THE WEATHER. The daily record of the thermometer in this city is reported by A. T. Playter, druggist, First street. The record for yesterday was: 7 a. m., 46 degrees; 12 m., 67 degrees; 4 p. m., 81 degrees; 8 p. m., 56 degrees.

Subscriptions to the Standard will be received at the business office, or at the store of Crockett & King, Main street. Advertising rates can be learned at the business office, Standard Building, corner of Main and Third streets.

ABOUT THE CITY.

The regular meeting of the Montana Medical association will take place at Helena tomorrow evening.

The final rally of the republicans was held last night in the French hall. Gen. Sheridan was the principal speaker.

Election returns will be received tonight and displayed in front of the democratic committee rooms, in the Montana.

The new fire engine house is rapidly approaching completion. It will present a handsome appearance when it is done.

The election polls open at 8 o'clock this morning and close at 5 o'clock to-night. Voters are urged to be on hand early in the day.

The change in the Montana Union time card brought disappointment to several people in this town who do not read the STANDARD.

The annual encampment of the Montana national guards will take place at Boseman, beginning next week. It will continue seven days.

Bets on the result of the election were not freely offered in this city yesterday. The success of the democratic ticket in Deer Lodge appears to be conceded.

The affectionate interest which republican managers in distant counties have lately taken in the poor down-trodden sons of toil at Anaconda, has excited the ridicule of laboring men in this city.

John Richards got drunk and went to sleep in an alley, for taking which liberty Justice Fitz Patrick yesterday fined him $10 and costs. Thomas Cronin did the same thing and was driven out of town.

An enthusiastic meeting of Italian democrats was held last night, in the hall on second floor of the STANDARD building. Excellent addresses were made and a spirit of enthusiasm for the democratic ticket was manifested.

Where to Vote. The polling places of the city to-day are: First precinct, comprising the lower end of the First ward, at the California House, Front street. Second precinct, comprising the upper end of the First ward, at Charles Dubey's boarding house, corner of Cherry and Front streets.

The polling place of Carroll is at the French hall, Fourth street. The polling place of Carroll is at the school house, the voters of Blue Eyed Nellie mine district will cast their ballots at E. G. Brown's school house instead of at the mine, as formerly.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT. A Bold Crook Attempts to Steal Two Coats From in Front of a Store.

In broad daylight yesterday afternoon Michael Murphy unfastened two coats from forms in front of the store of the D. Hennessy Mercantile company, and started to walk off with them. He was detected in the act by a clerk, who gave an alarm, and the man was promptly arrested and taken before Justice Fitzpatrick.

The value of the coats was $45, or $5 less than the amount which constituted the grand larceny. The case was so flagrant that the court imposed the full penalty of the law, sentencing Murphy to 90 days in the county jail and to pay $100 and costs. As the fellow has no money, he will be obliged to stay in jail about five months. Murphy was a new comer in town, and is probably an old jail-bird.

AN INSULT TO THE CITY

A Brace of Federal Spies Appointed for Election Day.

Twenty United States Deputy Marshals Named by Republican Officials to Keep the Peace in Anaconda—The Outrage Resented by Prominent Members of that Party.

Anaconda was astir at noon yesterday, when it was learned that a republican federal official, Marshal Irvin, had appointed twenty United States deputy marshals to run the election and preserve order in this city. The story was not credited at first. It is notorious that elections in this city have always passed off peacefully and that the city authorities have never found the slightest difficulty in providing ample police protection for every precinct in town.

As soon as the news of the appointment of the deputies was confirmed, men of prominence in local republican circles assumed to denounce the outrage and to disclaim all responsibility for it. These gentlemen openly declared that the action of United States Marshal Irvin was an insult to the city, especially to its leading republicans whom he had not chosen to consult, that there was not the slightest cause for the appointment of a troop of special officers, and that the mayor himself had full authority to arrange for all the police service that night, under any circumstances be required on election day.

Thomas C. Power, republican candidate for governor, who spent yesterday in this city, himself remarked last evening, that he could not see why federal officers should be named for service at the polls to-day.

It did not take long for prominent republicans in town to decide on a course of action. A formal protest was hastily drawn up, and submitted to leading members of the party. They were unanimous in their approval of its language, coinciding in the opinion that it ought to be forwarded to Marshal Irvin without delay. Men who have been loyal republicans for a life time, and whose party services entitles them to distinguished respect, attached their names to the protest without hesitation. It is said that not one republican to whom the protest was presented, expressed the slightest desire to withhold his name. The numbers of signers to the protest could easily have been run into the hundreds, but that the time for securing signatures was very limited. As it was, the names now attached to the protest, with others added a little later in the day, were obtained in less than forty minutes.

