JOHN L. IS IN EARNEST

He Aims His Views on Some Topics of National Interest.

How the Champion Would Settle the Race Troubles in the South. He Talks About the Samoan Treaty.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—John L. Sullivan was asked today inasmuch as he declared himself a candidate for congress, if he would state his ideas and policy.

"What will be your policy regarding the present race troubles in the south?"

"When it comes to floggin' men at night, whether they are white or black, I'm agin' it, see? I'd like to get down there on a committee. I'd stop all such foul work. I will not go into the ring with a negro, but, by Jupiter, I wouldn't stand by and see another white man lick him without reason! No, sir! It appears to me that the negro is at home in the south."

"What are your views on the Samoan question?"

"Blessed if I can see what business we had breaking into that ring. A quiet little mill was going on between two colored gentlemen on the island in the Pacific. Each chap thought he was a better man than the fellow in the other corner. Well, we took a hand, just as the mob broke up the fight between Heenan and Sayers. What business had we to get over those ropes? None. What was Samon to us? Why, we did not even get our quano from there. It is no good to say that we may not be right, either. I tell you we were dead wrong."

"The treaty?"

"Oh, that's all right; the senate will attend to it."

"Do you favor the repeal of the interstate commerce act?"

"It was passed to spoil the show business, and to keep every body except members of congress from getting railroad passes. It doesn't materially affect my present profession, so I presume I should favor its continuance. It serves as a sort of check upon monopolies, and may be a good thing, though badly managed."

"Will you advocate the maintenance of free zone on the Mexican frontier?"

"You bet your sweet life. There's the place for gentlemen to meet and settle all questions of superiority. I'd abolish that. It's a free zone, but it's not free. I wouldn't have that, see? The Mexicans take a wince at our civilization."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Some Boston democrats who are in Washington say that the announced candidacy for congress of John L. Sullivan is a matter of a laughing matter. Sullivan is located in what is known as "Pat Collins' district." It has a reliable democratic majority of about 100,000 votes. Sullivan is a native of that district and he would not be likely to escape the Mississippi penitentiary and cultivate a specialty in that line in the next year. The novelty of having the champion prize-fighter of the world occupying a seat in the house would undoubtedly be a novelty in the campaign and an advantage to the champion.

Colored Baptists Assailed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 12.—The national association of colored Baptists began their annual session in this city today. About one hundred delegates were present, representing almost every state in the union. Several delegates while on their way here were assailed at a small station in Georgia. They appeared before the meeting and exhibited their injuries, and Rev. E. K. Lane of Savannah gave a graphic account of the assault, which stirred the delegates to a high pitch of indignation. Many expressed themselves as being in favor of advising their southern brethren to arm themselves and resist further attack. Resolutions were adopted to urge the national association to raise its voice in uncompromising terms against these outrages, and that the grievance be laid before the president and governors of all states where these outrages are perpetrated and ask for the protection that belongs to citizens of the United States, that the facts and petition be telegraphed now to the best clerk and attorney general with a view for immediate investigation. A committee will be appointed to wait upon the president. The entire day was given up to a discussion of the assault and many advised a resort to arms.

Racing at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 12.—The inaugural meeting of the exposition driving park association opened today. The track, a half mile, is considered fast for a new one. The weather was unpleasant. The day was a success, and the races were slow owing to the heavy rains of the past week.

Work of a Whirlwind.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 12.—A whirlwind at Lulu Island, B. C., Tuesday, devastated the whole country through which it passed, uprooting gigantic trees and leaving the thickly wooded surface as bare as a board. As far as can be ascertained no lives were lost, though several houses were torn down.

ALBANY, Sept. 12.—The races today were postponed on account of rain.

RETURNING TO THEIR IDOL.

Trying Times for President Carnot and His Colleagues.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Confidence in the French government being able to hold its own against Boulangerism a fortnight hence is not so pronounced just now as it was ten days ago. The politicians whose judgment and sources of information are most respectable are beginning to hedge in their estimates. They no longer feel so sure that Boulangerism is wiped out. There has been an ugly and unfortunate quarrel inside the French cabinet between the premier, M. Tirard, and the minister of the interior, M. Constans, which vastly encourages the enemies of the republic. M. Constans has started out to organize the whole immense civil service of France for the official candidates, and has no scruples whatever about gagging and paralyzing the opposition by any and all means in his power. As the crowning capstone to his system of muzzling the press, editing the list of opposition members, and utilizing the entire postal machinery both before and after the ballots had been cast, he announced that Boulanger and Rochefort could not be candidates and that the minister of the interior summoned hastily from their vacation to support him, and the upshot has been that the decree has been withdrawn and Boulanger and Rochefort are again candidates in Montmartre and Belleville. M. Constans has tendered his resignation, but thus far M. Carnot has been able to keep him from insisting on its acceptance.

