THE WEATHER.

The daily record of the thermometer in this city is reported by A. T. Playter, druggist, First street. The record for yesterday was: 7 a. m., 11 degrees; 12 m., 23 degrees; 4 p. m., 28 degrees; 8 p. m., 30 degrees.

ABOUT THE CITY.

The managers of the Lowland club announce that the party to have been given this evening is postponed.

The hall of the John A. Logan camp, Sons of Veterans, will be held at Evans opera house next Thursday evening.

The funeral of James Fitzpatrick, who died after a long and painful illness, will be held from his residence, on Main street this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The school trustees have secured a building on lower Main street for additional school room, and after the holiday recess the crowded condition of the central building will be relieved.

Deputy Sheriff Stebbins went to Missoula yesterday to bring back J. M. Hill, who was arrested there on Wednesday night. The warrant issued by Judge Fitzgerald charges him with larceny as bailie.

Howard Buhman, who was injured by an accident at the Montana Union round house, desires to thank all his friends, particularly the men employed on the erection of that building, for the sum of money they so kindly raised for him while he was disabled from his duties in thanking the contributors most heartily.

SEWED IN HER BUSTLE

Deputy Stebbins Recovers $570 of Contractor Hill's Money.

Belle Riley Gives Up the Cash and Continues Her Journey to the Coast—Hill Will Be Brought Back to Anaconda To-day.

Special to the Standard.
 MISSOULA, Dec. 12.—Deputy Sheriff Stebbins, of Anaconda, arrived here at noon to-day and promptly set to work upon the case of John Hill, who is under arrest here for skipping out from Anaconda with $575. Riley and the woman who were Hill's partners were closely watched and Mr. Stebbins became convinced that the woman had the money. Orders were given not to allow Hill to converse with Riley or the woman. Hill was questioned as to what he did with the money and finally admitted that the woman had it sewed up in her bustle. The woman denied having the money, but when left under the guard at her room at the Florence hotel while Mr. Stebbins went for a search warrant, she weakened and offered to give up the money upon Hill's order. Deputy Sheriff Stebbins accompanied by Sheriff Houston and Riley and the woman to jail, where Hill stated that the woman had $570 of his money.

Belle Riley then handed over that amount to avoid arrest. Deputy Stebbins is therefore to-night in possession of $570 of the lost treasure. The balance Hill spent on the way here. The trio were on their way to Spokane Falls, where Riley intended to open a faro bank on Hill's money.

Hill deeply repents his action, and says he was induced to do as he did by the woman and Riley. Deputy Stebbins will leave for Anaconda on the morning train with his prisoner. Riley says he and the woman will go on to the coast. Much credit is due Deputy Stebbins for the sharp and effective manner in which he caught Hill and regained the money.

Evans & Co. to-night sold three blocks of riverside lots for $400. J. Solomon today purchased 100 feet of the Pomeroy estate, fronting on the river for $13,000. The town is full of eastern people anxious to buy real estate. Sales are being made hourly.

Baker & Majors, proprietor of Tivoli beer hall had three attachments served upon their place of business here to-night. The attachments aggregate the sum of $1,700. H. L. Frank of Butte, the Missoula Mercantile company and the Missoula Bottling works were the parties at whose instance the attachments were issued. The place is closed to-night. It is understood that the liabilities will greatly exceed the assets.

Minnie Maddern.
 Of Minnie Maddern who appears at Evans opera house next Monday evening, the St. Paul News says: "Miss Maddern's unprecedented record in Minneapolis, where she leaped into popularity, playing two return engagements, during which the house was packed from pit to roof, coupled with her success all over the country led St. Paul people to look for something in a histrionic way, the like of which they had never seen before. They were not disappointed. She will, judging from the reception accorded her, enjoy the same unprecedented success she attained in Minneapolis. She caught her heart from the first, brought them into thorough sympathy with her, and was rewarded for her good work by a burst of applause at frequent intervals. In order to appreciate her genius and talent, Miss Maddern must be seen a number of times. There are so many fine pieces of acting, seemingly insignificant in themselves, which aid in making a perfect whole, and are lost at first sight."

The Bandmann Company.
 "Narcise" was the play at Evans opera house last night, Mr. Bandmann appearing in the title role. It is called one of his strongest characters, and his acting was as usual of the highest order. Mr. Huebner did well as the Duke, and Miss Oliver as the Marquise de Pompadour was excellent in spite of her cold, her death scene in the last act being very effective. The play afforded few opportunities to any besides these three characters.

