GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

From Friday's Daily: E. S. Tutt and wife arrived here by this morning's train from the east.

The Yellowstone Roundup will assemble at Swamp Creek on Sept. 9th, and begin operations on the 10th.

H. J. Armstrong, Crow Indian Agent, advertises for proposals to break 350 acres at the new agency on the Little Horn.

Mr. John Hogwood, of Canyon, has returned from a lengthened trip to the Black Hills. He says that more people are leaving Deadwood than are coming to it.

Mr. P. M. Gallagher, of the F. S. Survey, arrived in town yesterday to make some purchases for his party, and left for the scene of his labors this morning.

Of all the cheap books we ever saw advertised, the cheapest are those of John B. Allen, publisher, of New York. His catalogue embraces only good literature, and the prices range from two cents upwards.

This morning little Fred Eison, of Billings, encountered a rattlesnake, and killed it, after experimenting to find out the reptile's mode of striking. He is now looking for more, with the intention of exterminating the rattlers.

John Tinkler has received from Chas. Zimmer, who is prospecting for him in Clarke's Fork, some excellent specimens of rock bearing gold and silver, one of them free gold. Mr. Tinkler is having two leads developed, and hopes before long to have something to show his friends.

At Billings, on the 15th inst., Mr. Ed. E. Covey and Miss Mary Westbrook were united in marriage. The groom is one of the representative business men of the Magic City, and his bride a lovely and accomplished lady, admired and respected by all for her many virtues of mind and heart. The Courier extends cordial congratulations and best wishes.—Courier.

F. B. Kennard has just added to his herd a very fine thoroughbred Clydesdale stallion, imported from Illinois at a cost of $1,000. The animal is a very handsome dark brown, weighs 1600, and stands from 17 1/2 to 18 hands high. Mr. Kennard has two other excellent stallions in his herd, and the three are as fine specimens of horses as can be seen in Eastern Montana. His herd now numbers three hundred, and is running out in the bluffs behind Canyon. It contains 235 mares and numbers a lot of excellent broods. Mr. Kennard, with his usual enterprise, proposes to have a number of horses from his herd on view, on the day the Villard excursionists visit Billings.

The point at which the two divisions of the Northern Pacific meet is at Gold Creek, where the first gold discovery in Montana was made. The discovery was made in 1861 by "Gold Tom" and Granville Stuart. It was not heralded abroad until the next year, when singularly enough, Gold Creek was the accidental meeting point of an eastern exploring party (under the leadership of S. T. Hanser) and a similar party from the Pacific coast, of which Ed. McAdow was leader. Both parties met at Stuart's cabin on Gold Creek, learned of the gold discoveries, and it is doubtless to that accidental meeting Montana is indebted for one at least of her most enterprising citizens.—Independent.

A fire broke out in the house occupied by Mrs. Simpson, in block 102, this morning about 10 o'clock. It gained such headway that it burnt all the furniture and the house, and spread rapidly to the building adjoining, occupied by Mr. Anderson, railroad watchman, and Mr. White, baggage master. The occupants of this house managed to save all their furniture, though they had some difficulty in removing Mrs. Anderson, who had lately been confined, without exciting her injuriously. They succeeded, however, and she is now doing well in Mr. Grant's house, where she is well provided for. There being no wind at the time, the fire burnt itself out in the course of little more than an hour. A few gentlemen of the many who were present started a subscription for Mrs. Simpson, who lost all she had, house and furniture. In less than an hour $130 were collected, thanks to the energy of Mr. A. L. Babcock, Judge Matheson and others.

From Saturday's Daily: We are glad to see the Magnolia Hotel re-opened under the efficient management of Mr. Hertzog. Billings people who wish to attend the Territorial fair at Helena can purchase return tickets for $19.75.

Mr. E. C. Culver, the Isaac Walton of Stillwater, to whom we owe our thanks for several strings of trout, arrived in town last evening.

Judge Rugg came down from Park City last evening, and reports everything flourishing in that vicinity. He has his ranch on the Yellowstone under crops which promise an abundant yield.

P. T. Kavanagh, the great auctioneer of St. Paul, having returned from his Montana trip, says Montana is unapproachable as a mineral country, and Helena and Billings will be the great cities of the territory.

The enormous potatoes for sale by Billings merchants astonish all newcomers. They are the product of Clarke's Fork bottom, which is believed by farmers about here to be the most fertile body of land in America.

The merchants of Billings report a very gratifying increase in wholesale orders, principally for the north and northwest. The City Drug store is today shipping large consignments to Flat Willow Creek, and other points in the Judith and Musselshell countries.

