THEY GOT THE PRIZES

Winners in the Contests at the End of the Fair.

Ed Dwyer Got the Saddle and Mrs. Clark the Tea Set - Receipts That Will Add a Snug Sum to the Church Funds.

The Catholic fair was brought to a successful close last night. Evans hall was crowded with a host of generous patrons from early evening until midnight. The voting was brisk and exciting during the evening, and caused no small amount of sport. The votes were held back until almost the last moment when the ballots were fairly showered into the ballot box. Strawberries and ice cream were, as usual, in great demand and as delicious as ever. The tables began to look bare late in the evening, as almost everything had been sold or raffled. The ladies who had the affair in charge were kept busy their efforts had met with a most pronounced success financially and otherwise. They deserve great credit for the successful outcome, as they worked early and late.

The raffling of the various articles was in the hands of Messrs. O'Leary and McInerney and Mrs. Ehret. The baby robe was won by Mr. Conley, box of fancy writing paper, Mrs. Flynn; large picture, "Christmas Morning," Charles Schatzler; youth's suit of clothes, Eddie Shovin; handsome gold ring, Mrs. Ehret; sofa cushion, M. Shea; silver cream pitcher and sugar bowl, Sister Cornelia; pickle castor, Dr. St. Jean; baby hood, Katie Matthews; large lamp, Sister Loyola, of Butte; silver mug, Jacob Faulk; silver headed cane, Harry King; willow rocker, Minnie J. Cornelius; banner, John Kelly. The gold watch was won by No. 216, the name of the winner was not known.

The voting was the great feature of the evening and was warmly contested. The race for the horse and saddle proved to be the chief event and polled the largest number of ballots. Ed Dwyer was the winner, receiving 11,518 votes against 4,750 for his opponent, Dave Lewis. The other candidates and their votes were as follows: Handsome diamond necklace, pin and bracelet, Miss May Campbell 4,907. Miss Alice Jesson, 5,212; Mrs. J. Clark, 2,550. Silk dress, Miss Larson, 1,090; Miss Burke, 1,105. Cow, Mrs. Maloney, 1,161; Mrs. Cochran, 635. Slumber robe, Mrs. Louth, 770; Mrs. Suprenant, 501. Ladies' hat, Miss Falk, 167; Miss McClure, 160. Berry set, Mrs. Conley, 2,045; Mrs. Flynn, 1,172. Gents' mouserschaum pipe, P. Gordon, 5; J. M. Greedy, 389. A number of articles were not raffled last night owing to lack of time, which will be raffled next Tuesday night when the ladies give a free ball to which all are cordially invited. A handsome mantle clock was donated the fair by Mrs. Stalman. The amount deposited in the safe at the STANDARD office last night at the close of the fair was $2,413. Other amounts will, it is thought, lift the total receipts to $4,000.

A Card for Mr. Wey.

To the Editor of the Standard: Will you allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words in favor of the cause you so ably defend, "The Woman's Protective Union." The purpose of the union is not so much the advancement of wages as is generally supposed, but the advancement of woman, socially and morally. I hold that there are houses existing in this fair city that are a disgrace to a civilized community. And, women are the instruments to remove the existing abuses. The union is not yet two weeks old. The proprietor of the McDermott hotel discharged one of his girls that had been in his employ over a year for simply joining a union. He asked her why she did not consult him before joining. Would it be fair if he had to ask his help if he could join any union? And yet one is just as fair as the other. If people are obliged to work, it does not go to show that they have no voice to defend themselves. The working woman has as much right as the millionaire, and I think will get fair play from all fair-minded men. Justice.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Prominent People From the East Who Will Visit Butte.

By the Standard's Special Wire. BUTTE, June 14. - The joint committee of the city council and the board of trade on arrangements for the reception of the Bozeman excursionists, have discovered that they will have to make up the amount necessary to be raised by subscription. According to the ordinances the council can appropriate nothing for this object, as it had intended to do. There is no doubt, however, but that the amount needed will be readily raised.

The Bozeman people have been invited to visit Butte on next Thursday. Yesterday they telegraphed Agent McCall for transportation, and a reply was sent that they would have to make arrangements with St. Paul. Nothing has been heard from them since then. The committee will meet Monday to appoint committees on reception, entertainment, subscription, transportation, etc.

Another matter President Barret, of the board of trade, has in charge is that of the reception of sixty business men of Minneapolis and St. Paul, who are expected to reach here Wednesday. They will leave St. Paul Monday on a special train and are looking into the Northwest in search of business openings. They will come direct to Butte.

An excursion of 150 leading Masons of New York city are expected here on July 25. The men belong to the Order of the Mystic Shrine and composed noted literary men in the Masonic society. They will travel from New York to San Francisco in their own vestibule train. They have already arranged to stop at Yellowstone and Helena, and efforts are being made to have them stop at Butte. There are about a dozen members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine in this city. It is likely that the reception to the Masons will be made general on the part of Butte's citizens.

THEY CELEBRATED YESTERDAY.

Fellows Who Fought and Drank and Paid a Fine in Honor of the Day.

By the Standard's Special Wire. BUTTE, June 14. - Although almost everybody in the city enjoyed a holiday yesterday and beer and finer liquors flowed like water but little drunkenness was noticeable and the best of order prevailed. Consequently the police had very little to do and only a few arrests were made.

John Bush pleaded guilty to having created a slight disturbance, and was fined $1 and costs.

Red Perry, John Dunn, A. Allen and Ben Graves smilingly acknowledged that it was useless to deny that they had been drunk. They were fined $1 and costs each.