To-night "Dr. Jeckyl and Mr. Hyde," a play founded upon Mr. Stevenson's strong novel, will be produced.

PERSONAL.
 Judge Kirkpatrick, of Butte, is in the city.
 S. V. Trent, of Salt Lake, arrived in town last evening.
 F. S. Southerland, of Helena, was in town yesterday.
 M. Leibold, of Chicago, is a guest at the Montana.
 Dr. A. E. Bovett, of Daly's ranch arrived from Missoula yesterday.
 F. W. Humes, J. W. Herrick and C. S. Hardy, of Chicago, J. E. Bradley and F. F. West, of St. Louis, and G. Langham, of San Francisco, are among yesterday's arrivals.
 C. M. Bell and wife, of St. Louis, are stopping at the Montana.
Watch Club.
 We are organizing two watch and diamond clubs, of fifty members each. One requires the payment of one dollar per week and the other of two dollars per week. This manner of buying watches, diamonds and other fine jewelry has become very popular. The small amount required each week places a membership within the reach of everyone, and the money you pay in would perhaps be blown in in some other way and you would have nothing to show for it, but by joining our club and without feeling it a burden you soon have an elegant piece of jewelry. We wish those thinking of joining clubs would call at our store and see the quality of goods we propose furnishing members of our clubs. We have the finest and brightest stock and the best values for the money.

PECCARY VS. LOCOMOTIVE.

How a Pack of the Obnoxious Little Brutes Came to Grief.

A Fort Davis, Texas, correspondent of the New York Times writes: The following story, which has now become a part of the unwritten history of this section, will best serve to illustrate the headstrong disposition and wonderful courage of the little peccary. The Southern Pacific railroad, which passes this point for a part of its route, cuts through a long stretch of chaparral country abounding with peccaries, wild mustangs and various wild animals. One day, while driving along at moderate speed through the Peccary bottoms, an engineer saw a herd of small animals scattered along the track a few hundred yards ahead. Believing them to be domestic porkers, he blew the whistle a couple of blasts and kept straight ahead, supposing, of course, that the brutes would take the hint and get out of the way. No such thing. With snouts in the air they scornfully surveyed the approaching engine and made up their minds to stand their ground. Quickly forming a semi-circle en masse, with angry eyes and grating teeth they coolly awaited the crash, evidently determined to demolish the locomotive and cars or get "busted" themselves, so to speak. Still the engineer thought they would move and made no attempt to stop the train. When almost upon them he saw that a collision was inevitable, and so he opened the throttle, set the old whistle to screeching and ordered the engine and with all the speed he could command.

Crash! he went through the band of peccaries like a rocket, filling the air with squeal, terror and bits of flying pork. The obnoxious little brutes who were hurled madly at the wheels, the cars, and the cow-catcher, showing their spitefulness to the bitter end, but, of course they were unable to do anything. The engineer says: "Next day when I came back over the road there were the remains of a peccary, and the engine, arranged in battalion front and all waiting for the train to come along so that they could get even for the previous day's disaster. A way was sent at them, again, filling the air with squeal, and the five ones frantically rushed at the cars, wheels, and trucks, attempting in their mad fury to wreck the train. This was kept up after after trip, until only three peccaries remained. True to their resolution, when the final day came they took a bold stand side by side in the middle of the track and prepared to meet the fight for the honor of peccaries and hogs generally. Two were tossed into eternity by the cow-catcher and the third was cut into sections by the iron wheels. Since then no more peccaries have attempted to buck against Uncle Sam's mail."

HOME WATCH AND DIAMOND CLUBS

Mr. Keppler Organizing Associations of Great Benefit to Their Members.
 At the request of a very large number of patrons, J. C. Keppler has decided to organize home watch and diamond clubs, in order that the people of this city and vicinity may have an opportunity to procure goods upon that satisfactory plan. Soliciting agents of outside clubs have been in this place lately, and when it is considered that their commission is necessarily added to the cost of the goods purchased, it will be seen that the plan offers a decided advantage over outside ones. The agents' commission is done away with, and Mr. Keppler can thus dispose of goods at prices below what the same article can be purchased elsewhere. Another commendable feature of the home club is that all kinds of goods can be purchased by its members, whereas outside clubs confine their sales to watches and diamonds. The terms are the usual ones of $2 weekly payments. Mr. Keppler is now in readiness to take numbers for a $100 club, a $50 club and a $40 club. For further information apply to

A Colored Youth at Yale.

