FOR DELEGATE TO CONGRESS: HON. MARTIN MAGNINIS.

There is no doubt that Forsythe will be a great place when the Miles City Press constructs the branch road from there to Benton.

We have received the first number of Glendive's new paper, the Yellowstone Press. It is a spicy local sheet, and we wish its proprietors every success.

The electors of this county should vote for good men irrespective of party. What have parties to do with the management of county and territorial affairs?

W. W. Garland, the present incumbent in the office of county treasurer, has made a good record while occupying the office and we believe he is in every way entitled to the suffrage of the citizens at the coming election.

Phil Brady is the favorite candidate for sheriff, and we believe that if elected he will be the right man in the right place.

L. S. Taylor seems to be the favorite candidate for county clerk. He is the nominee of both the Republican and Democratic conventions, and though he is opposed by two independent candidates his election is evidently assured.

We are having a building boom now which bids fair to exceed any that we have yet had. The store and residence buildings which have lately been constructed for are larger and of a more substantial character than the majority of those which have already been built.

Next week we shall give our readers a full list of the building operations in progress in our town. We intended to complete a list this week, but were surprised by the magnitude of the task.

The action of the Republican convention in nominating Sidney Erwin and F. H. Foster for representatives would meet with our entire approval were it not that we have every reason to believe that Mr. Foster will not accept the nomination.

Next week we shall give our readers a full list of the building operations in progress in our town. We intended to complete a list this week, but were surprised by the magnitude of the task.

FOR DELEGATE. This week we present for the consideration of our readers the name of Martin Magninis for Delegate to Congress.

The services which Mr. Magninis has rendered to Montana are so well known that it would seem superfluous to enumerate them. It should be sufficient to say that at this critical juncture in the affairs of the Territory it would be wise to have a man of known experience and integrity to represent our interests, and as Mr. Magninis is so well known before voting for his opponent, against whom we do not wish to say anything personally derogatory.

The greatest fault the enemies of Mr. Magninis have to find with him is that he has represented this Territory for so many years that they think another should have an opportunity to fill his place, so that a bad precedent should not be established. Viewing this assertion hastily one might attach some importance to it, but when the fact is considered that a Territorial Delegate has no political status in Congress, it dwindles into insignificance.

It has been urged in Mr. Botkin's favor that he is a supporter of the present administration, and that consequently his influence would have more weight. Although this argument is not one to which we would attach any consequence, it would be well for the electors in this connection to consider the present political situation throughout the whole country and judge for themselves whether it is altogether likely that the present administration will continue in power. The question of the admission of Montana to the privileges of statehood is one that should receive consideration at the hands of the electors, and they are surely competent to determine whether there is any strength in this argument advanced by Mr. Botkin's supporters or not.

Mr. Botkin's supporters do not. Taking the present general political situation into account it is more than probable that the electors would decide in favor of a Democrat. However, we do not view the matter from a partisan standpoint. We only wish to see the best men in the right places, be they Republicans or Democrats, and we intend to support to the best of our ability those whom we consider the most suitable for office irrespective of party or party influence.

LOCAL NEWS. One story of Berriek & Nickey's hotel building is about completed.

Meyer's store buildings in block 112 are rapidly approaching completion.

The performances at the variety theatre continue to attract large audiences.

C. W. Horr has declined to accept the Republican nomination as county commissioner.

It is expected that the Hon. Martin Magninis will speak here on Tuesday evening. Notice will be given if he will do so.

Since last Saturday night a lay-over passenger train has been left here, owing to the fact that the engine and cars might be cleaned.

C. W. Horr is having another brick building erected adjacent to the one already built in block 112. The foundation is already nearly completed.

We understand that there are over five hundred car loads of freight accumulated at Bismarck waiting the opening of the bridge across the Missouri on Saturday the 21st.

We would call attention to the advertisement of the express company in another column. Parties wishing to procure chairs, a roulette table, etc., can purchase them cheap.

J. M. Edgar, well known in Northwestern railroad circles, has been appointed agent of the N. P. R. at this point, succeeding our friend Mr. Canfield, who leaves here this week for the end of track.

Rice, Bradley & Smith have now got their business in full operation, having received a large stock of produce of all kinds. This firm is one of many in our midst whose enterprise and energy will help to build up a large city.

The work upon Berriek & Nickey's hotel building, which is being erected on two stories high, is proceeding rapidly and will be completed before long.

The enterprise of these gentlemen is most commendable, and Billings is fortunate in possessing so good citizens.

The work upon Ming's building in block 112 has been commenced to-day by Messrs. Shaw & Duffield. The building which is now commenced is only intended as a temporary structure, as Mr. Ming will erect a large brick store in its stead next spring.

Park City has had a shooting affair. On Sunday evening Jas. Long fired his revolver at James Stevens, who proceeded to get his Winchester and fired seventeen shots at Long, two of which took effect in Long's horse. Plenty of powder wasted and no one killed.

The Republican meeting which was held in Fisher's new building on Saturday evening was fairly attended. Mr. Burleigh made a speech which showed that the first impression which he made upon the people of this community was a correct one. His speech was well received, and his appearance, which is most gentlemanly, certainly made a good impression upon those who saw him. He raised his opponent over the coals with greater mildness than Mr. Sanders did, and made some very good points in his own favor, the principal one of which was that "Wilder's Landing was sold for Magninis."

