TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1889.

TO CHALLENGED VOTERS

Your right to vote has been assailed by the republican party without warrant or reason. The flimsy grounds for these challenges cannot be sustained in any court. The best lawyers in the territory say that you have a perfect right to vote. Do not listen to any one who tries to frighten you from casting your ballot on election day. All that is necessary for you to do is to go to the polling place, make out your ballot and swear it in. No man has any right to stop you, no judge of election has any power to do you injury hereafter; and every good citizen will be at your back to sustain you.

MARCUS DALY, Chairman of the Democratic Committee.

The polls open at 8 o'clock this morning. They close at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Get your vote in early. Some of the city precincts are large and the republican plan to compel oaths in many cases will retard work at the polls. Be on hand early and thus make sure of ample time to mark a cross after the name of every democrat on the ticket.

Don't hurry to-day when you get into the polling booth. Take time to put the cross after every democrat's name.

Seligman says in a dispatch sent yesterday to Butte that "Daly got a promise of the permanent capital from Toole and Maginnis." Bully for Daly! We hope he got the promise, although we don't believe he did. It would be worth many votes to democrats if Mr. Daly would confirm the story this morning,—but let us hope that Seligman will not be removed to this town with the capital.

SETTLE IT TO-DAY

Let no man rob you of your rights to-day. If you are a legal voter, present yourself before the judges, who alone can call you in question, and heed the threat of no man who tries to bar your approach to the ballot box. Appeal is made to every voter in this city to put forth every effort to the end that to-day's election may be distinguished by the quiet and good order which, in the past, has characterized elections in this city.

See to it, democrats, that perfect order prevails, no matter how great the provocation arising from the attempts of republican plotters to interfere with citizens in the exercise of their political rights or to intimidate men whose title to suffrage cannot be questioned. Stand up to-day and be counted!

Achieve a victory of peace, a triumph which will silence forever the lying tongue of slander!

Put into the ballot box your protest against federal marshals whose high-handed course has made the shot-gun plan a part of republican political methods in this city.

Meet the opposition on its own grounds. Deserting the candidates on their own ticket, republican managers and the republican press have seen fit to level their assaults on one of your own townsmen who has been mercilessly branded as a conspirator against the public good, a citizen of dishonest purpose, a debaucher of the popular will, a traitor to Montana and an enemy of the common people!

Settle this issue to-day! If Marcus Daly is the dishonest and dangerous citizen he is represented to be, vote with the republican party which has assailed his character and his record with venomous persistence. If he is a man of superb patriotism, a public-spirited citizen, a gentleman of generous impulse, who shares in the misfortunes and afflictions of thousands of workmen he has gathered about him, if he is just toward his fellows, helpful to the needy, kind to the lowly, prompt to help every worthy cause and ready to assist in every good work,—if these qualities have been manifested during all the years of Marcus Daly's residence in this territory, let your verdict be so recorded to-day; and let the city whose happiness and prosperity are nearer his heart than all other considerations, save only an untarnished name for himself and his children, make his vindication so emphatic that the voice of foul slander shall be silenced forever!

Democrats of the county of Deer Lodge, you can settle the issue to-day if you will! See to it that order controls every polling place in this city and get every legal vote recorded! Take care of every democrat on the ticket and make the victory sweeping and complete!

Chairman Seligman's latest effort is to the effect that the bosses in the Anaconda mine threaten a shut-down for two years if the democrats are defeated. Seligman is a rum one. There never was imported into this territory an animal with ears long enough to match him. He positively takes the picket fence.

THE FINAL INSULT.

A canvass which republican managers have run after the manner of cowards from first to last, ends with a dastardly attempt to try the shot-gun policy on this city.

There is no more orderly town in this territory than Anaconda. Its population is largely made up of mechanics and laborers employed at the vast smelting works that border on the town. Hundreds of these men have lived in this city since it was founded. Once and again the whole body of workmen has been put to test in times of undue excitement or confusion, but their conduct has uniformly been such as to stamp them as citizens who love peace, who respect constituted authority and who are prepared to defend the dignity of law and order under all circumstances and at all hazards.

The people never asked any organized political body to send federal officers here to keep the peace, to enforce any law or to protect any man. They resent the insult inflicted by the remarkable conduct of the Marshal in this territory in sending out commissions to twenty deputies, with instructions to keep the peace in a city whose police protection is ample for any emergency, and whose mayor and council are fully able to guarantee the fullest right of citizenship to every voter who presents himself at the polls.

