

Calendar for September showing days of the week and dates.

Arrival and Departure of Mails table with columns for destination and time.

THE WEATHER. The daily record of the thermometer in this city is reported by A. T. Playter...

Subscriptions to the Standard will be received at the business office, or at the store of Crockett & King, Main street.

ABOUT THE CITY. Deputy Clerk Mahan will be in Carroll from 10 o'clock this morning till 10 to-night to prepare naturalization papers...

Express Agent Fay has given a contract to George Owens to erect a commodious residence on his lot on Oak street between Sixth and Seventh.

Cards were issued yesterday announcing that the marriage of Frank Kennedy and Miss Lottie Ellenbecker will take place on Wednesday, September 18.

A new boiler of thirty-five horse power capacity has just been placed in the mill of the Montana Lumber and Produce Company, in West Front street.

A man whose name was not learned fell from his horse yesterday and was badly bruised. He went to the Main street hospital, where his injuries were attended to.

Mahan's real estate office offers six desirable lots on East First street for sale on satisfactory terms.

The polling place at the upper works has been altered. Men who were accommodated at that poll live in the city and the county commissioners concluded to make no provision for keeping it open hereafter.

In noting the committees appointed to serve on the occasion of the Alert Hose company ball, to be given on the 17th proximo, the STANDARD failed to locate J. T. Carroll, who was appointed door-keeper for the occasion.

A team of horses hitched to a lumber wagon dashed through Front street at dusk last evening, taking their start from the corner of 4th and Main streets, directly west of Main street and the rig was not the worse for the run.

The Anaconda Hardware company has arranged to carry a full line of ammunition and sporting goods of every kind.

A foot race for $250 a side is arranged for 6:30 P. M., at the race track on the 12th inst. It is between Thomas Brennan of the lower works and an unknown, who is entered as "Frank." That the contestants are in earnest is proven by the fact that the stake money is now in the hands of Jehu Earl.

There are fourteen patients in Mitchell & Snyder's hospital at present, most of which are surgical cases. The hospital building is soon to be improved by the addition of a spacious balcony which will be made serviceable for the second and third floors, and add greatly to the comfort of convalescents.

George H. Savage, manager of the plunge bath, proposes to form a stock company and a gymnasium at the bath house. The plunge bath has been liberally patronized since the opening. With the additional attractions now proposed, the establishment expects to be crowded all summer. It is proposed to organize the company in this city.

Yesterday afternoon a horse which was driven by Mrs. F. W. Chase, while standing in front of the residence of Superintendent Stalman was startled by a passing engine and started on the road toward town at runaway speed. Fortunately the animal was stopped by George Lattin near the stable of the smelting company before serious damage was done. Mrs. Chase fell from the carriage and was quite seriously hurt about the face.

Seeing the Smelter. A special train brought a party of Northern Pacific railroad officials to the city yesterday afternoon. The members of the party were composed of C. S. Mellors, general superintendent; G. W. Dickinson, assistant general superintendent; General Master Mechanic Small and J. M. Hamner, a general traffic manager. The visitors spent a part of their time on the other side of the creek and made a hasty tour around the smelter works. They are out for a pleasure trip and left for Butte late yesterday afternoon.

The Poll List Growing. At the close of business, last evening, there were 1361 names on the registry list in this city, making 123 for the day. It is believed that the registry in Anaconda will exceed 1500. The work is carefully followed up. In parts of the city a canvass of voters has been made from house to house. Under the decision of the county commissioners, there will be no poll at the upper works for the 4th district. This arrangement is not objectionable to the arranger, but it is of interest to all persons residing near the smelter and who are registered to understand that they must call at the registry office and arrange with the clerk in regard to the precinct in which they will vote.

THE FRAME FINISHED. Workmen at the Big Smelter Making Rapid Progress.

Everything Ready for the Outside Covering—Indications that the Plant Will Be Completed by the End of the Month.

The frame work of the new iron smelter at Carroll is up. It looks like the skeleton of a mechanical monster. The work of building up the smelter has advanced as rapidly as could have been expected. The corrugated iron covering will be laid without delay, and it is safe to predict that the vast building will be completed by the first day of October and ready to start up its furnaces at about the hour when the erection returns begin to come in.

The building will be 691 feet long and 225 feet wide, to say nothing of the extension which covers the calcine furnaces, which is 160 feet long and 101 feet in width. It covers three and one-half acres of ground. At the highest point it is 62 feet to the apex. Most of the iron needed for construction has been received, and there is small chance of delay in the work of pushing the building to its finish. In the rough, the weight of iron used in its construction may be placed at 1,000 tons.

