HEILIG PUTS IN A CLAIM

For Services Rendered as Mayor Thompson's Substitute.

IT JUST OCCURRED TO HIM

The Aldermen Allowed It to Remain in Statu Quo for More Than a Year. Impurities in the City Hall, So It Is Said.

Is there a salary grab combine in the present city council? Probably not, but a good many people have noticed that the old city hall has been rented to one of the aldermen for less than some one else offered for it, that the chief of police is paid a percentage on fines collected from dissolute women, although his salary was supposed to be full compensation for all services to the city, and that the assistant city attorney has a bill in for $250 for extra compensation on account of the Margaret Joyce case. But most outrageous of all is the bill which has been presented by Alderman John C. Heilig, which is now in the hands of the judiciary committee and will be considered by them at a meeting to be held to-morrow afternoon. This bill of Mr. Heilig's is for services as acting mayor during the administration of Mayor Thompson. It is as follows: "The city of Butte to John C. Heilig, debtor. To services as acting mayor during absence of Mayor Thompson, Aug. 23 to Sept. 15, 1896 at $5.00 per day, $127.50. To services as acting mayor during absence of Mayor Thompson, from Jan. 28 to March 1, 1897, at $5.50 per day, $17.25. Total, $144.75. $299.85. Why on earth Alderman Heilig waited until this late day to render his bill to the city is the question which naturally arises first of all. The explanation given on this point by Alderman Heilig himself is that he didn't think of it until the other day. It suddenly struck him that the city ought to have paid him for the services as acting mayor. If Alderman Heilig has any claim to extra compensation at all it is from Mayor Thompson. The latter received his salary while he was absent from Butte and the time that Mr. Heilig put in his claim was when the service was rendered and before Thompson was paid. Yet Mr. Heilig himself signed the warrants for Thompson's salary during his absence and signed nothing about wanting that salary himself. It was Mr. Thompson, not the city, which employed Alderman Heilig to act as mayor, and it is Mr. Thompson who should pay him. It is certainly not right that the city should have to pay both. Mr. Heilig does not ask for any interest on his back claim, and that is a strange thing to do, especially when interest to balance his salary as alderman which he receives when acting as mayor. The matter is to be considered by the judiciary committee to-morrow afternoon, but it is not likely that many of the aldermen will countenance this salary grab. The committee would do well to inquire into the law section 482 of the laws of Montana relating to municipal corporations. This reads: "All accounts and demands against a city or town must be presented to the council duly itemized, and accompanied by an affidavit of the party or his agent, stating the same to be a true and correct account against the city or town for the full amount for which the same is presented, and that the same account, as set forth, and with all necessary and proper vouchers, within one year from the date the same accrued; and any claim or demand not so presented with- in the time aforesaid is forever barred, and the council has no authority to allow any account or demand not so presented, nor must any action be maintained against the city or town for or on account of any demand or claim against the same, until such demand or claim has first been presented to the council for action thereon." So the first portion of Mr. Heilig's bill is outlawed anyway, the service having been rendered more than a year ago. But the second portion of the bill is no less outrageous.

CHURCH WORK.

The Methodists Establish a Mission in Silver Bow Park. The second quarterly conference of the Butte M. E. church for the conference year was held at the Mountain View church last evening. It was conducted by Rev. W. W. Van Orsdel, presiding in the district, but nothing of importance was considered except the condition of the church, on which reports were made by Rev. Mr. Lounsbury, the pastor, and by the treasurer of the church and superintendent of the silver bow park. The chairman of the board of county commissioners, the assessor and treasurer and a force of typewriters, were engaged in making the annual list of names from the tax roll for jury purposes, as required by law on the second Monday in January. Thomas H. A. McGill arrived in Butte yesterday from San Francisco, and will assume the city editorship of the Butte Miner. Mr. McGill has had extended newspaper experience in Chicago, Denver and San Francisco, his last work being with the Examiner of that city.

Sunday school. A report was made of the fact that a mission had been established on the 2d of January in the Silver Bow park addition, and that they were in a promising condition. The conference, which was brief, was attended by all the officers of the church in Butte. Yesterday morning the bimonthly meeting of the Methodist Episcopal ministers conference of Butte was held in the Mountain View church. Rev. Mr. Lounsbury reported the establishment of the new mission in Silver Bow park. A committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions, and men were appointed to carry on the work in the new mission. It was decided to inaugurate a Sunday school there next week.

MAGUIRE IN SEATTLE.

