Harry Kelsey, chief clerk in H. B. Segur's office, has been given a vacation, which he will spend with friends in the east.

Last night one of the really few frosts of the season occurred. Ice to a considerable thickness formed in a number of places.

The Honorable Paul McCormick has returned from a week's absence at the Yellowstone National park, where he has been on business.

E. G. Blair of Meyersburg, on Shields river, was in the city yesterday to receive a carload of thoroughbred rams he bought from A. C. Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lenere of Park City are mourning the loss of their infant child, whose death occurred yesterday. The funeral took place today.

Mrs. J. C. Gunn, one of the state officers of the Degree of Honor, the ladies' auxiliary of the Workmen, spent a few days in the city on matters pertaining to the order.

Good progress is making by the men and teams employed in excavating for the new court house. A large hole has been dug and before many more days shall have elapsed work on the foundation may begin.

Several trains of cattle will be forwarded from Custer today. Among the shippers are L. M. McAuley, 20 cars; the Ryan Bros. Cattle company, 32 cars and Burnett & Co., 20 cars.

Austin North was a passenger on Wednesday's eastbound North Coast Limited, with Chicago as his destination, at which place he expected to spend a couple of weeks on business.

At the election of the Yellowstone Building and Loan association, held a few evenings ago, J. H. Rinehart, Fred Mashaw and R. T. Hannah were elected trustees, each for the term of three years.

Sheriff Potter of Carbon county passed through the city this morning on his way to Red Lodge from the western part of the state. He took back with him, Howe and Nelson, charged with grand larceny.

Wednesday evening some one sent in a false alarm of fire from the west side and the department was given a run as far as Thirty-third street and Second avenue before it was ascertained that there was no fire.

What is considered to be one of the choicest lot of animals of that kind sold this season was disposed of by A. C. Logan last Wednesday, when he transferred to T. A. Snidow 1,000 fat ewes. The purchaser will ship them to market.

A delightful card party was given Tuesday evening by the members of the Eastern Star, at which a number of guests were present. Whist was the game played and Mrs. J. B. Elliot and Miss Lenora Pantone were the winners of favors.

After many and vexatious delays the doors and windows for the front of the main floor of the Northern have arrived from the east and will be installed at once. The heating apparatus has also been received and will soon be in place.

Harry B. Drum, the Lavina stockman, arrived in the city yesterday. He said that while there was not an over-abundance, still there was enough winter feed and he anticipated no trouble to stockmen on that account in his part of the county.

A transcript of a judgment rendered in the justice court of Park county against Frank Savarey has been received for filing by the clerk of the district court of this county. James C. Rowe is the plaintiff and recovered judgment for the sum of $162.37.

E. B. Ryan of the Ryan Bros. Cattle company, who arrived from Leavenworth a short time ago to assist the receiver in charge of the company's affairs to make the fall shipments, was in the city yesterday, arranging for a shipment of cattle to the Chicago market.

A couple of private cars belonging to J. J. Hill passed through the city Wednesday morning, en route east, over the Burlington. The great merger king and several members of his family were on board. They were returning from a visit to the west and were headed for St. Louis.

E. M. ("Dad") Gould, in the employ of the Billings Hardware company as warehouse man, broke the large bone of his left forearm last Tuesday. He was at work in the company's warehouse and because of the poor light failed to see a keg of nails that stood in his way and fell over it.

Last night Alex. F. Fairgreaves, state president of the Federation of Labor, delivered an address at Labor hall. He discussed economic and social questions from the laboring man's point of view and proved to be a very interesting speaker, even if all who heard him did not subscribe to his opinions and ideas.

The Reverend A. W. Bell, with Mrs. Bell and children, arrived in Billings from Lewistown on Wednesday night, and are the guests while in the city of Reverend and Mrs. Bowker. Mrs. Bell is eastward bound to visit relatives and friends, while Mr. Bell will stay in Glendive for some time to take charge of Episcopal church interests.

In anticipation of their game with the Miles City team, the members of the local football aggregation have been practicing faithfully daily for some time. The match will be played at Miles City November 7. The following Saturday Livingston will be here for a game, and it is believed that other games will be arranged with Bozeman, Helena and Butte.

Secretary Frith reports the receipt of quite a number of applications for membership in the recently formed Association of Pioneers of Eastern Montana. If the present intentions are carried out the society will hold a banquet and reunion sometime during the winter. At least many of the members are in favor of it and they hope to be able to secure a majority on their side.

A petition and protest has been filed with the clerk of the district court by the heirs of the late Jerome A. Daly, who died in this city May 18, last. Objection is made to the appointment of O. D. Hogue as administrator of the estate and the court is asked to appoint Catherine Daly, a daughter of the deceased, as administratrix. The value of the estate is given as $1,000.