The deputies named by Marshal Irvin are:

- Thos. G. Edwards, Mike Louth, Mike Mullen, J. N. Leavengood, John S. Krohn, James Kibbey, George Thatchler, W. P. Nichols, Frank Hadley, John Keadig.

Some of the deputies declined to serve. Commissions were received for the whole posse, but it was said last evening that only thirteen were to be furnished with badges. Still later it was whispered that the whole outfit had been withdrawn. There was not the slightest occasion for the appointment of the deputies, unless it be that, in addition to the insults piled on Anaconda citizens during the campaign, some sneaking scheme is to be sprung to-day regarding which the citizens of Anaconda have not been warned. Mayor Mahan had taken all the precautions usually required in the city on days of election, assuming that there was no reason to anticipate trouble of any sort at the polls. Democratic voters and workers were earnestly urged last night to avoid all conflict with Marshal Irvin's offensive appointees and to maintain complete order at the polls, to the extent of their ability.

The protest was addressed to George W. Irvin, United States marshal of the territory, and reads thus:

We, the undersigned, mayor, city council and republican voters of this city do most earnestly protest against the appointment of United States deputy marshals to preserve the peace here on the day of election. The existing provisions of our municipal authorities for the preservation of law and order at all times are ample, and your interference has aroused a strong feeling of indignation amongst the citizens of Anaconda and is considered an undeserved insult and contemned as such.

- Signed: H. T. Mahan, Mayor. Aldermen—James Johnson, J. T. Quigley, P. J. Maloney, Thomas Murray, Silas A. Higgins, A. C. MacCallum, Dennis Showlin, Wm. Sobah, J. R. Boardman, City Attorney. James McNulty, City Treasurer. James Richey, Chief of the Fire Department. James M. Moore, Postmaster. F. A. Wyman, M. G. Triol, David Lewis, Wm. Bell, O. T. Onarheim, D. E. Loser, Dan Boudries, Mike Mullen, John Merrill, J. G. Quinn, W. C. Converse, A. J. LePage, Peter Geisler, Theo. Ehret, C. S. Williams, Assistant P. M., John A. Rice, Arthur L. Stone, A. P. Pohndorf, J. P. Dunin, M. S. Martin & Co., H. J. Allen, F. W. Chase, W. F. Clark, Geo. W. Brown, C. B. Harris, Joseph F. Murray, M. F. Linden, J. P. McDonough, I. F. Kirby, M. S. Aseheim, H. R. Brown, T. B. Malloy, S. D. Beche, Jacob Bertsch, and many others.

BACKING MAGINNIS.

Special to the Standard. HELENA, Sept. 30.—Last night Broadwater bet Selligman, of the republican committee to a standstill. Broadwater bet on Maginnis up to $12,000 and Selligman declined to go higher. All day, the backers of Carter in this city have been demanding odds in Carter's favor.

CLOSING THE CAMPAIGN.

The Final Democratic Meeting at Evans Hall Full of Enthusiasm. The last meeting of the campaign was held by the democrats at Evans hall last evening, and was largely attended. An earnest and eloquent address was delivered by Hon. Lars M. Rand of Minneapolis. Mr. Rand enumerated a few of the reasons why those present should be proud of the democratic party. Since the days of Grant the democratic party has had a majority of the popular vote of the country in every election. It has been the friend of the mining interests always and has accomplished much in that direction, although hampered by the republicans.

It is instead of spending money for the navy, republicans have spent the people's money in carrying out the tariff. He said that the democratic party has always been willing to spend money suitable to a progressive government, yet the republicans have been the friends of the tariff. The speaker showed the fallacy of Janes G. Blaine's claim to be the friend of American labor. He pronounced Joseph K. Toole an ideal American and a striking parallel between his record and that of his rival for governor. He called on the voters to send forth the giants of intellect to new offices. He said that he paid a glowing tribute to Martin Maginnis and pronounced him the friend of the Scandinavian as well as of all honest workingmen.

Judge O'Leary of this city followed and made a telling argument on the tariff question, showing the oppression of the present tariff on the people. He said that Montana territory under democratic rule had $146,000 in the treasury with no debt, but under one year of republican rule this sum had been squandered and the territory will become a state $10,000 in debt. The other new states, having been under republican rule, will enter largely in debt. The meeting was very enthusiastic.

