

TERRORIZED BY BANDITS

A Pennsylvania Township Ruled by a Band of Robbers

IN MOUNTAIN FASTNESS

The Cooley Gang Live Like Princes - They Descend Upon the People Like Robber Barons

BALTIMORE, June 28.—A special from Uniontown, Pa., says: "There is more trouble in Georges township, Fayette county, with the notorious Frank Cooley and his gang. Over a strip of territory of about six miles along the base of the mountains above Hydeown, and extending west about the same distance, Frank Cooley, his brother Jack and several other members of the same gang have ruled as tyrannically as any old country despot. A gentleman who recently visited that locality says the people are completely cowed, and fear to even mention the names of the gang for fear of terrible retribution. In every household there is a revolver lying within reach, and there is no telling when it may be needed. Even the women are accustoming themselves to use firearms, and are never known to travel any distance at night.

"The gang is very large, and has its friends scattered all over the neighborhood, always reporting when there is any danger in sight. The Cooley family numbers 15, of whom eight are boys. There are now a reward of $100 offered for the arrest of the leader of the gang, Frank Cooley, who is wanted for torturing old Miss Rose of Smithfield two years ago, in an attempt to get her money. He was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary, but escaped from the jail here by sawing the bars of his cell. There is no doubt that he was assisted by members of his gang. Several attempts have been made to arrest him since, but he has always been warned in time to escape.

"The very latest work attributed to the gang is the burning of Charlie Ewing's new house at Smithfield. He was reported to have said something about the gang, and his house was immediately set on fire. Last week the little Presbyterian church at the foot of the mountain at Hydeown was broken into by the gang, and the new church carpet stolen. The people are enraged at this sacrilege, but fear to take any steps to bring the perpetrators to justice.

"The gang lives high, as hardly a day passes in which someone is not held up or a housewife robbed of her garden truck, or anything the desperadoes take a fancy to. The residents and farmers there have become so used to the gang appearing at their doors at night that they are inclined to shoot first and inquire names afterward, and a stranger riding through that locality are warned against knocking at the peaceful farmers' doors at night."

His Pride Humiliated

In the sixteenth century, of the many proud nobles in England the Duke of Somerset was one of the proudest, says Harper's Young People. He never condescended to speak to his servants; they obeyed him by signs. The footmen wore the same livery as the king's footmen, and when he traveled, outriders were sent to clear the roads of all passers, that no vulgar eyes might see him ride by.

Once a countryman, who was hastening home, driving before him a hog, happened to be on the highway where the duke was to pass.

"Get out of the road as fast as you can," cried the duke's servant, brandishing a sword.

"Why must I turn out?" asked the astonished countryman. "I am in great haste to get home, and my pig is troublesome."

"What does that matter? Get out!" insisted the outrider. "My lord duke does not wish to be looked at. Here comes his coach."

A Commendable Custom

PUEBLO, Colo., June 28.—The people of Colorado have adopted the pleasant custom of making their Fourth of July celebrations state affairs. Last year it was the laying of the corner stone of the capitol building at Denver. This year the event will be the opening of the Colorado mineral palace at Pueblo. State officers, state militia and all military bands of the state will attend. To find out just how people stand on the silver question, a vote will be taken to decide whether or not they favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver or prefer the restriction of the product of American mines.

Persecution of Jews

LONDON, June 28.—It is reported the czar is angry at the Danish crown prince for sending out pamphlets protesting against the persecution of the Jews in Russia. It is not likely, however, that this will interfere with the czar's visit to the Danish court.

The populace attacked and looted Jewish booths in Scerwieka, near Olessa, and maltreated the occupants, who fled to their homes, which they barricaded against their persecutors. As a result of these attacks, an edict has been issued threatening a declaration of martial law for excesses against the Jews.

Welsh Tin Plate Workers

LONDON, June 28.—Welsh tin plate workers are angry over the stoppage of work. They argue that a cessation one week per month would answer the same purpose, and avert distress. Sixty delegates are going to America to inquire into the prospect of profitable employment. The American agents here, besides buying the latest machinery, are offering over double wages.

In Favor of Patti

BERLIN, June 28.—The action of the Russian imperator, long pending against Mme. Patti for damages for breach of contract, has been decided in Mme. Patti's favor.

Four Dead in the People

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 28.—Rev. Wm. Oden, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, at Warrensburg, Warren county, fell dead in the pulpit while preaching this morning.

It is a Kibson

ST. PETERSBURG, June 28.—It is reported here that serious anti-Semitic riots occurred in Kibson. Strict secrecy is maintained in official quarters about the alleged trouble.

THE ARIZONA KICKER

What a Frontier Editor Finds to Brighten Up His Life

GOOD-OLY BILL!—Two or three weeks ago Bill Throckmorton, the well-known nule wacker, raised a great fuss with us because we didn't publish more murders and hangings, and he gave us a fortnight to make a change of heart. As we didn't do so he copy of the Kicker comes back to us with a great big "Refused" marked on it, and Bill is now going around asserting that we are on our last legs and must go under.

God-by, Bill! While we hate to lose a subscriber, we never did run to murders and we are too old to begin now. We have published one each week especially for your personal delectation, and if you are still unsatisfied we shall have to regretfully depart from you. We owe you about 12 numbers on your press, and we will send them to an idiot asylum up in Iowa with your compliments.

