COMMENT AND PURE FACTS

There is Some Item of Interest From Nearly Every Settlement, City, Ranch or Coulee in That Section.

Great Falls, May 11.—The populist leaders of Cascade county held an impromptu meeting at Sand Coulee recently and discussed fusion and the approaching campaign in all its bearings. It is alleged that reports were received from every section of the county and showed a healthy growth of populist sentiment. Those who claim to know assert that their party will be an important factor in selecting county officials for the next two years—at the fall election.

Robert Hendry will represent the Belt Creek Miners' union in the national convention of the Western Federation of Miners which assembles in Denver this morning.

A month ago, says the Times, there were only four outspoken democrats in Belt, but since the state conventions in the central and southern states have declared so favorably for silver, the number has swollen to 210, at least that is the figure furnished by our townsman, T. E. Henley, who says also that there will be double that number on election day.

Evangelist and Mrs. Wheeler, who have been doing effective Christian work at Nelhart for the last two weeks, will now turn their attention to Teton county and round up the sinners of that section at Choteau this week. It is thought perhaps in pulling in the school of sinners up there the editors of the Montanian and Acantha may be gathered in the net and a reconciliation effected between the two gentlemen of such pronounced war-like tendencies. If this alone is accomplished the visit of the evangelists to Teton county will not have been in vain.

H. S. Sherrard of Lewistown announces that he has information to the effect that R. A. Ammon will arrive in that place next Thursday from the East with sufficient money to clear all indebtedness on the Gut Edge property and resume control of the mine and mill. Mr. Ammon will meet with a warm reception from the people of that section as well as from his old employes.

Contractor Young of Great Falls is pushing the work of construction on the new school house at Choteau and the handsome building will be completed and ready for occupancy within a few weeks.

C. Goldburg, an architect from Anaconda, is now at work at Belt, where he will remain several weeks superintending new improvements for the Castner Coal & Coke company.

The Montanian learns from an employe of Flowerree's Teton county plantation that among the sheep there was one ewe that gave birth to five lambs, four of which are still living. If a person had a band of such sheep as this, the increase would be so rapid that he could supply the whole demand for wool and mutton in a very short time.

The rain of the last few days has been general in Northern Montana and is worth thousands of dollars to ranchmen and stock owners. The ranges are in excellent condition—better than for several years—and there is plenty of feed for all the new cattle that will be brought in this spring.

The Democrat of Lewistown says "the ranchmen of Fergus county are complaining of a scarcity of ranch hands. The flockmasters are also short of help and find it difficult to get men during the lambing season. More men are wanted than ever before, as better care is being taken of the lambs and the loss will not be so heavy."

Charley Young, employed as a driver in the mines of Sand Coulee, narrowly escaped being ground to pieces a few days ago. While hooking a mule to a car in one of the chambers a large slab of rock fell from the roof, striking both driver and mule and breaking the animal's leg. Young was also severely injured by the slab, which weighed several tons. Young is improving and the mule is dead.

Arrangements are being perfected for the annual county fair at Lewistown this fall and efforts are being made to make it the most successful ever held in Fergus county. Premiums aggregating several hundred dollars will be paid for the best exhibits of stock, agricultural products and the like, and an excellent racing programme—with good purses—will be an important feature of the association. Any unpleasant incidents connected with racing events of the past at Lewistown will not be repeated in the future and horsemen who attend the fair will be treated courteously and fairly by those in charge of the management.

At the last meeting of the Nelhart city council D. J. Condon was elected city treasurer; Richard Bennett, city clerk, and George L. McGibbon, police magistrate. Duncan McGowan and O. J. Purdy were nominated for city marshals, but the election was postponed until the next meeting, owing to the absence of aldermen. City Clerk Bennett's annual report showed that the receipts of the past year from general taxes, licenses, fines and the like had been $5,955. The total amount of warrants issued was $5,442.56, and the warrants now outstanding and unpaid aggregated $1,971.23. The cash in the city treasury May 1 was $916.10, leaving a net debt of $1,055.13. Nelhart is certainly in a prosperous condition financially.

George B. Fry of Bynum, Teton county, has been granted a patent for an original and novel contrivance, that may prove to be very useful, says the Montanian. It is a steel shutter that is to be placed in a bank, on and the full length of the counter and so arranged that a button is pressed and the steel curtain falls and conceals everything behind it. This is supposed to be done when a bank robber appears and orders the cashier to throw up his hands. This invention may be in great demand on Wall street, but four years of Cleveland administration has entirely rid this section of the country of anyone even bearing the resemblance of a bank robber.