People who have been taught by interested parties to believe that the Clarke's Fork bottom is a desert, should see the splendid growth of grass that covers the valley. Hundreds of tons of hay have been cut this season on the unoccupied lands on the bench west of Billings.

Mr. Lesley Bates has added to his list of first-class companies the Insurance Company of North America, which has assets amounting to $8,881,000. Mr. Bates is writing insurance in none but the most substantial companies and consequently is taking a very satisfactory number of risks.

Sheriff James Ferguson, of Yellowstone County, came down from Cooke City yesterday, bringing with him two men charged with stealing a number of horses from about Park City last winter. The men given by the prisoners were John Miller, otherwise known as Black Jack, and Scotty Crawford. They were followed and arrested near Cooke City, and nine horses of various brands were taken with them. It is believed that there is abundant evidence procurable to convict them of the crime charged. They have long been suspected of gaining their living entirely by horse stealing, though they have managed to cover their trail well enough to escape arrest until the present. Billy Sanders, who is believed to be the leader of the gang, was arrested with them, but as there was no evidence to warrant his detention he was discharged. The officers at Cooke City did not think he was a safe man to have around, and as he threatened to take a man's life a few days before, had him re-arrested, and after examination ordered to give bonds in the sum of $5,000 to keep the peace or go to jail. He is now on his way to the Bozeman bastle, where he will be apt to languish during the next year. Miller and Crawford will have their trial in Yellowstone county. They are not very prepossessing in appearance, but by no means look like desperate characters.—Enterprise.

From Monday's Daily: Col. Pike, with his wife and daughter, arrived in town last evening, accompanied by his son-in-law, Mr. Martin, of Minneapolis.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement calling for bids for the construction of a two-story brick building in block 100.

Mrs. J. R. Marks returned from her visit to the Park last evening. Her many friends in town will be glad to see her once more in their midst.

We are informed, by a correspondent from Dornix, that the body of James McDonald, who was drowned in the Boulder, during the spring drive, was found on Saturday. McDonald was foreman for T. C. Burns, of that place.

The Supreme Court recently decided that a miner had no right to run a tunnel through a non-mineral townsite, in order to reach a mining claim. This sets at rest a question which has long been a moot point among mining lawyers.

H. Clark & Co., of Billings, delivered six loads of general merchandise to retail customers, on Cottonwood Creek, Friday last. This firm is doing a large and constantly increasing business in the Judith country, and deservedly so.—Mineral Argus.

The Sunday school, in connection with the Episcopal congregation, was held for the first time yesterday. A fair number of pupils attended, and from the interest manifested, there is every reason to believe the school will prove a success.

By the separation of the Northern Pacific into two divisions, making Helena the dividing line, the Eastern division will comprise 1,649 miles and the Western division 1,255 miles. The latter includes the lines of the Oregon Railway & Navigation company and the Oregon & California railroad.

An information has been laid by Peter Sonevad against his late partner, A. Thisted, charging him with malicious mischief in kicking in the door of Sonevad's beer hall and turning the tap of a beer keg, and causing the contents to be wasted. The case will be tried by Judge Maginnis and a jury on Wednesday.

Messrs. VanSinden and VanCleave are leaving with their friends and patrons some of the really fine advertising with which the companies they represent have so lavishly supplied them. Their latest agencies are for the Underwriters Agency of New York, the Northern Assurance Co. of Aberdeen, and the Orient of Hartford, all excellent companies.

We were favored with a visit to-day from Mr. W. L. Irish, of Chicago, who is looking over this part of the country with the view of investing. Mr. Irish is interested in several large lumber companies, and would be a most desirable citizen for Montana. He leaves to-morrow for Lavinia, to visit Messrs. Turner and Grimm, formerly of Chicago, who are ranching in that vicinity.

Messrs. Hendry and Wright have purchased the interest of W. D. Knight in the National Park Pioneer. We are pleased to learn of the well deserved prosperity of this able and enterprising firm, and venture to say that if they keep the Pioneer up to the excellent standard of the Enterprise, the patrons of the former will have no cause to regret the change of proprietorship.

Frank Stone returned to Livingston, yesterday, after an absence of a few weeks, during which time he has visited St. Paul and other Minnesota cities. He says that while in the east he and C. M. Berriek, of Billings, disposed of an interest in their rich Clark's Fork mine, and that the purchasers will undoubtedly proceed to make preparations for its development.—Enterprise.