Federal authority never lent itself to meaner work than this. Never before have the rights of individuals in this community been more grossly assailed or the good name of a prosperous and law-abiding community been held up to contempt by an office-holding oligarchy. We shall win to-day; and our cause is strengthened by the unwarrantable restraint which republican authority seeks to put upon us. But, win or lose, this city will keep in lively remembrance the partisan gang which has sought to humble the community and bring its people into disrepute.

The arch-liar of the campaign is the man who says that Seligman tells the truth or knows how to run a political campaign.

OUTSIDE OF POLITICS.

It is not in the mind of this newspaper to use the names of prominent republicans of Anaconda for any partisan advantage. These gentlemen sign the protest printed this morning because they feel that the action of the United States Marshal is a direct insult to the people of this city, regardless of the political relations of any man within its four peaceful and order-loving wards. The signers of the protest are republicans whose loyalty to their party has been too frequently attested as that it should be called in question now.

But these gentlemen do not hesitate to resent the open insult visited upon the city by an officious federal officer, for whose course no fair-minded man pretends to frame an excuse. No request for the appointment of federal spies was ever made by any body of men in this city who may be called, in any sense, the representative members of the republican party—and the protest itself is proof of the fact.

Outside of political considerations of every nature, the STANDARD deeply regrets the ill-timed action of the Marshal. His high-handed course is an insult to this city, a slur on its good name and an affront on every one of its law-abiding people.

Those deputy marshals will monkey with the voters at every opportunity. Go early to the polls, so that these republican minions cannot crowd you out.

Thomas C. Power had unlimited opportunity to make personal inspection of the works of the Anaconda company in this city, yesterday afternoon. He was not escorted by any officer of the works. It is Mr. Power's own testimony that he could not find one man who, in the most confidential conversation, was prepared to say that anyone had sought in any way to influence his action at the polls. Mr. Power had absolute right of way through the works. Either his testimony is true or he must have been "coerced" when he wired to Helena last night: "I find things in fair shape in Anaconda."

Take care of the whole democratic legislative ticket to-day.

BUTTE'S FIRE.

The actual loss by Sunday's fire in Butte will hardly be covered by one-third of a million. The insurance carried by the victims of the fire will fall far short of the total loss, and to this must be added the immense injury resulting to merchants of that city in the interruption to business which will follow the disaster by fire. The one comforting fact is that, under forbidding circumstances, the firemen and citizens, by dint of courageous fighting, were able to prevent far greater disaster than is now recorded, and to stay the flames from spreading over a business district, entailing destruction which would be well nigh beyond estimating.

All the generous words of hearty commendation uttered in praise of the Butte firemen are more than merited, while the expressions of sympathy with the losers in Butte find warm response with the people in the city of Anaconda.

Butte has a double duty before it. That city is large enough to equip a fire department far better suited to its needs than it now has at command. It is behind the average American city in this respect, and there is no excuse for it. In the second place the large license given to people who erect buildings in Butte is unwarrantably large. In this matter all cities have a right to place the individual under restraints which are demanded by considerations resting on the general good and the public safety, and it is the first duty of the municipal authorities to see that these restraints are provided and then that they are rigidly enforced.

Nothing will cross you to-morrow if you cross the ticket properly.

STANDARD TOPICS.

Quay has declared in favor of Chicago as the site for the world's fair. Chicago has subscribed $10,000,000 boodle you know.

A man was taken out of the Quebec land slide after having been buried 108 hours. He must have felt considerably under the weather.

A green parrot escaped from its cage in Brooklyn last Wednesday, and after being chased all over the city took refuge in a police station. He gave himself up voluntarily, as it were.

There was a pound party at the home of Mrs. Abies, of Corralitos, Santa Cruz county, California, on September 28. She gave birth to a lively and perfectly formed boy, weighing just 16 ounces.

The working plumbers of Portland are on a strike. They are relying on Providence to help them out by hastening the cold weather so that the pipes of the citizens will freeze up and burst. Providence may give them a temporary lift, but in the end Providence will find them steady places where the pipes never freeze.