Yesterday work was started on the furnaces which were damaged by the fire. All of them will be rebuilt and put in perfect running order by the end of the present month. Workmen are engaged on the shafting, and progress in every department of rebuilding is going on at a satisfactory pace. The enormous stack crowding the hill back of the smelter will have a companion piece, which will stand 300 feet to the north. The present stack was built when the smelter was only half its present size, and the second one is found necessary, to take care of the increased plant. Bids for the building of the new stack are to be opened in a day or two. It is estimated that the stack, alone, with its connections, will cost not less than $75,000. It will be 130 feet in height, with an inside diameter of 16 feet. More than 800,000 brick will be required to complete it.

In other buildings at the lower works iron has been substituted for wood. It is probable that all the structures hereafter built by the Anaconda company will be of the former material, and thus there will be small risk of another disaster like that of March 13, which destroyed within three hours the largest and finest smelter in the world.

BETTER PROTECTION. Extra Ladders and Water Pipes on the Walls of the Hotel. When The Montana was built arrangements were made for the distribution of water throughout the entire building so that the protection against fire should be ample. While the arrangement is a success, the owners of the property have determined to make the defenses against fire even more complete and workmen are now engaged in placing substantial iron ladders on two sides of the building. These will be connected with the balconies which, on each floor of the hotel, connect directly with the main halls. The ladders will be carried to the roof on the building. Paralleled with each of these a stand pipe will be carried to the roof with connections at each floor, so that, in case of emergency, firemen could find the hotel with a stream of water obtained outside of it. The work will be rapidly completed.

Among the Mines. F. G. Brown, of the Blue Eyed Nellie, reports that work is progressing satisfactorily on his property. Fifteen men are employed at the mine and they are now down 500 feet. There are three levels at 100, 200 and 300 feet respectively. The smelter is in daily operation with a force of ten men. It has a capacity of forty tons per day, and its product is being shipped to the Omaha and Grand Smelting and Refining works, Omaha, Nebraska. The Ella Dixon and American Flag mining properties, adjoining the Red Lion, and which were bonded during the summer by Harvey and his showing up very well. Mr. Strader has a force of eight men upon them. He is now drifting from the shafts and expects to strike the ore body at 400 feet. Harvey is a man of considerable experience in mining matters, and unless the properties he is handling presented an encouraging appearance, he would waste neither time nor means in their development.

Good Words for the New State. Special to the Standard. BUTTE, Sept. 5.—Mr. R. V. Thompson, a prominent business man and a staunch Democrat of New York, passed through Butte yesterday on his way to Spokane, where he and a number of other New York gentlemen are seeking to invest capital. The STANDARD's correspondent had a few minutes' conversation with Mr. Thompson, who expressed himself greatly pleased with what he saw of the new state of Montana. "Eastern people," said he, "have but little idea, as a rule, of the golden chances offered in this beautiful country for the investment of capital. Though I made a study of the country before I came here, I must confess I have been greatly surprised at the richness of the wonderful growth and wealth of this country. And whilst the development of this territory has been remarkably rapid in the past few years, it is progressing during the next ten years will be still more marked, as the admission of Montana into the union of states will serve to direct the attention of the eastern world to this as a good field for investment and settlement. The fight for political supremacy in Montana is just now attracting great attention in the east. From what I can learn of the situation, the Democrats seem to have everything in their favor."

Ring out the old, Ring in the new. Jos. Peters Co. D. J. Hennessy Mercantile Co. We, the members of the firm of D. J. Hennessy & Co., wish to return our sincere thanks to the thousands of friends and patrons who have so generously contributed to our success since we began business. To their friendship and assistance we are much indebted for our success as to our individual efforts.

We earnestly ask that the same kind patronage may be extended to the new company with which we are associated. We will now be in a better position than ever to meet the wants and wishes of our customers, and hope to see all our old and many new customers at the old stand. Respectfully, JOS. PETERS, D. J. HENNESSY, E. J. WILKINSON. Important to Cigar Dealers. If you want to suit your customers in cigars, get them made to order at D. Tietjen's cigar factory, corner 1st and Oak streets, Anaconda, Mont.

WELLS THAT ARE BAD. Cases of sickness That Are Thought to Be Due to Impure Water.

Three cases of typhoid fever are reported at the hospital, and eight or ten cases are reported by city physicians in the lower part of the town. These cases of sickness may be due to the use of water from wells, many of which are entirely unfit for use. The chief part of the city, along and east and west line and below Third street now has the city water within easy reach, and owners of property in that section should connect their dwellings with the service without delay.

No action has ever yet been taken by the proper authorities to condemn the use of wells in the lower portion of town, although some of these are in a condition that is a constant danger to the health of those who use the water for domestic purposes. It has been found, by chemical test, that in the part of the city where the wells are located, Fourth street the well water is not badly contaminated and that its use is not dangerous. Below these streets, however, wells having water of a more impure nature, in some instances, the wells themselves are made the receptacles for all sorts of refuse. The fact that the city is not yet provided with a system of sewers adds to the risk, which the people incur in using water from the wells.