Gust Pole was proven guilty of the more serious charge of fighting and made a compulsory contribution to the city of $5 and the usual trimmings.

Mike Laferty was convicted of disturbing the peace and fined $5 and costs. Being unable to pay he was locked up, a fact that made him furious. No sooner had the jailer left him than he assailed a fellow prisoner and beat him most unmercifully. The yells of the man who was being beaten reached the jailer who went down stairs and arrested Laferty. He was taken into court again and fined $20 and costs for assault and battery, thus giving him a double dose of jail.

McCockney, a fellow who has given the police lots of trouble at different times, was fined $10 and costs for carrying concealed weapons. He is now doing service for the city on the streets.

Lavelle Penotier attempted to make "a gun play" in the Combination Thursday night. This morning he was fined $10 and costs for carrying concealed weapons.

Barney Ray was committed in default of $1 and costs for using abusive language.

AN ASSIGNMENT.

Wholesale Liquor Merchants who Dropped $40,000 in Six Months.

By the Standard's Special Wire.

BUTTE, June 14. - Boesman & Holdman made an assignment to-day to R. H. Kleinschmidt of Helena. The preferred creditors are: W. A. Clark & Bros. bank, an overdraft of $1,019.74; note due June 22 of $1,030; Falk, Jung & Borchert, $648; Louis Bagler, $150; R. H. Kleinschmidt $15,772.75; Union warehouse Co., $15,062.78. The total liabilities in the first class are $22,574.74; the second, $14,287.20; the third, $21,802.58; making a grand total of $58,664.52. The most unfortunate creditors is the Union Warehouse Co., of Chicago which advanced 15,000 cases of goods to the firm and it is not secured. Boesman & Holdman have been in business about six months as wholesale liquor dealers in East Park street. This is the first failure in Butte since last fall.

An Extensive Cave.

By the Standard's Special Wire. BUTTE, June 14. - An extensive cave occurred in the mine workings of the Parrot last night, judging from surface indications.

A short distance west of the hoisting works, covering an area of about 150 yards square, the ground sunk to a depth of about five inches. The exact location of the cave is not known, but is supposed to be above the 100-foot level, where a great deal of gophering has been done by a lessee who has been working the ground for some time. The cave occurred at an opportune time, as the men employed by the lessee were assisting in celebrating Miners' Union day. Had it not been for this fact several lives would undoubtedly have been lost.

NONAN'S STRANGE YARN

He Was Robbed While Drunk and Mixed His Evidence Like His Drinks.

Two Men Arrested Upon Nonan's Complaint and Discharged Upon His Testimony - A Much Mixed Case.

By the Standard's Special Wire.

BUTTE, June 14. - William Noonan made complaint before Judge Cantwell yesterday that he had been robbed of about $75 Wednesday night and accused a gripman in the employ of the street car company of being the robber. Before lodging complaint he approached Dinsmore and Gray, conductor and gripman of one of the trains, and demanded that they should return his money, of which he said they had robbed him Wednesday night, and gave them two hours in which to make restitution on penalty of being arrested. Both denied being guilty, and after a little more talk he left them. He then visited the court, and securing a warrant for the arrest of John Doe and Richard Roe started out with Constable Hynes to find the men who had robbed him.

Seeing Charles Glosser and Arthur E. Phelps, the former a gripman and the latter a conductor, he identified them as the guilty ones. They were arrested and released on bonds for their appearance this afternoon. George Halden, attorney for the company, was retained for the defense and decided to test the accuracy of the prosecuting witness.

When the case was called this afternoon he had Dinsmore and Gray in court seated by his side and would hold occasional whispered consultations with them, while Glosser and Phelps, the real defendants were kept in the background. Noonan testified to having boarded a train at about 12 o'clock Wednesday night for Walkerville, being the only passenger and that when on the switch on Lexington hill the conductor and gripman suddenly pounced upon him and robbed him, one of them holding him by the neck while the other searched him. He identified Dinsmore and Gray as the men who did it.

For the defense it was proven by half a dozen reputable witnesses that Dinsmore and Gray housed their trains shortly before 11 o'clock and that Noonan had been a passenger. Other witnesses, fellow passengers of Noonan, were then produced, who deposed that Noonan was on the last train in charge of Glosser and Phelps and that he was so drunk that he did not realize what was going on, in fact that he fell asleep a few minutes after he boarded the car, at the switch on lower Main street, and slept until he got to Walkerville.

It was further proven that when he left the train at Walkerville, two strange men, who got off at the same time, took him by the arms and started to lead him toward the Lexington dump. As he appeared reluctant to accompany them the train men held the train a few minutes, thinking he would ask their assistance, but not doing so they pulled out and when at the power house, put up the train for the night.

The witnesses for the defense all testified that the train did not stop on Lexington hill and consequently refuted the story of the prosecuting witness.

That he had the amount of money claimed was proven, for he was seen to take a purse from his pocket and count several pieces of gold and some silver a few moments after boarding the cars. One witness, who sat near him, said he had $75.25, as he noticed the money particularly.

After hearing the testimony the court discharged the defendant and taxed the costs to Noonan. Noonan was robbed is evident, but not by the trainmen. The guilty ones are undoubtedly the two strange men who were seen to walk off with him at Walkerville. Noonan was still quite drunk when the trial occurred and insisted that his story was true. Owing to the sensational character of the case the court room was crowded during its progress.

When in Butte be sure and don't forget to call at Emil's beer hall and try one of those fine business lunches.
