DIPHTHERIA RAGING

Belt, Sand Coulee and Great Falls Are Afflicted.

MRS. REED'S HALLUCINATION

A Notorious Female Box Rustler From the Casino is in Trouble and Siefred is Out Several Hard Earned Dollars.

Great Falls, Dec. 20.—Five cases of diphtheria are reported from Belt today, and it is feared the disease will become epidemic in that camp. Dr. Longway, health officer for this city and county, has ordered the schools closed and a rigid quarantine is being enforced against the spread of the disease. There are also three cases of diphtheria at Sand Coulee, and the schools remain closed indefinitely. In Great Falls two new cases were reported yesterday, both being children of Mrs. Martin, a washerwoman residing on the river front, near the pump house of the water company. One of these died early this morning and was buried this afternoon. Fears were entertained by some that the contagion would be spread through the clothes which Mrs. Martin has washed for patrons, but the investigation of the board of health showed that Mrs. Martin had done only one washing within the period in which it is possible for contagion to be carried in the clothes, and that washing had not been returned to the owner, who does not want it any way.

James Ryan has started serving a six months' term in the county jail for stealing a valuable beaver overcoat from Joseph Hawson of Belt and selling the same to a denizen of Little Chicago.

Mrs. Rose Reed, a colored woman, was examined this morning as to her sanity. She is laboring under a strange hallucination, believing the house in which she resides, with her husband and two children, is about to fall on her and the babes. She is particularly averse to residing on the north side of the city, and fears that any one who resides on the north side will injure her. After a lengthy examination the board decided that she was suffering from melancholia, and was not dangerous or insane enough to be committed to the asylum.

The following officers were elected last night at a meeting of the Black Eagle command, No. 8, Knights Templar: R. McDougal, E. C. W. P. Beachly, G. R. W. Hanson, C. G. W. H. Race, P. A. Weehner, S. W. W. F. Brown, J. W. Joseph Hamilton, treasurer; W. E. Chamberlain, secretary; William C. McBratney, St. B.; W. R. Dwyer, Sw. B.; M. N. Racco, W. H. Shaw, a notorious box rustler at the Casino theater, was before Judge Hawkins today charged with relieving James Siefred of $106. Siefred is from Belt and is not conspicuous for brilliancy of intellect or surplus of ordinary common sense. He claims he was enticed in a box at the Casino and while there flashed two $50 bills and a $5 silver certificate. Hattie got sight of them and later got possession of them and kept the "stuff" claiming that Siefred spent the money for wine, champagne, cigars, beer, cigarettes and the like. There was a crowd of witnesses from the theater that sustained the story of the woman. County Attorney Freeman is giving the matter a good deal of attention, inasmuch as he has determined to suppress this method of robbery, and the case was finally adjourned until to-morrow. This is the third complaint of a similar character made against the Shaw woman within a few weeks. In the other two cases the complainants were drunk to make their testimony worth much as to what occurred, and no prosecution followed.

CHINESE CERTIFICATES.

Ah Fong, a Celestial Legal Light, is Supposed to Be Guilty. Special Dispatch to the Standard. Boise, Idaho, Dec. 19.—After a search extending nearly a year, the federal authorities have captured a man who, it is believed, secured a number of fraudulent Chinese certificates upon which many Chinese not entitled to land on American soil worked their way in as merchants who had gone to China on a visit. To-night United States Marshal Crutcher and Inspector Johnson of Spokane arrived in the city with Ah Fong, a young Chinese attorney, in charge. Ah Fong was arrested at Payette by Inspector Johnson. A large number of bogus certificates were issued here, the names of prominent business men being forged to them. The officers believe they have the man who did a good deal of the work and knows all about all of it. Inspector Johnson has been on the trail of the fellow ever since the question of bogus certificates was investigated by the federal grand jury here a year ago, after which time Ah Fong suddenly disappeared. Ah Fong is a Chinese of more than ordinary intellect. He speaks good English and writes well. Fong was in this city for quite a while before the bogus certificates issued to supposed Boise Chinese merchants began to make their appearance at ports of entry. He posed as a Chinese lawyer, having a number of cases in court. It is likely Fong will have a hearing to-morrow. It is believed he will make a full confession and that several prominent business men will be implicated.

ODD STORIES FROM KIEL.