THREE TRAMPS IN AN ICE CHEST.

How a Breakman Captured Unwelcome Passengers on a Freight Train.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Sept. 12.—Tramplers on the Chicago & Alton railroad have been troubled a great deal of late by tramps. Last night three of that nomadic species boarded a freight train at Joliet. Edward Brennan, a brakeman, put them off, who reported the matter to his superior. The three tramps then got aboard another freight which was following the one Brennan was on. James Roberts, a brakeman on this train, had heard of the trouble Brennan had and lured the tramps into the ice-chest, an empty refrigerator, and attempted to lock them in, but found the fastener fastening to the top of the car broken. In order to hold the tramps Roberts was obliged to throw his weight on the door. When the tramps learned the truth they endeavored to get out, and Roberts was obliged to fight them all the way to this city, a distance of about seventy miles. The tramps seized Roberts' revolver when Roberts sat and point a revolver through the opening. They fired several shots, but Roberts kept out of range of the bullets. In order to escape he was obliged to hammer them back with a coupling-pin. This morning he landed them in this city and they were taken in charge by the police.

The Antwerp Disaster.

ANTWERP, Sept. 12.—Nothing remains of the cartridge factory in which the explosion occurred on Friday last. The village of Antwerp, which is situated 200 meters from where the factory stood and which consisted of about 400 houses, has vanished. The hydraulic machines used at the dry dock were destroyed, with the exception of the cranes. A number of merchandise dealers, including the Prussian stores, which were constructed of iron, were overturned by the force of the explosion and an immense quantity of goods ruined. The explosion was caused by the bursting of a shell in the Prussian stores, which were broken by the concussion, but the building is intact. According to the official report 135 persons were killed, 200 injured, and 200 seriously injured, and 200 slightly injured.

For Saving a Life.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 12.—James E. Wilson of this city, who is 29 years of age, at Cape May and saved from drowning Henry Van Scot, a retired sea captain of Hempstead, L. I. Mr. Wilson received as a reward a $100 bill. He returned thanks and forgot the incident. Mr. Wilson today is a freight conductor on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. Captain Van Scot died at Danville, O., a few days ago and left a fortune of $200,000. He bequeathed $10,000 of it to Mr. Wilson as an additional reward. Mr. Wilson says that $10,000 will put him on his feet. He will go to Hempstead and claim his windfall.

Left Her Money to Charities.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 12.—The will of Mrs. Ellen M. Gifford of New Haven, widow of Arthur N. Gifford of New York, who died last week after giving a legacy of $150,000 to her own and husband's relatives and $50,000 to various friends, leaves the rest of her property, amounting to nearly $300,000, to charitable objects.

LOST IN THE BIG STORM

Many Vessels Wrecked All Along the Atlantic Coast.

Sailors Swallowed Up by the Angry Waves. Several Steamships Suffered Great Damage Done at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 12.—It is estimated that $100,000 will not cover the loss to Atlantic City and her interests by the late storm. Great joy was manifested this morning when a messenger was dispatched throughout the city to announce that the first train since Monday afternoon would start at 10 o'clock. A rush was made for the Camden & Atlantic railroad station, and in less than half an hour it was crowded enough to fill the five sections sent out. The first section had eight passenger coaches and a baggage car. Every car was crowded, even to the standing-room space. The trip across the meadows was one not soon to be forgotten. Hundreds of pleasure boats of all sizes and description were packed close to the road-bed. The masts of many of these had to be cut away to permit the trains to cross the long beach. The west inlet cut through the sands above Seabright is being rapidly widened and deepened by the assaults of the surf. The streets on the west side of Seabright are still under six feet of water.

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N. J., Sept. 12.—The storm in this vicinity was the worst known since the great blizzard. No lives have been lost, but the following properties were destroyed: Meschee house and pavilion, Duboise cottage, Roberts' house and pavilion, Burke's two houses, the houses of Dr. Hutchinson, Needham, Babcock and others. At Wildwood, the hotel is a total loss and part of the sea wall is gone. Sea Isle City, Ocean City and Avalon are entirely cut from the continent by railroad, road and telegraph, and the extent of damage at the latter places can only be surmised. The report that Townsend's schooner bridge and island were blown off Sea Isle were destroyed, is generally believed here. The entire meadows are one vast sheet of water. An Anglesa train at midnight by the sound of voices. As he neared the place a woman in full dress was seen coming from an alleyway. The policeman pursued her, but not in season to overtake her before she was assisted to a covered carriage and driven rapidly away. Returning to the house, the policeman found only a dangling knot of sheets, which was afterward found to be attached to the top of the chimney of the building. Last night the other occupants of the building were disturbed by a great racket. The woman's voice rose loud above the tumult. At 12 o'clock it broke out again and was heard all over the town.

