WHAT THE RIVALS CLAIM

Points Made in the Sheriff Contest in Silver Bow.

Papers Which Review of the Election Row and the Tunnel Vote—They Will Be Presented in Judge McHatton's Court To-day.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.

BUTTE, Jan. 31.—The district court did no business today, the decks being cleared for the expected action to-morrow between Sullivan and Lloyd for the office of sheriff. Thompson Campbell has forged the legal thunderbolts for Mr. Lloyd, while Mr. Kirkpatrick and John W. Cottrell stand by Sullivan's guns.

The matter is to come up at 10 o'clock in the form of a mandamus, but it would not be surprising if the demurrer were withdrawn and argument deferred, a date being set for a regular trial some time next week. It is also among the probabilities that a change of venue will be demanded by Lloyd's counsel, which will cause another vexatious delay.

Lloyd filed a statement of contest in a suit brought against Eugene D. Sullivan. The other case was that of Sullivan vs. Lloyd. In the case filed to-day, the affiant makes statement that the abstract of votes as prepared by the canvassing board show that 3,490 votes were cast for Lloyd and 3,363 for Sullivan; and that the canvassing board refused to issue a certificate of election to Lloyd; that he refused to do so, claiming to have knowledge of a large number of votes which were not included in the abstract, and that he would elect Sullivan; that he is a citizen and there were no legal returns in the possession of the canvassing board from Precinct 34; that no such returns were placed on the abstract, and that consequently the affiant contests the right of Sullivan to the said certificate of election.

The grounds given for Lloyd's claim are: First—That there were no legal returns received by the board from Precinct 34; that the returned returns show 165 votes for Sullivan and nine for Lloyd; that of the 165 votes for Sullivan 65 were voted fraudulently; that they were cast by persons who were not legal voters at said precinct, and who were not legally qualified, not having been residents of Montana for six months.

Second—That at McCune's wood camp 135 illegal votes were cast and were included in the count for Sullivan, to which he was not entitled, the votes being cast by men who were not qualified electors, as shown by accompanying affidavits. Third—That at each and all of the precincts large numbers of votes were counted fraudulently, the judges and clerks being negligent, for Sullivan, when they should have been counted for Lloyd.

The affiant demands that said fraudulent and illegal votes be eliminated from the returns and from the abstract, and counted for the affiant; and that he be declared the duly elected sheriff. This is the substance of the statement filed with the clerk of the district court his answer to the above statement of contest. The answer states that it was the duty of the canvassing board to include in the abstract the returns from all the precincts of Silver Bow county; that they did so except in the case of the returns from precinct 34; that the judges and clerks, in violation of their duty, refused to canvass and count the votes of precinct 34.

That it is not true that there were no legal returns presented to the board from precinct 34; that the clerk received in due time the returns from said precinct, duly sealed and addressed to him, that the clerk duly handed to the board the returns thus received; that the returns were opened by said board and found to be in substantial compliance with the demands of the law, that the returns contained the proper tally sheet and extensions, names of candidates voted for and number of votes received by each written at full length in words and figures by the judges of election and clerks, on proper blanks, furnished by the clerk of the county for their use; that the signatures to said returns, were in the true and genuine handwriting of the judges and clerks of said election, and that from an inspection of said returns, the number of votes cast and for whom cast, could be easily ascertained.

That the board having refused to include in the abstract the votes of precinct 34, a proceeding was instituted in the district court of the county of Silver Bow, on October 22, upon the relation of John J. McHatton to obtain a judgment of the court directing the issuance of a peremptory writ of mandamus commanding the board to proceed and count the votes of precinct 34 for five legislative candidates named. That the defendant received at the election 3,363 votes, not counting precinct 34, and 165 votes at precinct 34; that Lloyd received 3,490 votes outside of precinct 34 and 9 votes at precinct 34; that consequently Sullivan was elected by 29 votes. The answer denies that there were 65 fraudulent votes, or any fraudulent votes, cast for Sullivan at precinct 34; or that such votes were cast by those not legally voters, or by those who had not resided in six months in the territory. The defendant further denies that at McCune's wood camp there were 135 illegal votes, or any illegal votes, cast for him; or that any number of votes were counted illegally for him through mistake, inadvertence or willful neglect; on the contrary, that a large number of votes were, through mistake, inadvertence or willful neglect, counted for Lloyd that should have been counted for Sullivan.