Some years ago a colored boy entered Yale college. He was the son of one of the joiners. For a seat-mate he had a son of one of the prominent men in the state, for the school at the first year was seated alphabetically; a similarity of names thus bring these two lads together. At the end of the term the father of the white boy wrote to the faculty asking that his son might be placed in another seat, as the contiguity of the colored youth was unpleasant according to his belief, and said that the two young men would be separated, and this would have been done without any interposition from the father, because at the next term the scholars were arranged according to ability, and the colored boy by that classification would go to the head of the first division, while the white boy would go to the end of the list. The youth graduated afterwards among the very first in his class, but he has found it harder work to get along in the world than he did to display his ability even in such a trying place as Yale college.

BUTTE CROOKS CAUGHT

Two Burglars Arrested After a Long Search by the Police.

Tell-Tale Evidence of Their Guilt Discovered on Their Persons—Last Night's Happenings in the Smoky City

Special to the Standard.
 BUTTE, Dec. 12.—Among those who registered at the Central Hotel last evening were T. C. Power and James Brady. They were assigned to room No. 8, adjoining No. 6, where slept Martin Stephens. Stephens arose as usual at 5:30 o'clock this morning and after breakfast went to work for the day. About an hour after Adam Lembach, the young son of Fred Lembach, of Lembach & Kessler, proprietors of the hotel, glancing from the front door, saw Power and Brady stealing down the road. Each had on a large overcoat. Brady feigned a limp in order apparently to deceive the hotel people. The boy at once supposed that the men were endeavoring to jump their hotel bill and ran into the house, warning his father. A party started in pursuit, but the men had disappeared. The depots were visited, but without success. It was learned that the men had visited the Pine Tree saloon and a valise was found to have been left there. This was taken as security for the hotel bill and nothing more was thought of the matter for the time. After dinner the chambermaid went to Stephens' room as usual, and was shocked to discover that his floor had been broken open. Stephens was sent for and further examination showed that his trunk had been pried open and many valuable articles taken. Three watches, for $40, $50 and $60, were missing; $14 in cash, three watches, a gold ring, a breast pin, and other articles.

It was found that the two other rooms had been entered and an overcoat taken from each, one belonging to William Shovell and the other to Fritz Christian-son. The bar room was also found to have been entered and two bottles of choice whisky taken. Lembach and his son immediately started in search of the burglars, enlisting City Marshal McArthur and Officers McLaggan and Carroll. About 5 o'clock this afternoon the boy was sent into a gambling house at the Star stables and discovered Power inside. The officers at once entered and made the arrest. On the way to jail Powers stepped up to shake hands with a friend and while doing so dropped a small piece of paper. Young Lembach noticed the paper fall and picking it up, found it to be a missing check for $40. There was also a pocket book, the ring, breast pin, two pocket books, cigar holder and several pawn checks.

A half hour afterward officer Carroll saw a closed carriage drive up to Jack Dowd's place and Brady, Power's accomplice, stepped out. Carroll kept watch until Brady returned and then arrested him. Brady tried to get Dowd to cash a check for $60. Brady had endorsed the check with Stephens' name seven times, writing it first Stevens and each time making a blunderly mistake. Dowd will be sworn in and refused to cash the check. The check for $50 is missing, and has probably been cashed. They were all payable at Clark & Larabee's bank. Gray also had a pocket book and papers, and $1.50 in cash. Three watches are missing and have probably been pawned. The men are believed to be old birds.

Frank Merritt and Paddy from Liverpool were arrested to-night for attempted larceny at Ganz & Klein's store. Merritt had his arm in a sling and went into the store begging attracting the attention of those inside the store. Meanwhile Paddy outside attempted to unfasten a suit of clothes about a dummy in front of the store. The clothes were chained fast and wouldn't give way. Officer Cody arrested the men. They were arrested a few weeks ago as tramps, fighting in a box car at the Central depot.

Paul Aneling was arrested by City Marshal McArthur to-night for robbing the safe of the Northwestern Hotel in south Butte a week ago. As it is recorded, Aneling had formerly been in the employ of the hotel and had carried the key of the safe some time. Detectives have been working on the case since the discovery of Aneling getting a duplicate key made. Some of the property stolen was also traced to him. It is believed a good case has been obtained against him.

Old residents say the smoke to-night is worse than it has been in three years. It is impossible to see a distance of ten feet.
