AULT TURNS A TRICK

He is All Right at Collecting, But Not Much at Paying.

DRAFTS THAT ARE NO GOOD

Here is a Chance for the Union Bad Debts Collecting Agency to Demonstrate its Efficiency as a Collector.

MISSOULA, March 11.—Manager Mulloy of the European hotel is gazing regretfully at a protested draft endorsed by W. W. Ault and wishing that he had in his money drawer the $52 that the piece of worthless paper has cost him.

Ault came here last month as the advance agent and pioneer of the Union Bad Debts Collecting Agency and established local headquarters in Missoula.

He came here one Tuesday with an assistant named Brown and the two registered at the European hotel and on Wednesday went to work.

Matters went on for another week until the board bills were due again and were presented.

The draft was made payable to W. W. Ault, was dated at Salt Lake and bore the signature of the president of Ault's company.

In two days a telegram was received that the draft had been protested and this was later confirmed by letter.

A telegram was received this afternoon, stating that Ault and Brown have been located in Spokane and that they will be held if desired.

Here is an opportunity for the Union Bad Debt Collecting Agency to demonstrate its value as a collection medium for Mr. Mulloy admits that the debt is bad enough and he knows that he wants it collected.

Each standing committee of the board shall report to the executive committee whenever requested by said executive committee, and to the board of trade whenever requested to make such report by the president.

W. H. FRANCIS, President Missoula Board of Trade. Dated Missoula, Mont., March 5, 1895.

Several members of the board of trade and other interested persons visited the oat meal mill this afternoon and were shown through the establishment by Manager Hermann.

The mill is now running full time and its product finds a ready market all over the state, and is favorably received by consumers.

The visitors were much pleased by its appearance. There were numerous expressions of confidence of the success of the mills and it is believed that this successful manufacturing plant here will induce others to come.

"NARCISSE."

There Was a Fair House and a Good Performance.

MISSOULA, March 11.—A fairly good house greeted the performance of "Narcisse" by the Bandmann company at the opera house this evening.

The audience was by no means as good as the play deserved. It was by long odds, the finest performance that Herr Bandmann and his local company have given in this town.

The little Elison children, who were injured in the railroad accident at Bonney last week, are doing well.

The district court has adjourned till Saturday.

Anxious as the board of trade may be to get down to business, the regular meeting to have been held this evening was postponed until Tuesday night.

Some clever Thompson Falls men put up a job last week on a Spokane hide buyer and sold him the hide of a black range calf for a bear skin, clearing $7.50 by the transaction.

Judge Knowles returned last night from San Diego and left to-day for Butte. His family will return from the coast in May.

D. W. French came over from Anaconda to-day.

Tylar B. Thompson has returned from a pleasant visit in Butte.

Hon. H. Sweet and wife of Butte are in the city.

William F. Forbis of Butte is registered at the Florence.

Hon. Elmer E. Hershey returned to-day from Helena.

Senator O. C. Cooper of Ravalli county is in town on his way home from the legislature.

John M. Price of Hope has been in Missoula for a couple of days.

Among the business men in town to-day are: G. A. Jeffrey, Duluth; R. H. Doebase, Kansas City; J. Rosenberg, Omaha; F. Rothchild, San Francisco; H. J. Krabb, Fort Madison; C. H. Gray, Chicago.

J. A. Bean and others have located the Anna Bell claim in Spring gulch.

Jesse Norquod of Kalispel has sold to Zadok Thompson of the same place his interest in the Phiny, North Star, Atlantic Cable, Bendize, Alexander and Anzi-Naxon claims on Bull river.

A man named Morris died at the Sisters' hospital to-day. His home was near Lo Lo. The remains are at Lucy's undertaking rooms.

PUTTING IN AIRS.

Horse Plains is Becoming Quite Metropolitan.

HORSE PLAINS, March 11.—This pretty little town, situated in one of the most attractive valleys in the state, is rapidly assuming metropolitan dignity.

The postoffice is being enlarged and improved by the addition of some lock boxes, which will be greatly appreciated by the patrons of the office; there is considerable building contemplated here this spring; the town is to have a new school house; at least one new church will be built; everything, in fact points to a lively and prosperous season here.

A barber shop is being erected next to the Hotel McGowan by J. M. Scott, who will locate here.

J. W. Rowley expects to start a weekly newspaper here, which will be a credit to the town. It will be devoted to local interests and will endeavor to set forth the advantages of this section of the state.

Miss Hord has charge of the public schools here and is making a good record for thoroughness and efficiency.