The Rifle club held their usual weekly practice on Saturday afternoon. The first shooting at 200 yards was made and resulted in some very good scores. The following shows the number of points made, out of 7 shots, the possible being 35. Dr. W. A. Allen 31, J. Breunhard 31, J. D. Matheson 29, W. B. Webb 28, Walter Matheson, Thomas Hanlon, and Sam. Wilde, 27 each. Lesley Bates, superintendent, 25.

Sam Panton, who has been in this office for the past few months, left this morning for Portland, Oregon. He will visit the coal towns, and thinks he will probably settle in the neighborhood of Gray's Harbor. Should he not find that portion of the country to his liking, there are many here who would be pleased to have him return and become a citizen of Billings. He is a gentleman of many attainments, and we wish him a good measure of that success his excellent ability and character entitle him to.

Judge Harwood has received a letter from Chief Justice Wade, in response to a request of the bar of this county, that he should preside at the approaching session of the district court, to be held here on the 8th October next. The Chief Justice says he will hold the court, unless a judge should in the meantime be appointed to fill the present vacancy in the first judicial district. We trust that this, the first district court to be held in Yellowstone county, will be presided over by so learned a judge as the Chief Justice, whose legal acquirements and judicial learning would reflect credit on any court in the land.

Senators Dawes, Logan and Cameron held a council at Fort Gates, D. T., with the confederated band of Sioux on Friday, to inquire into the terms of the treaty signed by the Sioux last year. By the treaty 18,000 square miles were agreed to be ceded in consideration of 25,000 cows and 1,000 bulls. The Sioux are inclined to repudiate the treaty, claiming that they did not fully understand its terms when signing it. They insist upon being supplied with rations under any circumstances. In the course of the negotiations, Sitting Bull gave the commissioners some back talk, but General Logan shut down on the roddatable redskin, and explained that hard labor and prison fare were waiting for him if he repeated his remarks. It is probable that the Commission will recommend the ratification of the treaty. The result will be to open an immense area of excellent land for settlement.

Judge McGinnis has shown us a letter from Dr. T. A. Davis, dated Portland, Ore., of Aug. 20th. He does not appear to be enthused over that portion of the coast which he has visited. He says "this is not a farming country; with the exception of a few spots which are fit for agriculture, but there is plenty of timber and coal. The crops, including wheat, are mostly a failure here this year. Fences have to be erected along the railroad to keep the track clear of sand drifts." Judging from what could be seen from the car window, he concluded there was little good land west of Helena, with the exception of that Bitter Root valley. He thinks the parties who come there looking for farms will be much disappointed. The Yellowstone country, in his opinion, is a far better country for the laboring man. There are thousands of people on the coast looking for work, and many of them unable to find it. He has found the climate, so far, delightful. The Dr. says he will, in all probability, return to Billings in the spring.

From Tuesday's Daily: Asa Fisher, of Bismarck, has been spending the day in town. Mr. Fisher is a well-known here as the late proprietor of the business which is now owned by our genial friend L. H. Fenske.

We understand Mr. Chas. Demaris, of Canyon, intends bringing in some of his fine stock on the 6th prox., to show the Villard excursionists the style of cattle and horses he keeps on his ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Matheson entertained a number of their friends at their residence last evening. The occasion was one of much enjoyment for those who were fortunate enough to be present.

The school trustees at their meeting yesterday afternoon awarded the contract for the building of the school house, subject to the terms of the proposals, to Nelson, Crowe & Gagnon, and their bid being the lowest viz.: $10,029.

Omair Hoskins and Thomas McGrier have gone up Pryor Creek on a business trip. Before leaving they secured the services of a skilled French cook, who will serve up their waffles and other luxuries in the latest style of Parisian art.

John Tinkler recently purchased from F. B. Kennard two magnificent mares and is having them broken for a carriage team. When trained, they will be the finest team in this part of the country. They both have Goldstout blood in them.

B. F. Stuart went out to the Bull mountains yesterday to look after his coal claims there. We should like to whisper in the coal-stained ear of the claim jumpers in that vicinity, that they will do well to give this gentleman's claims a wide berth, as he is one of the best rifle shots in Eastern Montana.

Wilder Nutting, formerly working at Billings and Park City, Montana, has been appointed resident pastor in Bitter Root Valley for the M. E. Church, and will visit the valley and people next week in company with Mr. Shannon, who is parading the dignity of presiding elder upon his unaccustomed shoulders.—Missoulian.