An Invasion of This Country Has Been Planned and Discussed in Official Circles. From the Washington Post. The naval officers who were with our white squadron at Kiel tell some mighty interesting stories, "whin so disposed," as Sairy Gamp might say. They were on intimate terms with princes and hobnobbed with emperors and kings, and for the time unloaded rank and were free and easy with "the boys." Though the officers are curiously reticent touching what their foreign visitors talked about, two pretty significant stories have leaked out. The German emperor was an avowed admirer of the clean, new white American ships and liked to visit them incoast—that is, with only an aide-de-camp or two along. One day he was talking with a famous young captain, who won his laurels before he was 20. "Captain, I see that most of your country's war ships are fast cruisers. What do you call them? Ah, commerce destroyers, do you not?" "Yes, emperor," said the other. "We've been watching you on this side," the emperor went on, "and we have come to the conclusion that these ships are built for a war with England. What other nation has any commerce to destroy?" There was a silence after this, for our captain had said more than he intended.

The Grand Duke Alexis was also at Kiel. He is a full Russian admiral now, and the head of the Russian navy. He was also a frequent visitor to the Americans, and, like all the other notables, talked with the utmost confidence to our officers. One day, watching the Columbia as she rode the waves as lightly and with the easy grace of a winged steed, the grand duke said to a captain: "I am glad you Americans are rebuilding your fleet. Do you know what most impressed me when I visited your country? Let me tell you. The first thing was your wonderful national wealth; the second, the absolute inadequate means for the disposal of national defense. You were like a drunken man with pockets full of money and two or three hungry ruffians on the dark side of the street waiting a chance to attack him."

"Why, do you mean to say—" began the somewhat startled captain, when the grand duke put his hand on the other's arm and said: "Twice in my career I have heard the project of capturing one or two of your great cities and holding them for ransom. European fleets whose countries had hard work to make ends meet. And they meant it, too. I once made a sensation, when, after listening to a conversation of this kind, in which the officers of four different fleets took part. I said: 'Gentlemen, the United States and Russia are friends. Should she be unjustly attacked Russia would help to see that the wrong was righted.' Ah, I can't tell you where or who it was some over to the Kurik (the Russian flagship) and have a glass of wine."

ORIGIN OF THE HUMAN RACE

Some Scientists Hold the Polar Regions Were Once Inhabited. From the St. Louis Republic. Believers in the Laplace theory of the origin of the sun and the planets are of the opinion that the original stock of the human race came into existence at the poles of the earth and gradually moved out toward the equator in all directions, with the exception of a few fast conforming theories. It is the belief that this earth was once a red-hot ball of fire, and that the human race came into existence as soon as a portion of the globe had cooled sufficiently to admit of their living upon it. The portion most likely to cool first was the poles, and the evidence deduced from this speculation is that upon which is founded the idea of the polar origin of the human family. On the above theory is explained the mysterious finding of the remains of tropical birds, beasts and plants far up in all polar regions. It is really true that the poles were once the truest spots on the earth's surface, and that they were rendered so by the globe first cooling at the spots least affected by sunshine, it must be true also that the polar regions are gradually encroaching upon the temperate and torrid zones. Who knows but that the centuries yet to come will fill the Indian ocean and the Gulf of Mexico with icebergs and keep the Nile and the Amazon frozen solidly throughout the year?

BUILDING MATERIALS.

Interesting Experiments Made to Determine Their Relative Values. From the Boston Journal of Commerce. Experiments have lately been made in Vienna to determine the efficiency of various building materials in resisting fire, and in especial the protection afforded by these to iron work. For this purpose an iron column was constructed, consisting of two channel bars 5 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches, braced together by lattice work, and having placed in the space between them various alloys melting at temperatures between 150 and 1,650 degrees F., this being surrounded by brick work in mortar, forming a pier some 18 inches square. This column was loaded with sufficient weight to cause a stress of three and a quarter tons per square inch on the iron work, and placed in a brick chamber 12 1/2 feet in plan and 11 1/2 feet high. Fuel was distributed over the floor of this chamber to a depth of three feet, fired for two and one-half hours, and then extinguished. The next day, when the heat had sufficiently subsided to allow an examination, it was found that although the edges of the brickwork were crumbled to the extent of one and a half inches, the iron column was uninjured, and only the test bar, fusing at 150 degrees F., showed any signs of melting.

Named After Franklin.

