DOLLIVER LOSES ON EVERY POINT

His Many Amendments Voted Down By Big Majority

WOOL AND COTTON

Grows Sarcastic in Comments.—Taxing "Polka Dots" as Wool—Montana Shepherders That Live in First Class Hotels—Corn Plasters Classed as Wearing Apparel.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The "progressives" came into the senate today determined to continue their fight against the wool schedule, although all the votes taken yesterday demonstrated the ability of the committee on finance to maintain a majority of 10 or 12 on all of the provisions it had recommended. Shortly after the senate met, a vote of 31 to 43 was cast against the contention of Mr. Dolliver that only the wool in yarn should be taxed, thus upholding the committee on finance. Nine republicans, Beveridge, Bristow, Brown, Burkett, Clapp, Cummins, Dolliver, LaFollette and Nelson voted against the committee, as did Senator Foster of Louisiana, although his colleague, Mr. McEnry, cast his vote with the Republicans in support of the committee. Before this vote was taken, Senator Warren declared that the purpose of levying the duty on the entire weight of the yarn was to keep out material that was mixed with cheap cotton.

Mr. Dolliver claimed that there was nothing surreptitious in the mixing of wool and cotton in making cheap yarn and said there was no good reason for discriminating against such cheap material. Continuing his effort to tax only the wool in fabrics made partly of cotton, Mr. Dolliver offered a substitute for that purpose for the paragraph relating to cloths, knit and other fabrics, and manufactured in whole or in part of wool. He insisted that it was practicable to assess the wool in the fabric and commenting on his proposed substitute, convulsed the senate with his witty retorts and his humorous allusions to peculiarities in the Dingley law. Even cotton cloth with polka dots of wool glued on it was under the law, he said, obliged to pay the full duty that would be levied on them if wholly of wool.

Even "Home, sweet home" and "Welcome," he said, were subject to pay duty under the wool schedule. Corn plasters, when made of wool were obliged to pay tribute to the wool schedule under a decision that had declared them to be "wearing apparel."

Referring to his apparent inability to accept the recommendations of the committee on finance, Mr. Dolliver said that when the bill was finally enacted it might be quite different from its appearance at present. "Then," he said, "the potatoes of the senator from Delaware, with tears in their eyes, may go out of the bill, meeting the stockings of the senator from Pennsylvania coming in."

The substitute was defeated by a vote of 30 to 42 with the same division that had been shown in the previous vote. Rejecting a suggestion by Mr. Clapp that all of his amendments to the wool schedule and for the same general purpose of those previously voted on, be presented and voted upon by one roll call, Mr. Dolliver proceeded to offer them one by one, demanding a roll call on each.

The vote developed no change of party lines from that shown by the first vote taken after the senate met today. Becoming engaged with Mr. Carter in a debate of which the protective tariff system was the subject, Mr. Bacon declared he would place the wool

The Spokane chamber of commerce, the national apple show and the Spokane & Inland Empire Electric railway system will also probably send dry farm products to the international exposition there, October 25 to 29.

Railroad Hearing Interests Billings

Question of Enforcing Connections at Judith Gap and Lavina to Be Heard.

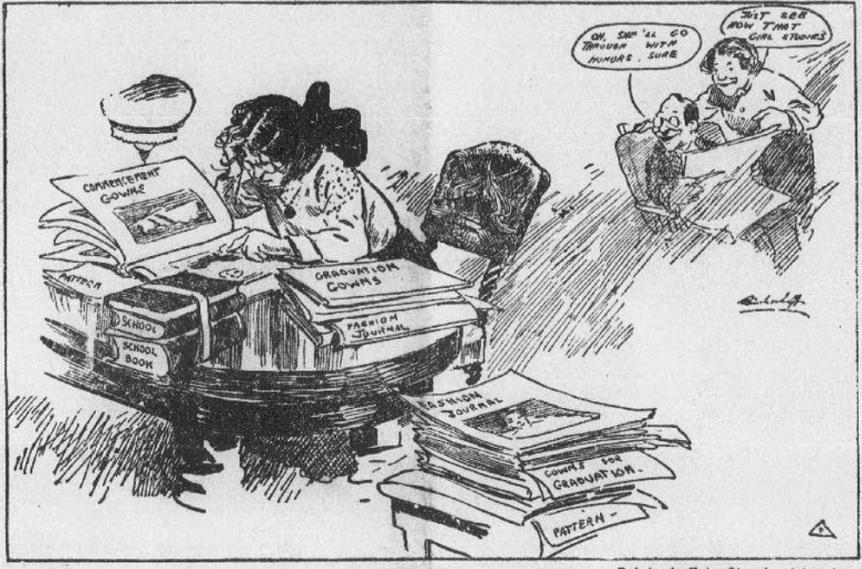

(Special to The Gazette.)

HELENA, June 10.—The state board of railroad commissioners today fixed June 23 and Helena as the date and place for a public hearing on the question of enforcing connections between the Billings & Northern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound at Judith Gap and Lavina.

