

GREATEST NEED OF MAGIC CITY

PAVING AND BETTER ROADS, SAYS AUSTIN NORTH.

DURING COMING YEAR

If Billings Would Hold the Trade of Surrounding Country, Better Highways Leading to City from All Directions Should Be Constructed.

"What is the greatest need of Billings in the year 1909?" queried Austin North in response to a question.

"Paved streets and good roads. If we expect to hold the trade of the surrounding country we must build good roads. If we expect our city to develop as rapidly as it should we must pave our streets."

"Every merchant should be interested in seeing that better roads are built in the country surrounding the Magic City, leading to Billings. Many farmers have to come 10 and 15 miles to Billings to trade and they do not come as often as they should because of the bad condition of the roads. Build good public roads and they will come oftener, they will buy more of their supplies here, because it will be an easy trip, and they will have the advantage of larger stocks and the opportunity to inspect them. We ought to make boulevards of our country roads, make them so it would be easy to haul produce to market. The need of better country roads is one of the greatest problems facing us today."

"Paved streets are needed in the city. They are needed because of the saving they would make in the cost of caring for streets, because of the added value they give to property, because of the metropolitan air they would give the city and the advertising they would do, they are needed for a score of other reasons. They should be constructed the coming year. Paving can be procured in annual payments running over a space of ten years. If the paving is done now, the city will reach a population of 100,000 before the final payment has to be made.

"Paved streets and good country roads are, to my mind, the most important need of the city of Billings in 1909."

FRUSTRATION OF PLOT TO MURDER

has been commanded to go to Europe to settle all outstanding disputes with foreign powers. He will leave here December 24. Senor Paul has advised the diplomatic representatives here that measures will be taken to preserve order and protect the interests of foreigners. The new governor of Caracas is Aguilas Iturbe.

Acting President Gomez issued a statement yesterday as follows:

Proclamation by Gomez.

"Fellow Patriots: I assume the presidency of Venezuela under the terms of the constitution. I undertake these duties without personal ambition. From the first I endeavored to conciliate the aspirations of the people with my high obligations, and to this end I established, in accordance with our national institutions, an administration that recognized all personal and public guarantees.

"Unfortunately my good intentions met with incomprehensible hindrance on the part of a few persons who called themselves intimate friends of Senor Castro. Not only did these persons block the carrying out by me of my legal duties, but they stooped to conspiracy and elaborated plots against my life.

"This conspiracy was crushed yesterday, when I personally faced the plotters and imprisoned them. By so doing I saved more than my own life. I maintained the many prestiges of the chief magistracy of the republic, which is my ambition to convert into a fountain of good for all Venezuelans.

"I have constituted a cabinet representing the public opinion of Venezuela and with the collaboration of the ministers. I intend to enforce the constitutional guarantees; to respect the autonomy of the various states of the Venezuelan Republic; to protect local industries against excessive manipulations; to find a decorous and pacific solution of our interest in disputes, to live at peace and harmony at home and abroad and to permit the law alone to hold undisputed sovereignty throughout the land."

Excellent Appointments.

The composition of the new cabinet is regarded as permanent. Munex Tebar, the minister of finance, is a noted engineer, and in 1889, he was a candidate for the presidency.

General Regulo Oliveres, the new minister of war, is regarded as one of the best men in Venezuela today. Senor Maldonado, the new minister of public instruction is another of considerable note.

Linares Alcantara, minister of the interior, is considered a likely candidate for the presidency. Rafael Carabano, the new minister of Development, is a young ministerial leader of some note.

Gonsalvo Guinand, the new minister of foreign affairs, was prominent in affairs of state during the epoch of Guzman Blanco and enjoys great influence throughout the Republic.

The minister of public works, Peoerto Vargas, is a general of note, and is considered to have a brilliant future. It is generally admitted that the new cabinet is a strong one and especially well qualified to handle any possible contingencies.

Acting President Gomez has given orders that all the political prisoners in Venezuela be set at liberty.

The minister of the interior Linares Alcantara, issued a proclamation today addressed to the governors of the federal districts and territories which, after praising the new government, says:

"Now or never Venezuela can and must prove it possesses, as do all human associations with virile traditions and intrinsic virtue, the ability to govern itself well. Today by order of the first magistrate, all citizens in prison for political causes are liberated.

"We have impending an international conflict which the country knows of through the recent governments' announcements and this demands from Venezuelans the obligation of uniting in a common cause. Let us show that we are worthy and strong in a common cause. Let us show that we are worthy and strong in defense of the honor of our flag."

The proclamation says further that each state will dispose of a share of its income according to the constitution and the government will study the economic question and give particular attention to their credit. Referring to public credits, it says that these must be re-established on the basis of constant and reciprocal good faith.

"Venezuela wishes a frank and continuous friendship with all civilized nations. We must therefore try to come to some definite conclusion with regard to questions now at issue, always consulting, however, the dignity of the nation and its inalienable rights."

The minister asks that prudence be exercised by the citizens.

PIONEERS MEET DINE AND TALK

water and too much of it and some of the potatoes were soggy, as a result. He told of "boofing it" up the Yellowstone and of experiences at Roundup, and created a laugh by telling an amusing story of Jack Herford's horse race.

John R. King responded to the toast: "Things and men I have seen and met in the good old pioneer days." George M. Hays rendered two excellent bass solos.

Judge O. F. Godard responded to "The Pullman palace car pioneer and the advantages he enjoys over those who came out by hand." He gave an amusing talk. He denied that he was a "Pullman palace car pioneer," but came in a day coach, with a "nose bag" to eat out of.