That portion of the second bench lying between John Tinkler's ranch and this town presents a very desolate appearance since the prairie fire, which swept over it a few days ago. A number of dwellings seem to have had a narrow escape, the grass being burned on every side of them. One good result of the fire will be excellent grass next year over the burnt district.

It was currently reported in town today that the venue in the case of Territory against Geo. A. McArthur had been changed back from Billings to Miles City. We are not aware what authority there is for the statement. On enquiring at the office of John Tinkler, deputy clerk of the district court, we learned that he knew nothing of any order changing the venue to Miles City, nor had any papers been filed in his office.

Postmaster Whitney has received the new postal notes for distribution. They are payable at the post office designated on them, to bearer, and cost three cents each. They can be obtained payable for any amount from one to four dollars and ninety-nine cents and will be a cheap and convenient medium for sending odd sums by mail. The figures designating the amount for which they are made payable are cut out with a punch, so that it will be almost impossible for forgers to change the figures. No letter of advice is sent by the postmaster or issuing them as in the case of postal money orders. They would prove a greater convenience were they payable at any post office, instead of a particular office named in the order.

From Wednesday's Daily: General Blake, of the Crow Indian survey, arrived in town by last night's train.

The Willard Cattle Co. expect to receive a thousand head of cattle this evening. This shipment, when received, will make a total of four thousand received by the company this season.

In the case of Black Jack Miller charged with horse stealing, E. M. Harwood, his counsel, waded examination for the defendant and the judge sent Miller up for trial, fixing bail at $1,000.

The work of fitting and painting the wood work for H. H. Bole & Co.'s new store in Belknap's building is rapidly approaching completion, and the firm expect to have their stock moved in and be ready for business on Monday next.

W. H. Gridley and F. L. Maxwell, of the Kurtz-Larson Cattle Co., arrived in town last evening from the range, having the general appearance of Bold, Bad men. Their many friends in town will, however be glad to see them.

Dr. Parker missed the train at Stillwater last evening and is putting in the day looking trout. A large order for trout, amounting to several hundred pounds, was wired the Doctor to-day from a number of gentlemen in town.

We are indebted to the Hon. I. D. McCutcheon for a copy of the Laws, Resolutions and Memorials passed at the recent session of the Legislative Assembly. It consists of 221 pages, 118 of which contain the general laws passed, the balance covering the special laws and memorials. The volume is neatly printed, and reflects credit on the public printer.

Thomas Ryder was brought before Judge McGinnis this forenoon, charged with disturbing the peace. It appeared he had surrounded more Hostetter's Bitters and shark's oil than he could properly sail under, and while in this condition, endeavored to make a fight in the City Beer Hall, last evening. He was penitent this morning, and pleaded guilty, and was fined five dollars and costs.

The committee who have charge of the decorations for the occasion of the visit of the Villard party, which will arrive here on September 6th, are anxious to obtain good specimens of the agricultural and mineral products of this vicinity for the purpose of displaying the same to advantage on that day. We would call the attention of our readers to this fact, and would advise all those who have good specimens of these products to bring them into town and leave them with either Messrs. Childs, Webb or Stoneman. Mr. Kennard is going to have a number of the horses belonging to his band on the ground, an example which might be followed by other stockmen in the valley.

John Shoemaker was arrested last night, charged with carrying a concealed weapon. He was brought before Judge McGinnis, this afternoon, and pleaded the defendant made a statement showing that he was a foreigner, was ignorant of the laws, and had purchased the weapon in question, a revolver, from a merchant in town, who assured him he had a perfect right to carry it. Judge Goss addressed the Court urging that the Court should deal leniently with the defendant, under such mitigating circumstances. The Court tempered justice with mercy, remitted the fine and allowed the defendant to go free on payment of costs, warning him against a repetition of the offence.

The case of the Territory against Adolph Thisted for malicious mischief, in kicking down the door of Peter Sonevad's Beer Hall and turning a beer tap and wasting the beer, occupied the Probate Court the greater part of today. Mr. Sonevad, his bartender, Mr. Nelson and H. Bloom testified on behalf of the territory. Charles Cunningham and Mr. Thisted gave evidence on the part of the latter, the principal defence being that Mr. Thisted did the act complained of, if at all, while under the influence of liquor, and that he was not animated by any malicious motive. The case went to the jury at one o'clock, H. N. Platt addressing them on behalf of the territory, and Judge Goss on behalf of the defendant. At the time of going to press, the jury were still out, trying to figure out which was the more serious affair—breaking the door down or wasting the beer.

