CAUCUSES TO-NIGHT

Democrats Will Elect Delegates to a Convention.

THEY WILL NAME THE TICKET

Saturday Afternoon in Standard Hall—Republicans Halting Between Two Opinions—Candidates Scarce This Year.

Democrats in the several wards of this city will rally in caucus to-night to name delegates to a city convention which will be held Saturday afternoon in the Standard hall at 2 o'clock to name the aldermanic candidates.

The First ward democrats will meet in the city hall, Second ward at the fire hall, Third ward at the French hall, Fourth ward at Foskett's hall.

The caucuses will be called to order at 7 o'clock p. m., when an organization will be effected. Each ward is entitled to 10 delegates and 10 alternates should be named.

Chairman Davidson of the republican forces expects to call a convention for early in next week. Whether a distinctly partisan ticket will be named has not been decided, but in the consultations of the party men there has been a tendency toward making a citizens' ticket.

All parties are having difficulty in finding men who are willing to become unpopular by serving as aldermen, which has been the fate of so many good men. The lot of a councilman is as unhappy as that of a policeman and a citizen who undertakes to serve in that capacity is deserving of credit for his bravery as well as his patriotism. Most of those who have been mentioned have been imploring their friends for one reason or another not to put them up under any consideration.

Dr. Leiser positively declines the re-nomination for the Third ward from the republicans. Judge Fitzpatrick declines absolutely. Alderman Williams withdrew in the Fourth. J. T. Twoby discovered that he was not eligible and J. P. Dunn has not given the populists a decided answer. In the other wards the suggestions have been more in a general way, but it is feared that difficulty will be experienced there as elsewhere in getting desirable timber for the tickets.

FIREMEN'S MEETING.

The Dance and Plans for It Keep Them Busy.

The regular meeting of the fire department for the month of March consisted mainly of routine business. The hard times' dance, which is to be given in Evans opera house on Easter Monday, called for a large share of attention.

A list of prizes with the accomplishments which are expected to win them, was adopted. The best waltzers, lady and gentleman, each will receive a handsome gold medal, with a bottle of cologne and a pair of dancing pumps as second prizes. For the hardest hard times costumes will

ONE WEEK VACATION

Schools Will Have an Easter Rest From Study.

NEARLY 1,000 CHILDREN

Are Attending in This District—Another Building Needed—Changes in the Staff—Preparing for the Election.

The board of education met in regular session last evening in the center school building.

Professor Stapleton made the customary report. He called attention to the crowded condition of the schools, which increases as the spring opens. There are now 950 regular attendants. The board took cognizance of it by appointing Dr. Stephens, Twoby and Tuttle to investigate and report upon the best measures which might be taken for relief. A site for a new schoolhouse in the Eastern addition was discussed.

The resignation of Miss Mary A. Reese as teacher was accepted and Miss Edna Waterbury was added to the corps of teachers.

It was decided to have a 10 months' term of school this year and to give the pupils an Easter vacation. The scholars will be relieved from study on Friday and will take up school again on Easter Monday, April 6.

The annual school election will be held Saturday, April 4, at the Central school building. Two trustees are to be chosen to succeed Messrs. M. Martin and P. Cuddihy of Carroll. The polls will open at 8 o'clock in the morning and close at 6 o'clock in the evening. The entire board will act as judges as many of them being present as possible.

Arizona's Resources.

Washington, March 26.—Senator White, from the committee on territories, to-day presented a report on the bill for the admission of Arizona as a state. The report says the territory contains 113,000 square miles, or a greater area than is comprised in the 10 states of Rhode Island, Delaware, Connecticut, New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maryland, West Virginia and South Carolina combined. Its resources are represented as unlimited, comprising much rich agricultural land, 40,000,000 acres of grazing lands and the largest unbroken forest area in the United States, as well as rich deposits of gold, copper, lead, zinc, marble and precious stones. The population is placed at 80,000 and is represented as rapidly increasing. The people of the territory, the report says, are almost a unit for statehood.

The Pigeon Prizes.

New York, March 26.—The grand American handicap pigeon shoot was concluded at 4 o'clock and Orrin Roswell Dickey of Boston, after a stubborn fight, won first honors and the Daily silver cup. Simon Glover of Rochester took second place and G. W. Coulston of Brooklyn secured third honors. Eight men tied for first place, having killed 24 birds each, and under the rules of the Interstate association they had to shoot off "miss and out" to determine the position in which they would be placed. These eight men, however, before the shoot-off, agreed to divide all the money coming to the eight highest guns, which amounted to $1,957, and each man received $244.70.

French Plan.

Paris, March 26.—The chamber of deputies, 286 to 270, has voted for the government proposal of the principle of an income tax, but has referred the details of the scheme to a committee. The income tax proposal has been included as the central feature of the plan of the present government and it has been believed extremely doubtful whether its proposal could pass the legislature. The action to-night is in the nature of a compromise endorsing the principle of an income tax, but throwing aside the details of the government scheme.

A Dead Body in a Trunk.

Chicago, March 26.—The badly decomposed body of an unknown man was found to-day in a trunk brought out at an auction in Wakem & McLaughlin's warehouse at 504 North Water street. The auction was a regular disposal of unredeemed property and many curious purchasers were on hand. The sale was almost over when a large rough box was dragged out and offered. This box was made and the box was knocked down to two men from the suburb of Austin. Inside was a square trunk, which was broken open, disclosing the badly decomposed body of a man. There was nothing to indicate where the box came from. The police are investigating the case.

Colorado's Snowslides.

Silverton, Col., March 26.—The Denver & Rio Grande train for Durango was unable to reach that place yesterday or today, owing to enormous snowslides four miles south of here. A force of 40 men are now at work clearing the track; it will take three days to put things in order. A large slide came down yesterday afternoon 200 feet long, 300 feet wide and 40 feet deep, carrying numerous boulders and rocks.

