Pacific at the end of Buena Vista street, looking to the provision of entrance facilities for other roads to its lines leading to the depot site.

A deal is in progress, whereby the Southern Pacific will deed to the city of Los Angeles a strip of land fifteen feet wide, and extending all along its property along the east side of Buena Vista street, as a part of the scheme for the widening of this thoroughfare; the city to give in return to the railway company a portion of land at the Buena Vista street and river corner at 23rd Park, so that the railway may lessen the curve into the yard at that point.

It is at this point that the Santa Fe main line comes in across a bridge over the Los Angeles river, and runs within a few feet of the Southern Pacific's main line, so that access to the union depot grounds will be a matter of ease for the Santa Fe, if it decides to enter the new building.

The Key That Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund fellows, but thin spare men who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels.

BIG TRAVELING CRANE IN SANTA FE SHOPS CRUSHES A WORKMAN TO PULP

William Swallow, 55 years old, was killed this morning while at work in the Albuquerque, Toluca & Santa Fe shops. His death was a most horrible one, his body being literally torn apart by the wheels of the traveling crane in the locomotive shops, says the Toluca Star.

Swallow was employed as a carpenter and spent his time in doing odds and ends of work in his line around the shops. He was sent this morning about 7:30 o'clock to fix a window high up on one of the walls of the locomotive shop. Running the entire length of this shop is an overhead structure on which is moved a huge sixty-ton traveling crane. In order to get at the window he was going to work on Swallow had to stand on this structure.

It is not generally known by the men in the shop that Swallow was up on the structure, and the traveling crane was started from one end of the shop to the other. Although it is an enormous piece of machinery, it moves along with little noise, and such as it makes is usually drowned out by the incessant hammering and other noises made by the men at work.

BIT OFF THE NOSE OF A KATY CONDUCTOR

W. R. Winters, formerly a brakeman on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, wanted at Hillsboro, Tex., on the charge of biting off the nose of Conductor McGee of that road, was placed in the county jail here this morning by Sheriff Will J. Satterfield, of Hillsboro, says the El Paso Herald.

Winters was apprehended at Tombstone, Ariz., and Sheriff Satterfield brought him to El Paso this morning on route to Hillsboro where he is to be tried on the charge of maiming. He will leave with the prisoner for that place this evening over the Southern Pacific.

Sheriff Satterfield says that Winters was breaking on a freight train of which McGee was the conductor. About a year ago, after the men had made their run to Hillsboro, the end of a division, they became involved in a quarrel over some trivial matter. They finally clinched and before they could be separated Winters bit off McGee's nose.

The Best of Kansas City beef and mutton at End Kleinsworth's, 112 North Third street.

Winters was arrested, but was soon after released on bond. The sheriff says that he jumped the bond and nothing was heard of him for several months, when he was located in Georgia, but before his arrest could be effected he disappeared from Georgia. A few weeks ago he was heard of in Arizona and about a week ago he was captured at Tombstone.

Winters waived requisition papers and is willing to go back and stand trial.
