

BUYERS EXPECT LOWER PRICES

SALES OF WOOL IN BOSTON ARE MOSTLY SMALL LOTS.

MARKET MUCH QUIETER

Buyers Are Showing a Disposition to Look Around in Hopes That They Will Buy for Less—Two Buyers Sending Up Prices in Idaho.

There is a quieter wool market locally, and few sales of importance are made public, says the Boston Commercial Bulletin. There have been some buyers around, but their operations have been confined to small lots. There is still a good demand for fine Australian, and negotiations are under way that may be concluded before next week's report. In the aggregate a fair amount has been transferred this week, but no large lines, and the volume of sales is far less than last week or the week before. The dealings in domestic wool are confined strictly to small lots aside from a very few sizable transactions in medium unwashed fleeces. A continued good demand for fine scoured wools is noted, and pulled wools of fine grade are steady sellers. Small lots of clothing territory make up a fair total. Some dealers find that buyers show more disposition to look around, having about made up their minds that prices are to be no lower. In fact, both dealers and manufacturers are becoming convinced that there will be no cheap wool this year. The firm tone of foreign advices preclude any cheaper importations. Western advices indicate that in only exceptional cases are supplies of new wool being secured much cheaper than last year.

The Outlook. There is a steady market, but uncertainty in the minds of dealers as to the future. Of course, the year's market on new wools is yet to be made. There is not, in several instances, enough old wool on the market to determine prices, and the little new Arizona wool selling can hardly be considered a test. Fine fleeces are an uncertain factor.

There is little left and all calculations of value have to be made as to what new wool will bring. There is much the same condition in worsted territory wools. In all instances buyers are trying to secure new wools at prices that will give them a living profit when the turnover is attempted here. At present manufacturers are in a very conservative mood. The large ones among them are well covered, and the smaller class are disposed to buy only what they stand in need of. On the other hand, there is a heavy amount of wool being consumed, and except through importations supplies in the hands of consumers are not being augmented to any extent. If there are no serious labor disturbances or crop losses there should be uninterrupted and extensive consumption through the balance of the year. In that case, the outlook is fairly encouraging for the sale of wool, if not for much profit to the middleman in handling it.

Western Deals and Prices. Considerable interest is taken in the developments in Idaho, where, as the result of a merry competitive war between the buyers for two large mills, prices have been run up to heights that have scared Boston dealers. At 19 1/2 to 20c between 500,000 and 800,000 pounds have been sold in the Fayette section. Aside from a small clip secured by a Boston firm at 20c dealers have held aloof and let the mill buyers have their fling. But hopes have been temporarily dashed of securing the western Idaho wools at 17 or 18 cents, terms considered reasonable notwithstanding.

NEW TOWN AT FORT CUSTER, MONT.

The new town of Ft. Custer, Montana, on the west banks of the Big Horn River, located on the main line of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway, is now being surveyed and town lots will be offered for sale by the Lincoln Land Company, on and after June 1, 1907. This point is about midway between Sheridan, Wyoming and Billings, Montana.

the reported improved condition of the clip this year over last. At 67 to 68c, the estimated scoured landed cost of the wools sold, local dealers can see no profit.

In Wyoming wools along the Union Pacific have been pretty well cleaned up; either sold or consigned. Consignments have cut a comparatively big figure this year. Sales at Rawlins have ranged from 19 to 21 1/2c, the clips averaging 20c. This is a little less than last year, but the wools are said to be not as good. In other parts of the state bids on a basis of 65c scoured landed have been rejected. Sales at Casper are reported at 20 1/2 to 21c to a small extent. Recent trades in Utah have been at 19 to 20c for average clips, with 22c realized in the triangle. Nevada is cleaned up.

The season opened in Pendleton, Ore., on Wednesday, with sales aggregating about 600,000 pounds at 18 to 20c and 200,000 pounds withdrawn. A few Texas clips have been sold at 18 to 20c, but the bulk of those moved have been consigned. There are rumors of high prices in the fleece wool states, 20c on the cars for medium and 26c for fine in Ohio, and 28 to 29 1/2c on the cars asked by Michigan farmers.