Judge Field has presented Nagle, who he considers saved his life by shooting Judge Terry, with a magnificent gold watch and chain appropriately engraved. Nagle did a timely act, and no mistake.

The New York World advises the president to find a deal mate for the office of commissioner of pensions. Corporal Tanner has been accused of having too much mouth, but here is an intimation that his ears, also, were somewhat out of proportion.

The horsefly is the most cruel and blood-thirsty of the fly species. He is armed with four lancets, so sharp and strong that they will penetrate leather, says the Country Gentleman. Wonder if he could produce any impression on the cheek of Brother O'Bannon.

Mrs. Harrison is in receipt of nearly 30 requests a day for pieces of her dresses and clippings from the president's neckties. The requests come from people who desire to use the piece in crazy quilts. Nearly everybody is crazy for a piece of this administration in one form or another.

If any man attempts to resist the sheriff of Topeka, Kansas, the sheriff puts him to sleep. A lunatic who had shot his wife, barricaded himself in his house and held the crowd at bay with his revolver. The Topeka sheriff, filling a hose syringe with chloroform, got the drop on him man through a transom over the door, and the lunatic was in jail before he knew it.

To produce the hardest and best turkey, cross a bronze gobbler with hen produced by crossing the wild turkey on the common hen; if the wild turkey cross can not be obtained, use the common hen, says the Rocky Mountain Husbandman. There is no use being so cross about it so far as we can see. If the voters of Montana only cross their tickets to-day, the result will be very gratifying to the democracy of the nation.

Miss Peltier of Mt. Clemens, Mich., is in hard luck. She became fascinated with Henry C. Kimball, the manager of a matrimonial bureau. He promised to marry her and went to Grand Rapids to find a house. She shipped all her belongings to him and followed on, only to find that he had sold the goods and decamped with the money. Miss Peltier can thank her stars that he didn't take her life along with the rest of her things.

To-day is moving day in New York city. Times have changed since the first of May used to be the truckman's joy and the housewife's despair. Under the old way renters used to go into the country or to the seashore for the summer when their leases expired on the first of May, and they would not lease another house until they returned in the fall, storing their furniture in the meantime. The owners of houses and flats now have the dead cinch on their tenants.

Mrs. Napoleon Michel is suing the proprietor of a Quebec boarding-house for $10,000, because her husband, while a guest at the house, was choked to death in attempting to swallow a piece of beef-steak which his jaws had been unable to masticate. The defense will probably show that the man had no business tackling the steak. Under all boarding-house rules he should have waited until the steak had been reduced to hash, reserving his jaws for exclusive use upon pie.

The managing editor of the Fargo Argus resolved to get the haul on all his esteemed contemporaries in reporting the Brown hanging, which occurred on September 20. He had one of his reporters arrested and lodged in jail. The enterprising reporter was made to scrub the floor and perform other menial services, and when the hour of execution came was removed to a distant part of the jail. The whole thing must have looked to the reporter like a cell.

From the Detroit Free Press.
There is no such animal as a skunk in Japan, nor is there such a word in their vocabulary. The meanest thing a Jap can say about his fellow-man when mad all the way through is to call him a silver fox. An American couldn't live in that country under such a state of affairs.

Chauncey M. Depew in Book Form.
From the New York Sun.
It is reported that the orations and after-dinner speeches of Mr. Chauncey M. Depew are soon to be published in a volume. Thus the fame of this brilliant and witty speaker will be perpetuated for the entertainment of posterity. There are few men whose after-dinner speeches could be made a permanent part of America.

The Ocean Depths.

From Iron.
The greatest known depth of the sea is in the South Atlantic ocean, midway between the island of Tristan d'Acunha and the mouth of the Rio de la Plata. The bottom was there reached at a depth of 40,238 feet, or eight and three-quarter miles, as reported by more than 17,000 feet the height of Mount Everest, the loftiest mountain in the world. In the North Atlantic ocean, south of Newfoundland, soundings have been made to a depth of 4,580 fathoms, or 27,480 feet, while depths equaling 34,000 feet, or six and a half miles, are reported by south of the Bermuda Islands. The average depth of the Pacific ocean between Japan and California is a little over 2,000 fathoms; between Chili and the Sandwich Islands, 2,500; and between Chili and New Zealand, 1,500 fathoms. The average depth of all the ocean is from 2,000 to 2,500 fathoms.