IT DON'T LAST.—We understand that Humble Jim, the so-called evangelist, is coming up here from Denver to look for matters and things in this town. We warn him that it will be a dead waste of time. In the first place, our boys have no confidence in the rip-snorters traveling around and pretending to be inspired and in the next can't bring any religion here that will stick for a week. It's been tried a dozen times, but always peters out. We've seen Bloody Tom, Awful Bill, B. W. Knife Sam and the rest of the crowd weeping like children and promising each other to be good in future, but three days later they were slashing each other and feeling more wicked than before.

If Humble Jim comes along the Kicker will second his efforts and be only too glad if he can make an impression, but we want him to understand that he's tacking something bigger than a grizzly bear. If he can even pound decency into some of our population we shan't ask for anything beyond it. A seven-shooter and a box of cartridges will be enough for him in this flume, and if he opens up pretty well in scripture talk we'll see him have a fair show if we have to fight for it.

A SURPRISE PARTY.—Our contemporary down the street came out with an extra yesterday and managed to work off 13 copies of the unsuspecting public before his bubble was pricked. His news was about us, and, as usual, he turned himself inside out in his anxiety to hold us up to public ridicule and contempt. When he made such an ado about was really only a trifle, and we will give the facts as they occurred:

We have contracted the habit of spitting on a man's boots when standing and talking with him. It may be regarded as a little impudent, but there is no occasion for any hard feelings, as we do it unconsciously and are always willing to apologize. We were talking with the mayor the other evening in front of the postoffice, and naturally enough stepped on his boots. He didn't wait to ask us what we meant by such conduct, but hit us on the chin with his left and knocked us down. We scrambled up to pull our gun on him, but mutual friends interfered and satisfactory explanations were made. We afterwards drank whiskey with his honor, and he subscribed for two copies of the Kicker to be sent to friends in the East. It was simply a misunderstanding such as one is likely to occur between two gentlemen at any moment, but of course the old hyena down the street thought he had a good thing and wanted to make the most of it.

IT IS TRUE.—We are almost daily in receipt of letters from the more or less eastern states asking: "Do you think I can get married if I come out here?" These letters are written by widows, old maids, cross-eyed girls, and grass-wives, and we wish to state here and now that this town is likely to receive more women in this direction than any other in the West. Out of a population of over 4,000 we have only 33 women, and seven of them are over 80 years old. We'll bet a dollar to a cent all day long that 500 extra females can find husbands here in 24 hours. If it was known that there was a consignment on the way one-half our population would ride 50 miles on muleback to get the first pick.

Women are not asked to come out here to be crucified and ebowed around. We don't believe there is a man in this town who would jump at the chance of offering his heart to a red-headed girl with a cataract in both eyes and a wart on every finger. We have contemplated a contest that what this town wants most is not boom in real estate to benefit a few, but 10 carloads of women from Boston to benefit the many. Their influence would soon be felt here, and there would be a moral backing which we can never secure without their presence. We say to all inquirers: Come right along. If you are not stopped and married before you get here, we guarantee that you will be within 15 minutes after your arrival.

A FINE SPECIES.—Two months ago, when an Iowa man came here and bought out the Star drug store, we asked him for an ad. He curtly informed us that advertising didn't pay, and he likewise refused to subscribe for the Kicker. We have been watching the tenderest eye since, and when the sheriff closed him up yesterday it was no surprise to us. Without asking anybody's advice he bought a carload of Paris green to kill 'tater bugs, and had received it when he accidentally learned that the nearest 'tater vine known to our people was 90 miles away! We are glad he didn't do business with us. If he had, we should have felt sorry for him and probably lent him money enough to get out of town on.

Doctors Fled From Anaconda

Doubtless for Anaconda's good. A lot of traveling so-called "doctors" have been visiting Anaconda for the past few months, but have gone where the woodbine twined. Dr. Liebig & Co., the old reliable and successful Kansas City, Butte City and San Francisco special physicians and surgeons are still here and will have office monthly at the De Monico, Anaconda, on the 12th day of July and the 12th day of each and every month hereafter; also at Hotel Florence, Missoula, 13 and 14; Moore House, Granite, 15 and 16; Kaiser House, Philipsburg, 17 and 18; McBurney House, Deer Lodge, 19; Nagie House, Dillon, 20 and 21; Windsor, Boulder, last day of each month ever afterwards.

Candidate Rogers's Useful Horse

From the Philadelphia Record

The Pennsylvania law in regard to fences requires them to be "horse-high, bull-strong, and pig-tight," but John E. Rogers, one of the best farmers of Delaware county and a leading light in politics, has a jumping horse that no five rail fence will keep him in his grazing ground. Between the duties and his occupation as a tiller of the soil and scouring the country two or three times a week for a lost horse Mr. Rogers is a busy man.

Everybody knows the horse, but Rogers has to call for him all the same at the horses waiting places, so that counting lost time, he is the most expensive animal in Rogers collection. His owner would sell him but for his prospective campaign for the senate, in which the horse is already a patent factor, having introduced his owner to more men than Rogers could count in a single month by constant application, and country folks are beginning to understand why Rogers keeps this high jumping horse.

The agent general of the Cape of Good Hope is officially informed that the results of the recent census, expressed in thousands, are as follows: European, or white, 377,500; aboriginal (black), 848,000; all other colored races, 299,000; total, 1,524,500. Total census of 1875, 729,000, (exclusive of the Transkei districts, the population of which in 1874 was 157,000, and which now numbers 190,000) Europeans and 476,000 natives; increase, 834,000.

In the town of Kallies, Pomerania, a great potato country, the entire population, of between 3,000 and 4,000, shut up their houses, leave the keys with the mayor, and scatter all over Pomerania to the potato harvest, leaving the mayor and bellringer alone in charge of the town.
