BUTTE VS. OLYMPIC

The Greatest Football Game of the Season on Thanksgiving Day.

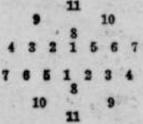

B. A. & P. SPECIAL TRAIN

You Can Leave at 12:45 O'Clock, Witness the Contest, and Return to Anaconda in Time for Dinner.

The football game at Butte on Thanksgiving afternoon between Butte and San Francisco eleven is the leading topic of conversation among a great many people in Anaconda who enjoy real, legitimate sport. Business generally will be suspended in this city on Thursday, and it is believed that an immense crowd will board the B. A. & P. special train which leaves here at 12:45 and arrives at Butte in plenty of time for everybody to get a good seat. The game will not start until 2 o'clock. Thursday's game will unquestionably be one of the finest and most exciting of the season—though to Anacondans who witnessed the Butte-Reliance game it has got to be a hummer to excel that memorable 8 to 6 event in point of brilliant football playing. A number of the pronounced pigskin oracles in this city are still playing that game, and every time two or three of them come together they tell each other how it happened. The B. A. & P. will run a special from Butte at 9 o'clock Thursday evening if 100 people desire to remain until that hour. Those who want to eat their Thanksgiving dinner at home, or who have an invitation to dine with a friend, can see the whole game and yet have plenty of time to catch the regular 5 o'clock passenger on the B. A. & P. that arrives in Anaconda at 5:45 o'clock a. m. Fare for the round trip, including admission to the game is only $1.50.

A large and magnificent photograph of the members of the Butte football team was placed on exhibition in the corner window of the Shields block yesterday and attracted more attention from passersby than anything ever displayed in this city. There are 64 men in the group, as follows: C. W. Clark, president; D. Gay Stivers, manager; Francis Brooks, captain; Bob Weiss, Bob Ellis, the only Donald Gillis, Chet Smith, Wiber Boyce, G. W. King, W. B. Lasswell, W. D. Langley, D. N. Richards and Will Slater.

For the information of those who are not familiar with the great game of football, the following synopsis of the game is given: The football field is 330 feet long by 160 feet wide, with the goals at either end of the field. The goal posts are set 20 feet apart and are 20 feet high, a pole being laid across at a height of 10 feet from the ground. To kick a goal the ball must go clear over the cross pole and between the sides of the projecting uprights. Each team is composed of 11 men. When in position the men are arranged as show in the following diagram:

- 1-1-Center rush.
2-3-Right guard.
3-3-Right tackle.
4-4-Right end.
5-5-Left guard.
8-8-Quarter back.
9-9-Right half back.
11-11-Full back.

The point of the game is to get the ball over or back of the goal of the opposing side. When the ball is carried back of the goal line and placed on the ground it is called a touchdown and scores four points. The side scoring then has a right to place the ball in the field 25 yards from the goal and attempt to kick a goal. Being successful, it counts two points more.

A goal kick from the field counts five points. This is seldom resorted to, for a bad kick would throw the ball into the arms of the opposition. The usual method is to attempt to score a touchdown and then have the opportunity of kicking goal for the additional two scores from a point 25 yards inside.

In case one of the teams should be pressed well towards its goal, it is customary, in an emergency, to carry the ball behind its goal and touch it to the ground. This is called a safety touchdown and scores two points for the opposite side, but gives the team touching down behind its own goal an opportunity to place the ball on its 25-yard line, thus relieving them from the crush at their goal.

After tossing up to determine which eleven shall have the ball and which shall have choice of goal, the play is opened by what is termed a kick off. This is from the center of the field and the ball must be kicked over 10 yards before it can be in play. The ball touching a player in the opposite side after being kicked is in play.

A man getting the ball attempts to carry it through or around the line of the opposite team. The opposition aim to tackle this man and force him to go to the ground with the ball. The sides then line up where the ball goes down, the center rush taking the ball. He snaps it back to quarter back who passes it to someone designated by the captain and the effort to carry it through or around the other line is repeated.

If the man who goes down with the ball retains it it still belongs to his side, but if he loses possession of the ball it goes to whichever side pounces upon it first. The men again line up and the snapping back process is repeated and so on. After three downs if the side having the ball has not gained five yards from the point of the first down, they forfeit the ball.

It will be seen, therefore, that the object of each of the players is to get the ball as far as possible toward the opposite goal before being tackled and downed, as the line is always reformed at the point where he falls.

There are a number of scientific kicks in the game, each having its own name. These kicks often constitute the best part of the play. A ball may be punted gracefully along by a player for considerable distance in order to keep it out of reach of the opposition, and then kicked straight into the arms of a man on the side of the kicker who will attempt to carry it through or around in order to accomplish a touchdown.

FLAMES IN DEER LODGE.

Personal Pointers From the Valley City—A Mining Suit. Special Correspondence of the Standard. Deer Lodge, Nov. 26.—An alarm of fire about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon disturbed the Sabbath observing people of this town. A passer-by saw smoke issuing from the roof of Joe Toomey's handsome residence on Rainbow avenue, and, losing no time, he rushed in and told Joe that his house was on fire. Joe was busy frolicking with the children at the time, but found time to remark, "You don't tell me so!" The arrival of the fireman with the steamer and hook and ladder truck soon convinced him that it was no joke, and after some hard fighting the fire, which was found to be in another portion of the house, was finally subdued. It resulted from a defective chimney and had been burning for some little time before it was discovered. The loss to the house and furniture from fire and water will easily foot up $1,000, but is amply covered by insurance in the Fireman's Fund and other companies.

Ed Mageone, one of the successful miners of Bear Gulch, stopped off in Deer Lodge to-day. He is very much elated over the returns he received from a small shipment of ore made from his mines to a Butte smelter last week.

Attorney Edward Scharnikow has been confined to his home for several days with a severe case of rheumatism. A suit in partition of a mining claim was tried in the district court here to-day. It was brought by Mortimer Leary and others against Harvey Monroe and Nathan Hall, and resulted from a disagreement in the partnership. After hearing the evidence the court adjusted the respective rights of the different owners. Wade & Barrows of Helena represented the plaintiffs and Goodman & Scharnikow the defendants.

Sheriff McLaughlin of Missoula county was in Deer Lodge last evening. He brought over with him from the Garden City four guests for Conley & McTague's Thanksgiving dinner.

Dr. Cranson made a professional trip to Pioneer the first of this week. Rev. A. B. Martin, president of the College of Montana, returned from a visit to Butte yesterday.

Mrs. W. W. Dixon came down from Butte Sunday evening to be present at the funeral of Mrs. R. T. Kennon, which occurred yesterday.

Judge E. F. Brown of Garrison was a visitor at the county seat yesterday. Receiver J. H. Mills came over from Helena and paid his family the usual weekly visit last Sunday.

Attorneys C. J. Walsh and John Duffey were in attendance upon court in Deer Lodge to-day.

Sealed proposals are also invited at the said December session, 1896, from resident practicing physicians of said county to furnish medical attendance and treatment to the sick, poor and infirm of said county, for said term, and to the inmates of the county jail. Said board also invites sealed proposals at said December session, 1895, for the furnishing of medicines for the said sick, poor and infirm for the said term.
