

Butte Department.

THIS IS A GREAT DAY

Football Results Will Be Anxiously Looked For.

BUTTE WILL PLAY DENVER

The Olympics and the Reliance Eleven Are Booked for a Contest—The Game Next Thursday.

Two football games in which Butte people are manifesting a lively interest will be played to-day. The young giants, who represent the greatest mining camp on earth on the gridiron field, will go against the team of the Denver Athletic club at the Colorado metropolis this afternoon, and the San Francisco Olympics who play in Butte on Thanksgiving day, will tackle the Reliance team at San Francisco. Local devotees of the game are hoping that the Reliance-Olympic contest will be a close one and that the Olympics will prove themselves to be at least as good a team as the Reliance club.

While the great majority of the loyal people of Butte are hoping that the crimson and cream will wave victoriously over the Denver field this afternoon, there are some who are equally loyal to their team who would not be greatly disappointed to see them defeated. There are some who believe that another defeat before they start on their coast trip would do the Butte boys good and would serve to strengthen them. Butte needs the strongest team it can get together to go to San Francisco.

At this time it is betraying no confidence to announce that Captain McMillan of the Reliance team will play his last game with the Oakland men. He will leave for Butte either tomorrow or Monday, and it is expected that he will play under Captain Brooks against the Olympics on Thanksgiving day. McMillan joined the Butte team without any solicitation, but his offer to come here and play under the crimson and cream banner was gladly accepted. He is a strong and experienced player, and he will prove a valuable addition to the Butte eleven. He fell desperately in love with Butte and its football team when the Reliance team was here, and he expressed an ardent desire immediately after the game to return here and become a permanent member of the aggregation of smokers.

The Denver News of Thursday contained the following:

"The practice game at the Denver Athletic club park yesterday afternoon was a lively one. The Golden players show an improvement over their former play in Denver that is really phenomenal. Roller, the half-back, is still the most prominent figure in their mass plays, though the other members of the team are all heard from. Both Roller and Thompson made good runs in the practice. For the D. A. C.'s Frank Spalding, Heller and Good surprised even their most enthusiastic friends. The Denver men are in the finest condition they have been this season and are ready to play the game of the year. They state with greater confidence each day that they will certainly defeat the mountaineers, doing so with a trifle more margin than did the Californians. Wright, the heavy center of the Sioux City team, was out at practice. He played center, doing better work than in last Saturday's game.

"Butte City eleven is announced to arrive in Denver Friday morning. This will give the men an opportunity to stretch themselves before the game, and to test the grounds. Gills, who figures as the Heller of the Buttes, will take the opportunity to run a few hundred yards, to show how he made his famous 65-yard sprint against the Reliance men. If the Buttes have any idea that he can outprint Denver's pride in half-back, they are doomed to be un-deceived. Heller received a severe sprain several weeks ago, which, he has been favoring while playing his last few games, but he is all right now, and ready to show Mr. Gills that 65 yards is a short run.

"Butte is said to be coming down with both pockets running over with simoleons and smaller cash to bet on the result. Two thousand dollars has been raised in one bunch to meet the wants of the mountaineers, and more is coming up."

All is in readiness for the Olympic football team's journey to Butte, says the San Francisco Chronicle, and the eleven will start on Monday evening, provided they all survive Saturday's battle. Manager Gill received a letter from DeGay Stivers, manager of the Butte team, yesterday which determined the matter finally. Stivers says that the weather at Butte will be clear and cold on Thanksgiving day, and he advises the San Francisco men to put on their winter dry goods and bring their overcoats.

The Butte team, Mr. Stivers says, is in mourning because of its defeat by Reliance, but he is willing personally to wager $1,000 that it will recover its laurels when it meets the Oakland team in this city on Dec. 21. In the Butte game, so Mr. Stivers states, his team put up the "dunkiest" football he has seen in his managerial experience.

and defeat was due to new men in the last half going to pieces. The Butte team will go to Denver for a game before it meets the Olympics.

Manager Gill said yesterday that Simpson, the star tackle of Berkeley, who has recently joined the Olympic club, will likely go to Butte with the team, as he is barred from the Stanford-Berkeley game. He will probably play in Saturday's game also. Next year he will play with Berkeley, and it is expected that his experience on his trip north will make him a very valuable man. Butterworth and Lang are willing that he should play with the Olympics.

Harvey, an old Yale and Boston Athletic club player of almost national reputation, is expected to turn out this week. He will most likely play center, and will greatly strengthen the team.