All Levity in Billings.

Special to the Standard. BILLINGS, Sept. 30.—The political situation here looks favorable to the democrats. Conrad's candidacy will do much toward making democratic votes as it is very popular. There is no doubt but that the county will go republican on the state ticket as it is a republican county, but the democrats are confident of cutting down the majority from last year. Both sides here been working very hard, and to-night the republicans wound up their labors with a caucus. George R. Mills, the republican candidate of this district, is conceded as having the best show for being elected, although his opponent, Dr. W. A. Burleigh, has been making a personal canvass of the county. In Custer county the democratic outlook is very favorable. The politics in that county have assumed a ring shape, and the democratic evening paper published at Miles City, has done great work in stirring it up. If the democratic party is successful in Custer, a great change of fortune can be laid to Fairfield and his paper.

GREAT FALLS IN LINE.

The Democrats All Ready to Do Their Duty at the Polls To-Day. Special to the Standard.

GREAT FALLS, Sept. 30.—There was a grand democratic rally at Arion Hall to-night. Speeches were made by Charles Wegman, Robert S. Ford, George W. Taylor and William Cockrell. The excitement was intense. Cheers were given for Toole, Maginnis, and Jerry Collins. Judge Bach, in response to a general request, made some remarks. He avoided carefully all political discussion, but spoke impressively of the friendly assurances he had received alike from democrats and republicans claiming that Carter will be elected. He said that he would be glad to see the democrats win, and that he would be glad to see the republicans win, and that he would be glad to see the people win. He said that he would be glad to see the people win, and that he would be glad to see the people win.

NOTES FROM DEER LODGE.

DEER LODGE, Sept. 30.—Dr. A. H. Mitchell has returned from Idaho. Edward S. Stockpole of Tennessee, for many years postmaster of Deer Lodge, came in yesterday on a visit to old friends. He looks the picture of good health, but is not so fleshy as formerly.

Miss Lizzie Kennedy left last night via Salt Lake for her home in Florida. Both political parties have been quietly and systematically at work to-day preparing for the election. He avoided carefully all political discussion, but spoke impressively of the friendly assurances he had received alike from democrats and republicans claiming that Carter will be elected. He said that he would be glad to see the democrats win, and that he would be glad to see the republicans win, and that he would be glad to see the people win.

Democratic Confidence in Missoula.

Special to the Standard. MISSOULA, Sept. 30.—To-night the democrats closed their campaign with the grandest demonstration ever seen in this city. A brilliant procession extending for three blocks in length escorted R. B. Smith and William Wallace, Jr., to the court house. The speaking took place in the open air, as there was no hall in the city capable of holding half the crowd. Mr. Smith exposed the falsehoods and misstatements by the republican orators in this campaign. His talk was directed in the main to the laboring men, and his hearers could not refrain from cheering. The tire democratic county and legislative ticket will be elected, and Maginnis and the state will receive a lift in Missoula county.

Four Prisoners Break Jail.

Special to the Standard. GREAT FALLS, Sept. 30.—Much surprise was caused to-night by the news that four prisoners broke jail, leaving there only a Chinese and half breed who refused to quit. The escapees included Hanlan and Hutchinson, charged with cattle stealing, and McCanley known as the Demogel peddler, who was awaiting the action of the grand jury for forgery in raising notes.

THEY WILL BUILD AGAIN

Butte's Burned District to Rise From Its Ashes.

Losses That Will Not Fall Short of a Third of a Million—Incidents That Were Gathered the Day After the Fire.

Special to the Standard. BUTTE, Sept. 30.—All last night a cordon of special policemen and volunteer firemen surrounded the smoking ruins of the great fire. A dozen flickering little fires here and there were all that remained of the great conflagration which destroyed hundreds of thousands of dollars in property and was the most costly in Butte's history. Before midnight the fire companies ceased playing on the ruins and began reeling up the hose which had done faithful service. Fully 500 feet of hose was rendered worthless, having been burned. After the great excitement of the day, the night was the quietest one Butte has experienced in years. Except the faithful watchers about the fire, citizens, visitors and firemen alike, exhausted completely, went home and to bed.