Foreign Markets.

Foreign news is rare this week, the London auction sales having closed. The next series will not open till July. In the meantime a strong tone is expected, owing to the heavy consumption in Great Britain and on the continent. Mills are busy and capacity being enlarged. There is active demand for machinery, especially worsted, for expansion of old and the inauguration of new enterprises.

The latest mail report from Bradford says: "The improvement in wool, the position of the ray material noted last week is maintained with added strength. In low and medium cross-breeds there is plenty of business offering at last Thursday's rates, but in most cases topmakers are asking a fraction more. In fact, it is asserted that it is now impossible to buy wool in London to meet the prices that were then taken. The further advance is not readily conceded, but the position of holders is very strong. Merinos and fine crossbreeds are fully firm, with a healthy inquiry. As regards English sorts, staplers find it rather more difficult to get values up, but as their stocks are not large they are not keen sellers. Mohairs and alpaca are quiet and unchanged.

In yarns the spirit in the wool market has brought forward a few orders on export account, but the buying of last week, which was mainly in singles, has not been continued on the same scale. Spinners, however, are all back at their old level, and the last trace of weakness has been removed from the market. The period required for delivery of single yarns is now longer than ever. In mohairs a fair amount of business was done at the end of last week in single 30s and twofold 32s, and something also in twofold 40s, prices remaining as before. Botany spinners are finding more demand for single yarns, in which some decent orders have recently been placed.

Boston Sales and Prices.

In Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces the market is quiet, largely because of the depleted condition of stocks. Some of the largest handers in this city have little in straight grades to offer, and are cleaning up the odds and ends of the season's supply. The market is particularly bare of fine wools. This would seem to indicate a strong situation, and it is so statistically. But there are grave doubts about opening prices. It is stated that manufacturers have asserted they will not pay more than 36c for delaine and 33c for XX when the new wools are placed on the market. At present quotations are entirely nominal, as there is no business to establish a price. A little fine unwashed clothing sold at 25 to 26c. Three-eighths blood unwashed is quoted at 23c, and sells at that figure. A small lot of about 9,000 pounds of one-quarter blood sold during the week at 30 1/2c, and other moderate quantities at 21c. The selling basis cannot be quoted higher than 21c.

In Michigan and Wisconsin fleeces quite a movement in medium wools has taken place. A line of 200,000 pounds Michigan one-quarter blood was cleaned out at 31c. The price is extreme. About 250,000 pounds of Wisconsin half, three-eighths and quarter changed hands, the price for the latter being in the neighborhood of 30c, it is said. Fine unwashed Michigan is nominal at 24c.

In Kentucky, Indiana and Missouri wools there is some demand for one-quarter blood at 30c. Sales are to a fair extent. No quotations on early wools are made from St. Louis. The season is cold and backward. Old quarter blood, it is said, is still offering from the west at 29c, landed in Boston.

Territory Wool. Only a fair business is reported this week. A good portion of it was of the cleaning up order. Holders are anxious to get rid of undesirable and unattractive parcels. Some low prices have been made, down to 16c for fine. But good wools are steady and command a fair amount of interest. Fine and fine medium Wyoming, Utah, etc., selling at 20 to 21c, the scoured cost being placed at about 68c for the fine and 65c for the fine medium. Half blood has sold moderately at 25 to 26c. New Arizona wools sell steadily, and this week's transactions include fair sized quantities of fine and fine medium at 23 1/2 to 24c and of half blood at 26 1/2 to 27c. The scoured basis is 65 to 66c for the former and 64 to 65c for the latter.

In Texas wool there is no business of importance and there will not be till new wool arrives. Stocks of old are very limited. A little fall changed hands at 21c, costing 57c to 58c scoured.

In California wool supplies are small. The transactions of the week are made up of insignificant parcels of middle county at 21c to 22c. The landed cost of the Red Bluffs wool, recently secured for Boston account, is put at 26c to 27c.

