THE JURY BOX IS FILLED

Twelve Men Finally Secured to Pass Judgment Upon Cronin's Assassins.

Eleven Hundred Venire Men Examined and Seven Weeks Consumed Before the Jury Was Completed—Ready for the Evidence.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A complete jury was secured in the Cronin case late this afternoon. When this work had been finished the state's attorney asked for an adjournment for two days, in order to give the prosecution time to make a plan for the presentation of its case. The defense objected, and Judge McConnell compromised by adjourning the hearing until Thursday morning.

The impaneling of the jury commenced August 30, and, allowing for the time occupied by the court in the drainage commission and an adjournment asked for by the state's attorney, seven weeks have been occupied in getting the jury. Ten hundred and ninety-one venire men have been summoned of whom 927 have been excused by counsel and venire men summoned there were also 24 of the regular panel disposed of. One hundred and seventy-five peremptory challenges have been used of which the defense has used 97. At the time the jury was sworn in Mr. Beggs, defendant, had three peremptory challenges left and the state 22.

TO RESCUE THE SUSPECTS.

Discovery of Another Plot to Defeat Justice in the Cronin Case.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The Daily News says a discovery has been made of a plot to rescue Martin Burke and Dan Coughlin from Judge McConnell's courtroom one day this week, presumably just before the adjournment of court. Judge Longenecker has been suspicious since ex-Sheriff Jas. Healey of Hancock, Mich., appeared last Wednesday and asked permission to see Dan Coughlin before court opened. Longenecker, however, gave Healey an order on the jailer, and arranged to have the visitor and prisoner shadowed during the interview. The couple, however, were circumspect in their talk, and the shadow learned nothing. When the court opened Judge Longenecker, who had been warned again by an Irishman who has spent both time and money in assisting the state, to be shy and quiet in the courtroom, and, it is said, caught sight of ex-Sheriff Healey with a companion seated in the rear of the court room, where old-time habitués of the court used to sit, he diverted his gaze he took a look down the row of seats and recognized the forms of several men who had been pointed out to him during the week as strangers who would be watching. He became uneasy, and for the first hour of the jury-getting had little attention for the proxy work on hand.

The state's attorney took a position where he could watch without being seen and soon caught one of the strangers making signs, which, from Coughlin's appearance, he assumes, were signals to get after the signaler and a companion went out and were followed by two other strangers. They were shadowed to a ticket office where they were interviewed about tickets to Vancouver. The mysterious signaling was also noticed between a stranger and Martin Burke. The News says from the fact that the developments Judge Longenecker is greatly agitated, and is taking elaborate precautions to prevent any attempts at rescue.

NEWS FROM JAPAN.

Terrible Loss by Floods—Fatal Result of a Practical Joke.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Japanese papers state that complete returns from the prefecture of China show 685 people were drowned and 121 injured during the floods of September 11. Over a thousand houses were swept away, and thousands of acres of crops were destroyed.

In a review of the calamities caused by floods during the year 1889, the Japan Mail says: Incomplete returns show that 12 prefectures have been devastated, 2,419 people killed, 155 wounded, over 90,000 people deprived of means of subsistence, more than 20,000 houses swept away or submerged, 150,000 acres of crops destroyed, 6,000 bridges washed away and some hundreds of miles of road broken up.

In the province of Kiangsu near a temple is a boys' school. While the teacher was called away one day all the boys except one left with the intention of playing a joke on the teacher and hid in the empty coffins that were in the temple. The one who was to act as sentinel had hardly closed down the lids over five of the boys when the schoolmaster appeared. In answer to the latter's questions the boy said his companions had gone to heaven, their bodies being now in the coffins. The teacher, being afraid the joke might be carried too far raised the lids of the coffins and found that in reality all five of the boys had died from suffocation. The sixth boy being now so thoroughly scared started to run, when the teacher overtook him and whipped him to death.

Aid for the Dakota Sufferers.
ST. PAUL, October 22.—The relief committee appointed by the chamber of commerce has presented a report of the destitution in the Dakotas which shows a serious state of affairs in several counties caused by the failure of crops, which was due to drought and frost. An organized relief movement to get to work at once is recommended to get supplies of clothing and pensions to the people who are in want before the extreme cold weather sets in. Delays will result in great suffering. Subscriptions have been opened by the city council and commercial bodies of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Counterfeiters in Mexico.
CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 22.—For the past few days the secret service officers of this city have been busy hauling in counterfeit gangs which have been at work here. Nearly a dozen men have been arrested.

THE EMPEROR'S SPEECH

What He Was to Suggest to the Reichstag—Military Measures Discussed.

BREITENBURG, Oct. 22.—The Reichstag opened today. Von Boetticher, vice-president of the Prussian ministry, read the emperor's speech from the throne. The address was the active attention of the present reichstag has been especially directed to securing peace abroad and at home, and the tasks of the forthcoming session will be in the same direction. When the reichstag met in 1887, the foremost object was the consolidation of the defensive powers of the fatherland. The reichstag, with a patriotic appreciation of the situation, applied itself thereto. Your cooperation in order to develop the efficiency of the army. Its readiness for action in accordance with the circumstances, may arise, will help to carry out the efforts of the emperor and his exalted allies for the preservation of peace, a weight which is their due in the council of nations. A bill will be presented to the government amending the military law of May 2, 1874. It will provide for a fresh distribution of the army, and is intended to adjust to the increasing number of men of the army, the inequalities of the organization which have arisen through strengthening the army and the displacement of troops from one part of the empire to the corresponding expansion of naval power will demand additional expenditure set forth in the budget. The financial situation of the empire is not an inconsiderable increase in the particular contribution of the several states to the army compared with those of the current financial year. Nevertheless, these contributions will not greatly exceed the sums to the federal state from imperial revenue. New socialist and banking bills were also announced to be introduced.