Another large excursion party in charge of Mr. George B. Hall, of Minneapolis, arrived here from the East yesterday morning. The commercial department being under the charge of George Magee, the well known caterer of St. Paul. The party remained in town for several hours and those whom we met expressed their surprise at the remarkably rapid growth and prosperity of our town. Among the party were the following gentlemen, viz: C. E. Solberg, La. Cross, Wm. B. C. Bowman, Williamsport, Penn.; Chas. M. Pary, Minneapolis; Webb Fary, Richmond, Louisiana; A. J. Quinn, and C. Woodworth, Boston; C. A. Reagle and James Stansfield, Minneapolis; John Dumont, New Brunswick, N. J.; H. S. Hartshorn, New York; N. J. Fish, La. Clair, Wis.; Theodore L. Devine, publisher of Scribner's, New York; C. A. Stevens, publisher Youths Companion, Boston; E. Havestrach, Philadelphia; and twenty others, whose names we did not ascertain.

Republican Nominations. At the meeting of the Republican convention which was held in Miles City yesterday the following nominations were made, viz:—

Committee—Walter A. Burleigh, Jr., of Miles City.

Representatives—Sidney Erwin, of Canyon Creek, and F. H. Foster, of Billings.

Commissioner—John Tinkler, of Billings.

John Anderson was proposed for representative, and the names of Messrs. Andrews and Harwood were suggested, but were dropped on account of their ineligibility.

KILLED BY THE CARS. On Tuesday evening section foreman Gorham, while walking between the main line and side track, discovered the body of a man lying across one of the rails of the main line. The corner was informed and a jury sworn, after which the man's name was ascertained to be Michael Cook. The inquest was held yesterday morning, and the evidence given went to show that the man had committed suicide—a bottle of strychnine was found in his pocket. The jury, therefore, rendered a verdict to effect that the deceased came to his death by being run over by the eastern bound freight train at about 7:30 o'clock on the evening of October 17th, 1882, and that he had placed his head upon the rails of the main line. The man's neck was not cut, so that it was evident that he had placed his head under the wheels of some of the rear cars. The deceased was a railway section man from Minnesota, and he leaves a wife and children to mourn his sad end.

PERSONAL. J. H. Ming, of Helena, was in town this week.

W. P. Yochem leaves for St. Paul this week to spend the winter.

J. W. Power, of Benton, has been in town for over a week.

W. W. Garland, Democratic nominee for county treasurer, has been in town for several days.

F. M. French went out hunting Friday. He has evidently lost his buffalo as he has not yet returned.

Wm. Wood, the Republican nominee for county assessor is in town, probably looking after the Billings voters.

P. W. McAdow left for Bozeman on Monday. Mr. McAdow intends to attend the meeting of the U. S. District Court.

Mr. Chas. Hatney, inspector of machinery for the Northern Pacific at St. Paul, was in town this week and paid our office a visit.

The Rev. Wm. Horsfall, the Episcopal clergyman at Miles City, will, it is expected, hold services in Billings the first Sunday in November.

Walter Matheson returned from the upper country yesterday. Mr. Matheson is looking well and is enthusiastic over his Hot Springs purchase.

M. G. Mains left here for his home in the East on Tuesday morning. Mr. Mains expects to return in the course of a few months with his family.

Messrs Burdock and Dentsch, of the N. P. R. engineer corps, leave here tomorrow to assist at the opening of the Bismarck bridge on Saturday.

Mr. Norton, who has been agent of the express company here and has made many friends during his sojourn among us leaves for Merrill this week.

Mr. Camp, the principals of the firm of Camp Bros., returned from the East last evening. Mr. Camp has purchased a large stock in the East which he expects in a few days.

Toulonville, Arizona, wants "lower rents, servant girls, a wooden mill, and nothing more in office." Only this and nothing more.

James A. Thomas, one of the bondsmen of Jefferson Davis, when he was released from Fortress Monroe, died in Richmond on Saturday. His companions on the bond were Horace Greeley and Augustus Schell.

In reply to James Elliot's offer to fight any man in the world for from $1,500 to $2,500 a side, and the heavy weight championship, George Rooke writes that he will fight Elliot for $1,000 a side and the championship of America.

The hospital at Fort A. Lincoln, on the hill, is being taken down under the supervision of Mr. Foster, of Detroit, Michigan, and moved to the cavalry barracks. The other buildings will be either sold or removed also when an appropriation for the purpose can be secured. (Bismarck Tribune)

Circular No. 28, just issued by the passenger department of the Northern Pacific, advise ticket agents that they may sell tickets to Merrill, M. T., the second crossing of the Yellowstone. Passengers will be carried on construction trains from Billings in the morning. The Northern Pacific is extending towards the setting sun at a rapid rate. (Bismarck Tribune)

The skeleton of a Pliocene reptile thirty-five feet long has been found in bad lands. The reptile is supposed to have stood twenty-five feet high. The weight of the skull is 900 pounds and that of the whole skeleton 1,500 pounds. The animal is supposed by many competent naturalists to be the progenitor of both mammals and birds. The bones have been placed in the Academy of Natural Science in Philadelphia. (Bridgeport Times)

There arrived in Minneapolis about a week since, Rev. Moses, a Baptist clergyman of Boston, who traveled the entire distance in a carriage drawn by an old gray mare. He was on the road about four months, stopping at all the principal cities, and visiting all the chief colleges on route. He visited the watering places, called at Washington and Baltimore, took in Hillsdale College, and enjoyed himself immensely. The reverend gentleman is wealthy, and highly educated. He will pass the winter in Minnesota, and proceed on to the Pacific slope in the spring. (Minneapolis Evening Journal)