Weyler's Latest Manifesto.

Havana, March 26.—Captain General Weyler has once more issued a proclamation. He proclaims that in view of the fact that the insurgents avoid engagements with the troops and devote themselves entirely to acts of incendiarism, he has resolved to deal with them as incendiaries and bandits, applying the rule set in his former proclamation.

Hall Resigns.

Washington, March 26.—The resignation of John I. Hall, as assistant attorney general of the interior department, was presented to the president this afternoon to take effect May 1. Judge Hall resigns to accept the general counselship of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway company. His successor as assistant attorney general will be W. A. Little of Columbus, Ga.

Hippolyte Is Dead.

Washington, March 26.—The state department has received a cablegram from United States Minister Smythe at Port Au Prince, Hayti, confirming the Paris report of the death of President Hippolyte.

Death of President Nettleton.

Kansas City, March 26.—George H. Nettleton, president and general manager of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis railroad, died at his home here to-night, aged 65. Death resulted from paralysis.

Red's Opening Gun.

Boston, March 26.—What is expected to be the first official big gun for Thomas B. Reed as a candidate for president, will be fired with great enthusiasm at the republican state convention here to-morrow. It is believed the platform will declare unequivocally against any change in the currency.

Some Railroad Figures.

Washington, March 26.—In response to a resolution, the secretary of the interior has sent to the senate a statement from the office of the railroad commissioner showing the cost of construction of the Union Pacific to have averaged $50,000 a mile; of the Central branch, $27,313; Sioux City & Pacific, $43,000, and of the Kansas Pacific $53,757. The report shows that as early as 1881 the officials of the roads refused to report to the government officials the amount of stock held by individual stockholders and this information has never been in the possession of the commissioner. The commissioner is also ignorant as to where the bonds of the companies are held. The mortgage debt of the Union Pacific, exclusive of the government lien, is $2,782,885.

The Victories Continue.

Havana, March 26.—Columns of troops commanded by Colonel Sanchez and E. Chetarrilla have captured the camps of the insurgents at Chetico and Santa Monica, province of Pinar Del Rio, and are said to have obtained possession of nearly all the supplies of the insurgents in that province. The insurgents left 50 killed and retired with many wounded. The troops destroyed the stores which could not be made available for the use of the army. It is estimated the stores captured are worth over $200,000.

The public prosecutor at the trial of Enrique Aleman will ask that the death penalty be imposed.

Governor Altgeld Indicted.

Champaign, Ill., March 26.—Governor Altgeld and the entire board of trustees of the University of Illinois were indicted by the Champaign county grand jury for alleged neglect or refusal to comply with the law requiring that the American flag be displayed over the state university buildings.

Grover Cleveland's Romance.

Something like 20 years ago a love affair developed in a New York town between a charming young woman and a lawyer. He was something older than herself and had been for a long time a sort of a family friend. As such he met her mother's fullest approval, but when it came to be a question of son-in-law she demurred energetically. Though not rich, she was comfortably well off. Moreover, she was very ambitious. Her sons were flat failures. All her hopes were centered in her daughter. The young woman was no beauty, but had been highly educated, and in music came within a hair's breadth of having a concert. The mother was sent about his business, the mother saying to her intimates that she had not taken such pains with her daughter to see her throw herself away upon a poor lawyer, a man who had no sort of future, though a good enough sort of fellow in his way.

Then the daughter began to droop and pine. By way of diversion, the mother took her to the little Southern city where she still resides. They had friends there—other of their townfolk had preceded them—so they came quickly in social touch with the natives and before long the young lady's amiability and accomplishments had made the gallant Southern youngsters almost overlook her want of beauty. She had, in fact, so many gallants that after a year her mother thought it safe to leave her there while she herself returned to the old environments for a winding up of loose ends of business. She was gone three months and went back to find her daughter married and happy with a young civil engineer.

Whether or not that suited her ambitious plans, she wisely made the best of it, and found a reflected happiness in her daughter's devotion to husband and children. But those who know both women most intimately remarked that the name of the old lover was seldom spoken between the two, and that when it was the younger of them looked away or fell instantly silent. But other people began to speak of it with uncommon frequency. The poor lawyer was climbing as man has seldom climbed. His name was Grover Cleveland. He was not even sheriff of Erie county at the time when all this was happening. After his first nomination his old sweetheart wrote him a warm and graceful letter of congratulation. He replied to it in the friendliest vein, and nobody worked for his election more enthusiastically than the man who had supplanted him in the heart of his first love. A favorite argument with that young man was: "Vote for him? Of course you will! He'll do to do to. Any fellow must who has sense enough and taste enough to want to marry my wife."

Precept and Example Widely Apart.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch. Parishioner—Your sermon yesterday morning, doctor, on the necessity of purifying our politics meets my hearty approval to-morrow, by the way, we hold our primaries. We are making an earnest effort this year to elect a decent alderman, and we need the help of every good citizen in the ward. I will call for you with my carriage at any time that may be convenient. How will 9 o'clock in the morning—

Rev. Dr. Lastly—Call for me? What for?

Parishioner—To go to the polling place to vote for—

Rev. Dr. Lastly—What! Let myself down into the dirty pool of politics? Countenance by my presence the ruffianish and vulgarism of the polls? Brother Mill-sap, you grieve me beyond my power to express.

Colonel T. C. Marshall discovered a valise in the alley back of his residence to-night which had evidently had been hurriedly ransacked by somebody. The police were notified but no clue was found. The contents of the grip had been rummaged about and what was left was a worthless lot of men's clothing.