But early this morning the crowds of eager sightseers were early on the scene, inspecting the dismal ruins. The story of the fire was rehearsed in all its aspects and again were the firemen complimented for their splendid service. As the day wore on, however, the fire became an old story and with customary push and enterprise the business men of Butte turned their minds from the gloomy wreck of the flames to plans of the future. This afternoon the ruins are still smoking; but the fire is over and the men who have suffered the heaviest losses have employed gangs of men to pull down toppling walls, and clearing away debris, and are drawing plans for other and more elegant buildings to replace at once those that have been destroyed. All day a gang of fifty workmen were at the former place, and the skeleton walls of the Hennessy building. John O'Rourke told the STANDARD reporter in one week he would have all the debris cleared away, and in one month the new building will be up and ready for occupancy. D. J. Hennessy has already rented the prospective building. Inasmuch as the least cost is complete, there will be no delay through the adjustment of losses. Mr. O'Rourke's building rented for $6,000 a year. The new building will be a first-story instead of a two-story brick.

The First National bank this morning established quarters in the real estate office of Murphy & Maginnis, directly across from the former place, and went into business. There was quite a run on the bank, but everything was met promptly and unobtrusively. The bank will rebuild right away. Whether the new building will be two or three stories will depend on whether all the walls will have to come down or not. The new building will be three stories, otherwise the same as before.

Henry Jonas, owner of the Kahnweiler building, will rebuild at once, and Kahnweiler will occupy it again. The rear wall and perhaps the side walls will be torn down. The work of rebuilding will begin as soon as the insurance is adjusted. John M. Bowser, the owner of the new hotel where the fire started, told the STANDARD that he would not rebuild until spring, as he fears cold weather will come so soon as to interfere with the work. But the hotel will be built in the spring, and will be much larger. Three small frame buildings between the hotel and the rear of Kahnweiler's bazaar, where the property of Mr. Bowser, and instead of rebuilding these he will extend the hotel over that ground.

The Bishop block on the north side of Granite street will need much repairing, and this work will be done at once. A. W. Barnard could not say whether the block will be rebuilt this fall or wait until spring. It will depend on whether materials of proper nature are available. But he will surely build in the spring and the new block will be a two-story brick, as before.

The Bonner Mercantile store, Babcock's hat store and Power's clothing store are closed until the adjustment of fire and life insurance adjusters are already at work.

The eight physicians who were burned out have mostly secured temporary quarters. There is a good deal of rivalry among the dentists of Butte, but no sooner was Dr. J. M. Reid burned out, than Dr. Ayvick, a rival dentist, went at once to Dr. Reid and offered him the use of his office, instruments and anything else he had. Dr. Howard, the coroner, saved only a suit of clothes and a few books. Dr. Reid and Curtis & Major courteously permitted Dr. Howard to hang up his slate in their office. Of all the other physicians, Dr. Gleason is the only one who saved anything. He risked his own life and his face is a horrible sight—a mass of blisters.

The police have also been busy to-day and are following the wrecks who stole goods from Babcock's store. George E. Ferris was found in the possession of a large number of stolen goods and it was found that he had sold many. Dr. McLarran reported that he had bought a pair of gloves of this man last night. He had also been seen to sell hats, caps and shoes. Dr. Reid was arrested in Mesadorville by Marshal McArthur. Nick Ayres was arrested by Officers Walters and Murray for stealing powder and cigars. John Kelly was arrested by Officer Leyden for stealing and trying to sell a hat which was the property of Babcock. The police are on the track of several other thieves.

When the fire was at its fiercest yesterday afternoon, occurred an incident which well illustrates the despair of Main street citizens at the time. Wm. M. Jack was putting up the iron shutters in front of his hardware store, Jas. H. Lynch, it is said, at once offered $1,000 for the iron shutters for his store across the way. The offer was refused.

William Chapman, the man who was buried under the falling walls, is reported to have been rescued by Officer Leyden from his home on Wyoming street, South Butte. It is thought he will live. P. Cattauer, A. Cattauer and T. H. Reese were arrested for driving over bridges.

The total loss by the fire is estimated at about $350,000. A little more than half the property destroyed is covered by insurance. The theory of the incendiary advanced by some is not generally credited. It is not deemed probable that at noonday in the center of the city, with workmen engaged in the same building, it could have been set afire.

PERSONAL.

Thomas C. Power spent yesterday in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy have returned from their wedding trip and have taken up their residence in this city. The family of Marcus Daly are expected in Anaconda this week. Lars M. Rand and General Sheridan were guests at the Montana yesterday.