A Palo Alto dispatch to the San Francisco Chronicle says: "A large crowd of Stanford students witnessed the first of the series of four practice games with Reliance this evening. The score stood 8 to 4 in favor of Reliance. The Reliance team has improved greatly since their match with Stanford before their northern trip. Their team is further strengthened in the practice game by Barnheisel and Walton. Stanford was made by Wyckoff of Reliance. The method used was bucking the line. Stanford worked the ball to the Reliance goal and Weldon put it over. In the second half the personnel of the team was materially changed. The ball was kept near the center of the field for a long time, but Reliance gradually worked it over the line for a second touch-down. Stanford was unable to tie the score during the remainder of the half.

The management will take the football team for a two days' outing to Woodside Saturday and Sunday. The men will return in time to report for recitations Monday, as the faculty does not wish the men to be absent from the university longer than that."

ATHLETICS.

Next Tuesday the Pastime Club Will Give an Entertainment.

Things are very lively at present at the Pastime Athletic club's gymnasium. The professor and the officers of the club and members are working like Trojans for the grand exhibition next Tuesday. It will be one of the most enjoyable events of the season. Some original specialties will be introduced, not even seen among professionals. There will also be dancing after the entertainments. Being for a good cause, it ought to be a big success in every way.

The wish of all is that the Pastime Athletic club will have a new gymnasium the coming spring. The following programme will be given: Leaping, horizontal bar, cannon ball manipulations, boxing, club swinging, wrestling, parallel bar, fancy dancing, ladies' class, back exercise, grotesque specialties, pantomime, etc.

A BAD BARGAIN.

The Liskers, Formerly of Butte, Want to Be Relieved of a House.

The San Francisco Examiner has the following about a real estate deal in which a former Butte man seems to have gotten the worst of it:

"A. A. Lisker and Caroline Lisker, his wife, have a lodging house on their hands, and they want the superior court to compel Jacob Hoeges to relieve them of it. Their attorney, E. M. Morgan, brought suit against Hoeges yesterday to recover $5,500, and to declare void a transfer by which the defendants obtained possession of a lot on the north line of Johnson avenue, in Alameda, said to be worth $6,000. The Liskers complain that by misrepresentation Hoeges induced them to transfer this property to him in exchange for a lodging-house at 246 Third street, in this city, which was said to pay $125 a month."

IT IS BEING REVIVED

There Is More Talk of Tunneling Under the City.

RICH LEADS EVERYWHERE

The Plan is Said to Be Well Under Way—it is Proposed to Bore From South Butte to Walkerville.

There is a good deal of quiet excitement in the city over the revival of the project to tunnel Butte. Plans have been made for this scheme three or four times, and at one time operations on a small scale were actually begun. But now, it is stated, the scheme will be actually put into operation and the tunnel will be driven from the southern part of the city clear to Walkerville.

It has long been the belief of many old mining men in Butte that the richest ore in this camp lies right under the city of Butte. North, south, east and west of the city rich leads abound, and it might, therefore, reasonably be inferred that there are rich leads also where Butte now stands. But, in addition to this inference is the fact that scarcely a cellar is dug for a building in Butte but that lead matter is brought to light, indicating the wealth that is imprisoned down under the busy city. Only a week or two ago the digging of the cellar of the new building erected by Mrs. Jerry Roach showed indications which would have created a furor of excitement in any place but Butte. Here it is so usual to strike leads that little comment is excited.

The plan is to tap the rich leads which run under the city, particularly the Smoke House, which is generally considered the richest in these parts. A company is being formed and sufficient capital will be raised to carry the plan through. The shaft struck by Pat Mullins in West Galena street, near Main, just behind the Curtis & Majors block, will be used as a starting point. This shaft is down a sufficient depth for the purposes of the syndicate. From the bottom of the shaft the tunnel will be driven due north to Walkerville, keeping close under Main street, in all probability. Engineers have been consulted in regard to the project.

The company is not yet completed. It is understood that Captain Charles H. Palmer, lately superintendent of the Butte & Boston company, is at the head of the scheme. Captain Palmer announced his intention of going to Europe several weeks ago, but has delayed his trip and it is the general belief that he is getting the tunnel company into form. It is not given out authoritatively that Captain Palmer is in the scheme, but that is the general report. Both local and Eastern capital will be interested in the scheme. Operations will be begun very soon.