This is a mooted question involving, as it does, the distribution by wholesalers in the territory affected, which includes a large portion of central and eastern Montana.

It is opposed by several important centers, such as Butte, Helena, Lewistown and Miles City, and favored by Billings and Great Falls.

Montana Streams Rapidly Rising

Losses Are Anticipated Unless Waters Recede.—Snows in Mountains Are Melting.

(Special to The Gazette.)

HELENA, June 10.—While rain has ceased to fall throughout Montana except for intermittent periods, the snows in the mountains are melting rapidly, with the result that many streams are rising.

A special to the Record from Dillon states that losses are anticipated unless the waters recede, while in the vicinity of Helena, the streams are abnormally high.

Railroad traffic has not been impeded as yet, but the managements are fearful lest serious trouble overtake them should the rains continue.

NO NEED FOR THE CHANNEL

NINE FEET IS ENOUGH

Special Board Does not Believe Ocean-going Craft Need Navigate Mississippi—Lesser Channel Would Answer All Needs of Commerce.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The proposed 14-foot deep waterway project from St. Louis to the gulf received a blow today when the board of engineers reported to congress that such a waterway is not desirable. The waterway would cost $128,000,000 for construction and $6,000,000 annually for maintenance, the engineers say.

The report was based on a survey of the Mississippi river by a special board of engineers created by act of congress. The conclusions reported by the special board and the regular board of engineers are practically the same. The report of the board that it is not desirable to construct a navigable channel 14 feet deep from St. Louis or from Chicago to the mouth of the Mississippi, was based on the conclusion of the special board that only commerce originating from sources that do not at present ship by river would justify the great cost of a 14-foot waterway.

(Special to The Gazette.)

HELENA, June 10.—In the United States court today, Judge Hunt fixed June 21 as the date for the trial of the suit of the St. Louis Mining company against the Montana Mining company, limited, operatives in the Marysville district of this county. Damages upwards of $1,000,000 are sought for ore alleged to have been illegally extracted from what is known as the disputed vein.

This is the most noted mining litigation in the history of the state, it having been continued incessantly for 21 years and having reached the supreme court of the United States three times. It was while in Washington to argue one phase thereof that former Senator Brown of Utah was shot by Mrs. Bradley of Salt Lake City.

(Special to The Gazette.)

OMAHA, Neb., June 10.—Through the priesthood of Mexico the farmers of that country are to be led to join the farmers in the United States in movements looking toward more and better crops as well as the irrigation of lands which need water and the handling of land where irrigation is impossible and rainfall light, by the most improved methods of "dry farming."

The influence of the priests in the movement is potent and Zeterino Dominguez and Lic. Luis Gorozpo, prominent Mexican farmers, have induced the priests to take a hand.

With the assistance of these patriotic clergymen, Senor Dominguez will spend the entire summer organizing a party to visit the United States this fall, attending the Dry Farming congress in Billings; the United States Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago and the National Corn exposition in Omaha.

"We already have 100 farmers who have signed an agreement to visit the United States," writes Senor Dominguez to T. F. Sturgess, secretary of the National Corn exposition. "The campaign to join the people of the United States in the movement for crop improvement has begun in earnest and I have opened headquarters at the Hotel Sanz in Mexico City, from which point I can best direct Noted Divine, Author, Journalist and Lover of Peace Breathes His Last at His Roxbury Home.—General Mourning Because of Death of Typical American.—Funeral Today.

BOSTON, June 10.—The morning light was breaking as the venerable Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., chaplain of the United States senate, Unitarian divine, author, journalist and lover of peace, breathed his last today in his home in Roxbury.

At the bedside were his wife, his daughter, Miss Ellen D. Hale, and his son, Philip L. Hale, the artist. Two other sons, Arthur Hale of Washington and Professor Edward Everett Hale, Jr., of Union college, returned home this evening. Tomorrow it is expected that partial arrangements for the funeral on Monday, in the South Congregational church of which Dr. Hale was the pastor Emeritus, will be announced tomorrow morning.

When Dr. Hale returned from Washington a few weeks ago, it was reported that he was not in good health, but he soon resumed his activities and until Tuesday attended meetings and received friends.

It seems as if the whole country joined in mourning the loss of Dr. Hale. Messages expressing sorrow and esteem poured into the Hale household, one of them being from President and Mrs. Taft.

Excessive Judgement Is Cut Materially by Supreme Court

(Special to The Gazette.)

HELENA, June 10.—Holding that the damages awarded Mrs. C. O. Yergy against the Helena Light & Railway company for the death of her husband who was run down by a Helena street car a year ago to be excessive, the supreme court today cut the award from $40,000 to $15,000. Unless this reduction is accepted within 30 days, a new trial is ordered. This is the largest sum ever awarded in Montana for personal injuries. Yergy was a lumber merchant.

The supreme court in two other opinions, affirmed the order of the district court of Silver Bow county in the suits of Frank Sanden and Mina Sanden against the Northern Pacific which granted a new trial after the plaintiffs had been awarded damages for their alleged wrongful ejection from a train of the defendant company.