Sheriff J. H. Herford responded to "Hub of the Pioneers and Samples of the same." He told a number of laugh provoking stories and read the following original poem:

"Old timers, I'm glad to meet you And join in your fun and cheer Before the tenderfoot beat you Out of your freedom and beer.

"Time was we had no preachers And got along fairly well, Now they are trying to teach us That we're going straight to hell.

"That all our ways are rotten And we don't know what's good for us here, And the good old days are forgotten In zeal for the blind pig idea.

"Then shall tenderfoot run the country, Shall the Dry-farmer only be IT? I admire their gall and effrontery, But let our answer be NIT."

C. H. Newman responded to "Pioneer and Son of a Pioneer."

E. B. Camp, "A Tenderfoot's Introduction to the Wild and Woolly."

Judge J. D. Mathewson, recited, "Montana," with a few stanzas added, the first of which was as follows:

"Land of Liver-Eating Johnson! Land Crow Davis ravaged o'er! Now is tamed, hog-tied, plum gentle, And its 'bad men' are no more. Last made land of all creation, Where the Sioux's last stand was made, Now is civilized and settled, And no Pilgrim is afraid."

R. R. Crowe, responded to "The Pioneer as a Spreader of the Light Eternal," and told some incidents of early day gospel work in the northwest.

Dr. W. X. Sudduth talked on "Standing the Late Watch."

A. S. Shannon spoke on "When Billings was an Infant."

All of the toasts were delivered in a masterful manner and the meeting was one long to be remembered. Whatever the fire, that new smelter deal is making a lot of smoke.—Butte Inter Mountain.

MAY COME TO SON'S RESCUE

FATHER OF SPENDTHRIFT SON MAY PRODUCE.

WROTE MANY CHECKS

Lee Moore, Father of Floyd Moore, Notifies Billings Men That He Will Make Good His Son's Bad Checks—Boy May Be Released.

Lee Moore, a prominent cattleman of Douglas, Wyo., has written to parties in Billings who went good for checks which his son gave in this city to the amount of about $300 and also about $200 which the boy obtained at Sheridan, that he will make his son's shortages good.

Moore was arrested in Billings some time ago and a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses was preferred against him at that time. The boy has since been in jail here.

At the time of his arrest the young man stated that his father had never refused to make good any checks that he wrote, and he made an earnest appeal to his parents to reimburse the parties who had cashed the checks for him.

Something over a week has elapsed and the father has, from all appearances, relented and will square accounts for the boy. There is no wish on the part of those who aided the lad to get the money to prosecute him, as they have been friends of his father for some time, and it is more than likely that if the checks are taken up that the prosecution will be dropped.

"Sec. 4. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

The ordinance was presented by Alderman Frith, who is the chairman of the ordinance committee, and is presenting it he stated that if the passage of the ordinance was refused by the aldermen present, that he would present a more rigid one at the next meeting.

The meeting was presided over by Alderman J. C. Staffek, Mayor Fred H. Foster being out of the city. Aldermen Weed, Frith, Woods, Soule and Gates were present and Aldermen Terrill and Brewer absent.

Three improvement districts were created by ordinance, being districts Nos. 28, 29 and 30. An ordinance was introduced creating improvement district No. 30, but it was referred back for some minor changes and will come up at the next meeting of the council.

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN CROWDED THEATER

ventional attire. With the temperature hovering around the 20's and a fierce wind driving the falling snow into their faces, the chorus girls beat a hasty retreat for cover at the Marlborough hotel, where they were made comfortable. An alarm quickly brought the firemen and water was turned upon the flames, but not until $60.00 damage had been done to the front part of the theater building. A fire on Broadway is always a spectacular affair and coming as it did tonight when the theaters were pouring their thousands into the streets to mingle with the belated Christmas shoppers it quickly caused a tremendous jam in the neighborhood of Herald Square. A blinding snowstorm which disarranged all street car traffic on Broadway and the added inconvenience of a strike of the cab drivers, all tended to create a rather unusual state of confusion. Only the coolness of the theater jataches prevented anything in the way of a panic. When the curtain was lowered upon the final ensemble the orchestra was playing.

as that virtually was the sole bone of contention. However, everything we have heard comes through the newspaper dispatches."

Dr. Israel twice examined Castro today. He has not as yet reached a definite opinion as to the disease, but he is inclined to believe that his patient is suffering from severe ulcerations of the kidneys, which cannot be treated without an operation.

PRISONERS LIBERATED.

Enemies of Castro are Turned Out of The Jails.

WILLEMSTAD, Dec. 22.—Willemstad is still without direct news from Venezuela, but reports brought in here today by the steamer Julia indicate that the political outbreak against President Castro at Caracas last week had been followed by other developments, showing the continued unrest of the country.

It is said that the political prisoners at Puerto Cabello have been set at liberty and that several of the partisans there of President Castro have been imprisoned.

Furthermore it is rumored that two Venezuelan delegates have left Caracas for Willemstad to open negotiations with the colonial government, looking to a settlement of the difficulties.

Dutch Commander Threatens to Capture Them.

CARACAS, Friday, Dec. 18.—The steamer Manzanas, of the Orinoco line and the personal property of President Castro, is tied up at LaGuaira because the commander of one of the Dutch warships has threatened to capture her if she leaves port.

Baron von Seckenerff, the minister, who has represented Holland here recently, had a conference with acting President Gomez yesterday. He presented Holland's answer concerning the proposal made recently by Venezuela that the trans-shipment decree against the island of Curacao be regarded as a dead letter, without revoking it.