He Will Include That City in His Theatrical String. Before leaving Seattle a few days ago on his return to Butte, John Maguire was interviewed by the Times of that city with the following result: "John Maguire, the old-time Pacific coast theatrical manager, who has been in Seattle for some days, leaves this afternoon for his home in Butte. Maguire is one of the best-known theatrical men west of the Mississippi river. He has been managing play houses and sending companies on the road in this Western country for 20 years, and even a theatrical man in this country either knows or has heard of him. "It has been rumored for several days that Mr. Maguire's visit to Seattle at this time had something to do with the future of the Seattle theater. It has been said by men who keep posted on matters theatrical that Mr. Maguire desired to get control of the Seattle theater and make it one of his circuits, which now includes play houses at Butte, Helena, Anaconda, Deer Lodge, Missoula and Hamilton. Mr. Maguire was seen by the Times at the Hotel Butler this morning and asked this question: "Mr. Maguire, it is said that your visit to Seattle at this time is for the purpose of leasing the Seattle theater. Is this true?" "Well, I may get control of the Seattle theater," was Mr. Maguire's reply, "but really I would prefer to say nothing at this time. Negotiations have not proceeded far enough for me to make any statement at this time. "Then you are willing to be quoted as saying that you may get control of the Seattle theater?" "Yes," he said. "Oh, yes, but I can't give out any of the details at this time," was Mr. Maguire's reply. "One thing that strikes me as peculiar," continued Mr. Maguire, "is the bustling town is the fact that the Seattle theater is dark so many nights in the week. This is not as it should be. Why, over in my circuit in Montana, where I have six houses, not one of them is in a town as large as Seattle. They are open nearly all the time. The fact that the Seattle theater is dark so much is a revelation to me. "It is just 28 years since I brought my first theatrical company into Seattle. We played in old Yesler hall, but it is so long ago that I do not remember the name of the place we played. Many, many times after that I played in Yesler hall. The first theater of any pretensions ever built in Seattle was put up by Watson C. Squire in the late '70s. It stood on the southeast corner of Commercial and Main streets, and was managed by the New Market theater. Portland at the time and considered the advisability of establishing a circuit which would include Governor Squire's place in the city, but the business of the area would not warrant it at that time, so I gave up the idea. Afterwards Governor Squire's theater was transformed into a hotel—the Arlington. I believe it stood until destroyed by the fire of 1888. "I am going to return to Butte now, but I am liable to be back in Seattle at almost any time; then I will tell you the possibly about the Seattle theater. This is a hustling town, and despite the fact that, as I have pointed out, your largest theater is dark so much, Seattle has the name of being a good show town and a first-class theater here should be a paying proposition."

VERY SMALL HOUSE.

The Cuban Benefit at Maguire's a Frost Financially. The struggling Cubans will need more clothing when the chill of the first of last night's benefit reaches them. Maguire's opera house was filled with empty chairs, and when the curtain went up there were as many as 20 people in the audience, down to the gallery. Those up stairs accepted an invitation to come down below, so that they need not feel quite so lonesome. Notwithstanding the scanty attendance, the entertainment was carried out in full. After a number of specialties had been introduced, the great Albin gave his marvelous act of magic and jugglery, those present with his cleverness. The entertainment was a frosty one financially. The Cubans were to receive the net profits of the benefit, but they will probably not be called on to make up the excess of expenses over the receipts.

ASSETS MORE THAN $5,000,000.

A Statement of the Financial Condition of the Gудaby Packing Company. A statement of its financial condition was filed by the Gudaby Packing company of Chicago with the county clerk and recorder yesterday. It shows that the company's assets are $5,436,961.09, of which $3,234,557.39 is real estate, $127,448.25 in money loaned and $2,074,955.45 in cash on hand. The liabilities are placed at $1,836,661.09, the indebtedness being unsecured. A notice appointing an agent for Montana was also filed.

THEIR PURPOSE UNKNOWN

Nothing Definite From the Meeting of Railroaders in Utah.

PRESIDENT BURT IS THERE

It is Believed That the Conference Will Result in a Grand Reorganization Scheme to Involve all Railroads in the West.

The purpose of the meeting of prominent railroad officials in Salt Lake is still uncertain, though it was announced in Butte yesterday that a result would be reached and information given out to-morrow. With President Burt are all the other principal officials of the Union Pacific, and others taking part in the conference are Vice-President D. C. Dodge and General Passenger Agent F. A. Wadleigh of the Rio Grande Western, General Traffic Manager S. W. Eccles and Superintendent of Motive Power J. F. Dunn of the Oregon Short Line, General Traffic Manager A. S. Hughes of the Denver & N. It is probably the greatest gathering of prominent railroad men ever seen in the West in forty or 50 years, and even a theatrical man in this country either knows or has heard of him.

President Burt in an interview stated that he was a guest of General Manager Dickinson on the trip West, and his presence was the incident in an attorney's letter to the letter of introduction and the supreme court judges of Utah explaining the means by which the young student had secured the letter and correcting the statement in it. He had an idea that the letter of introduction would be presented to prominent members of the bar in Salt Lake and sent the second letter to offset it. It is not surmised, however, that Mr. Latimer meant to deceive Judge Clancy or make any wrongful use of his letter.

City ticket office 23 East Broadway.

Died—Clyde, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burns, 112 West Daily street, Walkerville Funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

From a careful inquiry among the higher officials, says the Tribune, it has been learned that the general opinion is that the rumors are not entirely out of whole cloth. As one official put it last night: "The policy of the Union Pacific, in my opinion, will be to so manage the system as to receive the greatest results and at the same time give to the public the best service consistent with economy and safety, and continue to make such betterments and improvements as will be profitable to the road's record for the last five years."

HE GOT THE LETTER.

Now Judge Clancy Thinks Young Mr. Latimer Imposed Upon Him, So He Sends Out a Counter Missive.

Judge Clancy thinks he has been taken in and imposed on by one Jay M. Latimer, a young law student. The latter called on the judge yesterday morning and asked him for a letter of introduction to the people of Salt Lake, to which place he said he was going on some business. The judge did not know the young man, but had an idea that he was a member of the bar, and after some talk he finally consented to write a letter for the young man. "To whom it may concern," stating that the bearer was a member of the Silver Bow county bar and in good standing. The young man took the letter, and after thanking the judge, took his departure. A short while afterwards Judge Clancy mentioned the incident to an attorney and that gentleman informed him that young Latimer was not a lawyer and had never been admitted to practice. Judge Clancy concluded that the young man had some special reason for wanting the letter of introduction and he at once started out to recover it, but learned that Latimer was out of town. The judge was somewhat excited over the affair and in good standing. The supreme court judges of Utah explaining the means by which the young student had secured the letter and correcting the statement in it. He had an idea that the letter of introduction would be presented to prominent members of the bar in Salt Lake and sent the second letter to offset it. It is not surmised, however, that Mr. Latimer meant to deceive Judge Clancy or make any wrongful use of his letter.