The "State of Franklin" was born 110 years ago, but died after a life of two and one-half years. The residents of what is now Tennessee, but which formed in 1785 a part of North Carolina, whose western boundary was the Mississippi, were told by the North Carolina legislature that they could be independent if they wanted to. Almost impassable mountains separated them from the regions to the east, and they fancied that the people living there were regardless of their interest. So they formed a government for themselves and named their state after Ben Franklin. Then they applied to the congress of the confederation for recognition, but it was slow to act, and North Carolina took back her consent to the separation and suppressed the state of Franklin by force of arms.

What do you need at the drug store, pray?

A package of Tea I need to-day. Is that what makes your skin so white? Certainly, sir, for I take it each night. Now, maiden fair, what may this be?

Why, that is, of course, KARL'S Tea. Sold by D. M. Newber Drug Co., Butte; Standard Drug Co., Anaconda.

LIVELY WALL STREET

A Heavy Depression in the Stock Exchange Yesterday.

FINANCIAL CIRCLES WILD

American Securities Assume a Panicky Attitude in London—A Sensation Equal to That Caused by Baring.

New York, Dec. 20.—In a general way Wall street was prepared, after the close of business yesterday, for a probable depression in the stock market to-day, on account of the Venezuelan message episode and the renewed heavy outward movement of gold. The actual developments of the day, accordingly, caused a sensation in financial circles that has not been equaled since the Baring panic; in fact, in some particulars, that gloomy event was overshadowed in point of interest. The first shock came in the shape of a panicky market in American securities in London, with declines extending to 5 per cent. British consols also came lower. The successive cables reported great excitement at that center and wholesale liquidation of the international stocks at rapidly receding figures. Before the opening here, it was definitely stated by gold shipping houses that $2,400,000 of the $5,000,000 that was expected to go out to-morrow, would be arranged for to-day. The combined influence of the developments noted was reflected in a wild opening in the local stock and bond markets.

Stop orders were caught in large numbers, and this, of course, accentuated the downward movement. Slight rallies occurred several times during the forenoon, but the continued selling pressures swept them away. The lowest prices, extending to 1 1/2 per cent. in lead preferred were made around noon. The dealings in the first hour registered 243,185 shares.

Towards 1 o'clock the selling pressure abated and a sharp rally in prices occurred, followed by a reaction in which a large part of the improvement was lost on a jump in call money to eighty per cent., the highest figure of the day.

The Reaction.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The news of the big slump in stocks on both New York and London exchanges, and that gold withdrawals for export to-day would approximate $4,000,000 and possibly more, compelled a number of the treasury officials. About noon, Assistant Secretary Curtis had a conversation with New York parties over the long distance telephone and at the conclusion hurriedly left the department for the white house where the cabinet was in session. He was shown into the president's room and immediately by Secretary Carlisle. The substance of Mr. Curtis' information was laid before the president and cabinet. What measure if any, will be taken at once by the government to allay the panicky situation is problematical, but there seems no reasonable doubt to preserve the integrity of the gold reserve. In the absence of prompt legislation in this direction, it is not doubted that another bond issue under the same authority as the preceding ones will be announced. Already the gold reserve has reached a point considerably below $70,000,000.

In Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Dec. 20.—Nearly all the stocks traded in on the Philadelphia exchange opened below yesterday's closing. Some of the local industrials declined as much as 4 1/2 per cent.

In the Wheat Pit.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—The semi-panic in Wall street was reflected here in the grain market. Wheat lost a cent and a half from last night's closing. There was a slight rally a few minutes before the close, but finally was 57 1/2 against 59 the lowest quotation of the day.

A Boston Failure.

Boston, Dec. 20.—Sawyer, Clarke & Co., brokers and bankers, closed their doors at noon to-day. The assets and liabilities are not given. Inability to call in the assets to meet the demands resulting from the agitated condition of the market is given as the cause. The concern is a minor one.

Boston, Dec. 20.—Lee Higginson & Co., and 20 other leading banking firms of this city to-day signed a call for a meeting of the stock exchange at noon to-morrow for the purpose of appointing a committee to go to Washington and represent to the president, Secretary Olney, Speaker Reed and senators and representatives from Massachusetts. They were not correctly informed of the opinion of the business men of Boston in the present crisis, which calls for more careful consideration than it is now receiving.

Prices on Boston market followed the decline in the New York exchange to-day. The opening there was little activity, but there seemed in the air a somnolent feeling. All the local stocks showed up a sharp falling off from yesterday's prices. Montana local mining stock opened down 1/4 at 70, then broke to 68. Butte opened 1/4 off from yesterday.

