THE WEATHER.

The daily record of the thermometer in this city for yesterday, as reported by C. W. Brandon, was as follows: 7 a. m., 24 degrees above; 12 m., 32 degrees above; 4 p. m., 31 degrees above; 8 p. m., 28 degrees above.

ABOUT THE CITY.

James Ritchie has returned from a trip in the North lands.

Charlie Smith of Phillipsburg is in the city, and will probably locate here permanently.

Hugh Tompkinson, who was accidentally cut on the leg by an adze last week, is recovering.

John Burns, superintendent of transportation on the Montana Union, was in this city last night. Conductor Clancy West of the Garrison run also paid the Smelter City a business visit last night.

Two employes of the electric street railway got into a quarrel and began to settle the trouble by punching each other while on a moving car. They both fell off and there was picked up of the fragments about a barrel full.

The members of the fire department at the upper and lower works have arranged for a grand ball, to be given on New Year's eve in Evans' hall. The affair promises to be the most brilliant in the history of the department. The committees will be announced to-morrow.

The men at the lower works will be paid to-day. The usual pay day falls upon the 11th of each month, but today the men will be paid one day earlier than usual. This is the first regular pay day at the smelters since the resumption of operations, and all classes in the city take a deep interest in the event.

Bernhardt Berg yesterday finished tearing down the building at No. 330 East Park which had been condemned at the instigation of Mrs. Lodge who thought the joists were not strong enough. Mr. Berg will soon commence to erect upon this site a two-story brick 22 by 58 and which, when finished, will be an ornament to the city.

Colonel Joseph Thaddeus Powell is out with an offer of $200 reward for the recovery of his valuable dog, the celebrated "Twenty-One," who was stolen some weeks ago. Like many beings of less intelligence the dog was addicted to the excessive use of cigarettes, and the colonel thinks it possible his pet may have fallen into the hands of some Chinese dive keeper.

Stammering Cured. Prof. E. R. Dumont, formerly principal of the celebrated institute for stammerers at Boston, Mass., whose success in correcting impediments of speech while at Helena has recently attracted much favorable comment throughout Montana, will remain for a short time in Butte. All interested should make immediate application. Mr. Dumont's office is in the Scott block, No. 28 Granite street, Highest Butte and Montana references.

Notice to Contractors. Bids will be accepted on the building of a two-story frame dwelling house at the power house of the Electric Railway, Light and Power company, one mile west of Anaconda. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the company at the Standard building, where bids will be opened at noon on Friday, Dec. 11.

HIS SKULL WAS CRUSHED

John E. Threlkeld Meets Sudden Death at the Lower Works.

A DISTRESSING AFFAIR

Sad Scenes at the Afflicted Home—How it Occurred—Hit by a Belt and Knocked into a Shuttle.

A most distressing accident occurred at the lower works yesterday whereby John Threlkeld, a young married man, almost instantly lost his life. Threlkeld with a companion was engaged in throwing one of the large belts when the former used the handle of a long shovel, which he had in his hand at the time, to pry the revolving belt from the large pulley. He pried the belt to the wrong side and it struck the shovel with such violence as to knock Threlkeld head foremost into an ore shuttle.

The unfortunate man was thrown a distance of about fifteen feet and striking upon his head his skull was crushed. He died within a very few minutes.

The body was taken at once to Threlkeld's home, on Sixth street, between Oak and Cherry streets. His wife, with her little baby—his only child—in her arms, was almost crazed with grief when the body was carried in by some of Threlkeld's companions. The scene in the afflicted home was heart-rending.

Indeed, the whole affair was one of extreme sadness. When the wagon conveying the body was coming up from the works one of Threlkeld's brothers, who had not heard of the accident, met it and asked the driver who was the dead man. The answer was that his name was not known. The enquirer climbed upon the wagon and, raising the cover from the face of the dead man, exclaimed, "My God, is my brother!" and fell in a faint.

Further up town almost the same scene was enacted when another brother heard for the first time of John's death, when he saw his body pass along in the dead wagon.

Threlkeld was about 28 years old and had not been long married. His wife is a daughter of Mr. Foss, well known in this city. The deceased had two brothers in this city who came here with him from Colorado.

Fortunately for the afflicted wife and little one, Threlkeld carried $2,000 insurance in the A. O. U. W., which amount will be promptly paid to them. A special meeting of the local branch of the A. O. U. W. was held last night when appropriate action regarding the death of this member was taken. The funeral will take place from the family residence at 2 o'clock to-morrow. Threlkeld was a sober and industrious citizen and was greatly esteemed by all who knew him.