The answer also states that Lloyd was elected to the office of sheriff on November 2, 1886, for a term of two years, commencing December 27, of that year, and ending December 17, 1888; that again at an election held November 6, 1888, he was elected to the office for a term of two years from December 17, 1888; and the defendant therefore alleges that by virtue of the provision of the constitution of Montana, the said Lloyd was ineligible to said office and could not be lawfully elected to the same at said election held October 1, 1889.

THEY TRIED HARD.

Burglars Make an Unsuccessful Assault on Special Correspondence of the Standard.

BUTTE, Jan. 31.—The store of C. E. Finch & Co., at the corner of West Park and Montana streets, was entered by burglars at some time between the hours of 11 o'clock last night and 7 o'clock this morning. The burglars gained an entrance through a rear window in the store by prying it up and breaking the catches which secured the window. They took $3 in change out of the till, and then turned their attention to the safe, which is of medium size and of Hall make. It stands in a small office in the rear of the store.

They drilled a hole on the combination and filled it full of gunpowder. They broke off the combination knob, and the lock that throws the tumblers in their place, by using a sledge hammer, breaking them off in order to give the powder a chance to do its work. The powder blew all of the front plate off, but did not succeed in opening the safe. The burglars, then, the door being open, came in this morning he found the door hanging by several rivets. He also found a crowbar sticking in the safe between the side and the door, and another one on the floor, bent almost in two. It is supposed that the burglars had to give it up, as the appearance of the crowbars showed that they had worked hard to pry the safe open. They would have made quite a rich haul if they succeeded in opening the safe, as it contained $25 in cash and two checks, one for $20 and one for $50. It required two hours for the proprietors to open the safe this morning, as they had to drill all the rivets out and use crowbars and a sledge hammer to open it.

The burglars left behind them a brace, two crowbars, a sledge hammer and about a half pound of powder. The tools were turned over to the side street police, who think it the work of experts. No arrests have been made as yet, although it is claimed that there is a clue as to who are the guilty parties. It is believed the burglars were interrupted in their work, or frightened away, the fact being indicated by the tools left behind.

IN THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Some People Seeking the Appointment of Fred Kelly as Assistant Marshal.

By the Standard's special wire. BUTTE, Jan. 31.—The city council is likely to have more business at the next meeting than it can attend to, and if business continues to loom up before them there may be an adjournment on Wednesday next. Besides the squabble over the police investigation, and one or two franchises that will be asked, there is likely to be trouble over the fire department. It was learned to-day that a petition is being circulated around town asking for the appointment of Fred Kelly, of the Helena fire department, as assistant fire marshal. The petition is to be presented to the council at its next meeting.

About two weeks ago Fire Marshal O'Brien removed Assistant Fire Marshal McDonald and appointed Mr. Cameron in his place. Mr. Cameron had proved most efficient as a fireman and was considered to have well earned promotion. He has given the best satisfaction as assistant chief, and Fire Marshal O'Brien as well as the paid firemen disapprove any change. It will be an interesting question whether the council will uphold Marshal O'Brien's judgment.

AN INTERCHANGE OF BLOWS.

Mr. Muldoon Not So Solid With the Postoffice as He Might Be.

By the Standard's special wire. BUTTE, Jan. 31.—There was an exciting scene in the postoffice yesterday afternoon. Manager Muldoon of the Mining Journal inquired of the mailing clerk why it was that the Mining Journal was not mailed until after the Miner, which was delivered at the postoffice at 6 o'clock on Sunday morning. The mailing clerk replied that he was running the mailing business. Mr. Muldoon said he didn't wish to see the clerk, but the postmaster would send him into the office. The mailing clerk took offense at this and made a lunge at Muldoon, whereupon the latter took the clerk by the throat and threw him out. Postmaster Talent took off his coat, and the clerk again struck at Muldoon, whereupon the latter beat his retreat, inviting the postoffice clerks to stand outside. Mr. Muldoon says he was given to understand that the Mining Journal would have to be at the postoffice at least nine hours before the Miner in order to be mailed to Helena at the same time.

IN NEW HANDS.