This habit of drawing water from the wells in the lower part of the town ought to be discontinued, and the city should mark a prominent physician yesterday afternoon. The wonder is that occupants of the dwellings near these infested wells do not suffer more, and the appearance from the use of vile water. In many instances the wells are in a condition of filth which would warrant prompt action by the authorities and which ought to result in their being abandoned. "I do not think," he added, "that there is any danger of the spread of fever in Anaconda this season as I find a great many people use water from the wells, and in some instances of purity is all that could be asked. But the wells are bad and ought to be abandoned without delay."

FOR A BIG FIRE BELL. Provision to be Made at Once for an Alarm Service.

Five of the aldermen attended a special meeting of the board, held in the council chamber last evening. The object of the meeting was to decide on a plan for making the city fire department more effective, by providing an engine house, building a tower for an alarm bell and connecting the signal service with that now in use at the smelting works. As to the necessity for prompt action, the members of the council were of one mind. At the request of the mayor and alderman chief James Richey was present at last evening's meeting and the whole subject was thoroughly discussed.

In a store room back of the First National Bank a bell has been lying for months. It was brought into town originally in expectation that a tower would be built at once. It is now, however, in a state of disrepair, and it was always the intention of the authorities to put it in shape in good time. When Chief Richey, in his address, last evening, mentioned the whole subject of fixing up the fire service presented itself, and it was resolved to act at once.

After consultation, last evening, a plan was agreed upon and an arrangement made with Mr. Richey, who, it is understood, will retain his place at the head of the department and carry out the needed improvements in detail. It is proposed to build an engine house large enough to accommodate the ladder and hose carts. The building will be provided with a tower, on the top of which an electric light station will be placed. It is thought that a suitable lot can be secured near the corner of Oak and Main streets, that being a convenient point at which to place the engine house. Connections will be made and a signal box put near the corner occupied by MacCallum & Cloutier. If the lot can be secured, the new building will be put up without delay.

PERSONAL.

Earnest Lang of Butte came down last evening. Contractor C. J. McSherry, of Butte, is in the city. Mr. R. S. Kelley, of Deer Lodge, was in town yesterday.

Miss Nellie Stanley, of Butte, is in town visiting Mrs. Paxon. H. F. Pitus, wife and child of Phillipsburg, are in the city.

Frank R. Miles, of Stuart, came to Anaconda on business yesterday.

Chris Nielsen, of the silver Bow Brewery, is here on a visit for a few days.

Judge T. J. Fitzgerald goes to Helena this morning, to be absent a few days.

Mrs. Otto Stalman and sister, Miss Lottie Ellenbecker, made a visit to Butte yesterday.

Judge Irvine, of Butte, returned home yesterday morning, after visiting a couple of days with his family.

Thomas Douglas, formerly roadmaster of the Montana Union and now occupying a similar position with the north end of the Utah & Northern, was in town yesterday.

Notes from Miles City.

Special to the Standard. MILES CITY, Sept. 5.—The first issue of the Miles City Daily Courier, the new democratic paper, came out to-day. It is an evening paper and is bright and newsy. John Fairfield, a well known attorney here, and there has been an attempt made for county attorney, is the editor. Fairfield is an able man and there is no doubt that the editorial page under his care will attract attention, and the paper will carry its weight in the county while it remains in existence. It is not determined yet whether it is to remain after election, or whether it is to be a campaign sheet only, and there has been an attempt made to purchase a plant or open an office. It is being published by the Stock Grower's Journal plant and its office is in the office of that paper.

Fourteen copies of maps of townships and additions have been bound in book form costing $10, which will cost the county $1,500. The work was done by a lone man in a law passed by the legislature.

New Sporting Goods. Guns and ammunition at the Anaconda Hardware Co's. Loaded shells at Anaconda Hardware Co's. Guns and rifles at Anaconda Hardware Co's. Guns for rent at Anaconda Hardware Co's. Complete line of cartridges at Anaconda Hardware Co's. Coal. The Montana Lumber & Produce company are now receiving large consignments of Lehigh, stove and nut, Colorado, anthracite and Rock Springs coal, shipped especially for family use, which they are prepared to furnish to consumers at bottom prices, in small lots or by the car load.

STARTED IN FINE FORM. Major Maginnis Gives His Canvass a Glorious Send Off.

Missoula Hears the Democratic Orator and Gives Him a Grand Reception—Putting the Facts as They Are.

