

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Hanlan says that Stansbury, who has challenged Seale, is a bigger man than Sullivan or Kilrain, though he is now only about 22 years old.

Senator Stanford, when talking a few days ago as to the use he would make of Palo Alto in the stud, said: "I intend to breed him to thoroughbred mares, so as to get as nearly thoroughbred as possible, for on that theory I believe the 2:00 trotter will be produced."

Demetrius McCaffrey has announced his readiness to meet George La Blanche in a finish fight providing the California Athletic club will offer suitable inducement for such a contest.

It seems to be the general opinion of the San Francisco sports that Ed Smith will prove to be the unknown who is to meet La Blanche next. Ed Smith is rated as first-class by pugilists, and the Marine will have a hard job to do him should they meet.

While wrestling last Friday night with Greek George at Baltimore Muldoon lost his temper and punished the latter badly. "The Greek" has been challenging Muldoon for years, but on this occasion he evidently got more than enough of the game.

The fight to a finish between Mike Lucie of Troy, N. Y., and Jimmy Carroll of Brooklyn, which was to have taken place in the rooms of the Golden Gate club next Wednesday, has been postponed until January on account of Lucie's illness.

Al Ball and Alf Mitchell have been matched in England for 12 rounds, Queensbury rules, for £150, offered by Charlie Smith and the Oxford and Cambridge clubs. The men are to be at catch-weights and the contest is to take place December 16.

It is said that an arrangement has been entered into between the Lexington and Nashville clubs by which a conflict in racing dates next season will be avoided. The clash that has occurred for several years past has been between these two clubs.

Being on the coming Weir-Murphy fight has already begun in San Francisco, all the money wagers thus far being at even figures. Chicago sports will be somewhat surprised if the former does not prove to be the winner.

Joe Darby, the champion jumper of the world, jumped 11 feet 3/4 inches in one standing jump and 25 feet 11 inches in two jumps at Ashton-on-Tyne, England, Monday, beating the best records in both events.

If the brotherhood scheme should happen to go to pieces the days of John M. Ward as a ball player would probably be over, as none of the league clubs would be likely to engage him.

Mr. Belmont, of Chicago, the American 2-year-old, which has been running in England the past season, is thought by many turfmen to be good enough to win next year's derby.

Dudley Oaks, an old-time Chicago favorite, started at Nashville one day last week, it being his first appearance since April. He won his race, too.

President Stevens of the Cincinnati club is quoted as offering to wager $100 to $60 that the brotherhood league will not last until May 1.

Considering the lateness of the season a fair class of horses are contending for the purses at Elizabeth.

Danny Needham, the St. Paul lightweight is in 'Frisco looking for a match.

JOSH BILLINGS' PHILOSOPHY. From the New York Weekly. All phools are poor listeners. Young man don't grind your sythe all on one side.

The more you praise a man who don't deserve it the more you abuse him. Everybody in this world wants watching but none more than ourselves.

A week's constitution can be strengthened, but a week's set of braces can't. Flattery is like ice-cream; to relish it good we want it a little at a time and often.

Vanity is a strange passion. Rather than be out of a job it will brag of its views. A wise man is never confounded by what he don't understand, but a phool generally is.

I don't know of a more lamentable sight than an old rake. Even repentance looks like weakness in him. About all it takes to make a wize man is to give other people's opinions as much weight as we do our own.

Fast impressions are sed ter be lasting. Enny man who has only been stung by a hornet once will swear to this. The safest way for most folks to do is do as the rest do. There ain't but few who can navigate without a compass.

One in a great while fortune will actually hunt for a man, but generally those who are favored with her smiles hav ter woo them. Cunning is very apt tew outwit itself. The man who turned the boat over and got under it tew keep out of the rain wuz one of this kind.

You kan't praise a truly wize man. He knows just how much praise is due him; that he takes, and changes over the balance to the profit and loss account. Politeness is often wasted, but it is a good and cheap mistake to make. Our very best thoughts often cum tew us sudden, but seldom perfectly. They require polishing them up to make them complete.

There seems to be a degree of eccentricity attending all of us; and you will notice this, that while the eccentricity of a clown are often pleasant, the eccentricity of a great man are most always disagreeable.

A Suspicious Case. From the St. Louis Republic. A rather unusual case of a policeman's sagacity is told by a gentleman of central Missouri. Some years ago Col. William F. Switzer of Columbia in company with an old gentleman of Howard county and a St. Louis physician, were in this city together, witnessing some exhibition. During the performance a lady spectator exclaimed, "I'm robbed!" To prevent the thief from dropping the purse into another's pocket, Col. Switzer exclaimed "Hold your pocket!" A policeman standing near by immediately and energetically ordered all the men in the immediate locality to stand in line. Walking around the line twice he began at the gentleman from Howard and said: "You are a carpenter;" to the next, "You are a literary man;" to the next, "You are a doctor;" coming to the next he said, "You are the thief," and searching him found the pocketbook. Asked by one of the gentlemen how he could designate a man's calling, the officer said: "The doctor there has caustic on his fingers; the carpenter has cuts on his hands; the literary man has ink on his fingers; the thief has hands which show no evidence of good work of any kind."