Annie is a brunette. Her height is about four feet and ten inches and she weighs 110 pounds. She is dressed in a blue and white dress and has been that of flirtation. It is reported that she was seen in the City park last evening in company with a strange man, who is believed to be the man who was seen in the building. A thorough search has been instituted and the matter placed in the hands of the police.

YAST IRRIGATION SCHEME

Over 1,000,000 Acres in Washington and Oregon to be Improved.

NORTH WYOMING, Sept. 12.—J. D. McIntyre, irrigation engineer of Montana, has arrived in this city and put two corps of engineers on the field to locate the lines of a vast irrigation system. A company consisting of a number of members of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific railroad, Charles A. Gregory, William J. Bryson and G. A. Young of Chicago, and Walter N. Grainger, J. D. McIntyre and Albert Kleinschmidt of Helena has entered into a contract and purchased over 1,000,000 acres of the Northern Pacific country in Washington and Montana and has placed several parties of engineers in the field to lay out the lines of canals for construction. This will be the most extensive system of irrigation canals and storage reservoirs ever undertaken in the northwest. The most active field of operation at present will be in the Snake River valley, which is a territory, and between the West Gallatin and Madison rivers in Montana. In each of these localities the company has bought all the land within a radius of many miles and will build at least 100 miles of canal. It is understood the water and land will both be thrown open to settlers as soon as the canals are built in Yakima county. The company has purchased all the railroad company's land between North Yakima and the Columbia river.

Beat Carver's Record.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Dr. Bartlett today concluded successfully his attempt to beat Dr. Carver's record of breaking 60,000 glass balls in six days. Dr. Bartlett began on Saturday at 6:30 a. m. and continued twelve hours a day. On the first day he broke 12,023, Sunday 10,017, Monday 10,165, Tuesday 10,594, Wednesday 9,868, Thursday 11,635, Friday 10,222, p. m. today, with a total of 64,017. Dr. Bartlett also achieved the phenomenal record of breaking 100 balls in eight seconds.

Searle Challenges Gaudaur.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—John A. St. John received a telegram from Harry Ernest Searle, champion sculler, offering to row Gaudaur on the Allegheny in a month for $2,500 a side, otherwise he will row him on the Parametta. St. John says Gaudaur will not row on the Allegheny or Parametta, but is willing to row on any English or Irish lake. The Searle-Gaudaur race takes place at McKeesport, Pa., tomorrow and is exciting great interest.

Ghost Stories Denied.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 13.—Items aloft from Lynchburg to the effect that 17 men were killed in a mine disaster at Jellico is entirely untrue. The story probably originated from the fact that a colored man was injured two days ago by falling slate.

Royalty Greets Royalty.

HANOVER, Sept. 12.—Emperor William met the czarowitz at the railway station in this city. After the usual ceremonial greetings they drove together to the castle.

A BIG POLITICAL SCHEME

To Make Montana and Washington Republican by Colonizing.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 12.—A gigantic political scheme has been disclosed in this city. It involves making Washington and Montana solidly republican. The Iowa conference of the African Methodist church has just closed its session here. The Rev. T. W. Henderson, of Chicago, made an elaborate report on "The State of the Country," in which he recommended southern negroes to emigrate to the new states of the northwest, particularly Washington and Montana. The conference adopted the report by acclamation. An interview with Mr. Henderson confirms the suspicion that this proposed colonization of negroes is really a republican political move of the largest dimensions. Said Mr. Henderson: "I have lived for a great many years in the south, and am quite conversant with the colored people to whom that state originated and conducted the great exodus of my people from the state of Mississippi to Kansas in 1872. We got over sixty thousand colored people to move to that state. Gave most of them a mule and sold them forty acres of land each, on five and ten years' time. It was a great success. Many of them are now rich; all of them are well-to-do. This movement has been quietly worked for a long time, and will be continued in that way until we have scattered Montana and Washington territories from end to end with refugees. Plantation negroes are no better off now than they were before the war. The movement is thoroughly organized, and on such a solid basis that no one in the south will realize how the colored folks have escaped until all are gone who wish to go. We have a better underground railroad now than existed in the days of old John Brown."

When asked who was furnishing the funds, Mr. Henderson would not say.

A YOUNG WIFE DISAPPEARS

She Lets Herself Down From a Window With a Rope Made of Sheets.

LEWISTOWN, Mo., Sept. 12.—Anna Desjardins, a French Canadian woman, 19 years of age, living with her husband, to whom she was married eight months ago, in a second story tenement on Lincoln street mysteriously disappeared last night. The policeman on the Lincoln street beat was attracted to the locality in which she lived at midnight by the sound of voices. As he neared the place a woman in full dress was seen coming from an alleyway. The policeman pursued her, but not in season to overtake her before she was assisted to a covered carriage and driven rapidly away. Returning to the house, the policeman found only a dangling knot of sheets, which was afterward found to be attached to the top of the chimney of the building.