BAD TRAMPS BUT GOOD DUDES.

Hobos that are Fairly In It and the one of Jall's It.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Porter, of Stuart, accompanied by operator Morrow of the same place, was in this city yesterday looking for a trio of tramps and two overcoats that left Stuart last Tuesday night at the same hour. The overcoats belonged to operator Morrow and agent Mullin—the tramps belong to Satan, and Morrow says he hopes the owner will soon gather them in. Late Tuesday night Morrow had occasion to leave the office at the Stuart depot for a few moments. When he returned he found that the overcoats had been taken. He saw three tramps going away from the place in the dark and assumed that they were the thieves. The Stuart delegation returned to the bustling metropolis last night, their search here having been vain.

But Chief Pickle ran in a man yesterday afternoon who possibly is one of these sought for by the gentlemen from Stuart. The fellow's name is Jack Mooney and he was arrested while trying to sell an overcoat that was several sizes too small for him.

Jack McCann was also arrested while on the row trying to dispose of a pair of pants that were ample enough in size to have covered the nether extremities of the rotund deputy sheriff from Stuart. Both Mooney and McCann were locked up.

The officers state that a gang of sneak thieves are operating in this city on the sly and they must leave the city or work on the streets.

Late last night Officer Iseman arrested two more of the gang. One gave the name of Tom Power and said he came from Helena, but had never been in politics; the other fellow said his name was Jack Dido. They were trying to sell overcoats at prices so ruinously low that no bankrupt sale could tell of the great reductions.

TAKEN BACK TO TEXAS.

An Officer Arrives in Livingston for the Self-Confessed Murderer.

LIVINGSTON, Mont., Dec. 9.—W. Swilley, a special agent appointed by Governor Hogz of Texas, arrived in Livingston this morning with a requisition to take John Moore alias Jack Page, back to Texas. The circumstances of the crime for which Moore was indicted are as follows: In 1872 Moore was living on a farm in Texas with his wife and child. One day he went to a neighboring grist mill and there met Jack Odell, another farmer. The two men got to drinking and finally became engaged in a quarrel. Moore, who is a very passionate man, whipped out a penknife and struck Odell in the stomach, cutting a gash nine inches in length and completely disemboweling him.

More was indicted at the next term of court for murder, but in the meantime made his escape and nothing more was heard of him until he showed up in Livingston. Swilley was a boy at the time the crime was committed, but he is satisfied from talking with Moore that he is the man wanted, and thinks there will be no trouble to convict him, as the state's witnesses are still living. Moore as a resident of Hardin county, but the crime was committed just across the line in Liberty county. Swilley states that Moore's family has removed from Texas, so that he will be deprived of seeing them, which was one thing that made him give himself up. The deputy started to-night with his prisoner, and expects to arrive home about Monday. He thinks the case will be heard at the February term of court.

MURDER OF MRS. BARNABY.

What Was Said in the Testimony Yesterday About a Montana Man.

DENVER, Dec. 9.—In the Graves case today Furman denied any ill motives upon the part of the doctor, and denied that he had any but the best wishes for the old lady, as the management of her affairs by him will show. He said John Conrad, after examining the account, exonerated the doctor from the charge of mismanagement, and said he would sign a statement to that effect. The doctor said he thought it would only be right. According to Furman, Conrad said: "Can't you help me, doctor? I want to be governor and United States senator." They met at Mrs. Conrad's house that night, said Furman, and Mrs. Conrad and he could not fix up a statement then. He added he had contributed $25,000 in the last election in Montana, and expected soon to be governor. He thought he could go back and say it was a mistake to suspect the doctor. It would fix him with his constituents.

"Don't you think some one's got a bottle of pure whiskey?" said he. "I believe Worrels put in poison, and if I can prove that some one sent whiskey, I will fix the crime on Worrels."

The doctor would not say anything because he knew nothing. Two days after the partial statement exposing Dr. Graves, which was published on the following Wednesday, Conrad sent for Graves to talk about the will. In the first place Conrad's children were each left $25,000. In the second will they were only left $10,000. Conrad said to him, "Doctor, I want you to sign this paper in which you admit you sent Mrs. Barnaby a bottle of pure whiskey. By God, if you don't sign this I will take you to Denver in handcuffs. I will fix the jury to convict you. I am a Western man." Dr. Graves demanded to be let out of the house and the next day telegraphed District Attorney Stevens that he was coming to Denver. At the afternoon session, two witnesses were examined but no testimony of importance brought out.