Gold Shipments. New York, Dec. 20.—Lazard Freres will ship $100,000 in gold to-morrow. L. Von Hoffman & Co. say they will ship to-morrow $1,500,000 in gold. Muller, Schall & Co. will ship $900,000.

Government Bonds Weak. Government bonds weak and lower with new 4's down 1/2 per cent.

Boston Mining Stock. Boston, Dec. 20.—Boston & Montana, 6 1/2; Butte & Boston, 1 1/2.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Live Stock.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—There was no particular change in prices. The great bulk of cattle going at low figures and the trade in holiday beefs is now over. Beef cattle sold at $39.45; canner's stuff was at a decline of about 10¢. Choice calves, $5.50 to $7.50.

Trade in hogs was active in spite of the rain, at stronger prices. Common to prime, $5.63 to $7.75; packers, $3.50.

Sheep sold at an extreme range of $1.50 to $4; lambs at $39.45; westerns, $2.50 to $3.25.

The Wheat Market.

Wheat opened weak and finally became panicky, selling off 1 1/2¢ from last night's close. The disastrous panic in stocks set the pace for wheat. Conditions abroad were such as to thoroughly demoralize the market. There was a panic in American securities on the English stock exchanges, where nearly everything American was being presented for sale.

Chicago General Market. Chicago—May wheat, 57 1/2¢; corn, 27 1/2¢; oats, 15¢; pork, $3.72; lard, $5.42; ribs, $4.42. Receipts: Wheat, 94,000 bushels; corn, 245,000 bushels; oats, 296,000 bushels.

TRADE REVIEW.

Dun's Report.

New York, Dec. 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade will say to-morrow: The strong Americanism of the president's message has been received in commercial circles. Excepting in the stock and cotton markets business was remarkably dull and scarcely affected. Selling of securities held abroad was a natural first impulse, though the sellers are not unlikely in time to discover that no other securities are safer from international complications than the American. Coming at a time when nearly all produce markets are inactive and industry unusually dull, the disturbance has affected values much less than might have been expected, not because of any foreign question, but solely because of influences which have been at work since the beginning of the month. Prices of manufactured goods continue to decline. There is no great change in boots and shoes, and in some branches the demand appears a little better, though gradually lower prices are offered and lead the jobbers to look for prices lower still. Shipments from the East are an eighth smaller than the week to date. Leather still declines, averaging 2 per cent. lower.

Prices of iron and steel have fallen about 3 per cent. for the week and are now 3 per cent. below their maximum. Because of the slow operation for months of finished products have yielded more or less. Purchases by the great steel companies, it is now evident, were much in excess of their actual consumption and it is believed that some furnaces will have to suspend production, as the demand for manufactured products is too small to support the output.

Minor metals are weaker, copper being offered at 10¢ net. The American production in November was 16,339 tons and the foreign 70,708 tons. Lead is weak at $3.20 and tin, after a rise in price, is selling at $13.75. It sounds strange to hear the many complaints of slow collections and scarcity of money at the West on account of the tardy movement of products from the farms, when western receipts in three weeks have been 18,615,496 bushels, against 14,346,344 last year, while Atlantic exports, flour included, are only 5,812,357, against 6,453,190 last year. Failures for the week have been 377 against 249 last year.

Bradstreet's Report.

New York, Dec. 20.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: The general business situation has been affected by the precipitation of possible complications with Great Britain. The first to feel this will be cotton and wheat. The serious nature of the president's statement of the case has had the effect here and in London of causing a free selling of securities, even in spite of the fact that expectation of war is slight. The most unfavorable effect is the continued negotiations and the uncertainty which most exist. Total exports of wheat, flour included as wheat, from both coasts of the United States this week amount to 2,665,000 bushels, as compared with 2,658,000 last week and 2,552,500 in the week one year ago. Exports of wheat from the Pacific coast show a sharp decline as compared with preceding weeks.

Alaska's Furs.

Fifteen hundred sea otter skins were brought to the traders by Alaska Indians this year, according to the estimate of a trader just returned to Seattle. Furs of bears and foxes aggregating many thousands of dollars in value were also brought in. He says Alaska's trade in furs is very great, and in many regions practically untouched. The tract between Cook Inlet and the Yukon, he says, produces the finest furs in the world, and only one or two white men have been in there.