The Free Silver band of Belt will give a grand reception and ball Tuesday evening, May 19, for the purpose of raising funds to secure suitable uniforms for members of the organization. The band boys have been very liberal in donating their services to the public and the people of Belt will do what is right and proper by extending liberal patronage on this occasion.

The Times publicly announces that "Belt is overcrowded at the present time with idle men who cannot secure employment and who have no means of support. The mining companies have all the men they need and it is a waste of time and useless expense to visit Belt in search of employment." If some of the idle men now in the coal camp would strike out for Teton or Fergus counties at this time they would find employment on sheep ranches, where men are reported scarce and hard to secure, at good wages. Sheepmen need help at this time and are looking for men who are not afraid of work.

George Doran, Joseph Deroft and Dave Richards, all of whom were injured in the Broadwater mine at Nelhart, are recovering and now considered out of danger. The three men narrowly escaped from death and are grateful to those who kindly and generously assisted them during their illness.

Grant Graves, who attempted suicide at Collins a few weeks ago, while violently insane, has improved so rapidly that the order of the court committing him to the asylum was not filed and he left with his family for the state of Oregon last Monday, where he has relatives. The physicians express a hope for his complete recovery.

A lodge of Patriots of America was instituted at Monarch last Tuesday evening. A large delegation from the Nelhart lodge was present to assist in the work, and George Stanton of Great Falls took an active part in the ceremonies. The Monarch lodge starts out under favorable circumstances and with a healthy membership.

In opposing the late date named for the democratic state convention, called for the purpose of electing delegates to the national convention, the Belt Times says: "There is no necessity for setting the time at a date, but a few days before the national convention or waiting until all other states had held their conventions and declared their position. Montana democrats, as well as republicans, should be among the first to announce themselves. The people know where the populists stand on the money question, but there is considerable doubt as to the old parties. The democratic managers appear to be enveloped in a mantle with fear stamped upon it. This year there are hundreds of independent voters in this state who are watching the movements of all parties and we believe the timidity of the state democratic leaders will hardly prove beneficial to the party. There is no need of playing ground hog—remaining in the hole until the sun comes out to cast a shadow."

The report of the Northwestern National bank of Great Falls will be found on the Northern Montana page of the Standard to-day. It is a report which any national bank should feel justly proud of, and one which reflects credit on the conservative management of one of Montana's most prominent fiduciary institutions.

A Lady Injured in the Street. Great Falls, May 11.—While crossing Central avenue at noon to-day Miss Johnson, a stenographer employed by the law office of E. E. Brady, was knocked down and seriously injured by a horse driven by a drunken man. The wheel of the vehicle passed over her foot and she was carried into the drug store of Lapeyre Bros. and afterward placed in charge of Dr. Brady, who says she was quite badly bruised and sustained a severe nervous shock. Kneel, the driver of the vehicle, never stopped to see whether the lady was injured or not, but continued at a furious pace. His home is in North Great Falls. He was subsequently arrested by Officer Moran and is now lying in jail awaiting trial for fast driving and malicious carelessness.

Why His Audience Laughed. From the Detroit Tribune. Speaking of the pliancy of natural righteousness to which men may raise themselves by continual practice of the laws of truth and honesty, Mr. Wood said: "There are lawyers in this city who will not take a law case until they are themselves persuaded that there is justice in the position in which they are asked to take and convinced that it is right. I don't say how many there are, but I say there are such men in Detroit."

There was a burst of incredulous laughter. Then Mr. Wood went on to talk about other kinds of lawyers.

From the Augusta Journal. Thomas H. Reed is not an exciting man, and can be when he so wishes, merely in the presence of a persistent interviewer. A Washington correspondent recently attempted to obtain Speaker Reed's views regarding several important national issues. "Young man," said Reed solemnly, "this promises to be a very lively baseball season." That was all that he would say for publication.

Killing the Sparrows. More than 40,000 sparrows have been destroyed in Gratiot county, Michigan, during the last 12 months, as shown by the bounties paid, but the birds appear to be practically as numerous as ever. One man makes a good income as a sparrow hunter, collecting an average of $60 a month in bounties.

An Old Custom. The custom of having days "at home" is by no means new. It was prevalent in the Queen Anne time, when the ladies were "at home" and their friends or both sexes and called it a "day" just as we do.

THEY ARE CONFIRMED

The Council Acts on the Appointment of Mayor Webster.

A THRUST AT THE JAILER

No Change in the Personnel of the Old List of Officers—Resolutions Offered and Other Business Transacted.