HOLOCAUST IN LOUISVILLE.

A Disastrous Fire Which Results Fatally to Several Girls.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 9.—While the firemen were raking away the ruins of the Boone Paper company, at 3:30 this morning, there came a sound of a terrible explosion in Bamberger, Strong & Co.'s building, four stories high. In one instant fire broke out from every floor and shot up through the roof. The fire must have been smouldering for several hours in the cellar, and when each of the four stories had been filled with heated air and smoke the explosion followed. The following firms were burned out: Bamberger, Strong & Co., boots and shoes, loss $125,000; insurance $100,000; Bliss, Wilson & Co., furniture, loss $50,000; insurance $40,000; Weller, Wolfolk & Hayne, boots and shoes, loss $75,000; insurance unknown; Johanbocke & Sons, hats, loss $40,000; insurance $35,000. It was with great difficulty that the firemen prevented the flames from spreading further. A number of people were sleeping in the upper rooms of the building, but all escaped. One fireman is missing, and he may have been killed.

Information shows that a number of firemen were caught under the falling walls of Bamberger, Strong & Co.'s building. Fire Chief Hughes and Captain Weatherford were injured. Four dead firemen lay under the walls and four others were badly hurt. The dead are William Moore, William Davis, Sam Baker and Tony Schlich.

At 8 o'clock another fatal fire was raging at E. A. Menn & Co.'s wholesale candy and fancy grocery house, a square above the Boone Paper Co.'s building. The origin of the fire is a mystery. Forty girls were at work on the fourth floor and all were not able to escape. The bodies of six girls have already been taken out, burned almost beyond identification. G. T. Menn, a brother of the senior member of the firm, is supposed to have been burned to death and the firemen think that at least five other girls will be found as soon as thorough search can be made. Fire cut off escape by the stairway leading from the fourth floor where the girls were at work.

Many jumped from the windows to a second story projection and escaped with broken limbs and bruised bodies. Others got out unhurt. With its forces weakened and demolished by the early morning fire the department was called to the disaster at the candy factory. To add to the casualties and confusion, it was stated Chief Hughes of the fire department was so badly hurt in the accident early this morning that he may not recover. He and Henry Weatherford, the chief's assistant, while going to the fire, were run into by the salvage corps' wagon and their buggy was smashed. Both were trampled on by the horses, but the injuries of Weatherford are not so bad as those of his chief. A number of other firemen were badly injured at the candy shop fire. In the face of these disasters the firemen stood bravely to their work and within another half hour the flames were under control. Within this time half a score of lives had been sacrificed.

The fire is supposed to have arisen from one of the candy furnaces, which possibly exploded. The flames commenced with a big stock of Christmas fireworks. The first explosion among the fireworks scattered fire brands all over the store. The skylight fell in and the entire stock was blazing fiercely almost immediately.

The bodies of the girls were removed as soon as possible to the nearest undertaking establishments. Two of the girls have just been identified as Mary Walsh and Amelia Dickey. Great confusion exists. Main street, where the principal wholesale traffic of the city goes on, is blocked, and business is almost at a standstill. The loss on Menn & Co.'s building and stock is placed at $75,000 and the total loss will be nearly three-quarters of a million. The flames were stopped at George W. Wicks & Co.'s cotton house.

Took a Teaspoonful of Poison.

MUSCOV, Idaho, Dec. 9.—A young child of Mr. Hanson's had a narrow escape from death last night. It found a bottle of poison on the table and took a teaspoonful of it. Drs. Watkins and Biper were summoned shortly after and by a great effort brought the child out.

The trial of criminal cases in the district court will commence Friday. Among the criminals to be tried are Aschenback and the Keyes brothers, for cattle stealing, two others for stealing and several for assault.

All persons indebted to me will please settle their accounts on or before January 20, 1892. All accounts not settled on day mentioned will be given for collection. Respectfully, M. S. ASCHIEHM.

THEY ALL SAY SO.

"Standard" Leads the Procession of Newspapers in Butte.