The Butte Postoffice to Be Formally Turned Over to Mr. Evans To-day.

By the Standard's special wire. BUTTE, Jan. 31.—Postmaster Talent sent a telegram to-day noon to the assistant Postmaster Clarkson at Washington, asking him to be released to-day, the 1st of January from his duty at the postoffice. He received an answer at 3 o'clock from Mr. Clarkson telling him to turn the office over to Mr. John G. Evans to-morrow, February 1. His assistant, Mr. Batchelor, will leave to-morrow night to take a position in the First National bank. Mr. M. J. Menin, the registry clerk, will leave to take a position in the mail service on the road.

Postmaster Evans in talking to a reporter of the STANDARD this evening said he would not make any changes at present except to fill vacancies. He has appointed Mr. Walter N. Jones, assistant postmaster to succeed Mr. Batchelor, and Mr. William Leysen clerk at the registry window to succeed Mr. Menin. Ex-Postmaster Talent will start for California in a week to join his wife, who is at present sojourning in that state.

IT'S DEAR TO HIS HEART

Mr. Helehan Back in Butte to Continue Business at the Old Stand.

He Didn't Have to Run Very Fast to Get Out of the Town and He Had to Tell the Police Where He Is.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.

BUTTE, Jan. 31.—Among the arrivals by the Northern Pacific train which reached this city at 9 o'clock last evening, was John Helehan, of the well known real estate firm of Nichols, Helehan & Co., of this city. It will be remembered that Mr. Helehan suddenly disappeared from Butte on the day following the celebrated fight between Ward and Gallagher, which resulted in the death of Ward. It was December 17 that Mr. Helehan silently folded up his tent and went away. Rumors as to where he had gone were rife, and a dozen different places were named. But nothing was heard from him except by his personal friends until last evening when Mr. Helehan's always smiling countenance beamed on them once more.

A warrant had been issued for Mr. Helehan's arrest for complicity in the fight, and that gentleman waited around all last night to be arrested. As he seemed to be slighted, towards noon to-day he walked to the police court and greeted Judge Newkirk with the salutation:

"Judge Newkirk was engaged in making out a warrant for the well known criminal John Doe, and was so started that he made a big blot on the most vital part of the great criminal's name."

"John Helehan!" exclaimed the judge. "That's who it is."

"Well, I'm glad to see you, Mr. Helehan."

"The same to you. Can I do anything for you?"

"Well, if you happen to have a bond for $1,000 in your pocket, you might accommodate me with it."

"All right, judge; I'll fix up the bond to-day."

The real estate man was seated behind his old desk in his office this afternoon when a STANDARD reporter called to pay his respects, and inquire whether it was true that he Gallagher and McGinty had been hiding in the shaft of the Anaconda mine.

"I have come back to stay," said Mr. Helehan. "My business interests would not permit of my staying away longer. You see I had contemplated for some time a business and pleasure trip to the coast, and I thought this a good opportunity to make it."

"Did I understand you to say the climate of Butte was too warm to suit you?"

"Well, something like that. I saw a good many places that are prosperous, but all the time I pined for Butte. There is something about Butte that fills a long-felt want in my breast. There is no place equal to it. I had left property here; I had left my business here; my friends were here; and I decided to return and face the music. Then I went and was right in saying that the fight was no prize fight. I know that Gallagher didn't have a cent up on the fight, and neither did I."

"I left here and you leave Gallagher?"

"I left him in Butte. I don't know where he is, and haven't seen him since I left."

Gallagher and Golden are still out in the cold world.

ANOTHER PRIZE FIGHT.

Jim Miller Knocks Out Jack Tregier in Nineteen Rounds.

By the Standard's special wire. BUTTE, Jan. 31.—In spite of the open avowal of the city marshal that there would be no more prize fights in Butte, there was one last night in Meaderville. The fact has been kept quiet, but it has leaked out that a ring was staked out late last evening near the Columbia gardens. The fight was under Marquis of Queensberry rules, three-minute rounds, and was for $100 a side. There were about 15 spectators. The principals were Jim Miller and Jack Tregier. Nineteen rounds were fought, during which time Tregier was knocked down six times. At the conclusion of the 19th round Tregier's seconds threw up the sponge and Miller was declared the winner.