From Thursday's Daily: Frank Coughlan, agent of the N. P. Refrigerator Car Co., is in town looking after the interests of his company.

B. F. Stuart returned from the Bull Mountains yesterday. We understand he received the marked attention of the scouts of the Northern Pacific Coal Company.

On Sunday next, the 2d inst., Bishop Brewer will conduct divine worship in the Myers building, in this town, at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m. A number will be confirmed and communion services will be held.

John H. Hanson lost a Northern Pacific check yesterday either in Billings or between Billings and the coal beds, northwest of town. As he is a poor man and cannot afford to lose the amount, it is to be hoped the finder will restore it to him.

Perry Bros. have been bringing into town, of late, some very fine watermelons raised in their large garden, near town. They have a great variety of choice edibles in their garden, the banana being about the only one, that is conspicuous by its absence.

Col. Pike and wife, Mr. Martin and wife, from Minneapolis, Mr. Hopper and wife and Dan Edwards were at Fridley and went over and viewed their mines in Emigrant gulch this week, and came back well pleased with the appearance of their property. They have a valuable placer mining property there, which, developed, will turn out plenty of the yellow dust.—Enterprise.

Somebody in the Northern Pacific railway offices must be kept busy in changing the names of stations. The Pioneer Press, of Tuesday, contains a list of new names coined by this inventive genius. Among them we notice that the name of Carlton, the first station west of Billings is for some deeply mysterious reason changed to Laurel. Dornix is changed to Big Timber.

A number of Crows, accompanied by their squaws, watched with deep interest the railway men hauling the derailed cars back on the track. One of the HERALD staff, who is a proficient Crow linguist, carried on an entertaining conversation with some squaws of various hues, and ascertained that they were going up to the agency, to be prepared to take part in the war dance at Gray Cliff on the 6th prox.

Yesterday evening a special freight, containing a large number of cattle for the Willard Cattle Co., ran off the track at the switch near the east end of the platform at the depot. The engineer, Mr. Daily, noticed that the switch was open and whistled for brakes, but it was apparently impossible to put the brakes down in time to avoid the accident. The locomotive and tender and one car with cattle ran off the track as did also the front trucks of the second car. In a very short time two locomotives were hitched to the rear of the train, and it was pulled back on the track and taken to the stock yards. The engineer acted with great coolness and did all in his power to avert the accident.

A. K. and B. F. Verkes purchased last week 400 acres of land seven miles from Bozeman. B. E. has taken his pitchfork in his hand and now with the granger stands. The purchase was made of Wm. Beck, one of the most successful farmers in the Gallatin valley.—Chronicle. These gentlemen have numerous friends in Billings who will learn with pleasure of their deserved prosperity.

J. E. Hendry, former veracious fellow-townsmen and county superintendent of public schools, fired by the big fish tales of the Missoulian, endeavors to outdo him as follows: "A gentleman from up river tells of a wonderful catch of big trout made at the mouth of Mill creek, on Tuesday, among which was one that weighed five bushels to within twelve pounds. This constitutes the champion fish story of the season."

The Billings coach arrived at about four o'clock this morning, having made the trip in exactly thirty-nine hours, a remarkably quick trip. The stage this morning distributed twenty-one passengers along the way, and Thomas Maroney, the driver, states that business is constantly picking up on the line. The superintendent, who should be able to ride if anyone, was unable to find a place in this morning's coach, and eleven passengers are booked for Monday morning. The Billings Line, as can be plainly seen from the facts cited, is a paying and popular one.—Record.

Eminent Chemists who have analyzed Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder use it now, and have used it for years in their own families in preference to any other, because they find it free from alum, ammonia or any harmful drug. That it is the most effective, the strongest, healthiest and most perfect fruit acid Baking Powder made.

Lost. Yesterday morning a Northern Pacific check for $20.45, payable to me. Any person finding please return to Herald office. Payment of the check has been stopped. A reward will be paid for its return. JOHN A. HANSON. Billings, Aug. 30, '83.

PARK CITY ITEMS

Station agent Emerson has been officially informed of the desire of the company that the depot be appropriately decorated on Sept. 6th, in honor of President Villard and his party, who will pass through here on that date. We hope our people will take hold of the matter with proper spirit.

Farmers about here are busy harvesting their grain. There are some of the finest fields of wheat, oats and barley grown in this vicinity, that it has ever been our lot to see. When it is remembered that the whole valley is capable of producing as well, the conclusion is legitimate, that all will in time and made to yield just such luxuriant and plentiful crops.