Special to the Standard. MISSOULA, Sept. 5.—The afternoon train from Garrison, today, brought Major Maginnis, candidate for member of congress, to Missoula. He spent the afternoon with friends, and his presence here was of particular interest, as Missoula was selected as the town for his opening speech in the campaign. At the meeting tonight there was a turnout of more than 500 people. Bennett's hall was filled to overflowing and the Major's reception was enthusiastic. He was in excellent spirits, and his address was pronounced the best he ever made in Montana. Col. Saunders who was in the hall occupied a front seat and took his medicine like a true man. The Major never lost sight of the courtesies that go with the right sort of political campaigning. His address abounded in good humor, and he bore down on the republicans, doing it all with extreme good nature.

Referring to millionaires he said that he do not suffer more men and private in the great army of labor and that new had grown up to be generals in the dinner-pail brigade. Instead of going off to Europe, squandering fortunes in dissipation and returning to the United States, he remained in Montana and spent their honest wealth among the people who had helped make them rich. They had built railroads, hoisted city water works, developed mines and canals and were at the head of banks to aid poor men in developing mines and other enterprises. He paid his respects to the republican legislature that framed the registry law defending the position of democrats on that issue and showing that the law was working unwarrantable hardships and was framed for partisan purposes. He closed with an eloquent oration in which he predicted that Montana would roll up an immense majority for the democratic party, which had governed Montana twenty-five years, and turned it over to the republicans with $100,000 surplus in the treasury. When the meeting adjourned loud cheers were given for Maginnis, Toole and the whole democratic ticket.

The Town Stirred Up.

Special to the Standard. MISSOULA, Sept. 5.—To-night cannot be booming, bon-fires are abate, and the band is playing while Mr. Maginnis is speaking at the opera house to a large sized audience. The democratic enthusiasm is at high-water mark to-night. The fight has opened, and from now on meetings will be held almost every evening by one party or the other. Among the arrangers for this evening are the Hon. T. C. Power and W. H. Dewitt.

BUTTE NOTES AND GOSSIP.

Stray Items Gathered by "The Standard's" Correspondent in the City of Smoke. Special to THE STANDARD.

A. C. Helmes, manager of the Butte Trading company was thrown from his buggy this afternoon and had his leg broken. His injuries are very serious. A number of prominent railway officials are in the city to-night. Among them are H. C. Ives, general manager of the Montana Central; B. H. Langley, general freight agent of the same line; R. J. Farrington, auditor of the Manitoba, A. S. Miller, general manager of the Northern Pacific; M. C. Kimberley, general superintendent; J. M. Hamner, general trade manager; J. W. Kendrick, chief engineer; George W. Dickinson, assistant general superintendent of machinery and Charles S. Fee, general passenger agent, all of the Northern Pacific. Their visit is not believed to have any special significance.

Over two hundred men are now employed in constructing the new sewers. The men receive $3.00 per day, the amount demanded by the strikers, and yet scarcely any of the strikers are now employed on the project. The contractors were compelled to yield to the demands of the men, they are evidently determined that those who contended for the increase in wages shall not reap any benefit from their victory.

The men employed in excavating for the new sewers, occasionally strike some very rich veins of quartz ore.

Major Hornsby is in Denver on business that will occupy his attention about a week. South Butte has become thoroughly alarmed at the frequency with which fires have occurred there recently and has organized a thoroughly efficient fire company. The necessary apparatus will be purchased at once.

W. J. McNamara is dispersing himself in the health-giving surfs of the Great Salt Lake.

The republicans held a grand rally at Centerville last night when Hon. J. E. Rickards and a number of others made speeches.

The Turn Verein societies of Montana will unite in giving a picnic at Columbia gardens next Sunday. The program of amusements is a lengthy and excellent one.

The local papers announce that the registry office will close on the 15th instant. Those who have not registered and are entitled to do so should not be misled by this statement. The offices will close on Saturday, the 14th, the following day being Sunday.

The enterprise of the publishers of the STANDARD in furnishing the people of Montana with so excellent a journal is loudly commended by the people of this city. The demand for the STANDARD here is very great already.

The political pot is seething in this city. Everywhere one goes—on the streets, at the postoffice, at the merchant's counter, on every hand—excited patriots are to be encountered earnestly discussing the relative merits and demerits of the different candidates for public office. As a rule the candidates themselves are apparently the most serene people in the city at present. A young man in the employ of Sheriff Lloyd was arrested to-night for riding furiously through the street on horse back. He was undoubtedly released on his recognizance to appear in the morning for trial.

The concert lecture given this evening in St. Patrick school for the benefit of that institution was well attended, the large lecture room being crowded to the doors. An excellent musical programme, under the directions of Prof. Carlisle, was rendered. The lecture by Father McLaughlin, on the subject of the subject, "Christian Education," was an able effort and greatly pleased those present.

A grand democratic rally will be held in the large club rooms over the Combination building on Main street, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The speakers on this occasion will be Hon. W. W. Dickson, Frank Corbett, P. J. Gilligan, C. J. Rodgers and others.