There continues to be a good many customers on the market for fine scoured wool. The best sells at 68 to 70c, and quite a large line changed hands at 66 to 70c. The low grades, of which the accumulations are large, move slowly.

There is a steady demand for the finer grades of pulled wools. A considerable line of California sold on private terms. A super is moving steadily at 55c to 58c, and business in fine A has been at 58c to 60c. The supply of combed pulled is limited. For the better class of B supers more interest is shown, and sales have been made at 47c. The range for B super is from 45c to 47c. An inquiry from the worsted manufacturers for suitable lots of B super is the first of the kind experienced since January. Moderate sales of good C supers are reported at 30c to 32c.

Foreign Wools.

In Australian and New Zealand wools while there is still a good demand for fine wools the business of the week is much smaller than during the previous two weeks. Small lots are selling at 43 1/2c to 46c of quantities running from 64's to 80's. There is a particularly good demand for 70's, which can be secured on the scoured basis of 85c to 87c. There are some good sized lines under negotiation, which may change hands before another week passes. The sailing ship Loch Garry arrived in port since our last from Melbourne direct with a cargo of 8,003 bales of Australian wool consigned to John G. Wright.

In South American wool no fresh business is made public. Supplies as they arrive from primary markets are being approved by manufacturers. The week's receipts include 267,054 pounds on the steamer Casilda, and 147,250 pounds on the Horatus, both vessels coming from Buenos Ayres.

There is a little activity in filling stock in class III wool. Buyers, unwilling to pay the prices asked for the considerable accumulations of China wools in New York, are searching other markets and buying odds and ends elsewhere. There is no demand looking to the future requirements of manufacturers. Prices are firm and steady. No greasy Angoras can be secured for importation into the United States at the low duty limit. Offerings are being made of washed wools at around 22c landed for July and August delivery. The new clips are opening in all countries at firm and high prices.

Shipments and Receipts.

The shipments for the week ending May 23 were: Fireburg division, 286,020 pounds; southern division, 126,780 pounds; eastern and western division, 1,073,420 pounds; Grand Junction, 457,830 pounds; New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, 1,723,490 pounds; Boston and Albany, 353,905; by sea, 336,250; total, 4,366,395 pounds.

The shipments for the week ending May 16, 1907, were 4,476,321 pounds, and for the week ending May 24, last year, 3,818,822 pounds. The shipments since Dec. 24, 1906, have been 115,977,661 pounds, and for the same period last year were 96,280,942 pounds.

The receipts for the week ending May 23, 1907, were 6,731,952 pounds, of which 2,425,665 pounds were domestic wool and 4,306,287 pounds foreign wool. The receipts for the same period last year were 5,226,254 pounds of which 2,247,561 pounds were domestic wool and 2,978,753 pounds foreign wool.

The receipts this year to May 23 were 33,292,946 pounds of domestic wool and 68,455,296 pounds of foreign wool and for the same period in 1906 were 30,675,409 pounds of domestic wool and 72,067,929 pounds of foreign wool.

The excess of shipments in 1907 to May 23 was 14,229,419 pounds, and the excess of receipts over shipments for the same period last year was 6,462,336 pounds.

WATTS FOUND NOT GUILTY

ACQUITTED BY JURY IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

State Has Been Unable to Convict Him for Attempting to Shoot Richard Roberts and for Shooting Charles Smith.

From Wednesday's Daily. Daniel T. Watts was found not guilty of assault in the first degree upon Richard Roberts by a jury in the district court yesterday. The case was given to the jury shortly before 6 o'clock, and the verdict was not returned till nearly midnight.

Watts was in the court room with his attorneys, W. M. Johnston and O. F. Goddard, when the verdict was returned. Deputy County Attorney Taylor represented the state. On the adjournment of court Watts shook hands with his attorneys and thanked them for their services and left the court room.

He has now been tried and found not guilty of assault on Roberts and Charles Smith as the result of a shooting affray in the South Side drug store November 17, 1906, when he shot Smith twice and Oscar Colburn once, and took a shot at Roberts and missed him. He could still be tried on a charge of assault in the third degree against Colburn, but it is understood that the state will drop the prosecution.