The speech refers to the suppression of the slave trade in East Africa, and proposes the abolition of slavery in Zanzibar. The emperor's address is a charge of colonial affairs and he formed to relieve the foreign office of excessive work. The hopes expressed by the emperor to the reichstag on November 22, 1888, that with God's help the peace of Europe would be sustained, not only has been realized, but gained strength as regards the future, and personal relations which the emperor has since cultivated with the rulers of friendly allies, thereby helping to strengthen the confidence felt abroad in the emperor's policy and justifying the belief that European peace, based on existing treaties, God helping, will be maintained during 1890.

ONE DAFT ON OIL WELL.

Three Thousand Excited Prospectors Camped Around Eureka, W. Va.

MARETTA, O., Oct. 22.—The oil fever which originated at Eureka, W. Va., 12 miles distant, has reached this city and nothing is talked of but leases, sand, derricks and gas. Three months ago Eureka had 30 inhabitants. Now 3,000 people are camped around it and 75 wells are being dug night and day. Pennsylvania persons have secured most of the land in sight, and are preparing to build a railroad and pipe line to the oil fields. At this point, Old Oil men say the field promises as much as Oil City did in other days. Eight wells, aggregating 2,000 barrels per day, are now in operation. The well on the John Hammet land there, belonging to Moore & Barnsdall, did 450 barrels the last 24 hours and is now being worked by the John Strong, on Job Smith's farm at Van Clure, got oil and gas to such an extent last night that he was obliged to shut down in the top of the well. The oil and gas well is beyond question, and what it can "do" will be determined in the next few days. The price of oil territory at Eureka is now the dangerous. The time. A dispatch says: "It costs $500 to look at a farmer who hasn't leased, and if you haven't got a roll of bills large enough for a week's salary, you can't get an account speak to him for he is walking way up in the air, above common humanity."

FOUND HER SOUL'S AFFINITY.

Christian Science Plays Part in the Separation of Man and Wife.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22.—George and Mary Weikoff were married many years ago, and have several children. They came to this city, where George secured employment in the Milwaukee shops. Mrs. Weikoff soon joined the ranks of the Christian Scientists, and began no practice. Soon she found that her husband was not her soul's affinity, but ere long found the much-sought article in the person of one Henry Brasch. Henry is 40 and works alongside of Weikoff in the shops. He is reputed to be worth $4,000. He boarded at Weikoff's and soon became a convert to Christian Science. The truth dawned upon him that Henry, for such is his name, was Mrs. Weikoff's soul's affinity, and he sought out her soul. The only difficulty in the way of the consummation of their faith was the husband. But this obstacle was soon removed by Henry's wife, who possessed a house and lot which she mortgaged for $500. Of this sum she paid $500 to her husband, he agreeing to sign a decree of separation releasing her from all matrimonial control. Yesterday the necessary papers were signed. Mrs. Weikoff will shortly institute proceedings for a divorce, and then the wedding bells will peal. Mrs. Weikoff says: "I know we have caused a great deal of talk, but I believe in my religion. They can kill my body, but they can't touch my soul. My soul's affinity is my soul's affinity." The husband admitted that he took $500 and got out. "It was no longer any home for me," he said. Weikoff is a German and his fellow-workmen regard him as a steady, well behaved man.

POSTOFFICE ROBBERY AT FARGO.

FARGO, Dakota, Oct. 22.—Two men gained entrance to the postoffice at midnight, bound and gagged the night clerk, Harry Milton, placed a red hot poker on the soles of his feet and compelled him to give up the combination of the vault door. In the vault were 40 or 50 registered packages. While the burglars were opening these Milton released himself, secured a revolver and shot at the men. They knocked him down and escaped, securing not to exceed $125 in currency.

GUESTS OF THE NATION

The American Delegates Entertained at a Banquet by Citizens of Chicago.

Speeches Which Tend to Create a Sentiment in Favor of Closer Commercial Relations With the Other Nations Represented.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The international excursionists occupied to-day in a tour of inspection of the board of trade, several of the most beautiful of the Auditorium and the Dunham stock farm. At 5 o'clock this afternoon the doors of the Grand Pacific banquet hall were thrown open and the appointments made by citizens for the banquet given this evening in honor of the excursionists. The room was decorated in the most beautiful manner with tropical vegetation, etc., under which glowed tiny incandescent electric lights. At one end of the banquet table was a floral ship ten feet long with the word "Chicago" on her bow. At the other end of the table was a train of flowers on each side the name "North and South American Railroad." On one wall was a map of the western hemisphere, the oceans in white immortelles and the various national territories in united immortelles. Opposing this huge piece and reaching from floor to ceiling was a great American shield of flowers against a background of the flags of the nations represented. Each of the decorations was studded with incandescent lamps that produced a brilliant effect. Beds of roses were everywhere and the lighting was brilliant.