Because she and her "friend" had a quarrel yesterday, Lena Curtis, one of the inmates of a maison de fete on the south side, attempted to leave the earth. As the agency of her intended flight she selected a disinfectant, chloride of mercury, but the dose she took was not quite large enough to be productive of prompt results and the effective aid of a physician prevented the wished for passing out.

"Tex" McCarthy, well known as a sheep herder and shearer, is in the city jail awaiting trial this evening on the charge of petty larceny. The complainant is John Dodd, employed by the Custer Sheep company, who charges McCarthy with the theft of a sheepskin overcoat, which he says the accused took from the camp of the company several days ago. McCarthy alleges that he believed the coat to be his, as it looked like one he formerly owned. The coat was recovered in a second-hand store on the south side, while the one "Tex" says he thought it was in the possession of the police awaiting identification by the men to whom McCarthy claims he gave or loaned it.

For the fourth time in the series of games they have arranged to play the "Three S's" and the "Wallflowers" met at the local alleys yesterday afternoon. As in the three that preceded it, the "Wallflowers" defeated the men of the initials, this time by 13 pins. The two teams will try again this evening, as the "S's" are bound to win at least one game, being willing to play all winter, if necessary.

Richard Cedergeren returned several days ago from Alberta, the British province across the border which has attracted so many settlers from this side during the past summer. He said that he had secured a tract of land some miles from a town called Ladue and seemed well pleased with his change of homes. He intends to spend the winter here and early in the spring return to Canada with his parents, taking a band of livestock and other things along to begin farming.

Sheriff Potter of Carbon county passed through the city Wednesday with a couple of patients consigned to the asylum for the insane. Both were men, who at times were regarded as exceedingly dangerous, as both were subject to sudden attacks of frenzy. One of the unfortunates, a man named Leckie, was a former inmate of the asylum, having been discharged from there a little over a year ago. In the case of each insanity was traceable to injuries to the head, sustained years ago.

A huge wildcat was killed in an unusual manner a couple of days ago by Albert Clanton, who resides a few miles up the valley. Mr. Clanton was at work in his hayfield and saw the cat, which seemed to be truculently inclined, as it was approaching him. No weapon with which to defend himself was at hand and Mr. Clanton picked up a clod of earth, which he threw at the feline. His aim was so true that he stunned the animal and before it could recover he stamped it to death with his boots.

When Judge Loud convenes the district court for Yellowstone county next Monday it will be with about the average docket. Up to last evening 105 cases were awaiting disposition by the court. Of this number five were on the criminal calendar, 45 were civil and 55 probate matters. It is more than likely, however, that the number of criminal cases to which his honor's attention will be called will be about double that given above. Several informations awaited filing yesterday afternoon, among them one against Joseph F. Lathrom, the alleged forger.

Captain George E. Bartlett, an old frontiersman, who gained more than a local reputation as a scout and plainsman during the pioneer days of the Black Hills, arrived in the city yesterday and will remain several days. He is acknowledged to be one of the most expert shots with both rifle and shotgun in the country and will give an exhibition of his skill at the grounds of the Billings Gun club next Sunday afternoon. In addition the members of the club have arranged to do a little demolishing of blue-rock on their own account. The exhibition will be free.

During the last two or three days policeman Salisbury has been "riding the range." A large number of cattle which have been feeding during the summer in the adjacent sections are beginning to crowd into the city in quest of feed, as the grass has about disappeared in the country. They are proving an unmitigated nuisance and the police are receiving appeals daily for relief. The present plan adopted to deal with the bovine vagrants is to chase them out of the city and notify their owners to care for them. If this is not done and the cattle return they will be impounded in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance regulating the keeping of stock in the city, and unless redeemed will be sold at auction.

An interesting little group of travelers was at the station Wednesday morning. The members were little Miss Annabel Williams, about 12 years of age, her brother, Hugh, several years younger, and a baby, the latter only 14 months old. They were the children of J. W. Williams, a rancher, who lives a short distance up the valley, whose wife died recently, and were on their way to Beloit, Kan., where they expect to make their home with relatives. Annabel looked with motherly solicitude after the others and tenderly cared for the baby with all the devotion and attention of one much older in years. Before the train left both the other passengers and trainmen had become interested in the children and all promised to see that they reached their journey's end in safety.

from near Red Lodge and coming to this city to get married, is once more in the toils. As he could not get the one on whom he first centered his affections, he quickly selected another and this time was married to her. Not long ago he removed to Billings and according to the stories told of him by the police and others who profess to know the facts he has degenerated into one of the most despicable of all creatures to whom nature has given the form of man, the kind of fellows who want to live off the shame of a woman. His wife, not much older than the child with whom he ran away, is credited with being not overly blessed with sense and scruples and it seems has been willing to support him in the manner he asked. A few days ago he was arrested for disorderly conduct and as a result is now doing a 20-days' stunt on the streets.
