

PULLMAN PORTER TO BE PROSECUTED FOR EXTORTION

Selvy Says Passengers Must Be Protected.

WAS ACCUSED BY WOMAN OF ROBBING HER OF $5

Albert Hall, a Pullman porter, is now under arrest at Kingman, Arizona, on the charge of extorting money from a young woman whom he found in a compromising position in his car. Officer Cade Selvy of the secret service on the coast lines, declares that the company will sift the matter to the bottom for the protection of its passengers.

Hall was first arrested at San Bernardino on complaint of the woman, a Mrs. Lucille Willets, who charged him with robbery, saying that the negro had snatched a $5 bill from her. She later confessed that the negro threatened to expose her if she did not pay up and that she had accordingly given him the five dollars on his promise to keep still. As the alleged offense was committed in Arizona, the man was released by the California Justice of the peace and rearrested in Arizona.

HUNDREDS WORKING BETWEEN DAWSON AND RATON W. F. Crooks, who is in the employ of the Utah Construction company as timekeeper, and also in charge of the commissary at one of their camps near Dawson, N. M., was in the city recently on business for the company, says the Trinidad Chronicle News.

The Utah company has six camps between Raton and Dawson where they employ several hundred men. Mr. Crooks is stationed in the sixth camp below Raton, where seventy-five men are employed at present and they are hiring all the men that come along.

Eighteen teams and as many men who have been working on the Colorado and Wyoming road above Jansen, expect to leave for camp six today, and it is expected that four teams will go from Mullberry's barn besides several other parties contemplating leaving for some of these camps to work during the winter.

The grading is being done on the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific railroad, a new line being constructed south and west of Raton. The camp where Mr. Crooks is stationed is near Van Brimmer river, from where the line runs down through the Cimarron canyon. The line runs seven miles from Dawson City, but passes through the town of Cimarron.

Naming New Peavine Train. F. A. Jones, general freight and passenger agent of the S. F. & P. roads, spent yesterday in Phoenix, says the Republican. He came to arrange for the removal of the offices of the road from their present site on West Washington street to the new location at the corner of Colter and Adams in the Gooding block. The move will not be made, however, for several days until the detectors have finished their work on the new rooms. Regarding the contest that is now on for the finding of a name for the new train the Santa Fe is to put, shortly, Mr. Jones says, nearly 1,500 answers have been received so far, and he anticipates that with Sunday's mail and yesterday's mail which had not been opened at the time he left Prescott, the number would reach fully 2,000. The contest will close today at which time a party of uninterested men will go over the names and make a choice. The suggestions as they are received are written, omitting the name of the suggestor, and in this way the committee will not know whose suggestion it is choosing.

Has Troubles in Bunches. (El Paso Herald.) Mrs. George Reed, formerly of this city, died in a local lodging house Sunday morning, from heart failure, it is said, by exposure at a little station in New Mexico a week ago.

George Reed, her husband, who was with her at the time of her death, is a hotel keeper. About five years ago he was employed by John Brunner in this city. Of late he has been keeping the Commercial house, on Adams street, Chicago.

Two weeks ago the hotel was burned out, and Mr. and Mrs. Reed left for the southwest to seek a new location. On their way to El Paso, according to Mr. Reed, they stopped at Epom, N. M. Mr. Reed says that he was refused room in the station, being driven out by the agent who threatened him with a revolver.

Mr. Reed says that he and his wife spent the night in a wretched shack, and that Mrs. Reed contracted a cold which terminated in her death.

Mrs. Reed was born in Boston 55 years ago, and was married to Mr. Reed nearly 40 years ago. They lived the greater part of their life in San Francisco. The funeral will be held Tuesday morning.