Great Falls, May 11.—In the absence of Mayor Webster, who is in attendance at the Butte convention, President Fitzgerald called the city council to order to-night. Alderman Frank Marlon was the only absentee. The city clerk read the following communication and list of appointments:

"To the honorable, the city council of the City of Great Falls—Gentlemen: I beg leave to submit the following appointments for your confirmation: City clerk, C. H. Clark; board of health, Dr. A. F. Longeway, J. W. Roberts, E. V. Rubottom; inspector of weights and measures, D. C. Holbrook; chief of fire department, James Burns; assistant chief, Sam French; firemen, A. J. Arthur, Thomas Moran, L. H. Jones; chief of police, John Guerin; patrolmen, Luke Curry, J. Johnson, Edward Hamilton, Antoine Grenberger, Paul Voell, Edward Trevelian; sanitary policeman, William McCremer; city engineer, C. W. Sweeney."

"While concessions have had to be made, I consider that the best interest of all business of the departments, as they have been working efficiently and economically, for the past eight months. I trust that your honorable body and all the appointees will work harmoniously and conscientiously for careful government and the judicious expenditure of funds entrusted to our care. I have made no appointment of jailer for the reason that I cannot recognize a man who has repeatedly insulted the mayor. However, if the council sees fit to retain the present incumbent I shall sign the warrant for his salary as I have no desire to strike an unfortunate when he is down, but I shall expect your honorable body, not myself, to stand sponsor for his acts. You will observe that not a change has been made in the personnel of city officers, Edward Trevelian being appointed to fill the place of Daniel Ledgerwood, resigned. If these are not all satisfactory please do not act upon the appointments until my return, regretting that I can not be with you this evening. I am, respectfully, your obedient servant, C. M. Webster, Mayor."

The appointments were unanimously confirmed. President Fitzgerald introduced a resolution, which was read, abolishing the office of city detective, combining two or three minor offices, doing away with assistants for the engineer and city treasurer after July 1, and lopping off expenses in various ways to bring the expenses of the city government within the limits of the receipts of the city.

SHEARING PENS. The Business Men of Glasgow Are Displaying Enterprise.

Great Falls, May 11.—The sheep industry is a prominent factor in the prosperity of Valley county, and Glasgow reaps rich returns from being located in the center of a vast territory largely occupied by those engaged in the business. With a view of increasing the output of wool from that point this season the citizens will offer inducements in the way of increased facilities for shearing and the like. Referring to the subject the Glasgow Record of Friday says: Several of Glasgow's enterprising business men have decided to build sheep shearing pens in the vicinity of city and open for the accommodation of sheepmen the coming season. The exact location for the pens has not as yet been fully determined, but they will probably be built on Cherry creek.

Such enterprise on the part of the business men of the town is to be commended, as the sheds will be a source of great accommodation to the sheepmen of the county and indirectly a benefit to the town. Heretofore it has been necessary for sheepmen to shear at home and haul their wool to the nearest railway point for shipment, often at a considerable expense, but with the advent of our new sheds this expense will be almost entirely done away with. Then the matter of freight rates from this point east is one that augurs well for the success of the enterprise, and should not be overlooked by sheepmen. The saving that will be made by shipping from this point in preference to points further west will amount to quite a sum of money in the course of the wool shipping season. Glasgow being a division point, the freight rates advance from points further west, and while we are unable to give the exact figures, yet the saving is one that sheepmen will not fail to take advantage of.

The pens, while located in close proximity to the town, will at the same time be accessible to both range and water. The plans and specifications, in our opinion, will make the shearing pens a model of perfection. They will be constructed entirely of lumber, with cedar posts, and contain 12 pens, or in other words, accommodate 24 shearers. They will be constructed in the most substantial manner, and everything will be arranged with a view to the convenience of the sheepmen.

Last year three or four large bands of sheep passed through Glasgow, and in fact their owners contemplated shearing here, but the lack alone of pens compelled them to shear at other points.

It is to be hoped that the project will be well patronized, as it will entail quite a great expense in its construction. The lumber has already been ordered and as soon as it arrives work will be commenced so as to have everything in readiness when the shearing season opens up.

Sciatica and Lumbago Cured

DR. SANDEN—Dear Sir: In two months your wonderful Belt has cured me of Lumbago, from which I have suffered for thirty years. I am sixty-four years old, and have used many different remedies in years past for my trouble, but they had no effect. I am acquainted with Mr. E. Kruger of Alameda, and through the fact that I knew your Belt had cured him of Sciatica I was induced to try it. I also had Sciatica at different times so bad that I was laid up for two months, and it has cured me, and I cannot speak too highly in praise of it. You can use my name. Greatfully yours, HUGH FRASER, Ex-Rural Deputy for State of California, Order of Scottish Class.

Mr. Fraser is known to thousands of Californians, and this candid acknowledgment of his cure by Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is the best kind of proof of what it does. Try it. Get the book, free. All about it.