BUTTE, Dec. 9.—After the regular meeting to-night of Washington Camp No. 1, P. O. S. of A., the members and their families and friends held a very pleasant social gathering in the hall. They had vocal music and a number of good speeches. Dr. Holmes spoke very entertainingly on the "Aims and Objects of the P. O. S. of A." He was followed by T. J. Booher, on the subject "America," and then they called on W. E. Headings, but that gentleman got out of it by introducing in his place Miss Rosa Hall, daughter of Mayor Hall of Walkerville, and she recited with good effect "Virginius." N. J. Scott did justice to the subject of "Our Order," and then Jim Brown relieved himself of his knowledge and opinion on "The Press of Montana." He told about the great public educators in the state, and said that foremost among them was the Anaconda STANDARD, with the Inter Mountain second and then followed by the Miner. He said the question of circulation was not considered. The people owe the deepest respect and allegiance to the little newspaper who daily greet them with papers for the sum of 5 cents. To the newsboy, Mr. Brown said, he owes his present exalted position and somewhat unenviable notoriety as circulator of the Inter Mountain and Miner. "I love the little boys," continued the speaker, "because they get only 2 1/2 cents on a paper, while the same paper brings you lots of pleasure and knowledge." Mr. Brown then became personal and designated John B. Read of the evening paper as the greatest editorial writer on earth, and he said that Mr. Quinn ranked second only to Horace Greeley. He tackled reporters and circulators also, and enlightened the audience on the subject of "scoops." Mr. Brown then drifted from his subject and got slightly off on the "Miti-Mogul" question, and took his seat amid a storm of applause.

Thomas Stees spoke on the subject of "The Daughters of America," after which Mayor Hall of Walkerville was called and spoke on American institutions, as seen by a man of foreign birth who had adopted this as his country.

The programme was concluded with an oration by J. D. Harper, and then the assemblage partook of an excellent spread, prepared by the mothers and daughters and sisters of the P. O. S. of A. The evening was in every way an enjoyable affair.

PURELY POLITICAL.

What is Said About the Revolution in China.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The Chronicle this morning publishes letters from the Shanghai correspondent, in which he repeats his previous assertion that the basis of the present crisis in the Chinese empire is political, not religious. He says a revolutionary spirit fills the land; it is a species of nihilism and has seized the army; members of the official classes, even to the older families of China, and servants in the houses of Europeans. The proconsuls of the governor general hold the situation. No revolution is possible, certainly not successful, without that their present interest is against a rebellion, because they live by corruption, but if they could be convinced a revolution would operate in their favor, the co-operation of all of them might be relied on.

Caused Her Son's Arrest.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Francis V. Stokes today secured a warrant for the arrest of her son, George S., a lunatic who is at large. He was at one time a lawyer, but was forced to flee the state on account of trouble he got into with a man named Sniffen, the latter accusing Stokes of alienating his wife's affections. Stokes went to California, shot a man, and was incarcerated in an insane asylum, from which he obtained release by legal proceedings. Since his return to New York, his mother has been in constant terror of her life.

Pimples.

The old idea of 40 years ago was that facial eruptions were due to a "blood humor," for which they gave potash. Thus all the old Sarsaparillas contain potash, a most objectionable and drastic mineral, that instead of decreasing, actually creates more eruptions. You have noticed this when taking other Sarsaparillas than Joy's. It is however now known that the stomach, the blood creating power, is the seat of all vitiating or cleansing operations. A stomach clogged by indigestion or constipation, vitiates the blood, result pimples. A clean stomach and healthful digestion purifies it and they disappear. Thus Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is compounded after the modern idea to regulate the bowels and stimulate the digestion. The effect is immediate and most satisfactory. A short testimonial to contrast the action of the potash Sarsaparillas and Joy's modern vegetable preparation. Mrs. C. D. Stuart, of 409 Hayes St., S. F., writes: "I have for years had indigestion, I tried a popular Sarsaparilla but it actually caused more pimples to break out on my face. Hearing that Joy's was a later preparation and acted differently, I tried it and the pimples immediately disappeared."

NO MORE BACKACHE. OREGON KIDNEY TEA. Recently the following notices appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle. "Judge S— had been sick only about two weeks, and it was not until the last three or four days that the malady took a serious turn. At the beginning of his illness he suffered from diabetes and stomach disorder. Later the kidneys refused to perform their functions and he passed quietly away. Thus ended the life of one of the most prominent men in California." Like thousands of others his untimely death was the result of neglecting early symptoms of kidney disease. IF YOU are troubled with diabetes, gravel, or any derangement of the kidneys or urinary organs, don't delay proper treatment until you are forced to give up your daily duties; don't waste your money on worthless liniments and worse plasters, but strike at the seat of the disease at once by using the greatest of all known remedies, the celebrated Oregon Kidney Tea.