The jury had the case under consideration for more than four hours. Immediately on the adjournment of court they secured supper and then began the consideration of the evidence. At first some of the jurors are said to have stood for conviction, but just how the first votes in the jury stood was not given out. Judge Fox was sent for at 11 o'clock and at 11:15 the jury entered the court room with the verdict.

MAKES A COMPARISON

Rev. Groom Likens the Christian Life and Heaven to a Government on the Earth.

From Wednesday's Daily. "The Heavenly Commonwealth" was the subject of Evangelist Groom's sermon last night at the revival services which are being conducted in the Christian church. One of the largest audiences that has attended the services was present. Interest in the meetings seems to be growing.

"The more enlightened man is, the more inclined he is to seek the companionship of other men," said the evangelist. "Our citizenship, the citizenship of the Christian, is in heaven.

"All good governments have their founders. Not only has every government a founder, but it has a beginning. Upon this rock will I found my church," said the Lord. Then in Acts 2, we have this verse: 'And the Lord added unto the church daily, such as were being saved.' That shows the establishment of the church. But now it is an established institution.

"The kingdom of heaven began on the first day of Pentecost. Its policy is love. Where love is we need no law, that is, no statutory law. If the principles promulgated by Jesus Christ were lived up to we would need no human laws. Love is the fulfilling of the law. If a man loves God he will not break the law.

"All nations have their heroes. France has Napoleon Bonaparte; Rome, Julius Caesar; England, the duke of Marlborough; Prussia, Frederick the Great; Germany, Bismarck; America, Lincoln, Washington and McKinley. The church also has its heroes, for he that maketh his spirit, is greater than he that taketh a city. Stephen was the first Christian hero and martyr. He was taken out and stoned to death, but with his last breath he said, 'Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.'

"All governments have their constitutions, either written or unwritten. It is the bulwark of our liberty. You can not be a good citizen of this country unless you know something about its constitution. The same rule applies to the heavenly kingdom. You have got to know something about the kingdom of heaven and her law of love if you are to become citizens of that great commonwealth.

"While we should concentrate our efforts to be loyal to this earthly government of ours, let us look higher and become a member of the kingdom above."

Tonight Rev. Groom will preach on "Reformers and Reformations."

The Life Insurance Muddle has started the public to thinking. The wonderful success that has met Ballard's Horobond Syrup in its crusade on Coughs, Influenza, Bronchitis and all Pulmonary troubles, has started the public to thinking of this wonderful preparation. PECK IS STILL MISSING Disappearance of Witness Forces County Attorney to Dismiss Cases Against Gambiers—W. H. Donahue Pleads Guilty.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Amos Peck, the man who gathered the evidence in the anti-gambling crusade last winter is still missing and the efforts of the county attorney and sheriff's force have failed to locate him. As a result, when the cases of James Carroll and H. G. Goartz, charged with gambling, and George Wheeler and W. D. Parker, charged with trying to bribe a witness in connection with the gambling cases, came up for trial yesterday they were dismissed on motion of the county attorney.

W. H. Donahue, who was to have been tried for gambling, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $100, which he paid immediately.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS.

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Billings.

Most Billings people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs.

I. Z. Landwick, of 1001 Ninth Avenue South, says: "So much suffer from kidney complaint that I was a little uneasy for a time about myself for I was troubled with my back aching in the region of my kidneys. I think it was first caused by heavy lifting. When living in Superior, Wisconsin, about a year and a half ago, I was working in a flour mill and while doing some heavy work, was suddenly taken with a kink in my back which caused me considerable suffering and pain. I recovered from it shortly afterwards and was free from the trouble until last summer when it made its appearance again. I stepped into a drug store one day and asked for something suitable for my complaint and I was handed a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me wonderfully and in spite of the fact that I did not take them as regularly as I should have done, they did the work."

Plenty more proof like this from Billings people. Call at the Chapple Drug company and ask what customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