Colonel McGowan has begun the excavation for the cellar of a handsome brick store building, which will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

There is a movement on foot to divide this school district, which is too large for satisfactory results.

At present the Horse Plains district extends from Edly to Olive. It is proposed to cut off the west end of this large district and organize it as a new district.

This will enable Horse Plains to maintain a good school throughout the entire school year. There will probably be 90 pupils in this district, while the Edly district will have about 35.

A special tax is to be levied for the erection of a school house here in town, a good location for the building having been set apart when the townsite was platted.

Some fine furs are being shipped from here this spring. Most of them are brought in by the Indians.

ABOMINABLE.

Poor McCullough's Misfortunes Burlesqued Shamefully.

MISSOULA, March 11.—Among the recent phonograph records that have been sent out to the owners of instruments is one labeled "The Ravings of John McCullough," purporting to be the reproduction of the maniacal language of the great actor during his confinement in a madhouse immediately preceding his death.

The record is a horrible thing. It is a sacrifice to turn to a source of profit the misfortunes of a man so eminently great as this unfortunate actor.

The theatrical press has commented upon it and the general verdict has been condemnatory of the idea. The plan is cleverly carried out, and whoever created the original is a master actor, but he wisely concealed his identity or else he would have been publicly branded by the friends of the late actor as an infamous and heartless man.

As an imitation of some of McCullough's great passages, the record from which the phonograph produces the recitation is a fine piece of work. The inflection and expression are like the great actor's, but the inimitable timbre of the voice is lacking. There is probably no one living who can reproduce that.

Last night several gentlemen who have been interested in the criticisms of the reproduction, requested Herr Bandmann to listen to it from Hartley's phonograph, that he might give an opinion regarding it.

Herr Bandmann was for a long time associated with McCullough when they were both young men and was intimately acquainted with him. Last evening he listened carefully and studiously as the machine reproduced the ravings of the maniac actor.

When it was completed, he said: "It is not right. It is horrible. It should not be permitted. It is sacrilege. In the first place the voice is not at all like McCullough's. I knew him well for a long time and his tones were familiar to me. That does not sound at all like him and should never be allowed to be used. It is impossible to reproduce McCullough's voice and to burlesque his affliction in that way is abominable."

MISSOULA NEWS.

MISSOULA, March 11.—Mrs. Sibley, Mrs. McKibbin and Miss McKibbin returned to-day from a three months' visit in the East.

The little Elison children, who were injured in the railroad accident at Bonney last week, are doing well.

The district court has adjourned till Saturday.

and promptly pulled their freight. A third gentleman of leisure stood trial, and will spend 10 days working for the city's benefit.

J. M. Hamilton, superintendent of the city schools, is the father of a little girl that arrived yesterday.

Rev. Father Pawvelyn of Phillipsburg was in town to-day for a few hours.

It is reported here that John M. Price and N. J. Gould have bought out John M. Willis' real estate and stock at Thompson Falls and will conduct the mercantile establishment under the firm name of Price & Gould.

Bishop Brewer returned to Helena to-day.

Superintendent Brinson, Roadmaster Russell and Bridge Superintendent Weed went to Helena on No. 2 to-day.

W. E. Lindenborn came up from Thompson Falls to-day and will go to Hamilton in the morning.

A fierce wind blowing here to-night and has swept showers of sparks out of all the chimneys in town. One of the flues on the Montana hotel looked like a small volcano, and some excited individual rung in a fire alarm.

In two minutes half the town was there looking for fire. None could be seen. The fire department made a good run and laid a line of hose but the water was used. Some one asked George Beckwith what he was running for and he said: "Trying to catch my breath." He had not caught it at a late hour to-night.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith will be pained to learn of the sudden death, to-day, of their young son. The boy returned with his mother not long ago from Chicago, where an operation had been performed on the brain. The operation was partially successful, but the little fellow recently became ill with brain fever and another operation had been decided on to save the boy's life. He was removed to the Sisters' hospital to-day, but died just after reaching there.

Dandruff forms when the glands of the skin are weakened, and if neglected, baldness is sure to follow. Hail's Hair Restorer is the best preventive.

Vestibule Trains.

Winter blasts, rain and sleet have no terror for travelers using the transcontinental trains of the Northern Pacific. Their passenger, sleeping and dining cars are vestibuled.

Thin Children.

The reason why they are thin is because their food does not nourish them. Probably they do not assimilate enough fat.

Cod-liver Oil is the most easily assimilated of all fats, but in its natural state it upsets the stomach and deranges the digestion.

In Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites this difficulty is overcome. It is half-digested already and is very palatable. Children grow fat on it when all other food fails to nourish them.
